Commissioners Hear Monthly Staff Reports

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners heard reports from various county staffers Tuesday morning in the board's meeting room.

Board of Education

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, superintendent of Garrett County Schools, told the commissioners that the last school day for students in the county would be June 14, due to a two-day waiver granted by the State Board of Education. He also invited the commissioners to graduation ceremonies for both Northern and Southern High Schools which will be held on May 26. Southern's graduation exercises are slated to begin at 2:00 p.m., while Northern's are scheduled for 4:00 p.m.

Ryscavage also informed the county officials that scheduling plans for students at Northern Middle School and Northern High School have been completed. He said during the renovation of Northern High School next year, students from Northern and Northern Middle would be attending Northern Middle on a split-shift day. Northern Middle students will be attending school from 7:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. while Northern High students will go from 12:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Busing patterns are currently being completed.

The superintendent announced that there would be a meeting for interested parents and students to discuss further plans for the renovation period. Northern Middle will meet June 4 and Northern High will meet June 5.

Zoning Board

John Nelson, zoning administrator, told the commissioners Tuesday that an additional $17,900 has been granted for the Open Space Program in McHenry to begin Phase II of that project. The first part of the program has been completed and applications for Phase II are being processed.

Under Phase I of the program, sponsored by the Deep Creek Lions Club, a ball field, picnic area, storage building, parking area and electrical installation have all been completed. Phase II will provide restrooms, a pavilion, playground facilities, a dugout, bleachers, volleyball and tetherball courts. Total cost of the project is in the neigh-

"HEY, STAY AWAY FROM MY LUNCH!" might be what this young lady is shouting from atop playground equipment at Deep Creek State Park, while his partner seriously ponders whether or not to drop his ball on a passing adult. These youngsters were among the many Head Start children of the county who gathered at the park last Thursday for a balloon launching to commemorate the Week of the Young Child. One of the warmest, most pleasant Aprils on record has just passed, persuading most Moms to allow their little ones to wear short sleeves and no jackets. The dryness of the period has greatly increased the danger of woods and brush fires, however last night's rainfall has alleviated that particular problem for the time being. The clouds are expected to giveway to sunshine once again tomorrow and the outlook is good for another summer-like weekend.

Judge Convicts Russell Tasker On Six Charges

A 34-year-old Oakland man has been found guilty of assault and destruction of property charges brought against him after an approximate 12-hour shootout at the J & R Restaurant, Swallow Falls Road, on July 14, 1984.

Garrett County Chief Judge Fred A. Thayer ordered a presentence investigation and revoked bail for Russell E. Tasker Tuesday after finding him guilty on six charges and acquitting him of seven.

Tasker elected for a jury trial, but when the case began Monday in the Garrett County Circuit Court, he decided against a jury trial. Court officials reported the county paid the 50 jurors who appeared for the jury selection, a cost of $902.

Judge Thayer convicted Tasker of assault with attempt to murder, carrying a dangerous and deadly weapon, unlawful shooting to avoid apprehension, destruction of property and two charges of assault.

The charges stemmed from an incident beginning after 7 p.m. on July 14, 1984 when Tasker entered the restaurant and threatened his wife, Sharon, with a shotgun. His wife, as well as others in the establishment, left the scene while Tasker remained and began shooting out fixtures, lights, doors and walls in the building.

Pa. State Police Presents Award To Friendsville Man

Grant Warnick, of Friendsville, was presented the Pennsylvania State Police Outstanding Citizenship Award by Jay Cochran Jr., acting Pa State Police Commissioner, during a ceremony in Highspire, Pa., on Wednesday.

Warnick was recognized because of the part he played in an incident last July 5 on the Pa. Turnpike, when he and another motorist, Edward Williams, who will also be recognized, saved the lives of several victims of a traffic accident.

According to the police report, Warnick was traveling eastbound in Dauphin County, Pa., when a van ahead of him crashed into the rear of another van which had suddenly stopped on the highway. Upon impact both vehicles burst into flames. Warnick and Williams managed to extricate the two adults and nine youngsters from the wreckage. All eleven of the victims were seriously injured or burned, which made the rescue effort even more difficult and dangerous.

"Had it not been for their prompt and proper action, in spite of great personal danger, many, if not all, of the victims would have died," stated Cochran. "That unselfish act of concern for others was an inspiration to all of us and worthy of commendation," Cochran said.

School Board Presents FY 1986 Budget Request To Commissioners

Armed with charts and figures, the Garrett County Board of Education presented its fiscal year 1986 budget request to the Garrett County Commissioners Tuesday seeking an increase over last year's allocation by $660,380.

"We feel a need for this money," stated Earl Clark, president of the board, who went over charts showing how the board planned to use the money requested from the county as well as how other money is to be used in the next fiscal year.

The board received $5,056,275 from the commissioners last year and are requesting $5,716,658 this year.

About one-half of the requested increase will be directed towards meeting conditions of negotiated salary increases for school board employees. Clark explained that $87,445 would go to funding 1.5 percent of the 6 percent increase negotiated for teachers. The remainder of the teachers' salary increase would be funded through increased funds coming from the state.

The county money would also fund a 6 percnt increase for administrators and all educational support personnel, the addition of a maintenance employee, additional co-curricular salaries, pay increase for teacher substitutes and other instructional costs. Clark explained the final category, representing $361,255, would primarily be used for hospitalization insurance.

The board presented its request to the commissioners even though it has not completed negotiations with one employee group, the classified supervisory personnel. The board and the group, represented by the American Federation of Teachers, were at an impasse in their negotiations but school officials reported this mornding that the two negotiating groups have agreed to return to the bargaining table.

Dr. Leo O'Neill pointed out to the board that about 80 percent of the revenues to the Board of Education are fixed monies, leaving 20 percent for the board to maneuver. A large part of the 20 percent will go for operations and maintenance of the school buildings, O'Neill noted.

Clark further explained that the state's Civiletti allocation, a program of increased state aid to county educational systems adopted in the 1984 General Assembly session, was restricted for instructional expenditures. The county will receive an additional $701,793 this year through this program, Clark stated.

The Civiletti money will be used to fund new instructional positions, $145,611; additional benefits costs, $89,550; teacher salaries and increments, $377,719, and instructional texts, $8,913.

Board member Beverly Murphy described specific needs in the schools in areas of instruction and of operations and maintenance. She noted that some social studies books describe countries which no longer exist.

College Officials Receive Word From AVMA

According to a news release from the dean of academic affairs, officials at Garrett Community College received notification Friday from the American Veterinary Medical Association that the school's Veterinary Technician program will be granted probational accreditation for the 1985-86 school year if the college meets five stipulated conditions. The school plans to eliminate the program after the current freshman class has had a chance to complete their studies next year.

Dean of Academic Affairs, Fred Learey, said Tuesday that the school should have no problem meeting the five conditions, which include the employment of a qualified veterinarian to serve as instructor and director, the continued employment of two animal technicians in the program, the continuation of the agreement between the Garrett County Animal Shelter and the college, the establishment of agreements with local veterinarians to offer practical experience to students, and verification that no new students will be enrolled in the program.

The AVMA has requested documentation of compliance with the five conditions by May 10. Final determination of accreditation status will be made by the AVMA by June 1, according to Friday's letter.

"We are very confident that we will be able to meet the five conditions and achieve probational accreditation status for the next year," Learey said. "The AVMA has been most cooperative in helping us resolve this problem, and we are optimistic that all the necessary courses will be offered for the remaining students next year. I believe that we can soon give definite, unqualified assurance to the students in the pro-

Plans Underway For Fresh Air Summer Program

"Share your blessings with a city child this summer," said Rev. Don Matthews this week as area volunteers began planning for this year's Fresh Air Program.

Each summer, many underprivileged children from New York City get the opportunity to spend two weeks in the country air made possible by the Fresh Air fund.

Host families are being sought in the county. They may choose the age and sex of the child which will best fit into their family situation. Ages of the children are 5-12. The children are scheduled to arrive in the county July 5 and will return to New York on July 19. The only cost involved is having an extra family member for two weeks.

"The purpose of this program is to give the children a new outlook on life; to enjoy what we so often take for granted—fresh air, green grass, blue sky and the song of the birds, just to mention a few," said Rev. Matthews.

Families interested in sponsoring a Fresh Air child may call Fresh Air Fund Chairman Mrs. Ivan Miller at 895-5451 or 895-5055, or Don or Velma Matthews at 334-4422, or Fanny Bender at 826-8340.

GCC Board Hears Vet Tech Student; Queries Actions Of Academic Forum

The monthly meeting of the Garrett Community College Board of Trustees held Tuesday evening opened with a presentation by Cindy Smith, spokesman for the Vet Tech Program students enrolled in that program.

Smith outlined for the board the chain of events that led to the phasing out of the Vet Tech program.

She said the administration decided to cut the program because of low enrollment, but many of the students felt the program was not well-promoted which, in turn, caused the low enrollment.

"You can't disrupt people's plans for the future like this. We have been under great stress and its showing in our study habits," said Smith.

She also said the group felt the Vet Tech Program, if it had to be cut at all, should have been slowly phased out.

She questioned the board and administration in regard to the recent notification by the American Veterinary Medical Association (AVMA) to grant accreditation for one more year if certain provisions were met by the college by May 10.

The provisions are as follows: 1. Employment of a qualified veterinarian to serve as an instructor and director of the program; 2. Continued employment of the two animal technician instructors now active in the program; 3. Continuation of the agreement between the program and the Garrett County Animal Shelter; 4. Agreements with local veterinary practitioners who will offer practical experience to students, including experience with large animals; 5. Positive verification of the decision of Garrett Community College to enroll no more students in the Veterinary Science Technology Program.

The letter from the AVMA also stated that the college must have documentation of the five provisions. If the provisions are met, a determination will be made by CATAT for accreditation no later than June 1.

Dean of Academic Affairs, Fred K. Learey, assured Smith and the other Vet Tech students that the administration is doing everything in its power to see that the program is accredited for one more year to ensure completion of the program by first-year students.

He said the administration has been in contact with local veterinarians and he felt sure the college would have a replacement for Dr. Paul Deal, whose contract was not renewed for the coming year.

Later, during the meeting, board chairman Pat Fischetti called for comments from the student body, the Academic Forum and the administration.

Student Government Association President, Karen Hollyfield, said she spoke for most of the students when she said they could not accept the actions of the administration and could not back them or the board.

Learey, representing the administration, said he felt that although there have been problems, they are trying to work them out. He also reminded those present that many good things have happened at the college this year also.

Ben Sincell, Academic Forum chairman (pro-tem), issued the following statement to the board, the administration and the press, on behalf of the forum, "The members of the Academic Forum are committed to quality education at Garrett Community College. We will continue to support the academic goals and objectives of this institution. We believe that the issues we have raised have not affected the quality of instruction taking place in the college classrooms."

After giving his statement, Sincell was confronted by board member William Goldsborough on the recent actions of the academic forum. Goldsborough

Judge Sentences Winters To Five Years In Jail

Garrett County Chief Judge Fred A. Thayer in the county Circuit Court Wednesday sentenced Vaughn V. Winters, 33, Oakland, to five years with the Maryland Department of Corrections, almost eight weeks after Winters pled guilty to a charge of distribution of cocaine.

Winters was arrested by Maryland State Police on August 9, 1984, on the distribution charge as well as on two possession charges. The possession charges were not prosecuted.

A police report in the court files revealed that Tfc. George A. Butler, a narcotics agent, purchased one gram of cocaine, valued at $100, from Winters on August 21, 1983, at Stone Hearth Inn, Glendale Road.

Winters pled guilty to the distribution charge in the Circuit Court on March 7. Judge Thayer accepted the guilty plea and ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

Winters is being detained in the Garrett County Jail until officials determine where he will serve his sentence.

Youths Placed On Probation, Parents Fined

The parents of three Grantsville boys have been fined $5,000 each by Garrett County Chief Judge Fred A. Thayer for destruction by their sons of a trailer, near Amish Road.

Judge Thayer found the three youths to be delinquent of willful and malicious destruction of property in juvenile court proceedings on April 3.

The disposition hearing was held April 24 when the judge placed the youths on supervised probation with the Department of Juvenile Services and fined the parents. Two of the youths are 14 while the third is 15.

The youths were charged with doing $30,000 worth of damage to the trailer on January 30 and February 1.

In other juvenile court proceedings, Judge Thayer found a 15-year-old Friendsville girl in need of supervision after the girl missed 28 days illegally from Northern High School. The judge ordered an evaluation of the girl at the Thomas B. Finan Center, Cumberland, before proceeding with disposition of the case.

A 16-year-old Friendsville boy who was found to be in violation of probation on February 8 because of failure to attend school regularly, was placed on supervised probation and withdrawn from Northern High School. The judge ordered the youth to complete work to obtain a general equivalency diploma.

A GENEROUS DONATION was presented to Garrett County Memorial Hospital this past week from the now dissolved Garrett County Commission on Aging. A total of $3,410.55 remained in the treasury of that organization and the officers and board members decided to donate the entire amount to the hospital for needed equipment purchases. An additional sum, representing April's interest on the account, will also go to the hospital. The activities of the Commission on Aging have been assumed by the Area Agency on Aging, an office of Community Action. In the photo, left to right, are Mildred Peterson and Robert Lee, Commission board members; Ben Rosenthal, associate administrator of Garrett County Memorial Hospital; Paul George, Commission board member; Lester White, Commission treasurer; Ernest Spoerlein, Commission chairman; and Doris Burke, board member.

PICTURE-PERFECT CONTOUR STRIPS make up the farm belonging to Ernest and Carolyn Ganoe and their son, Dan, located near Finzel in northern Garrett County. The entire 600 acre Ganoe farm is in contour strips and no-till corn covers approximately 200 of those acres annually. Over the years, the Ganoes have relied on the Garrett County Soil Conservation District for advica to help them get the most from the family farm. Conservation tillage and soil fertility improvements have been high on that list of suggestions. Dan Ganoe, along with Asher Glade farmer, Roy Umbel, discuss no till corn production in the second half of "No Till Corn Conserving Soil In Garrett County" on page 12.

Sword Honored By Forest, Park, Wildlife Service

Herrington Manor Park Manager Gerald Sword was among the Forest, Park and Wildlife Service employees who received merit awards during the recent graduation ceremonies for the 1985 Forest, Park and Wildlife Service Ranger School at Elk Neck State Park. Director Don MacLauchlan presented a merit award to Sword "in recognition of outstanding service in the field olf history."

During 1984, Manager Sword gave assistance on historical matters to 21 groups and individuals. These eipsodes required several hours or days of work and were responses to inquiries from schools, researchers, the National Park Service and historical publications. "Manager Sword willingly gives his time and energies to help people get information about historical matters," stated MacLauchlan.

In September 1984, the Feidt-Snyder Farm House at Indian Springs Wildlife Management Area in Washington County was dedicated. An 18th-19th century farm house, the building has been rehabilitated and is the work center office for Indian Springs Wildlife Management Area. In 1982, Sword, as a private citizen, saw the potential for rehabilitating this building instead of building a modern structure as had been planned. Sword then generated state and local support for the project and he has been credited with helping to see the project completed.

Local Man Found Guilty Of Battery

A 21-year-old Oakland man has been fined $100 and sentenced to 18 months with the Department of Corrections after being convicted on a battery charge by Garrett County District Court Judge Jack Turney in court on April 23.

The judge suspended 17 months of the sentence for Edward W. Meyers and placed him on 12 months supervised probation.

Guy Fazenbaker, Jr., Oakland, filed the charge after a March 22 incident in Heck's parking lot.

In other court cases, Judge Turney acquitted Larry Frazee, Friendsville, of a charge filed by Tina Buckel, a sanitarian for the Garrett County Health Department. Frazee had been charged with installing a well system without a permit.

State's attorney James Sherbin reported three charges against Russell R. Perando, 55, Petersburg, W.Va., would not be prosecuted because the victims did not appear. Annabelle D. Perando, Grantsville, Pa., had filed two theft charges and a wanton trespassing charge against the defendant.

Charges of battery and wanton trespassing against Twylla S. Elmore, 28, Swanton, were not prosecuted because complainant Shelby Lamp, Deer Park, did not wish to testify.

The state did not prosecute a theft charge filed against Jeffrey S. Miller, Sr., 20, Friendsville, by Tfc. Jay R. Resh of the Maryland State Police.

A battery charge against Edith P. Guthrie, 30, Grantsville, filed by Gladys M. Guthrie, Grantsville, was placed on the stet docket.

In court cases on April 24, Judge Turney revised a decision in a case involving Aleta DelSignore, 25, Oakland. The case, involving a wanton trespassing charge, was withdrawn from the stet docket and probation before judgment was granted.

In cases heard on April 25, the judge granted a request by the state to increase bond set for Paul L. Sweene, 53, McHenry, on a charge of unlawful possession of cocaine.

Sweene faced a bench warrant for not appearing in court for a March 8, 1984 hearing on a fugitive warrant charge.

In addition to the cocaine possession charge and the fugitive warrant charge, he faced a charge of driving while under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol.

Total bond on all three charges was $111,000, with $100,000 set for the fugitive warrant charge, $10,000 for possession of cocaine and $1,000 for DWI.

Sweene's attorney, Daun Weiers, Oakland, had filed a motion to quash the bench warrant charge because there was no record of Sweene's receiving the notice to appear in court on the fugitive warrant. Weiers, in the motion, also pointed out that Sweene had appeared in West Virginia court, the state prompting the fugitive warrant, rendering that charge moot.

Because the fugitive warrant charge was in question, the state sought to add the $100,000 bond to the possession of cocaine charge. The judge granted the request to raise the bond and granted the motion to quash the bench warrant charge.

Dry Conditions Result In Rash Of Brush Fires

The recent dry conditions have led to a number of brush and woods fires in several areas of Garrett County, the largest of which consumed approximately 40 acres in the Savage River Dam area.

Firefighters from Bloomington, Westernport and Piedmont, W.Va., along with forestry units and personnel, were called to that area at 2:50 p.m. on Friday and fought the blaze for several hours. It was reported that there were three separate brush fires in the Savage River Dam area on Friday afternoon. It was believed they were started by passing Chessie System trains.

Another brush fire occurred in the same area on Saturday to which firemen from Bloomington, Westernport, Piedmont, and Deer Park responded. The alarm was sounded at 10:54 a.m. and personnel remained on the scene until the evening hours.

To date, the Forest, Park and Wildlife Service reports that 560 forest fires have been reported across the state burning 14,600 acres. More than half of those fires have occurred within the last month during high fire danger conditions. In all of 1984 only 280 forest fires burning 489 acres were reported to forestry officials.

Maryland has 2.4 million acres of forest land. Most forest fires occur because of carelessness when burning debris or arson, the forestry officials stated.

Schrover Receives One Year In Jail

Garrett County District Court Judge Jack Turney sentenced a 43-year-old Friendsville man to one year in jail after receiving a pre-sentence investigation report in Garrett County Circuit Court April 26.

Clifford A. Schroyer pled guilty to subornation of perjury, one of three charges against him, in the county Circuit Court on April 11. One subornation charge and a perjury charge were not prosecuted.

Schroyer and two others, Christina Capel and Russell W. Hoover, were charged with perjury because they had given false testimony in a trial on June 7, 1984.

At the 1984 trial, Schroyer was convicted of driving while under the influence of alcohol and driving a motor vehicle in violation of a driver's license.

Schroyer, Capel and Hoover testified in the trial that Schroyer had not been driving when he was arrested for DWI on February 19, 1984.

Later Hoover and Capel admitted that Schroyer had been driving. Hoover and Capel are serving one-year jail terms on perjury charges.

The subornation charge to which Schroyer pled guilty involved procuring Hoover to make a false oath in Schroyer's trial.

borhood of $40,000.

Nelson also told the board that at least two junkyard owners would be cited for violations by the Zoning Board in the near future.

Health Department

Edgar Harman, director of environmental health, reported that schedules for spring Rabies Clinics have been compiled and will be announced in local newspapers and on radio stations.

The clinics offer rabies vaccinations for domestic pets at a nominal cost and aid in reducing the spread of the disease in the county.

Stormwater Management

Stormwater Management Engineer Lee Thorne said funds had been received for a new four-wheel drive vehicle to be used by his department.

Bids for the new vehicle will be received by the commissioners until 1:00 p.m. Tuesday, May 14. Specifications for the vehicle may be obtained at the Stormwater Management office, located in Room 205 in the old Courthouse.

Garrett Community College

Dean of Finance Leo Martin told the commissioners he had "good news" to report in the form of a letter from the American Veterinary Medical Association stating they would continue the accreditation of the Vet Tech Program at GCC with five provisions for one more year. The provisions must be met by May 10.

Economic Development

Tom Jones, economic development director, told commissioners the Development Corporation has applied for a grant to complete work on an additional 50 acres at the Central Garrett Industrial Park. The funds would provide for water, sewerage and an access road for the park.

Jones said the corporation is also applying for federal and state grants to fund the Savage River clean-up project in preparation of the International Whitewater Championships slated for 1989. Jones said he is hopeful for 100% funding, 75% from the federal government and 25% from the state.

Building Operations

Gary Mullich, director of general operations, said he was debating the merits of the proposed inter-agency phone system for county agencies since it was going to be more costly than originally anticipated.

He also announced the resignation of one Veterinary Technician at the Garrett County Animal Shelter.

Extension Office

Extension Agent Alice Heavner reported that her office is busy preparing for summer camps, the Garrett County Fair, and exchange programs.

She said the switchboard has been answering many gardening and soil questions in anticipation of the spring planting season.

GCC Board

said he felt it was irresponible to vote no-confidence in the administration without speaking to those involved first, and that it was "terrible that they had to find out about the vote in the local newspaper."

Sincell responded by saying, "In the past, we have, on numerous occasions attempted to communicate with the administration and have been ignored. We have documentation to prove that, and we were ready to share that with the board, but they did not live up to the conditions requested by the forum. The forum representatives had asked to meet with the board and upon entering the meeting, found the administration present. The board would not ask the administration to leave the room, although just two nights previous, the board had met with the administration without including the forum. Therefore, there was a stalemate, and we feel, for the most part, that our actions were justified."

At that point, some 30 students at the meeting applauded Sincell's remarks.

President's Report

In his report, President Randall Harman, said the aid rate for community colleges was passed by the Maryland General Assembly but that several amendments were attached. He said only one amendment was approved by the Conference Committee. "This amendment provides for withholding of funds to a community college if there is a recurring material weakness noted in the audit," he stated.

Harman also updated for the board the status of the agreement between the college and the Department of Natural Resources. The DNR will continue to monitor acid rain with their equipment at the college under the agreement outlined by the DNR.

The president also said plans were completed for graduation which will take place on May 18.

Academic Report

Dean of Academic Affairs, Fred K. Learey, reported that summer and fall schedules have been compiled and distributed.

Dean Learey also reported on a meeting he had with members of the student body Tuesday afternoon. He complimented the students for the way they handled themselves and felt the meeting was "very worthwhile" in addressing the students' concerns.

Budget Report

Dean of Finance, Leo Martin, reported that 76% of this year's budget had been spent as of March 31. He said the college should end the year with a balanced budget and that the cash flow forecast looked good.

It was announced by President Harman that Rodeheaver and Associates would again be auditing the college books.

The board was presented the administration's recommendations for tuition for fiscal year 1985-86.

The recommendations were: $26 per credit hour for 1-15 credit hours. No charge for credit hours beyond 15 for Garrett County residents. For Maryland residents outside of the county, the cost would be $46 per credit hour for 1-15 credit hours. No charge for credit hours over 15. For non-residents of Maryland, the charge would be $98 per credit hour.

The board approved the recommendatins.

Bloomington Water System Repairs Nearing Completion This Week

Repairs to the Bloomington water system should be complete by the end of this week, according to Edgar Harman of the Garrett County Health Department. Harman was uncertain, however, as to when the water system would again be used to service the town since additional tests would be taken after the system was flushed out.

The water system was shut down after an odor was detected in the water the last week of March. Since that time, the town has been purchasing its water from Westernport, which supplied the town with water from the Savage River Dam before the new Bloomington water system was developed.

According to Harman, the probable cause of the problem was several leaks in the line from the river to the pumping station. This allowed ground water to infiltrate into the system at a point before the water reached the treatment plant.

Danny Bainbridge of Western Maryland Associates, Inc., the project engineer, explained that there will be great care taken to put the system back into service. Along with fixing the leaks, the point source of the ground water will be eliminated, explained Bainbridge. The pumping station, all the lines, and the treatment plant will all be drained and refilled before the Health Department takes test samples again.

"After every correction is made," said Harman, "we'll turn the system on and let it run and recirculate back into the river a while, before running tests." He stated that they hope to have the system in working order and connected again in the very near future.

Trauma, Disaster Short Course Set For This Weekend

The Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College, in cooperation with the Maryland Fire & Rescue Institute and the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems, will offer the third annual Trauma & Disaster Short Course this weekend at the Grantsville Holiday Inn.

This course is designed for individuals wishing to gain certain knowledge and skills related to trauma and disaster emergencies. Topics to be covered include: Hazardous Materials and E.M.S. Personnel with Lt. Gary Warren, E.M.S. Division, Baltimore County Fire Department; MIEMSS Medical Direction with Ameen I. Ramzy, M.D., Medical Director of Field Programs, Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems; Bus & Truck Extrication & Rescue Technique with Garry Briese, C.A.E., Executive Director, Florida Chapter-American College of Emergency Physicians & Joel C. Woods, Coordinator, Upper Eastern Shore Regional Office, Maryland Fire & Rescue Institute; Explosions, Blasts & Gunshot Wounds - Things May Not Be What They Appear To Be with Mark Smith, M.D., Division of Emergency Medicine, George Washington Medical Center; Coordinating a Successful Prehospital Code with Michael Walls, A.L.S. Coordinator, Region I; Trauma & Pregnancy with Mark Smith, M.D.; and Evaluating Time Spent with Priority I & II Patients with Margaret Kaiser, M.D., Emergency Department, Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

To date, at least 200 participants have registered for the course which is designed for field and hospital emergency services personnel. It is especially appropriate for health professionals (EMTs, physicians, nurses and others associated with health care), both paid and volunteer.

Although the enrollment limit has been reached, persons wanting more information about the program should contact the Office of Continuing Education at 334-8266.

DWI Among Charges Against Grantsville Man

A Grantsville man was arrested Saturday afternoon for driving while under the influence of alcohol and cited with four additional violations by Tfc. D.W. Broadwater of the Maryland State Police.

Jay Michael Bittinger, 21, was charged after racing with another automobile, driven by Steve Snyder, on Route 495, north of the Dung Hill Road and forcing another vehicle off the road, operated by Donna J. Brenneman, 26, Grantsville.

Brenneman was travelling south in the southbound lane and the Bittinger vehicle was travelling north in the southbound lane when her vehicle was forced off the road. Brenneman's 17-month-old son, Troy, was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by Broadwater and reportedly treated for possible injuries.

Along with the DWI charge, Bittinger has been charged with driving on the wrong side of the road, racing on a public road and driving an unregistered vehicle.

A Lewistown, Pa. woman was charged with DWI and driving on the wrong side of the road Sunday by Tfc. G.R. Chaney after a mishap at Swallow Falls State Park.

Marta J. McCurdy, 24, was charged after she failed to reduce speed on a curve and skidded off the left side of the road into a tree.

McCurdy, and a passenger in the vehicle, Jeffrey Ziegler, 24, Wilmington, Del., were reportedly uninjured in the accident.

Disturbing Results . . .

A recent survey by U.S. News and World Report revealed some rather disturbing results.

The survey involved over 300 participants, age 18 through 24, about half of whom were male and half female. The young people were asked to name one or more heroes or heroines, persons they found to be "personally inspiring and hoped to be like in some way."

It seemed encouraging that Ronald Reagan, Pope John Paul II, and Mother Teresa (Roman Catholic missionary) were among the top ten selected by the group. However, it was equally disheartening that the other seven were from the world of entertainment. Heading the list was Clint Eastwood, followed by comedian Eddie Murphy in second place. Jane Fonda placed fourth, director Steven Spielberg and Sally Field were tied for fifth, and Michael Jackson and Tina Turner tied for ninth place. Reagan placed third, the Pope, seventh, and Mother Teresa, eighth.

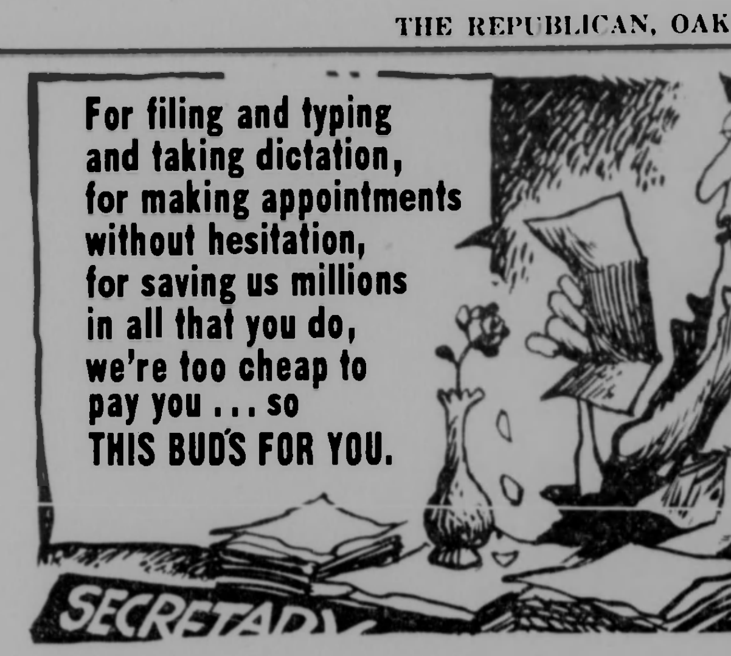
Among the choices of young men, great athletes made up three of the top ten, while women participants' top three choices were entertainers.

It seems that most of these young people looked at the often unrealistic characters that are portrayed by actors rather than the real individuals. Most survey participants would be hard-pressed to reveal truly heroic acts by Clint Eastwood and Eddie Murphy, although there may be some. Perhaps each of them contributes significant portions of their enormous incomes to charity. We feel certain, however, that they were deemed heroes for their popularity as entertainers, which causes us some uneasiness in a couple of ways.

First of all, are too many of our young people living in a dream world and hopeful of attaining some level of life that is unattainable? Secondly, if the persons portrayed by Clint Eastwood are the real heroes to these young people, this identifies another problem. Eastwood's roles usually involve macho, egocentric characters, who have little regard for morality, human rights, and the law. Eddie Murphy, who is obviously quite funny to many, is a real garbage mouth. Jane Fonda is not exactly a heroine in the minds of this country's Vietnam veterans.

What about the U.S. Olympic athletes? What about the other great humanitarians of our time? What about the scientists and researchers who are curing the diseases of the world? What about other missionaries and those bringing aid to third world nations?

Perhaps it is the fault of the media, for it is not the real live heroes who get most of the publicity, but the imaginary ones. Maybe the young people in the survey simply didn't know the names of the real heroes. How many do we know? Will the real heroes please stand up?



For filing and typing and taking dictation, for making appointments without hesitation, for saving us millions in all that you do, we're too cheap to pay you . . . so THIS BUD'S FOR YOU.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I am a sophomore at Southern High School, and I recently had the privilege of attending an all-expense paid three and a half day seminar about America's Incentive System sponsored by the Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation Maryland Leadership Seminar. I would like to let your readers know what an outstanding experience it was to be with 191 other sophomores from Maryland.

I had the opportunity to listen and talk to distinguished leaders in business, industry, education and government. By using a question and answer format, I was able to get a realistic look at what makes America tick and be able to develop my own opinions. Field trips to General Motors, McCormick and Co., Science Center, and the Aquarium were very enjoyable and raised my consciousness of their responsibilities to customers, stockholders and the environment.

Wonderful programs like HOBY are few and I hope you will promote the continuation of the seminar and thank all those volunteers and businesses who have contributed to its success for seven years.

Sincerely,
Misti Ridenour

To the Editor:

After reading the April 25 editorial "Caring Kids," we have decided to join the bandwagon to raise money for the Ethiopian people.

As a social studies educator at Southern Middle School who teaches a six-week unit on the continent of Africa, my students and I became aware of the plight of the Ethiopian people prior to the Christmas holidays. As a class project, we raised $130.00 to help alleviate the problem. However the Christmas season has come and gone and the problem remains. Consequently, we would like to expand our initial effort. In order to achieve the impact that we desire, the involvement of county businesses, organizations, churches, professional groups and private individuals is necessary.

In order to comprehend the severity of the problem facing the Ethiopian people and the necessity for contributing to this cause, we urge you to watch the rebroadcast of the 20/20 special depicting the apparent hopelessness of the Ethiopian people. This program will be aired on Saturday, May 4, on channel four (channel seven for cable viewers). Check your local listing for the exact time.

In the near future our group will be sending letters to area businesses, organizations and professional groups pleading for contributions on behalf of the Ethiopian people. Churches will be contacted on a personal basis. Any private individual wishing to donate to this fund may do so by sending their donations to the First United Bank of Oakland, payable to the Ethiopian Famine Relief Fund.

In addition to the above request, we will also be conducting other fund raising activities throughout the county during the month of May. (To be announced at a later date). We hope to complete our project by May 31.

It is our sincere desire that each and every Garrett Countian will be motivated to help make this project a success.

Thank you,

To the Editor:

As a former adjunct instructor, member of the Advisory Committee on Women's Programming, and 1984 Commencement speaker at Garrett Community College, I have always been a strong supporter of the College and its great service to Garrett County. It is therefore with sorrow and some anger that I view the present situation at GCC. I am aware of the vote of no confidence in the President and Dean of Academic Affairs by the faculty Academic Forum. I am also aware of some of the specific problems that led to this action—lack of communication with the faculty; questionable managerial decisions such as the elimination of the Vet Tech program; disregard for the human aspect of managing people; alleged unethical and/or unlawful employment practices toward faculty and employees; attempted violation of the constitutional right of freedom of speech; seemingly unsupported dismissals of long-time faculty members Dr. Dennis Fearnow, Donald Carstens and Dr. Paul Deal; and recent resignations of well-respected faculty members Tom Bosley and Hugh Trimble.

It occurs to me that it would be easy to blame these problems on the apparent incompetence of the present administration. However, this is the third year in a row that GCC has experienced a crisis with its administration. Two years ago the president was fired in mid-year because of alleged managerial and financial problems at the College. Last year, the Dean of Administrative Services was relieved of his duties in mid-year over a scandal involving the residency status of students. And now there are serious allegations against the present administration.

With such a poor track record, I believe that there is really only one place to lay the blame for GCC's multitude of problems and revolving-door administrations over the past several years—in the lap of the Board of Trustees. The Board is charged with the public responsibility for managing the affairs of the College. And it is they who select and approve the administrators, both past and present. Clearly the Board has failed the public by its inability or refusal to recognize College problems and take corrective action before those problems become of crisis proportion. And it has also become clear that even when problems are brought to the attention of the Board, the Board has failed to deal with those problems in a straightforward and responsible manner. For example, several weeks ago the Board refused to recognize the understandably concerned Vet Tech students at one of its regular public meetings. And more recently when the Board agreed to meet with a delegation of faculty members to discuss the problems at the College, the Board announced that it had already taken a predetermined vote of confidence in the present administration and its policies. With the deck so heavily stacked against it, it is no wonder that the faculty feels frustrated and defeated.

I believe that Garrett County deserves much higher standards from those individuals in whom the public trust has been placed. I believe that it is time to consider an elected Board of Trustees for the College so that these public officials can be held accountable to the community they are supposed to serve. I call upon the Garrett County community—students, alumni, faculty, concerned citizens and taxpayers—to demand of our elected officials, including Governor Hughes, that they conduct an immediate investigation into the problems of our College. Now is the time to stand together and demand accountability and reform in the management practices of Garrett Community College. If we do not act now to save our valuable little community college, I fear that we will not have an institution to save in the very near future.

To the Editor:

We are writing as very concerned parents of four school-aged children. Next year we will have one child in Grantsville school, one in Northern Middle school, and two in high school.

If the plans to change the school schedules are accurate as we've been told, this is how our schedule for school days will be:

Our 7th grader will catch the bus at 5:45 a.m., get home at 1:30 p.m. Our 1st grader will catch the bus at 7:00 a.m., get home at 4:30 p.m. Our 11th and 12th graders will catch the bus at 11:00 a.m., get home at 6:30 p.m. My husband leaves for work at 7:00 a.m. and gets home at 4:30. There's a possibility he will be working swing shifts by then.

Our family life will be completely disrupted. Someone will constantly be leaving or coming home from 5:45 a.m. until 6:30 p.m.

The thing that disturbs us the greatest is the fact that our 12-year-old daughter will be walking ¼ mile to the bus stop in the dark, to a bus stop that is completely out of sight of any houses. Also, this is three miles off the hardtop road and there is absolutely no lighting. How would you like your daughter to do this? Or better yet, how would you like to be the 12-year-old standing there alone?

Has anyone considered that the school buses will be on the roads all hours of the days and evenings. Only the people involved will be aware of the children boarding and departing buses at such unusual hours.

What about the people just passing through who know nothing of the unique Garrett County Set-up?

Do some of our children have to be killed or injured to get a decent plan that's looking out for the welfare of the children? I pray not?

We're also wondering what kind of mass confusion will develop if there's a two-hour delay in winter. Will all three schools have delay? If so, our high school students won't get home until approximately 8:30 at night.

Why can't there be an open meeting for all the concerned parents to participate in? After all, these are our children. There must be alternatives better than those we've heard.

Perhaps the best ones will come from the parents. I hope more parents will share their feelings?

Very Concerned
Mr. and Mrs.
George Broadwater

To the Editor:

The third quarter 1984 Newsletter of the United Parkinson Foundation stated that researchers are now able to cause permanent Parkinson's Disease in experimental animals by giving them MPTP. This exciting breakthrough was discovered by a tragic accident: six young men developed severe Parkinson's after using heroin contaminated with the chemical. MPTP is converted in the body to MPP+, which is identical to cyperquat, a close cousin of paraquat. Cyperquat was developed as a herbicide, but was never used because it was too toxic to animals.

For 12 years, I lived on a farm where we planted some of the first no-till corn in Garrett County. We used both paraquat and atrazine extensively. Our water source was a well, a very shallow one for part of that time.

I developed noticeable symptoms of Parkinson's Disease at age 35. Seldom do people develop Parkinson's before age 50.

I participated in two national studies which sought to find environmental causes of Parkinson's Disease. Both studies asked whether I used well water and whether I lived in an area where herbicides and pesticides were used. These are the kinds of questions researchers are asking.

Is there a connection to all these bits of information? I wish I knew. I do know that researchers believe that Parkinson's may be caused by a hereditary predisposition triggered by environmental factors.

The recent no-till article offered some excellent reasons to plant no-till. I believe there are also excellent reasons to be extremely cautious when using the herbicides required by no-till.

Now, for a change of subject. I'm inviting you people reading this paper who have Parkinson's Disease to send me a card with your name, address and phone number. I will put the information on my computer data base and eventually send a copy of the names of those who participate to you. Then you will all be able to contact each other. Perhaps we can form a support group if there is enough interest. We will also be able to tell whether the incidence of Parkinson's Disease in Garrett County is the same, greater, or less than the national average.

Sincerely,
Esther Bender

I am a seventh grade student at Southern Middle School, and attended the talent show that was held there Friday evening, April 26.

I am writing this letter because I feel that Vicki Dilgard from Southern High School should have been awarded a first place trophy. Vicki's dance and routine to the song "Flashdance" showed that she is extremely talented. Her efforts and hard work resulted in a perfect performance.

"Way to go Vicki!" My vote is for you!

To the Editor:

This month our local chapter of the Humane Society is two years old. We have come a long way and learned much. Mostly we have learned there is much abuse in our County and this abuse is from the minority, from persons who seem to enjoy seeing the suffering of animals. If they didn't enjoy it, they wouldn't starve, deny shelter, veterinarian care and water, keep the animals tied in the same place for long periods of time and let manure pile up under them until their legs are sore.

We have also learned we have a great State Police force, Sheriff's Department, cooperating commissioners, staff in the State's Attorney's office, administrative staff at GCC, and animal lovers who have made the chapter what it is with help and donations and caring people who have reported abuse. (It is a society policy that names of persons reporting abuse are never revealed without consent). We are especially grateful to Donna Squires and Martha McComas officers of Allegany County Animal Welfare Society and State's Attorney, Jim Sherbin, who paved the way for my mother, Bernadine Friend, who initiated the organizing of our society, to Attorney's Jim Braskey and Tom Dabney who donated time to incorporate and defend us in Court and to my fellow officers and active members.

We are hoping to start a spaying and neutering clinic with fee depending on income. We will be having fund raisers and drives to support this. WE will need the support of everyone. We're defeating our purpose when we kill puppies and let the mother continue having them instead of "spaying and sparing," spaying the mother and sparing her the suffering of having puppies every six months to be killed.

To the Editor:

Pain, despair and loneliness are indeed part of life. Life is difficult. Because life is difficult, every human being is apt to experience periods of depression. That's normal. But many depressed persons attempt suicide.

Perhaps as many as 90,000 persons each year in the U.S. take their own lives. No one is sure of the figures because many suicides are coveredd up or erroneously reported as accidents. Persons age 60 and over commit 23% of the suicides, although they compose 18.5% of the population. Suicide is the second leading cause of death among adolescents. (The first is accidents).

Drug abuse, alcoholism, unemployment, despair, revenge, loneliness, physical pain, a sense of loss or failure, feelings of worthlessness, anger, rejection by a loved one and even political protest—all of these and more have been the catalyst for suicide.

But there is hope, Viktor Frankl speaking on his 80th birthday said, "Even when confronted with a hopeless situation, you still have a chance to make life meaningful—in turning personal tragedy into a triumph or by transforming your predicament to an accomplishment."

The secular world is without hope in solving the stress, anxiety and depression that comes in a life apart from Christ. The film, "Happiness is a Choice" featuring two of the world's leading Christian psychiatrists, Dr. Paul Meier and Dr. Frank Minirth, speaks out clearly on the hope, joy, and fulfillment available only through a relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ.

"Happiness is a Choice" will be shown at 7:00 p.m. Sunday, May 5, at the Oak Park Church of the Brethren across from Southern High School.

Everyone is invited. A free will offering will be taken.

Sincerely,
Rev. Verne Leininger
Pastor, Oak Park Church

To the Editor:

May is Older Americans Month. It is very important for the family to foster independence by supporting their elderly members without undermining their confidence and ability to care for themselves.

Sometimes the family is unaware that they are being overprotective of their loved one, and making them feel unneeded by the family or anyone else.

Sometime ago, a family was being overprotective, out of love, and would hardly let their senior member do anything. She finally spoke out and told them how they were making her feel. Since she had been a hard worker all of her life, the overprotectiveness made her feel like a complete invalid, and no longer useful to anybody. Needless to say, the family members' eyes were opened to what they were doing to their loved one.

So there is indeed a knack to helping seniors remain active and happy. Be supportive and caring, but make sure they retain their own space, friends and independence.

Sincerely,
Marie Skipper

To the Editor:

Exactly one hundred years ago a young artist visited this area. This is known because he left titled, dated sketches of some of the places visited. (I have seen five of them).

The name of the painter was Arthur Bowen Davies. Now he is the subject of a literary article and what is hoped the most definitive biography about him to date. The writer is a fellow Marylander, Professor and chairman, Department of Fine and Applied Arts, Baltimore Community College, 6603 Baythorne Road, Baltimore, Maryland 21209.

My reason for writing to you is to ask your readers and local members of the Oakland Historical Society to examine their records, family archives, journals to ascertain whether or not there is any record of his presence among them. Mr. Davies would have been aged 23 at the time of his sketching tour. He was born in Utica, New York in 1862. He lived until 1928. He was considered an American Romantic painter; he traveled in Mexico and in Europe. His paintings were once hung in the Babcock Galleries, New York, but I can find no information concerning them. The Gallery may have passed out of existence.

If any of your readers can find traces of Mr. Davies' visit, please send the information directly to Professor Bernard B. Perlman, at the address given above. It should be a very real contribution to a worthwhile literary endeavor as well as a valuable historical contribution.

Appreciatively,

Our Turn

Green And Hairy
by Pam Ashby

I cleaned my son's room Saturday while he was out of town on a father/son retreat. I figured it would be a good way to spend the morning and he wouldn't be there to protest my method of cleaning.

I donned my gas mask and a pair of hip boots and pushed my way to the only bare spot in the middle of the room. I plopped down on the floor and working in a circular fashion began pitching items (what he calls neat stuff) that I felt weren't particularly useful any longer.

The neat stuff consisted of seven socks with no mates, three pairs of training pants (he's 13), a dozen dried-up felt-tip markers, 34 candy bar and gum wrappers, 87 broken pencils, eight decapitated or mutilated Adventure People, homework papers from 1978-84, four crashed airplane models, numerous broken rubber bands and shoestrings, and a partridge in a pear tree. Sorry. I got carried away.

After cleaning and scrubbing the closet and dresser drawers and washing curtains, sheets and blankets, I glanced at the dreaded bed. I had carefully avoided it for the past six hours. My morning project had already gone well into the afternoon.

I have a real problem where that bed is concerned. Well, I'm not afraid of the bed itself. Rather, I'm terrified of what's under the bed. We've joked for years about the green hairy thing that resides under that bed and I have visions of reaching under there and being absorbed by a monster that started out as a half-eaten orange. We're not sure how large the thing is now.

I must have looked panic-stricken as I stood there trembling at the prospect of reaching under that bed. Suddenly, my six-year-old daughter poked her head into the room and chirped, "Go ahead Mom. You can do it. Go! Go! Go!"

"I...I...can't," I stammered.

"Mom, you're too old to carry on this way. Now take a deep breath and go over there and clean under that bed," she scolded.

You're right, Annie, I can do it. We know there's really no green, moldy creature under there," I lied.

I took the plunge and an hour later the task was completed. I was proud of the fresh, clean room. Jamie would be so pleased with my efforts.

When Jamie came bouncing in the door Sunday evening, I stood in the kitchen holding my breath when he went to his room. I was waiting for the gush of compliments.

"Wow, Mom! This looks like a room in 'Better Homes and Gardens'. I hope I can find all my neat stuff, though." Nice compliment, coming from a teenager.

"Hey, Mom," he cajoled, "did you have to fight the green, hairy thing under my bed?"

"Very funny," I said dryly as the green creature and I exchanged winks from across the room.

(Little does Jamie know that I bribed green and hairy with a garbage bag of his neat stuff.)

Board Presents

She also told of one maintenance person who is responsible to care for 22,000 square feet of space. "A homemaker would have to clean her home 10 times a day to cover the area we ask one person to do," she commented.

Besides the commissioners, the five members of the school board, and Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, county school superintendent, 14 persons were present for the meeting. Among them were representatives of the Garrett County Teachers' Association, the Garrett County Association of Educational Support Personnel and several parent groups.

Commissioner Ernie Gregg commented that to fund the school board's request would add $1.79 to the county tax rate.

Dr. Ryscavage responded that the county had additional funds besides the property tax and indicated that the county has added surplus funds for the past few years. He added that the assessable base in the county has increased this year which would mean the commissioners could maintain the present tax rate and still raise enough money to fund the board's request.

Jim Raley, president of the GCTA, urged the commissioners to fully fund the school board's request. He pointed out that the commissioners' failure last year to allot the board's request caused the board "to make drastic budget cuts categorically. Anytime this happens, the youth are being deprived of educational opportunities."

Tom Shaffer, regional representative of the GCTA, presented a statement as well as a list of questions to the commissioners describing the association's belief that the county has ample revenues, through an end-of-he-year surplus and its tax levy, to fund the board's request.

Shaffer also presented the commissioners with a summary of a county budget review by an accounting firm hired by the GCTA. Based on it, the GCTA estimates that the county will have a surplus of $630,000 this year.

Board member Anna Mary Fratz offered a final statement by asking the commissioners, "If you see fit to cut our budget, will you help the board by cutting our request categorically?"

The commissioners promised to take into consideration the board's request and all comments made.

Later in the afternoon at the commissioners' press conference, the commissioners discussed the board's request and Commissioner Gregg stated, "We have to take into consideration all the factors and weigh all requests against what the county can afford."

Tasker

County and state police as well as the Oakland volunteer fire department and Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad were called to the scene. The fire and rescue companies left the scene at about 11:45 p.m.

Tasker fired a shot out of the building when Deputy David Crossland of the Garrett County Sheriff's Department, who arrived first, attempted to talk Tasker into surrendering.

Police continued their attempts to negotiate with Tasker until 6 a.m. on July 15, when they decided to fire a chemical agent to force Tasker out. Upon the administration of the C.S. gas, Tasker surrendered and was taken to the county jail.

Estimated damage of the business was $2307.

Tasker was represented by Bill Lee Smith, an attorney appointed by the public defender's office, Cumberland.

gram that their educational needs can be met by GCC next year," Dean Learey said.

In March, college officials stated their intention to allow this year's first-year students to complete their studies at Garrett, but until they received Friday's letter from the AVMA, that association's position on the extension of accreditation was unclear. Accreditation is necessary to allow graduating students to take the required licensing exams prior to entering the employment field.

"We understand the frustration the students have been feeling while we are waiting for word from the AVMA, but hopefully their fears will now be alleviated," Learey said.

All State Tax Refunds To Be Sent By May 24

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein says the flood of state income tax returns filed at the last minute this year was the largest ever, but the logjam is clearing up and, except for those returns that have some type of error, all refund checks should be issued by May 24.

"We received a record 548,500 tax returns filed at the last minute, about 15% more than the 475,500 we received at the deadline last year," Mr. Goldstein said. "Many of those filing at the last minute are taxpayers who are enclosing a check for additional tax with their return.

"Between April 13 and April 26 this year, we deposited 403,662 checks with a total value of $290,549,943," he said, noting those figures represent a 28% increase in the number of checks and a 32% increase in the amount deposited, compared with last year.

"Getting that large amount of money in the bank becomes a top priority in the days immediately following the filing deadline and the staff of the Income Tax Division worked extra hours each day, including two Saturdays, to get the funds deposited.

"Our check encoding equipment and depositing procedures allow the State of Maryland to earn an entire day's interest on each day's deposit, which is made about 3:30 p.m.," the comptroller said. "When you're dealing with hundreds of millions of dollars in that brief a time period, the interest earnings can be considerable."

The comptroller noted that, while interest earned on deposits of state income tax revenue goes into the state's general fund, the efficiency of the office's depositing procedures earns more than enough interest each year to pay for the entire operating cost of the Income Tax Division.

"With the money deposited in the bank, I have directed that all available resources be put into issuing the remaining refund checks," Comptroller Goldstein said. "Except for those returns which contain some kind of error, we expect to have all remaining refunds out by May 24."

As of April 29, a total of 957,363 refund checks had been issued to Maryland taxpayers, with a total value of $248,654,681. The average Maryland refund check is $259.73, nearly $20 more than the average check at this time last year.

Mr. Goldstein noted that returns filed by taxpayers under the last minute pressure of the April 15 deadline often contain mistakes of omission, such as not enclosing the W-2 statement or the check for additional tax. "In these cases, we must contact the taxpayer, which further delays the processing of the return," he said.

Other common last minute errors include mathematical mistakes and writing figures on the wrong line. "Many of these mistakes are corrected automatically here in Annapolis, but correcting the error still takes additional time," Mr. Goldstein noted.

Commenting on the recent filing season, the comptroller said, "This was an unusual filing season from start to finish, with the slow filing activity in January because of the emergency exemption for social security income enacted by the General Assembly and the record number of last minute returns.

"I appreciate the cooperation of taxpayers, the media and the staff of the Income Tax Division in making it a successful filing season," Mr. Goldstein stated.

Library Corner

The Ruth Enlow Library is now taking requests for summer stops of the bookmobile throughout Garrett County. According to a library spokesman, persons wishing to have a stop in their area may visit the main library or one of the branches and fill out a request form.

Requests will also be taken by phone, and the following information should be ready: possible locations, approximate number of patrons, best and worst times of day, and a name and phone number of the caller so the library can keep in touch.

The main library number is 334-3996. The deadline for making requests is May 15.

Wilt-VanSickle Couple To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wilt, Grantsville, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Carol Ann, to Michael Frederick VanSickle, son of Frederick VanSickle and Olia Ortiz, both of McHenry.

The couple plans an open church wedding on Saturday, May 25, at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Oakland at 2:00 p.m.

A reception will follow at the Grantsville American Legion Home at 5:00 p.m. Some invitations have been sent but all friends and relatives are welcome to attend.

Lucinda Fleming, Steven Davis To Exchange Vows

Marriage vows will be exchanged by Lucinda Jon Fleming and Steven Douglas Davis, on Saturday, May 4, at 1:30 p.m.

The ceremony will be conducted at the Otterbein United Methodist Church in Swanton by Rev. Hal Rotruck.

Miss Fleming and Mr. Davis are the children of Albert and Linda Fleming and Elwood and Lenora Davis, all of Swanton.

Although some invitations have been sent, all relatives and friends are cordially invited to attend.

THE HEAD START SUCCESS STORY WAS WELL TOLD last week when these four former Head Start children were given certificates of achievement during a luncheon at Southern High School Food Services Department to celebrate the "Week of the Young Child." Receiving a certificate was Maria Rhodes. Maria attended Crellin Head Start in 1977, and is now an honor student at Southern Middle School. She is a member of the Red House 4-H Club, and takes Horsemanship as a project. A certificate was presented to Frankie J. Durst, who was the first special education student and attended Jennings Head Start in 1969. He will graduate from high school this year and wants to be a Disc Jockey. He's planning to attend Garrett Community College this fall and major in Communications. Tammy Rowan received a certificate, and had attended Deer Park Head Start in 1969. She attended Southern High School where she was an honor student and was in Who's Who of American High School Students for two years. She presently attends GCC and is studying Real Estate when she is not working at Alpine Village. Also receiving a certificate was Robin Friend, who attended Crellin Head Start in 1971. Robin is a senior at Southern High School and has played in school bands since the fourth grade. She was assistant Drum Major one year, and won the Who's Who Music Award. Pictured above, left to right, are: Duane Yoder, executive director of Garrett County Community Action; Maria Rhodes, Frankie J. Durst, Tammy Rowan, Jan Tressler, Head Start director; and Robin Friend.

WEEK OF THE YOUNG CHILD — The Garrett County Head Start program observed The Week of the Young Child April 21 through April 27. The overall goal of the Head Start Program is to bring about a greater degree of social competence. To help accomplish this goal, Head Start objectives and performance standards provide for: the improvement of the child's health and physical abilities; the encouragement of self-confidence, spontaneity, curiosity and self-discipline; the enhancement of the child's mental processes and skills; the establishment of patterns and expectations of success for the child; an increase in the ability of the child and the family to relate to each other and to others; and the enhancement of the sense of dignity and self-worth within the child and his family. Two hundred seventy-five Head Start children, staff and parents (pictured above) participated in a balloon launch and picnic lunch at Deep Creek State Park on Thursday, April 25, to help celebrate the Week of the Young Child.

Maryland Travel Guide Available

The all-new, 1985 Maryland Travel Guide is now available from the Maryland Office of Tourist Development, and Tourist Information Centers throughout the State.

For the first time the guide offers complete information for vacation, travel and outdoor recreation. The 105-page guide has numerous full-color photographs and is divided into two major sections: Travel and Outdoor Recreation.

The Travel Section includes listings of tourist information offices, guide services, cruises, attractions and historic sites, and accommodations for the seven regions of the State.

The Outdoor Recreation section provides information for fishing, crabbing, hunting, skiing, canoeing, private campgrounds, state parks and forest accommodations.

The Maryland Calendar of Events is also available.

To receive free individual copies of the Guidebook or Calendar of Events, persons should write Maryland Tourism, 45 Calvert Street, Annapolis, Md. 21401.

State Scholarship Program Opens To '85 Applicants

Applications are now being accepted from high school juniors interested in participating in the Maryland 1985 distinguished scholarship program.

Three hundred awards are given each year to outstanding Maryland high school students who choose to attend Maryland colleges. Qualifying students may be awarded grants of $800 per year for use at Maryland colleges.

About 1200 students participate in the program each year, says Zachary Gray, spokesman for Maryland State Scholarship Board, sponsor of the program.

High school juniors can obtain information about the program from their school's guidance office.

R. V. Mishaps Investigated By State Police

The Maryland State Police investigated several recreational vehicle and motorcycle accidents this past week.

Michelle Duling, 11, the operator of a 1985 Suzuki four-wheeler, and a passenger, Michael Duling, 11, both of Oakland, were taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by their father following a Sunday evening mishap. Both were treated and released.

According to Tfc. R.C. Resh, the accident occurred when the two were travelling in an open field owned by Robert Dodge on U.S. Route 219 South. The operator was travelling along a hill when the vehicle overturned causing both to fall from the vehicle.

Another four-wheeler mishap occurred Saturday in an open field on the Oakland-Sang Run Road on property belonging to Diane Craver.

According to Tfc. R.C. Resh, the mishap occurred when Barry Shuttleworth, 12, operator of the vehicle, and his sister, Tracey Shuttleworth, 10, were travelling in the open field on a 1984 Honda four-wheeler. The passenger fell from the vehicle when the operator made a sharp turn in the field.

Tracey was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by her mother where she was treated for minor injuries and released.

A three-wheeler accident was also investigated Saturday by Tfc. G.R. Chaney.

Chaney said the accident occurred when the 1984 Honda three-wheeler operated by Jeremy Lewis, 11, Oakland, came too close a tree striking Lewis' arm. The accident occurred in a wooded area on the Oakland-Sang Run Road. Lewis suffered a broken wrist in the accident. Douglas Lewis, 13, a passenger on the vehicle, was uninjured in the mishap.

Lewis was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by Dolley Virts where he was treated for injuries and released.

A Mtn. Lake Park man was charged with negligent driving, driving without a license and driving while the license was revoked following a motorcycle accident Monday afternoon.

David W. Welch, 22, was operating a 1978 Suzuki motorcycle on a trail leading south from the B&O Railroad tracks near the Boiling Springs Road when he lost control of the cycle, causing it to fall on its side and then strike a tree. He was thrown from the vehicle. He then drove the cycle back to Oak Street in Oakland and his mother took him to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where he was treated and released.

Tfc. R.M. Hershberger was the investigating officer.

A report of a hit and run bicycle accident which allegedly occurred Monday evening is being investigated by Tfc. R.C. Resh.

Eric J. Claycomb, 21, McHenry, told police he was hit by an automobile while he was riding his bike on the Bumble Bee Road. He was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Rescue Squad.

Resh said he has found no conclusive evidence that such an accident took place.

In Memoriam . . .

In loving memory of our dear Mother and Grandmother, Grace D. VanSickle, who passed away six years ago on May 3:

Because of you and your thoughtful ways,
Our home was a happy one.
The special joy of family love, the strength of family ties!
Your wisdom and devotion were blessings from above.
Nothing is more precious than a Mother's special love.

Church News

There will be a planning meeting for Emmanuel's Bible School on Monday, May 6, at 7:45 p.m. at the church. All interested persons are asked to attend.

St. John's Council will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

May Fellowship Day will be held on Friday, May 3 at the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church. Registration will begin at 11 a.m. with a covered dish lunch at noon. During the worship service a film will be shown about the Habitat for Humanity. A special offering will be taken to help pay for the meals for the volunteer workers coming into the community to work on the homes being built. The Fellowship of the Least Coin will be observed also.

A women's retreat of the Mennonite Church was held on Friday and Saturday at Camp Allegheny, near Jennerstown, Pa. Attending the retreat were Kathryn Bowser, Nellie Hare, Audrey Zehr, Martha Yoder, Donna Glotfelty and Janet Brenneman.

On Sunday afternoon, several of the youth from the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church visited with the elderly in the community and sang for them.

Emmanuel's Mother-Daughter banquet will be held in the Bittinger Fire Hall on Friday evening at 6:30 p.m. The cost is $5.25 for an adult, $2.50 for children and children under 5 years of age will be served free of charge.

Anita Zehr, a sophomore in Eastern Mennonite College, Harrisonburg, Va., is home at the present time. She will soon be going to Arizona for a month for a cross cultural experience with the Navajo Indians in connection with her school work.

Beulah Moon and Ferne Beachy attended a seminar by the Rev. Dr. Peter Marshall in Center Street Methodist Church, Cumberland, on Monday morning.

Homemakers Meet

The Bittinger Homemakers' Club met at the home of Ferne Beachy on Tuesday evening, with nine members and two guests present. Kathryn Bowser had the demonstration on "Lighting" and Larry Champ, local electrician, gave a presentation on the subject, followed by a question and answer period. Different kinds of bulbs and lighting were on display.

Travel to Alaska

Mrs. Russell Brenneman, Loretta Opel, and Mrs. Bernard Opel, Kingwood, W.Va., left Tuesday, April 17, from Dulles Airport for Alaska. They were to visit Mrs. Clayton Markley, Chugaik, Alaska. While there, they traveled around the Anchorage area. Mr. Markley is employed by Andy Hess, who used to operate the stockyards in Grantsville, and is known by many in the county. His business is called Hess Auctions. Mr. Hess died a few weeks ago.

The women returned on April 24.

Attend Parties

Mrs. Beulah Moon attended a birthday party on Sunday at the Goodwill Home in Grantsville in honor of Mrs. Helen Golden. Members of her family presented a program in her honor.

Martha Glotfelty and Robert and Maxine Legeer attended a birthday party on Thursday evening at the home given in honor of Robert's mother, Lucretia Legeer. Mrs. Glotfelty played a half-hour of piano selections for the entertainment, with the "Happy Birthday" song for Mrs. Legeer.

Hospital News

Ira Yaste underwent surgery at Garrett County Memorial Hospital last Thursday. He remains a patient at the present time.

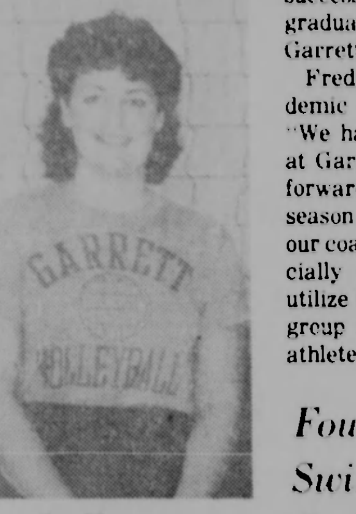
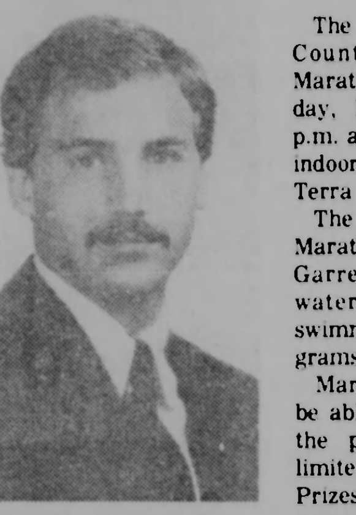
GCC Coaches Named For 1985-86

Dennis Gibson



Sue Mason

Ann Wellham



Lawrence Nesselrodt

Garrett Community College has announced head coaches for the 1985-86 athletic season.

Head coach for the men's basketball team, effective immediately, will be Dennis Gibson, who has served as assistant coach at Garrett for the past six years. He is a graduate of Southern High School and GCC. He replaces Tom Bosley, who announced his resignation last week.

Appointed head coach of the women's volleyball team was Sue Mason, also a former GCC student and athlete, and a graduate of Southern High School and Garrett.

Coach Ann Wellham will continue her duties as coach of the women's basketball team. She has served in that role for the past four years.

Lawrence Nesselrodt will return as head coach for the baseball team, following this year's successful season. He is also a graduate and former athlete of Garrett.

Fred Learey, Dean of Academic Affairs at GCC, said, "We have outstanding athletes at Garrett and we are looking forward to another successful season under the leadership of our coaching staff. We are especially pleased to be able to utilize the talents of such a fine group of former GCC student athletes."

Fourth Annual Swim Marathon Set For May 11

The fourth annual Garrett County Red Cross Swim Marathon will be held Saturday, May 11, from 1:00-5:00 p.m. at the Alpine Lake Resort indoor swimming pool near Terra Alta, W.Va.

The purpose of the Swim Marathon is to help support the Garrett County Red Cross water safety, instructional swimming, and swim team programs.

Marathon participants must be able to swim one length of the pool non-stop and are limited to 128 laps (two miles). Prizes will be awarded to top money raisers.

Emergency medical technicians and certified Red Cross lifeguards will be on duty during the entire swim marathon.

Persons wishing to participate may obtain a sponsor sheet and application form by contacting Joanne Graybill, 334-4312, or Vicky Skipper, 334-2254.

Senior Citizen Bowling League To Be Formed

Southern Garrett County senior citizens will have the opportunity to bowl in a summer league this year at the Par-Matt bowling leagues.

The first games in the league will begin at the bowling alley May 16, at 12:30 p.m., after an organizational meeting at noon.

Persons interested in registering for the league should contact the bowling alley or Douglas Ford at 334-3515.

Rams Split With Berkeley Springs, Then Defeat East Preston, Valley

The Southern Rams improved their record to 10-3 this past week by winning three out of four contests and will be looking to defeat Allegany for the first time this Friday in Cumberland.

The Rams split a doubleheader on Saturday at home against Berkeley Springs, dropping the first game 8-5 and winning the nightcap, 4-2. On Monday they crushed East Preston, 17-5, on the West Virginians' diamond and then rolled over Valley Wednesday afternoon, 9-2, in Oakland. The Valley contest was the 100th career game for Coach Jim Bosley, whose teams have won 65 percent of those games.

Toby Stotler rapped a pair of hits for Berkeley Springs in the opener, including a solo homer, as Joe Didawick earned the win on the mound.

J.R. Gibson led the Rams' offense in the first game with a three-run blast in the fourth, while junior Manuel Moon contributed three hits.

The Rams took advantage of an error, four walks, and fielder's choice to record their four runs in the second game, as they were limited to just four hits by losing pitcher Tim McClintock. John Nelson went the distance for Southern, scattering six hits. Stotler finished with three safeties for the Indians, who fell to 7-7 on the season.

Moon, Mike Hill, and Duane Evans each recorded a pair of hits in the win over East Preston on Monday.

The Rams broke open a close game in the sixth as they went into that frame with a 7-5 lead and proceeded to score three runs. They won going away in the seventh by recording seven more runs.

A two-run homer by Scott Colaw in the third inning, followed by a three-run blast by Gibson in the fourth, accounted for most of the Rams' scoring against Valley yesterday.

Meanwhile, John Nelson held the Black Knights to just two hits.

Dave McLaughlin finished with two triples and a single for the Rams, and also drew a bases-loaded walk in the sixth inning. Scott Stem, Danny Holler, and Jeff Sweitzer each contributed a pair of hits.

A two-run homer by Jim Foutz accounted for the Knights' only scoring on the afternoon. Ron Whittington, the losing pitcher, added a single to complete the two-hit effort.

The Allegany Campers, who the Rams will face Friday, were 6-1 early in the season, but have dropped six straight games. "They are still a good team, though," stated Coach Bosley this morning, "and we have never beaten them. It should be a good game."

Two New Teams Added To 1985 Pen Mar League

Two new teams have been added to the Pen Mar Baseball League, as the organization will open its 37th consecutive year of competition on May 26.

A team from Elkins, W.Va., and another from Idamay, W.Va., near Fairmont, have joined the League and will play in the West Division with Oakland and Tri-Towns. The East Division is composed of Hyndman, LaVale, Cumberland, and Moorefield.

The teams will again play doubleheaders on Sunday afternoons and have an all-star contest.

Officers for the 1985 season include: Tack Clark, president; Harry Ritchie, vice president; Terry Helbig, secretary; and Randy Cirillo, treasurer.

A number of players from last season were honored at the League's recent annual awards dinner. Oakland players receiving awards included: Phil Caruso, the John David Sharp

Weary Lakers Drop Five Of Six, To Play In Sectional This Weekend

"Physically and mentally drained" is how Garrett Community College head baseball coach Lawrence Nesselrodt described his team early this week after the Lakers dropped five of six contests since last Thursday. Garrett dropped a pair to Beaver CC on Thursday, 14-2 and 20-10, on the winners' diamond; split with Hagerstown Junior College in McHenry on Saturday, winning the opener, 10-3, and losing the nightcap, 5-0; and finally lost both ends of a doubleheader Sunday at home against Dundalk.

"Our players were physically and mentally drained after playing 20 games in the past 14 days," the first-year coach stated. "We're looking forward to bouncing back this weekend, though, in the Sectional Tournament."

The Lakers will pit their 24-14 record against CCAC South on Saturday as they enter tournament play for the fifth consecutive season. The game will get underway at 12:30 p.m., near Monroeville on the CCAC Boyce campus. Besides Boyce, Beaver CC will also participate in the double-elimination event.

Chris Huyett is expected to start on the mound for the Lakers, who will be playing without standout third baseman, Brian Cueva, who dislocated his shoulder early this week.

Beaver CC rapped 13 hits in each game last Thursday, two of which were grand slams in the first contest. The Laker pitchers aided the Pennsylvanians' cause in the nightcap by allowing 14 walks.

Down 14-1 in the second game, the Lakers rallied for nine runs in the fifth inning behind a three-run blast by Kent Freeman, a two-run homer by Rick Harasti, and a two-run shot by Tim Pavlic. But Beaver came back with six runs of their own in the bottom of the fifth to preserve the win.

The Lakers hammered out 13 hits of their own in the opener against Hagerstown on Saturday for their only victory of the week, but then managed to connect only three times in the nightcap.

The Hawks took a 2-0 lead in the first game, but a Benny Shreve triple plated Harasti to put Garrett on the board in the bottom of the first.

Then Lynn Shook tripled in the third inning and scored on a Harasti single. Ted Sova then doubled home Harasti to give the Lakers the lead for good.

Harasti later picked up his third RBI of the contest when he scored Marty Harvey on a single. Shreve followed with a two-run homer.

Sova added a two-run shot in the sixth to secure the Lakers' win.

Carter, who hit a solo homer in the first game, finished with a two-run triple and RBI single to lead the Hawks to victory in the nightcap.

The Lakers nearly staged a rally in the seventh when they loaded the bases on Willie Wayneguard with no outs. But Hampshire then relieved Wayneguard and stopped the comeback by forcing Harvey into a double play and striking out Ron Bosley.

Harvey's single and double in the first game against Dundalk on Sunday were about the only bright spots for the Lakers in the opener. Stacey Viands took the loss on the mound.

The lead exchanged hands in the second game before the Lakers came up short, 11-8.

Bosley led the Laker offense with his fourth homerun of the season and a double, Freeman smacked a pair of doubles, and Shreve, Sova, and Cueva each finished with two hits. Denzil Evans absorbed the loss on the mound.

Huskies Smash Turkeyfoot, Bruce Before Being Edged By Spartans

The Northern Huskies picked up a pair of wins this past week before being nipped by Bishop Walsh on Monday afternoon in Cumberland, 9-8. Coach Jack Settle's squad mashed Turkeyfoot last Thursday, 14-4, on the losers' diamond and then rolled over Bruce the following day at home, 15-3. The Huskies are now 7-5 and will travel to Valley on Friday.

A solo home run and a pair of singles by Steve Zumpano highlighted the easy win over Turkeyfoot as the Huskies finished with 17 hits.

Also going three-for-four was Charlie Beiler, while Ken Savage had a double and two singles, Bill Murray smacked a pair of singles for two RBIs, and Aaron Zumpano added two singles and scored three runs.

Johnny Meyers rapped a three-run homer in the fourth inning for Turkeyfoot, while pitcher Augustine went three-for-four. Kevin Sines went the distance on the mound for the Huskies.

Steve Zumpano was also the star for Northern in the Bruce contest, offensively and defensively, as he scattered six Bulldog hits and socked a two-run homer.

Beiler hit a triple, double, and single, good for three RBIs, while Brent Beachy finished with a double and single for two runs. Ken Savage also smacked a two-run double in the Huskies' 11-hit attack.

Bobby Carr had two singles for the Bulldogs and Bob Hanna added a two-run single. Troy Raines took the loss as the Bulldogs fell to 3-9 on the season.

A seventh-inning rally by the Huskies Monday afternoon against Bishop Walsh fell just short as the tying run was on third and the go-ahead run was on second when Jeff Sisk struck out the final Northern batter to preserve the win for the Spartans. It was the seventh win for BW in 11 starts.

Eric Stakem paced the Spartans offensively in picking up three RBIs on a pair of doubles. Brad Smith finished with a double and a single, while Dick King, Tony Broadwater, and Matt Glick each had an RBI.

Aaron Zumpano led the Huskies with a double and a single, good for three RBIs. Brent Beachy doubled and singled and Steve Zumpano gained two runs on a pair of singles. Ken Savage and Craig Lytle each finished with two singles.

Southern Tennis Results Announced

The Southern High boys tennis team whipped Petersburg on Friday afternoon, 6-1, then fell to Bruce on Tuesday, 5-2, on the Mountaineers' courts.

Meanwhile, the winless Southern girls squad was topped by Petersburg, 6-1, also on Friday.

Against the Vikings, John Hornyak, Eric Eiswert, Kurk Turney, and Gordon Savage each won single matches. Scott Finch and Gary Long won their doubles match, as did the team of John Dolan and Don Loomis.

The doubles team of Mary Bolden and Julie Kitzmiller picked up the only victory for the Southern girls.

Against Beall, the only Southern wins were in doubles. Finch and Long defeated John Harris and Doug Surgent, while Loomis and Dolan topped Mike Smith and Rick Kenny.

Northern Girls Blank Turkeyfoot, Record Now 6-1

The Northern High girls softball team upped its record to 6-1 earlier this week by blasting Turkeyfoot, 16-0, in a game shortened to five innings via the ten-run rule.

Kim Buckel gave up just one hit to the Rams, yielded a single walk, and struck out five batters.

Meanwhile, the Husky bats accounted for 13 runs in the first inning. Liz Sisler rapped a triple and a single in the opening frame and also scored three tunes.

"We took advantage of what the opposing team offered us," stated Northern Coach Vonda Yunker. "Everyone of our girls played well and contributed to the victory."

The Huskies will next face Salisbury and Meyersdale.

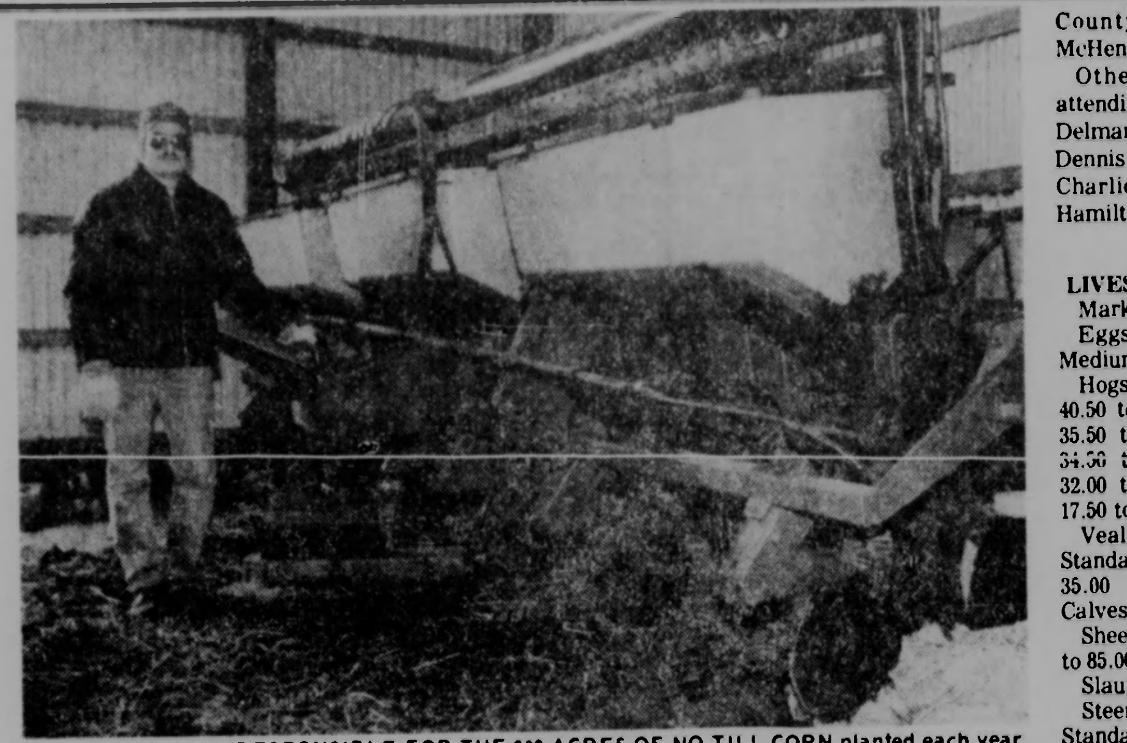
No-Till Corn Conserving Soil In Garrett County

The following is the second half of an article on no-till corn production which began in last week's Republican and featured the ways the Soil Conservation District is working to prevent soil erosion.

by Bernice Kepple



THE MACHINE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE 200 ACRES OF NO-TILL CORN planted each year on the Ganoe farm is the John Deere 7,000 corn planter pictured above with Dan. This picture was taken when the corn planter was in winter storage with the tongue removed. The corn planter plants six rows, all spaced 30 inches apart. The large bins on top hold fertilizer and seed. The planter puts fertilizer into the soil two inches to the side, and two inches deeper than the corn. The no-till colter wheels cut vertically into the sod, allowing the corn to be dropped into the furrow they have made. The gauge wheels on the planter let the corn go into the ground as deep as the farmer wants it planted, followed by banders which apply pelleted insecticide. These are followed by the cover wheels which spread soil over the seed and pack it down. This one trip over the field replaces plowing, disking, hrrowing, and then planting.

"Land-O-Hills Farm" in Asher Glade is farmed in partnership by brothers Roy and Wayne Umbel. The Umbels are currently in the Dairy Diversion Program and are milking 36 cows.

"All we have is hills, that's why the name is 'Land-O-Hills Farm,'" said Roy. He explained that the erosion of those hills is what started the Umbels in no-till farming 11 years ago. In 1974 the brothers planted half of their 70 acres of corn ground by no-till methods. After the success that first year, they have used no-till planting on all their corn acreage. Half of the Umbels' corn crop is put into the silo, while the other half is picked as ear corn. A 90 to 100 bushel per acre average is their current yield.

"The erosion was so bad, topsoil filled the county road after plowing a 15 acre field," Roy said. For that reason, other conservation tillage practices are used on the Umbel farm also. Contour strips are in sight all over the farm, and sod waterways are used on the steepest hills. Ray stated that they have done some minimal-till planting the last few years in order to get some lime chisel-plowed into the ground, and one field of corn has been in no-till since 1974.

On one steep section of the farm, grass buffer strips are left between strips of corn. Hay is made off of the wider buffer strips. Cover-crops of rye are very important on "Land-O-Hills Farm", said Roy, "and they help us get a good corn crop."

Outside of erosion control, Roy likes no-till because it saves fuel and produces yields just as good as conventional tillage, sometimes better in the drier years because the cover-crop holds moisture.

"One trouble people have is caused because they try to get corn in the ground too soon," said Roy. "The ground stays cooler with a cover-crop over it, and we've found that if the ground warms to what it's supposed to be, your yield is better."

The Umbels use an Allis Chalmers four-row planter that Roy has made some adjustments on over the years. He found that the colter wheel on his planter was positioned too far forward and because the planter would drift on the hills, the seed would fall in the wrong place. He has solved this problem in two different ways. One was to turn the planter around on the frame, putting the seeder closer to the colter. The other was to attach a Penn State Adapter to the planter, which moves the colter back next to the seed hopper.

Roy likes the AC planter because its seed hoppers are all on individual springs, which means that all the hoppers won't lift at the same time if one hits a rock. He also likes the way his planter operates on turns and hills without skipping.

Roy cautions farmers, "to have the planter adjusted right for no-till." Roy said, "Conventional corn planters can go from year to year, from field to field without adjustments. No-till planters must be adjusted for each field."

The Umbels use fertilizer in the hopper when planting, in front of the colter so that it mixes in the soil. They spray with paraquat, atrazine, and Princep (simazine) the first couple of years to control weeds and kill the cover-crop. They usually don't find it necessary to spray for weeds in mid-season. If they find they must spray for morning glories or milkweed, they use Banvel, however Roy says he uses Banvel carefully because it may affect the corn if it gets too much on it.

"You're short changing yourself if you try to kill grass without using enough atrazine the first year," warned Roy. He explained that he cuts down on the amount the second year. "We can get away two or three years with just atrazine, then we go to Princep to keep the grass out.

They use Furadan granules, dropped in the row when planting, for insects. Roy says that they have had some trouble with horn worms, but nothing serious.

According to Roy, no-till is here to stay on "Land-O-Hills Farm."

Ernest Ganoe and son, Dan, farm 600 acres and milk 150 Holstein cows near Finzel. No-till corn covers 200 of those acres.

"When you're covering 200 acres a year, it's definitely cheaper and less time consuming," said Dan. He went on to say that everything they farm is contoured, but they still had some problems with wind erosion and run-off.

No-till has helped solve those problems for them. Dan also stated that he can get on the ground sooner when using no-till methods. He also saves fuel and notes that it takes less horsepower to plant no-till corn.

"The corn yields run close enough that I wouldn't want to say that either (no-till or conventional) would out-yield the other," said Dan.

The Ganoes own a John Deere 7,000, 30 inch spaced, six row planter. Dan says the only trouble he has with the planter occurs on rocky ground, especially around turns, when the planter skips at times. To solve that problem, he adds one ton of weight to the planter.

Dan feels that soil fertility and PH is very important, and works with a crop specialist to improve soil conditions on the farm. Dan is just one of the farmers in Garrett County who keeps a log book and a record of everything done, applied to, and planted on each field.

The manure from the dairy herd plays an important role in the farm's fertility. The manure pit is emptied twice each year, and 12 to 15 tons of manure per acre is applied to the fields. Dan cautions that overly heavy applications of manure cause weeds because herbicide sprays can't get through the manure crust.

Dan picks early varieties of corn with early vigor, and sets his target date for planting sometime around May 5 through 10.

A license, which is issued to farmers after they have attended safety classes, is required to buy any herbicide or insecticide and to operate the sprayer. "This is a good idea," said Dan, "because some people just don't realize how dangerous these chemicals are."

The Ganoes spray stubble ground about the middle of April with Princep and Bicep. On sod they also use paraquat. They very seldom need to spray in mid-season, and then usually only for morning glory or milkweed.

Looking at the moldboard plow sitting in the shed, Dan said, "It's outdated, it won't be used much more around here."

A Conservation Tillage Information Center has been established as a clearinghouse for information, where farmers may write in asking questions about no-till or other conservation tillage methods. The address for the center is P.O. Box 855, League City, Texas, 77573.

Questions may also be directed to the local Soil Conservation District in the Garrett County Courthouse by calling Shaun Sanders at 334-8339.

Farm Bureau Directors Meet

Clark Kolb presided over last Wednesday's meeting of the Garrett County Farm Bureau Board of Directors held at Northern High School.

Merrell Wilburn reviewed minutes of the meeting with Al Bourgeois when proposed laws governing the annual deer season were discussed.

William DeWitt reported on the Washington Drive-In held April 10 and 11, and urged all Farm Bureau members to write their congressman concerning the '85 Farm Bill. "Telephone conversations are good," he said "but letters and postcards are the best means of letting our legislators know how we feel about an issue or a piece of legislation." DeWitt distributed names and addresses of those in office in Washington, and anyone desiring them may contact DeWitt or any of the directors.

Donna Glotfelty gave a brief summary of the American Farm Bureau Federation's convention in Hawaii, and up-dated Women's Committee activities. She announced plans for inviting the Friendsville Head Start children on a tour of Thomas Brothers Egg Producers, in observation of Farm-City Week, and reminded local farm girls between the ages of 16 and 20 to enter the local farm queen contest by contacting Mrs. Glotfelty or any Women's Committee Director. The contest will be held Sunday evening, August 11, in conjunction with the Garrett County Fair.

Committee Chairmen and members were reminded of their responsibilities and the Farm Bureau membership list was reviewed. Those members who have not yet paid will be contacted and urged to submit dues as soon as possible. New members are always welcome and anyone wishing to join Farm Bureau should contact Merrell Wilburn, Star Route #1, Oakland, or call 826-8239.

Remarks were made by William Merrill, new Safemark Tire and Battery dealer, who stated that "you have to keep in mind the weight, quality and guarantee that goes along with Safemark when you're buying tires." Merrill is handling the dealership along with his son, Lowell, near Grantsville.

Possible revision of the county by-laws was discussed, and a tentative date for the annual picnic was set for Sunday, September 8 at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry.

Other Board members attending the meeting were Delmar Yoder, Gary Fratz, Dennis Margroff, Leslie Guard, Charlie Miller and Brooks Hamilton.

Youth attending were: Jody Keim, Missy Foy, Mary Jo Burns, Randy Lothry, Jeff Roy, Kent Fultz, Steve Hauger and Greg Lockhart.

Party Held

The Trinity United Methodist Church surprised Pastor Paul Mateer with a birthday party April 28 at the church.

Games were played and winners were Rose Nordeck, Gladys Adkins and Cindy Martin. Pastor Paul Mateer, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mateer and his grandmother, along with approximately 60 other people, attended the party.

Safety Program

The bicycle safety program presented at the TA Public Library April 13 was considered a success. A film program on bicycle safety was presented by the librarian, Juanita Gardner.

Forty-five students attended the program. Terra Alta Police Chief Michael Feather inspected and licensed 35 bicycles, and spoke with the owners about bicycle safety.

Members of the VFW Auxiliary placed free reflector tapes on each bicycle. They also brought their tools and repaired any bicycles that needed repairs to pass inspection.

Members of the VFW and the Auxiliary who assisted were Betty Sereno, Sue Livengood, Bob Smith, Harold Sereno, Roller Race, Warren Dixon and Butch Groves.

Refreshments were provided for the students. This program was provided by the cooperative efforts of the Terra Alta Public Library, VFW & VFW Auxiliary, Post 578, and the Terra Alta Police Departments.

4-H Club

The Soaring Falcons 4-H Club of Terra Alta met April 17 at the Presbyterian Church.

Members who collected money for the cancer society handed in their collections.

It was reported that some of the members of the 4-H Club would help with the Spring Clean-Up Day at the Terra Alta Park on Saturday, April 27.

Alan Davis and Rhonda Metheny won at Area Round-Up. Alan's visual presentation was on Backpacking and Rhonda's was on Safety in the Kitchen. Both will represent the club at Jackson's Mill. They will be competing with other 4-H members around the state in their category.

The State Round-Up will be held in August.

The community sign is still being constructed by members.

There will be installation of the new officers for the school year 1985-86. There will also be a band and chorus program and also an art display. Babysitting will be available.

As a reminder, the annual Fun Carnival will be held on May 17 from 6-9 p.m.

Kitzmiller Town Council Meets

The mayor and town council of Kitzmiller met April 22 to discuss town business.

An update was given to the council by Bill Elliott on the town water system.

The council agreed to continue renting the community building to Community Action for hot meals at the present rate.

The council agreed on the hiring of a new town employee, William Paugh. He will be employed as garbage collector and town laborer.

The town is currently in the process of trying to obtain a new vehicle for winter snow removal and plowing.

The mayor and council voted not to pursue the tax differential which was explained at last month's meeting by the Garrett County Commissioners.

Mining Health, Safety Course Is Rescheduled

The Surface Mining Training, Health & Safety course, offered by Garrett Community College and previously scheduled to begin on April 22, has been rescheduled for Monday, May 6, from 6 to 10 p.m., at the Oakland Center of the college. Sessions will be held Monday through Thursday from 6 to 10 p.m., and will continue for 10 sessions.

This course is designed for the individual who is seeking training in surface coal mining. Upon completion of the course an individual will have received the necessary instruction in health and safety to enable the student to challenge the test to satisfy state requirements.

Alfalfa Weevil

Due to the unseasonable warm weather the Alfalfa Weevil will probably be arriving early. Check the alfalfa fields on southern slopes because they will be warming up the earliest. To determine the extent of the infestations, collect at least 30 stems throughout the field. Gently enclose the top of the stem with one hand to prevent larvae from falling off, then carefully break the stem at the base of the plant in one even sideward motion. This is done to avoid jerking the plant and dislodging any of the larvae which may be present. Place stems in a bucket, top first. After all the stems are collected, grasp the stem and vigorously shake them against the sides of the bucket and count the number of dislodged larvae. Newly hatched larvae are about 1/8 inch long, yellowish and have a black head. Also, examine each stem for tip damage to assess the percentage of stems with feeding injury. As a general rule, treatment is recommended when 50% of the tips are showing feeding injury and there is an average of 2 or more larvae per stem. You can spray with any of the following insecticides: Furadan, Lorsban, Supracide, Lannate L, Methoxychlor + Malathion, Penncap M, and Imidan. Read the label carefully. Use of trade names in this article is for informational purposes only, and use of trade names does not imply endorsement of products mentioned.

Navy Commodores Among Groups To Perform At FSC

Four jazz groups, including the "Commodores," the world-famous U.S. Navy jazz band, will perform at a special outdoor festival on the campus of Frostburg State College this Sunday, May 5.

FSC Jazz Festival '85 is open to the public and there is no admission charge. Arrangements for the festival are being made by the FSC College Center Board.

The afternoon of music begins at noon at the Fine Arts-Library Quadrangle, and the public is invited to come early with their blankets or lawn chairs. Refreshments will be available.

Also appearing will be the Frostburg State College Jazz Ensemble which recently returned from a state-wide concert tour, and two local jazz groups, "The Thirteenth Month" and "Jazz-itis."

Formed in 1969 as the official dance band of the United States Navy, the Commodores feature 19 of the Navy's top jazz and "big band" musicians.

America's Teachers: THE SUBJECT IS Excellence

THE SUBJECT IS EXCELLENCE, TEACHER DAY USA — The Garrett County Commissioners have proclaimed May 8 Teacher Day USA, for the purpose of providing public recognition and appreciation for the dedication and contributions of the classroom teacher, not only to this community as a whole, but to each of us as individual citizens. The proclamation states that the classroom teacher is challenged daily to reach out to every student, regardless of ability, interest in learning, social or economic background, physical, mental, or emotional handicap, race, religion, creed, or ethnic origin, to provide the assistance and guidance necessary for full intellectual development. The work of the classroom teacher immeasurably affects the future lives of all students. Present for the proclamation signing were, back row, left to right, Jim Raley, president Garrett County Teachers' Association and a teacher at Southern Middle School; Cheryl Henderson, teacher at Dennett Road Elementary School; and Michael Pula, president-elect Garrett County Teachers' Association and a teacher at Northern Middle School. Seated, left to right are Garrett County Commissioners, Ernest J. Gregg, Jr., Elwood L. Groves II, and John G. Braskey.

Teacher Day USA

May 8, 1985

A very special day for some very special, but often unheralded, people is coming up on May 8, 1985. That day is TEACHER DAY USA. May 8 is the one day of the year that local businesses, public officials, parents and just about everybody in Garrett County can take time to thank teachers for their contributions to our community.

"Teachers here in Garrett County are proud of the work we do," says GCTA president Jim Raley. "We want our community to share in that pride." According to Raley, the Teacher Day USA celebration locally is part of a national and state program developed by the National Education Association and Maryland State Teachers Association.

GCTA would like to take this opportunity to acknowledge and thank all the teachers of the community:

Sanitary Commission Discusses Project And Planning Completions

The Garrett County Sanitary Commission met Tuesday, April 16, in the Grand Jury Room of the Courthouse. Projects discussed included Deep Creek Lake, Bloomington sewer system, and the Upper Yough facility plan.

The Sanitary Commission considered three separate requests for adjustment of water bills that resulted from an unusual water release that occurred during the winter. Each request was evaluated individually and the commission rendered favorable decisions on the requests.

The Deep Creek project was discussed by the commission. The work is proceeding smoothly and both contractors that are still working are near completion. It appears that all work will be completed within the time frame of their contract, and restoration should be done before the summer season gets into full swing.

The Sanitary Commission discussed some design discrepancies relating to problems which occurred during construction and decided to discuss the problem with the design engineering firm of RK&K.

The Commission is attempting to close out contract nine, the sewage treatment plant. The contractor has filed a delay claim that resulted from a court ordered delay when the property owners sued. The Sanitary District will be meeting with the engineer and attorney in an attempt to resolve that suit.

The Sanitary Commission made a formal acceptance that work on contract five is complete.

Discussion of the Bloomington sewer system revealed that the state is reviewing the initial design made by the firm of Greenhorne and O'Mara for the town of Bloomington. Greenhorne and O'Mara will be making any changes required by the state to make the final design plans so that construction for that job can begin.

The Upper Yough area sewer facility plan has received a grant amendment awarded by EPA to increase the amount of the grant to assist the district in the completion of that facility plan.

The Sanitary District has submitted, what it hopes to be, all the information the State Health Department needs for final approval of that plan.

Heralds Of Hope Dinner Slated For Thursday

Dr. and Mrs. J. Otis Yoder and the team from Heralds of Hope invite the public to their dinner "for an evening of inspiration and challenge" on May 9 at the Grantsville Fire Hall at 6:30 p.m. The dinner is complimentary (compliments of Heralds of Hope). A freewill offering will be received for the ministry. The theme of the evening is "The Light of the World is Jesus."

The ministries of Heralds of Hope include radio broadcasts, literature distribution and Bible distribution. They have received responses from 97 countries of the world. The radio program is aired overseas on four of Trans World Radio's super-power stations: Swazil and Guam, Sri Lanka and Monte Carlo, and also ELWA, Monrovia, Liberia.

Persons are asked to call Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brenneman at (301) 895-5660 for reservations.

Pre-Exposure Rabies Vaccine To Be Offered

Pre-exposure rabies vaccine will again be offered to high risk people in the Garrett County area, Garrett County health officials have announced. Persons considered to be high risk are: hunters, trappers, veterinarians, taxidermists, animal handlers and cave explorers.

The procedure for vaccination includes three shots in a 28-day period with the second shot administered seven days after the first and the third shot about 21 days later. The vaccine given is human diploid cell vaccine or HDCV.

If bitten by a rabid animal, a person who has received the pre-exposure vaccination should also receive two additional shots, one immediately and one three days later.

Persons who have been bitten by a rabid animal and who have not received the pre-exposure vaccine, must receive Rabies Immune Globulin. Half of the dosage is given around the site of the bite and the rest is given in the buttocks. Combined with the Globulin, HDCV is given in five doses over a 28-day period.

In order to maintain immunity against rabies, a person should receive a booster dose every two years, health officials say. An alternative to the booster shot is a blood test to determine whether the level of HDCV in the blood is adequate.

Persons who received the rabies vaccine in 1983 should receive a booster dose this year, note health officials.

For more information or to receive the pre-exposure vaccine, persons should call the Garrett County Health Department at 334-8111 or 895-5050.

Women's Refuge "Call Police" Sign Available

One year ago, Women's Refuge, Inc., in Cumberland joined a sign campaign to aid stranded motorists. The signs which read, "CALL POLICE", in fluorescent orange, were to be placed in the stranded motorists vehicle to deter would-be rapists, muggers or murderers.

The local Women's Refuge group, located at St. Paul's Methodist Church, announced this week that they are also joining in the effort to combat crime and have the signs available at a cost of $4.19 plus tax.

One of the most notorious cases of a stranded motorist in need of help was that of Stephanie Ann Roper, a Frostburg State College coed, who was raped, tortured and murdered in Prince George's County two years ago after her car broke down a mile and a half from her home.

The banners serve as a deterent to criminals who see the sign and have no idea if the police are already enroute to the stranded vehicle.

The life-saving signs are presently available at the Book Mark'et in downtown Oakland and at the Book Center in the Gee Bee shopping plaza and the Paperback Exchange in Burton's Shopping Center in LaVale.

For more information about the signs contact Women's Refuge at 334-9701.

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

"Our Piece of the Action" will be the theme for the program to be held on May 3 at the Stemple Ridge Church. Church Women United sponsor this annual event known as May Fellowship Day. It will be observed by a covered dish luncheon at noon and a program following about 1:00 p.m. which includes special speakers and special music. All women are urged to attend.

A smorgasbord dinner will be served May 4 from 2:00 until 8:00 p.m. at the Mt. Grove Community Building. Sponsored by the Mt. Grove VFD, donations are $3.50 for adults, $1.50 for children, and those under five free.

A feast of German foods is available on May 3 at East Preston High School. Served in the Commons Area, donations for the 6-8 p.m. dinner will be $5.00 for adults, $4.00 for senior citizens, $2.50 for K through 6th grade, and preschoolers eat free. An advance ticket gives a $1.00 discount on any of the above prices and may be purchased from any German Club member. They are Gary Conrad, Greg Arnold, Brian Beckman, Melody Stemple, Debra Rinehart, Toni Johnson, and Marsha Mikles in the Union District area.

Union Ambulance Service gives the following report for its first quarter in 1985. In January they made 15 runs with five transports and ten emergency runs. They worked 183 manhours and traveled 1352 miles. There were 11 runs in February: seven emergencies, three transports and one DOA with 93 manhours worked and 438 miles traveled. Only nine runs were made in March: four transports, five emergencies for 65 manhours and 436 traveled miles.

At the Preston County Social Studies Fair held at the Craig Civic Center in Kingwood on April 23, those who placed in Division I, Grades 4, 5 and 6 from Aurora were: Geography, Kevin Stemple and Mark Utterback, first; Local and State History, Emily Lewis, third; U.S. History, April Snyder, second; World History, Shannon Fike, second; Economics, David Hardesty, third; Interdisciplinary, Stephanie Evans, third. In Division II, grades 7, 8 and 9 from Aurora were: Geography, Cheryl Cummings and Lea Moats, first; Mike Slawter and Carolyn Evans, third; Political Science, Jacie Judy, third; Local and State History, Julie Beckman and Julie Lewis, second; U.S. History, Debra Rinehart and Melinda Evans, first; Sociology, Jennifer Whitehair and Josie Massey, first. In Division III, Cynthia Kisner placed second in Political Science and Elizabeth Whitehair placed second in Interdisciplinary. All first place winners will participate in the State Social Studies Fair to be held at Marshall University May 17-18.

In the Preston County Dental Health poster contest, Billy Moore of Aurora was one of the winners of first place. The other was Gary Groves of Albright Elementary. Awards were presented to the county winners by Dr. David McNeill. Billy is the son of Betty and Charlie Moore of Stemple Ridge. Winning first place also in his local school, he was followed in second place there by Emily Lewis and in third place by Ronnie Paugh, all in 5th grade; Kevin Stemple, Annie Johnson and Mark Utterback placed first, second and third in the 6th grade.

Aurora PTO met at the school on April 16 with principal Gary Henline giving a report of school activities. Results of the standardized achievements tests should be back before the end of the school year except for grades 3 and 6 that are scored by the state. Social Studies Fair winners were named. Due to a lengthening of the school day next year as a result of state policy 2510 which mandates at least 345 minutes of daily instructional time for students in grades 5-12, problems have arisen in how to handle dismissal at the feeder schools. No definite plans have yet been made.

Policy 2510 also changes instructional time allotments for each class: grades K-4 will be required to meet a minimum of 315 minutes of instructional time per day; Language Arts/Reading will be taught for 35-50% of the time. Math will be required 16-19% of the time. New subject areas are also included. Grades 5-8 will need to meet a minimum of 345 minutes of instruction with Language Arts/Reading to occupy 13-25% of that time and all other subject ares marked in percentages.

Anyone who wishes to see Policy 2510 may do so by visiting Mr. Henline at the school office. Any comments concerning the length of the school day should be directed to Mr. Pritt, Superintendent of Schools, Kingwood.

Mr. Utterback discussed the need for a spring fundraiser. It was decided that a flea market-auction sale be set up with Linda Martin appointed to chair a committee.

To Make Plans for Event

Another attempt will be made to communicate to the Board of Education the urgent need for some repairs to be made at the school.

There will be a surplus of some 40-50 yearbooks to be sold when the order comes to the school. Persons who didn't order one may purchase one of these copies.

A nominating committee comprised of Phyllis Adams, Betty Selders, Bonnie Harsh and Mr. Henline will present a list of officer candidates at the May meeting.

Mr. Henline asked for parent comments on method and type of grading because the county is considering this subject. Parents in grades 1-3 are not satisfied with the current V, G, and S system, but others like the current method and the six-week periods. Mr. Henline also asked for volunteers to help clean the school grounds on some Saturday or evening.

The May meeting of the PTO will feature guest speaker Mrs. Mary Dean of Etam. She will discuss nutrition and children, "How what children eat affects their behavior." Refreshments will also be served. This meeting will be on Tuesday, May 14, and items to be discussed include a fundraising drive, election of officers, results of meeting with Board of Education, representative chosen to attend East Preston Scholarship meeting, and the possible length of the school day at Aurora next year.

The attendance banner went to Mr. Fike's 6th grade and Mrs. Hayes' 2nd grade classrooms.

The 8th annual Parent-Member FFA Banquet was held April 19 in the Commons Area of East Preston High School. Presiding at the meeting were FFA officers: president, Shauna Sisler; vice president, Kenny Wotring; secretary, Jackie Lantz; treasurer, Rodney Fultz; reporter, Brent Hauser; sentinel, Jennings Freeland; parliamentarian, Butch McConnell and chaplain, Jeff Roy. Tom Hart, state FFA president from Grafton, was present to speak to the group.

Foundation awards were made as follows: Agricultural Mechanics, Beef Production, Soil and Water Management, Turf and Landscape, Star Chapter Farmer and the B.F. McConnell Memorial Award went to Steve Parsons; Agricultural Sales and Service and Diversified Livestock Production went to Jackie Lantz; Mark Falkenstine received the Crop Production award; Butch McConnell was recipient of the Dairy Production award; Home and Farmstead Improvement went to Willie Lantz; Fruit and Vegetable Production and Swine Production were awarded to Brent Hauser; Clifford Keller received the awards for Sheep Production and Most Active Sophomore; Joe Bishop was named Star Greenhand; Sid Friend was Most Active Freshman; Most Active Member was Jennings Freeland; Joe Stemple received the award for Established Farmer. For their participation in the FFA contests, Sandra Blamble was awarded the Creed Contest trophy, Ben Stemple the award for Prepared Public Speaking and Shauna Sisler was named Chapter Sweetheart.

Named as honorary members were Jeff Milne, Franklin Porter, Jay Rice, Gay Graham and Leroy Friend.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Wilt of Eglon became the parents of a girl born on April 22. Their first child, she was born in Preston Memorial Hospital, weighing six pounds, 13 ounces. Her name is Asley Nicole.

Mrs. Wilt is the former Patty Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aldrie Drew Wolfe of Eglon. Alden and Carolyn Wolfe of Eglon, are the paternal grandparents. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Archie Wolfe of Fellowsville, Mabel Rebecca Smith and Russel Earl Smith of Bristolville, Ohio, Mrs. Milldred Wilt of Eglon, and Mrs. Elda (Sue) Fike of Parkersburg.

Mrs. Lela Roth was admitted Monday to Garrett County Memorial Hospital from Cortland Acres Nursing Home where she is a resident.

Mrs. Naomi Nair returned last week to her home at Brookside from Garrett County Memorial Hospital and is recuperating at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Crowe, Thad and Elizabeth of Lexington Park, Va., were weekend guests of his mother, Mrs. Martha Crowe, in Aurora. Visiting them there on Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Kisamore of Terra Alta, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Piper of Reedsville. The Pipers were also Sunday dinner guests.

Bonnie and Charles Douglas of Ashland, Ky., were weekend visitors with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hauser, Stemple Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Teets of Springfield, Va., were visiting this weekend with their parents in Aurora, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Myers and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Teets.

On Sunday, April 21, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Harsh, Neva Frantz and children, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hartsell and sons, Stanley and Mark Harsh, all of Eglon, went to the home of Mrs. Ina Beckman in Pleasant Valley where they celebrated Rose Ina's (Mrs. Melvin Harsh) birthday with her mother and her companion, Mrs. Pearl Forsythe.

A new mobile home on the Melvin Cullers property is being occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kimble. Mrs. Kimble is the former Debbie Stemple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Stemple of Aurora. A surprise housewarming was held for them May 1.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan Layman, Aurora, were Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Boone of Hyattsville, who also visited with Floyd and Wilma Knapp at Amboy.

On May 8 at 7:00 p.m. there will be a meeting at the Aurora Fire Hall for all concerned citizens concerning the snow control and other matters per-

FIRE SUPPRESSION was the topic of a recent safety meeting involving local State Park and State Forest personnel. The event was held at Herrington Manor State Park and featured presentations by Jim Crabtree, of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, pictured above right, and by Dale Fike of the Maryland Forest and Park Service. See story.

Fire Suppression Topic Of Park Safety Meeting

Forest Fire Suppression was the topic for Herrington Manor/Swallow Falls State Parks and Potomac/Garrett State Forest monthly safety meeting recently at Herrington Manor. On hand for the meeting were Jim Crabtree with the Oakland Volunteer Fire Company brush truck and Dale Fike with a Maryland Forestry Fire Patrol Truck and a Forestry Fire Suppression Unit.

Rick Wakefield, Potomac/Garrett State Forest, and Richard Sines, Zone Safety Committee representative, made arrangements for the meeting which was attended by 24 forest and park employees. Also in attendance was David Hathway, Chief of Operations, from DNR Headquarters in Annapolis.

The equipment carried on the Oakland brush truck was reviewed with the group by Crabtree, who pointed out fire department requirements and policies as related to woods fires and cooperative efforts with DNR forest and park units. Of special interest was the size of the crews carried on the brush truck and the safety devices and clothing they use. Local fire department and DNR Forest and Parks have a long history of mutual cooperation in wild fire suppression.

The equipment carried on the forestry trucks and its operation were discussed and demonstrated in detail by Fike. After the lecture, the DNR employees received individualized training on use of gas powered pumps, hose lines and proper use of hose nozzles to get maximum use of limited water supplies.

The two-hour session concluded with fire line crews being organized, equipped and sent into a nearby woods to construct a fire line. Here safe use of tools, personal safety and general safety when confronted with a "running fire" were stressed.

The general conclusion among those present was that forest fires are more easily prevented than they are extinguished. At this time of year, fire danger is extremely high and the Park personnel reminds citizens that they must shoulder their personal responsibility to prevent unneeded wild fires that result in destruction of woodlands as well as young and nesting animals and also added to the expenses of local and state fire fighting units. Persons may call their local forester at 334-3305 for information and required permits before they begin any outdoor burning operation.

NOTICE

Of Informational Hearing.
Public Notice No.:
NAOH-444a
Issue Date:
April 26, 1985

The Water Resources Administration has scheduled an informational hearing to consider the denial of Waterway Construction Permit Number 85-WC-0601 to Wayne W. Broadwater. The proposal is to build a dam 20 feet high that would impound 4.5 acres of water. The pond is to be used privately for recreation and as an attraction for wildlife. The project site is located on Christley Run, a natural trout stream approximately 6500 feet upstream from the confluence of Christley Run with the Savage River in Garrett County. The informational hearing shall be converted to an adjudicatory hearing if valid requests are submitted in accordance with COMAR 08.05.06.03B. Futhermore, the informational hearing may be converted to an adjudicatory prehearing conference in accordance with applicable statues.

The hearing will be held in the offices of the Department of Natural Resources, Western Maryland Regional Services Center, Route 8, Box 22, Naves Crossroad, Cumberland, Maryland on June 13, 1985 at 11:00 a.m.

For additional information please contact Mr. Reed McDonagh, Hearing Officer, at (301) 269-2260.

NOTICE

Of availability of Hill Burton uncompensated Services

Under its Hill Burton obligation, Garrett County Memorial Hospital provides a reasonable amount of uncompensated services to persons eligible under applicable Community Services Administration guidelines. Hill Burton uncompensated services are limited to Category A patients as defined in the regulations. Patient eligibility for Hill Burton is determined by measuring family income against the Income Poverty Guidelines established by the Community Service Administration.

The plan for allocation of service is as follows:

Services furnished to patients are restricted to the usual and customary services routinely provided by the hospital. All services furnished must be ordered by a member of the hospital's medical staff. It is the patient's responsibility to engage a physician on the staff to provide medical care. Services will be furnished to Category A patients without charge after applying all third party coverage. Applicants for such services must furnish complete information and verification as required to determine their eligibility.

Services will be furnished to eligible patients on a "first come, first serve" basis as they receive medical service at the hospital. The hospital reviews the ability to pay of every patient. Information indicating a potential for Category A patients will be specifically reviewed for Hill Burton uncompensated services eligibility. The hospital will also investigate potential eligibility on request. Fiscal year 1986 available funds will be $210,000.00 on a first-come, first serve basis. When all funds for the year are exhausted, there will not be any Hill Burton Charity Care Funds available until the following fiscal year.

There are some new guideline changes for eligibility. For further information on eligibility, please contact your Hill Burton Representative located in the Credit/Collection Office at the hospital. Phone 334-2155.

PUBLIC NOTICES

The object of this proceeding is to secure the foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following property situate in Election District No. 14, Garrett County, Maryland, sold by the Collector of Taxes for Garrett County and the State of Maryland to Oma L. Moses:

ALL that piece or parcel of land situate in Election District No. 14, Garrett County, Maryland, being part of Military Lot No. 1588 and described as follows, to wit:

BEGINNING for the same at a planted stone standing at the end of the first line of the land described in a deed from the said Benjamin F. Paugh and wife to the said Charles O. Jordan of even date herewith and also at the end of the thirty seven perches on the second line of Military Lot Number fifteen hundred and eighty eight, and running thence North, (44¼) forty four and one fourth degrees East (64) sixty four perches to the third line of said Military Lot Number fifteen hundred and eighty eight and reversing it and the second line thereof West (46½) forty six and one half perches to a stone pile; South (44) forty four perches to the beginning, containing (6.4) six and four tenths acres.

SAVING AND EXCEPTING all the mineral rights of every description and all of the oil rights.

BEING the same as conveyed by Charles O. Jordan and Cyra L. Jordan, his wife, to Benjamin F. Paugh by deed dated June 15, 1913, and recorded in Liber E.Z.T. No. 86, Folio 98, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

The complaint states, among other things, that title to said property was vested in the above named defendants at the time of said tax sale and still so remains; that the amounts for redemption have not been paid, although more than one year and a day from the date of sale has expired.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 24th day of April, 1985, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, ORDERED that notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this order in some newspaper having a general circulation in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks, warning all persons interested in said property to be and appear in this Court by the 15th day of June, 1985, and redeem the property herein described and answer the Complaint, or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights of redemption in the property and vesting in the Plaintiff a title free and clear of all encumbrances.

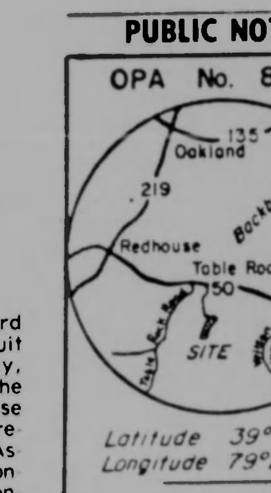
PUBLIC NOTICE



Notice is hereby given that Hill Top Construction Co., Inc., P.O. Box 2730, Clarksburg, West Virginia 26301, has submitted an application for a surface mining operation to be located near Table Rock, Maryland.

The proposed operation occupies a 27 acre tract on the north side of McMillan Fork, 3.8 miles west of Gormania, West Virginia, in Election District No. 8, Garrett County, N: 541,400 E: 116,350. Access to the site is from U.S. Route 50, 0.2 miles east of Table Rock Road.

The application proposes a change in existing landuse from woodland and abandoned strip-mine to grasses and shrubs for wildlife and woodland.

Surface of the area to be mined is owned by Kenneth Bosley, Table Rock, Maryland; John Doppel, Oakland, Maryland; and Earl Sisler, Gormania, West Virginia. The mineral to be mined and the stripping rights are owned by David Blackburn, et. al., Cumberland, Maryland.

The permit area can be located on the U.S. Geological Survey Table Rock 7.5 minute quadrangle. The location is indicated on the attached vicinity sketch. Questions concerning this application may be directed to John N. Sanders, Potomac Engineering & Surveying, (301) 334-3866. A public hearing will be held on this application.

A copy of the application is available for public review at the Garrett County Soil Conservation District Office, Courthouse, Oakland, Maryland during normal office hours. Any written comments regarding this application may be submitted until June 1, 1985 to the Maryland Bureau of Mines, 69 Hill Street, Frostburg, Maryland 21532.

GARRETT COUNTY
SANITARY COMMISSION
Project C-240583-02
Upper Youghiogheny Sewerage System Rehabilitation Project.

ADVERTISEMENT

Sealed proposals for rehabilitating sewers will be received by the Garrett County Sanitary District, synonymous with "the owner," until 2:00 p.m., official Eastern Time, May 24, 1985, at which time they will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Work to be performed under this contract includes, but is not limited to all work for the construction of the Upper Youghiogheny Sewerage System Rehabilitation Project.

Excavation, sheeting and shoring, dewatering, backfilling and paving and miscellaneous construction required to complete the rehabilitation project are also included.

The "Contract Time for Completion" shall be 90 calendar days. The Contractor shall employ the necessary crews and equipment required to meet "The Contract Time for Completion" assigned to the contract.

Drawings, specifications, and other contract documents may be examined at the Garrett County Sanitary District, 313 East Alder Street, Old Courthouse, Room 200, Oakland, Maryland 21550, and at the office of Franklin Associates, Inc., 203 South Third Street, Oakland, Maryland 21550, Monday through Friday, 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Copies may be obtained at the above mentioned addresses upon payment of forty (40) dollars, which is non-refundable. Checks shall be made payable to: Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc.

Bidders shall examine the contract drawings and specifications carefully and shall make a personal examination of the location and nature of the proposed work. In case doubt shall arise as to the meaning or intent of anything in the contract drawings or comprised in the specifications, inquiry shall be made of the Owner in writing before the proposal is submitted. No verbal answers to inquiries will be given. The submission of a proposal shall indicate that the bidder thoroughly understands the contract drawings and the terms of the specifications.

To better insure fair competition and to permit a determination of the lowest bidder, unresponsive bids or bids obviously unbalanced, may be rejected by the Owner.

NON-DISCRIMINATION IN EMPLOYMENT

PUBLIC NOTICES

Bidders of this work will be required to comply with the President's Executive Order Number 11246. The requirements for bidders and contractors under this order are explained in the specifications.

All work on this project shall be performed in accordance with the requirements of the Davis-Bacon Act and Copeland Anti-Kickback Act.

Each proposal shall be accompanied by a certified check or satisfactory bid bond in the amount of five percent (5%) of the amount of the proposal but not less than $1,000 made payable to the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc., and unless so accompanied will not be considered. The check or bid bond of the bidder to whom a contract is awarded will be forfeited to the Garrett County Sanitary District as liquidated damages in the event the contract and bonds are executed within ten (10) days after receiving the contract for execution. The form of bid bond is bound in the contract specifications.

All proposals must be submitted on the prepared forms, which must remain bound in the contract specifications. Proposals must be signed by the bidder with his name and address, corporate seal affixed, and enclosed in a sealed envelope marked "Proposal for Project C-240583-02, Upper Youghiogheny Sewerage System Rehabilitation Project."

Proposals made in pencil and/or any other than the prepared forms will not be considered. Changes in the phraseology of the proposal, additions or limiting provisions will render the proposal informal and may cause its rejection.

Bidders shall also complete the following forms which are bound in the contract specifications:

1. Minority Business Enterprises (MBE) Participation Documentation Form, Part I or Part II as applicable.
2. Attachment D, Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities.

Proposals once submitted may not be withdrawn for a period of ninety (90) days after the date of opening of bids.

The successful bidder or bidders will be required to furnish individual performance and payment bonds to the Garrett County Sanitary District, each in a sum equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the amount of the proposal, similar to the form of bond hereto attached. The bonding company shall be licensed to do business in Maryland. The bonds will be subject to the approval of the Owner.

The right is reserved to waive informalities, to reject any or all proposals, to advertise for new bids, to proceed to do the work otherwise, or to defer to abandon the work, as the interests of the Owner may require.

FOR SALE SIGN PRO & CON

The debate on For Sale signs in the front yard go on and on. The decision as to whether a yard sign will go up is yours. Yard signs are not appropriate or necessary for marketing all homes and in all locations. However they do have some positive elements when it comes to marketing your home. For example:

1. When a prospect makes an inquiry in response to a sign, he or she has already approved of the location.

2. The prospect calling in response to a yard sign has already seen part of the grounds and exterior of the house and is calling for more information.

3. A yard sign has advertising endurance. It stays up until the property is sold. A newspaper ad loses its impact in one day.

4. The Realtor's name and phone on the sign will direct all inquiries in that direction—not to you.

Listen to your Realtor's input when it comes time to decide on the use of a yard sign. It could make a positive contribution to your sales effort.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices.

To Compete For Little Jr. Miss Maryland Title

Amanda Suzanne Gaster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laddie Gaster, Swanton, has been selected as a state entrant in the 1985 Little Jr. Miss Maryland Pageant, to be held at the Holiday Inn International Airport on May 5 in Linthicum.

Approximately 85 other young ladies between the ages of 8-12 will compete for the title.

Participants will be judged on poise, personality and individuality, evening gown, personal interview and appearance competitions.

Amanda is a third grade student at Bloomington Elementary School. She enjoys piano, swimming, roller skating and crafts.

Bauer Home Center Shirer Tin Shop, Judy Wilt Photographer, Mr and Mrs. Jasper Molle, and O.R. Gaster are sponsoring Miss Gaster in the pageant.

Missionary To Nigeria To Speak At Local Church

Reverend John A. Young, Assemblies of God missionary to Nigeria, will be guest speaker on Wednesday, May 8, at 7 p.m. at the Mt. Top Assembly of God, Rt. 135, Mt. Lake Park, Reverend Alvin Kyle, pastor, has announced.

During their first 4-year term of missionary service, Young and his wife, Judy, will be teaching in the Bible school with some work in frontier evangelism. The Youngs ministered overseas before appointment in Colombia, South America, and in Trinidad, West Indies, preaching, witnessing and working in crusades.

Completing the AA degree from John Wesley College, High Point, N.C., Young later was graduated with a BA degree from Southeastern College, Lakeland, Fla. He completed course work towards an MA in Biblical literature from the Assemblies of God Graduate School, Springfield, Mo.

Prior to missionary appointment, Young owned and managed Young Awning Company, manufacturers of canvas products, in Hampton, Va. The Youngs directed the Higher Ground Christian Retreat in Hillsville, Va., for six years and pastored churches in Hillsville, Galax and Roanoke, Va.

At this special missions service, Rev. Young will share his concern for the work in Nigeria. Special singing by Mrs. Young will be featured. The public is invited to attend.

MANAGEMENT CHANGE — William Hesen has been named regional manager of the Central Coca-Cola Bottling Co. Bob Kirkham has been made plant manager of the Oakland Division. Hesen has been with Central Coca-Cola for 33 years. He will cover the Western area plants, Fairmont and Romney, W. Va., and the Cumberland and Oakland areas. Kirkham joined Central in 1976 as a sales representative. In 1979 he assumed the responsibility as merchandising manager. In 1982, he was promoted to plant manager at Fairmont. Central Coca-Cola has 14 plants, located in Maryland, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Ohio. Oakland Coca-Cola is now the main manufacturer of 5 gallon post-mix and pre-mix tanks. They supply Oakland, Cumberland, Romney, Fairmont and Winchester, Va.

Retail Sales Tax Revenue Up 11.2%

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein says retail sales tax revenue for the first eight months of Fiscal Year 1985 totaled $718,688,968, a growth of 11.2% over the $646,450,347 collected during the same period last year.

"Growth continues to be strongest in the construction-related categories of sales tax collections," Goldstein said, noting that the building & contractors' category and the furniture, fixtures & appliances category of collections increased by 16.8% and 17.6%, respectively.

The comptroller noted that the funiture, fixtures & appliances category includes "big ticket" items associated with new homes as well as the increasingly popular home computers and video equipment.

"Consumer purchasing seems to be continuing at acceptable levels," Goldstein stated.

Sales tax revenue for the month of March, 1985, reflecting February, 1985 retail activity, totaled $76,135,451, a growth of 8.8% over the $69,999,577 collected for the same month a year ago.

Lung Association Notes Publication Of New Brochure

Marking Clean Air Week 1985, April 29 through May 5, its sponsor, the American Lung Association has published a new brochure, "Air Pollution In Your Home?"

The brochure has been prepared at a time when there is increasing concern about pollutants trapped in today's "tighter" houses that are affecting the health of millions of Americans.

The major indoor air pollutants are described in the brochure including nitrogen dioxide, carbon monoxide, formaldehyde, radon, asbestos, microbes and fungi, second-hand smoke (the smoke from someone else's cigarettes, cigars or pipes), and household and personal care products. The brochure also offers a checklist of 17 suggestions on how to control indoor air pollution in your home.

Cooperating agencies in the Clean Air Week 1985 observance are the State and Territorial Air Pollution Program Administrators, the Association of Local Air Pollution Control Officials, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, and the Consumer Federation of America. This year's program has been underwritten by a grant from Honeywell, Inc.

For a free copy of the brochure, persons may write or call the American Lung Association of Maryland, 11 East Mount Royal Avenue, Baltimore, Md. 21202; telephone 685-6484, or toll-free 1-800-492-7527.

Columbia Gas Begins Children Safety Program

Columbia Gas of Maryland launched a comprehensive program April 22 to help teach children how to avoid being stolen and to help locate young kidnap victims.

April 22 marked the beginning of National Child Safety Week, as well as the kickoff of Columbia's "Guard Against Strangers" (G.A.S.) program, Thomas Lindsey, Jr., the local Columbia manager, said.

Lindsey said Columbia's efforts will focus on informing Columbia customers and their children, as well as educators, about child safety in an effort to prevent missing-children problems from occurring.

"Teachers in the elementary schools in our service area will be receiving Guard Against Strangers (G.A.S.) educational material to share with their students," Lindsey said. Information included in the "G.A.S." kits encourages children to seek emergency help from Columbia service employees and reminds them that Columbia vehicles are equipped with emergency mobile radio service.

"In addition, we've developed a pamphlet for parents about child safety. Quantities of the pamphlet will be offered to schools, law enforcement officials, libraries, churches and other organizations which have ongoing contact with children and their parents," Lindsey said.

"Finally, when customers open their gas bills in May, they'll find photos of two missing children. The photos are being published as part of the National Child Watch Campaign to give maximum publicity to identites of children who are victims of criminal abduction.

"The bill insert will also contain a safety tip customers can use to help their own children avoid harm. Photos of missing children will also be placed in our lobbies.

"With our customers' support, we aim to protect our children and to locate some of those who are missing.

"Children are the most precious resource we have. If our combined efforts result in preventing the abduction of just one child, we will have achieved immense success" he concluded.

HOSPICE RECEIVES DONATION FROM NHS HEALTH OCCUPATIONS STUDENTS — The Northern High Health Occupations Students held a fund raiser recently and donated the earnings to Hospice in memory of Chris Schwing. The HONEYMOONERS

Dad and Mom have never really talked much about their "wedding trip." They just smile and recall for one another some incident in the Adirondacks, some scene along the St. Lawrence. This particular snapshot got tucked inside the cover of the Family Bible that was their wedding present from Grandma and Grandpa.

Is there any way to measure how faith in God becomes part of our love for one another in marriage . . . or how our experiences with one another become expressions of our devotion to Our Lord?

The only way to discover these great treasures of life is to live them. And share their glow. And celebrate them with your children—and eventually your grandchildren—every Sabbath.

Yes! Carole and I plan to tuck a snapshot inside the cover of the Family Bible the folks have given us.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE FAULTFINDER FINDS GOD
May 5, 1985

Background Scripture:
Job 40:1 through 42:6

Devotional Reading:
Job 34:10-25

"Shall a faultfinder contend with the Almighty? He who argues with God, let him answer it." (Job 40:1)

God has listened patiently while Job has made his impassioned argument against the justice of God. But now, it is Job's turn to listen while God asks question after question which Job cannot answer:

"Have you an arm like God, and can you thunder with a voice like his?"

"Can you draw out Leviathan with a fishhook, or press down his tongue with a cord?"

"Who has given to me, that I should repay him?"

One after another come the mighty questions from God and suddenly Job begins to realize his limitations. He is not God. He is the creature rather than the Creator. "Behold," he says, "I am of small account; what shall I answer thee?"

REMEMBER WHO

When we suffer -- physically, mentally, spiritually -- like Job we find God saying to us, "Just remember who you are! -- the creature, not the Creator." It seems strange for God to have to remind us of that but that is precisely what many of us need. We keep thinking we are God -- unconsciously, of course. We act as if the world is being brone on our two shoulders alone. But, occasionally we run into a situation that no amount of clear thinking, hard work and persistent belief can put it within our control. We have human limitations and sometimes it is only when we suffer that we are reminded, like Job: "Therefore I have uttered what I did not understand, things too wonderful for me, which I did not know."

The problem, therefore, with challenging God as Job did, is not that it is wrong or irreverent, but that we have neither the wisdom nor the capacity for wisdom to handle the answers to those questions.

FROM HEAR TO SEE

And when Job begins to realize and acknowledge his human limitations, he is at last open to experience the presence of God. It is in a moment such as this that God becomes very real to us -- sometimes for the first time in our life. Like Job we can then make that great confession: "I had heard of thee by the hearing of the ear, but now my eye sees thee" (42:5). At this point, his intellectual beliefs are forged into a faith that does not have to have all the answers.

So, his experience of suffering became the opportunity through which God was able to change his life. God does not cause our suffering, but comes to us in the midst of it and gets our attention. He reminds us who we are and also who he is. In short, the faultfinder finds God.

WHEN YOU EAT IS ALSO IMPORTANT

If you are skipping breakfast, it could be upsetting your whole daily balance of food intake. This is even true if you are on a diet. By morning you have already used up two thirds of the energy supplied by your evening meal. By mid-morning there is nothing left and you could drag most all day long.

What about vitamins? We believe a properly planned vitamin supplement can be important and we carry a complete stock of vitamin products made by reputable manufacturers. But they are in no way a substitute for a well balanced daily diet. Start your day off right. You could feel better for it.

Preston County Hospice Group Seeks Volunteers

Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) is a federal program designed to place support personnel in community development programs. Hospice of Preston County, Incorporated, has been approved by the ACTION program for placement of two VISTA Volunteers in July. VISTA Volunteers will be paid a subsistence allowance and area residents are encouraged by Hospice officials to apply for these positions.

Hospice of Preston County is in the organizational phase, aspiring to offer in-home care for the terminally ill on a short-term basis. The hospice program, when developed, will offer a volunteer program and provide coordination of other services including that of physicians, nurses, clergy, and social services to provide supportive care to any terminally ill person and family members in Preston County.

The skills/qualifications desirable in the VISTA volunteer are some knowledge of organizational development, administrative or leadership skills, ability to develop general knowledge of community health service system, ability to further community support for Hospice, public speaking skills, ability to follow instructions and to relate to a mature reserved population. In addition, it is desirable that one volunteer has some knowledge of resources available for grants proposal writing and other funding sources.

The VISTA volunteers will work under the direction of Hospice personnel which includes a director and board of directors. One volunteer will be primarily responsible for fundraising activities, such as membership drive, the establishment of a memorial fund, and development of longterm fundraising strategy.

The second volunteer will be primarily responsible for public relations by acquainting the community with the concept of Hospice. The volunteer will speak to community organizations and conduct consumer awareness programs. An additional responsibility will be the recruitment of Hospice volunteers throughout Preston County.

Further information or to apply for one of these positions, persons may write to Hospice of Preston County, P.O. Box 229, Kingwood, WV 26537.

FOP To Meet

The Western Lodge 99, Fraternal Order of Police, will hold its monthly meeting Tuesday, May 7, at the Deep Creek State Park. It will begin at 8:00 p.m.

Items on the agenda include selecting locations for future meetings, plans for summer picnic, and arrangements for the National FOP Convention which will be held at Baltimore in August. All active and associate members are urged to attend.

BPW Club Holds Annual Meeting, Elects Officers

Members of the Garrett County Business and Professional Women's Club selected officers and heard year-end reports at their annual meeting April 11, at Will O' the Wisp, Deep Creek lake.

Among the 24 members and guests present were two state officers, Annette Funn, currently second vice president of the Maryland Federation of BPW-USA, and Anita Small, membership chairman. Ms. Small pointed out that the state federation will finish the membership year with the second highest number of members in its history. The Garrett County club was recognized earlier this year for outstanding membership expansion and ranked fourth in the state with its growth percentage to 39 members this year.

The officers selected by the club will be installed in ceremonies May 2, the next regular club meeting date. Installing officer will be Mary Anderson, state recording secretary. The ceremonies will follow dinner which will begin at 6:30 at Will O' the Wisp.

Delegates to the 1984-85 state convention to be held in Baltimore May 9 through 11 will include Phyllis Buckel, Olive Corliss, Pat Vetter, Connie Trickett, Joyce Winters, and past state president Phyllis Trickett.

Dues of $23 are due to the club treasurer at the May 2 meeting, and raffle tickets should be sold before the May 16 drawing date. A magazine rack made by Art Calhoun and a handmade afghan will be given away in the drawing.

The recipient of the club's annual $300 Foundation scholarship to assist a local woman to further her education will be announced at the May or June meeting. Mildred Wucik is Foundation chairman.

Among those turning in committee reports April 11 were Mildred Wucik, in place of Mildred Dunbar, finance chairman; Phyllis Trickett, by-laws; Patricia Vetter, membership; Mildred Wucik, Foundation; Cosette White, legislation; Tammy Manthos, Young Careerist; Constance Trickett, programs; Barbara Flinn, individual development; Mildred Wucik, scholarship; Bea Crosco, ways and means; Patricia White, county fair booth; Mildred Wucik, substituting for Helen Harman, Woman of the Year; Linda Sanders, National Business Women's Week and Employer of the Year; and Carol Canan, public relations.

AARP To Meet, Kahl To Speak

The Garrett County Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons will hold its next meeting on Wednesday, May 8, at 1 p.m. at the Oakland Fire Hall.

The guest speaker will be Helen Kahl from Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad. She will speak about the training and duties of the rescue squad members.

Refreshments will be served at 1 p.m. and the meeting will start at 1:30.

Corrections Noted

It was mistakenly reported in The Republican last week that Michelle E. Bucklew placed first in the Broad Ford Elementary Talent Show with an aerobic dance routine. She did, indeed, place first, but with a gymnastic routine.

In the picture of the 4-H Alumni Award winners in last week's Republican, Linda Schmidt Ritchey was mistakenly identified as Linda Oursler Freyman. Although Mrs. Freyman was also an award winner, she was not present for the picture.

Gloria Vanderbilt gets ready to be framed

By Cindy Adams

NEW YORK — Gloria Vanderbilt, who made sheets, perfumes, chocolates, frozen desserts and jeans, will now grace our walls. Sort of.

Gloria Vanderbilt

NYC gallery owner Margo Feiden and Gloria signed a three-year deal to produce Miss Vanderbilt's graphics. Although GV's collages will only be for exhibition purposes, the needy can buy signed lithographs and etchings. She'll create five a year and the price tag is modest: a few hundred bucks each.

Then there's Gloria's new tome, "Once Upon a Time," a memoir which details the true story of her early life. Perhaps the book's jacket says it best: "(It's) a spectacular rendition of a childhood in crisis."

Little Gloria must be happy at last.

Lookin' for Bruce Springsteen? Try Matrix, a Los Angeles fitness spa. The rocker wrestles with Nautilus machines three times a week.

What does an Oscar loser do? Cry in his beer? Not "Amadeus" Best Actor Nominee Tom Hulce. He was spotted in a Manhattan tavern drinking his beer... not crying in it. ... Faye Dunaway was in New York recently to shop around. She found what she was looking for: a new Broadway show.

Since Julio Iglesias was recording in the Bahamas and building a house in the Bahamas and too busy to schlep up North, a bevy of 12 international CBS Record presidents flocked South to see their numero uno moneymaker. They begged him — over a lunch of Spanish omelettes, beef stew, fried fish and conch salad — to make a new album for them.

Julio Iglesias

The crooner guaranteed them he's working 12 hours a day and recording in seven languages. Immediately after he swore that their versions would be ready in September, the bevy of execs kissed Julio on both cheeks and split from his oceanfront home.

Veteran soaper is star of 'Santa Barbara'

By Kimberly Redmond

I've been watching "Santa Barbara" since it debuted, and Sophia Capwell is my favorite character. Could you give me information on the actress who portrays her? — G.M., Glendale, Calif.

Judith McConnell, a soap opera veteran, portrays Miss Capwell. During the first few months that she was on "SB," the actress portrayed a man, Dominic, in order to keep her soap family from learning of her character's return to town.

Miss McConnell, who decided to become an actress when she was 13, was born and raised in Pittsburgh, Pa. She attended Carnegie Mellon University.

Judith McConnell

The actress appeared in the nighttime series, "Judd for the Defense," before she joined "General Hospital" in the role of Augusta McLeod. She also portrayed Valerie Conway on "As the World Turns," Miranda Bishop on "Another World" and Eva Vasquez on "One Life to Live." Miss McConnell is single, and lives in Los Angeles with her two cats.

Can you tell me how long the actor and actress who portray Steve Hardy and Jessie Brewer on "General Hospital" have been on the show? — K.D., Graham, Ky.

Emily McLaughlin

Emily McLaughlin, the actress who plays Jessie Brewer, and John Beradino, the actor who plays Steve Hardy, are the only two remaining original cast members of "General Hospital." The show — and the two thespians — debuted on April 1, 1963.

Ned Beatty and Tippi Hedren are just two of the talents that star in "Alfred Hitchcock Presents," airing Sunday, May 5 on NBC. The special features four different episodes, two of which are remakes from Hitchcock's original TV series.

Paul Sorvino stars as a man of the cloth in the supernatural thriller "Chiller." The film, which also stars Michael Beck and Beatrice Straight, airs Wednesday, May 8 on CBS.

Miss Hedren works hard for her purr-fect pets

By Gregory Garver

HOLLYWOOD — Several top talents will appear in "Alfred Hitchcock Presents," the four Alfred Hitchcock episodes airing Sunday, May 5. But only one cast member, Tippi Hedren, is a veteran of two Hitchcock films.

In 1963, Miss Hedren was terrorized by "The Birds;" one year later, the former model appeared with Sean Connery in "Marnie." For the TV production, however, Miss Hedren will be working with John Huston and her own family: her actress daughter, Melanie Griffith, and Miss Griffith's husband, Steven Bauer. They will appear in "Man from the South," a Hitchcock episode that originally aired on March 13, 1960.

Miss Hedren claims she hasn't been doing much acting lately because her major passion, animals, take up most of her time. The actress has her own menagerie outside of Acton, Calif., complete with 97 big cats — cheetahs, tigers, lions and cougars — as well as African elephants and an aviary stocked with hundreds of exotic birds.

Miss Hedren keeps a weekly payroll of 13, from animal handlers and maintenance men, who patrol and repair the fences. "It's a losing proposition," the actress sighs. "It takes a rich person to maintain it properly."

She may not be rich, but she works hard for her animals. Miss Hedren lectures frequently, talking about her cats and their quirks. She also spent five years working with her daughter on "Roar," a film never released in this country, that details her work with the big cats. Then there's "The Cats of Shambala," the book Miss Hedren wrote which will be published in June.

Tippi Hendren

Miss Hedren also works hard at keeping her cat population under control — zero cat population growth is her goal. She does it by giving birth control pills to the female cats; they are slipped into the animals' food.

The actress believes her work with cats is something she has to do. "There are so many endangered species today," she says. "I believe that, eventually, the survival of many breeds will be up to private collectors." She smiles. "Like me."

Trivia lovers: Test your Hitchcock smarts

By Marc Minnelli

Good evening. To celebrate "Alfred Hitchcock Presents," the two-hour special airing Sunday, May 5, on NBC, we would like to test your Hitchcockian IQ with this trivia quiz. The questions are culled from John McCarty and Brian Kelleher's "Alfred Hitchcock Presents," a definitive (and entertaining) study of the master's TV work. It's a book you'll be — do we dare? — dying to read.

1. Which of the following performers did not appear in a Hitchcock TV episode?
   a. Gloria Swanson
   b. Bert Convy
   c. Bette Davis
   d. Aaron Spelling
   e. Ted Knight

2. On Dec. 20, 1963, Bob Newhart and Jane Withers starred in "How to Get Rid of Your Wife." What was special about this episode?

3. In "The Safe Place," which aired June 8, 1958, an actor named Jerry Paris played the role of Fred Piper. For what is Paris better known?

4. Who was Tony Randall's buxom co-star in the Dec. 6, 1962 episode "Hangover"?

Alfred Hitchcock

5. Many top-name directors received their directorial training on Hitchcock's series. Can you name at least four of them?

Answers: 1. Surprise! They all appeared in various episodes. 2. It was filmed in the same house used for "Leave it to Beaver." 3. Paris played Dick Van Dyke's dentist-neighbor on the comedian's 60s sitcom. Paris also was the director of "Happy Days." 4. Jayne Mansfield. 5. Robert Altman ("M•A•S•H"), Arthur Hiller ("Silver Streak"), William Friedkin ("The Exorcist"), Sydney Pollack ("Tootsie") and Stuart Rosenberg ("Cool Hand Luke").

TUESDAY

Anthony Edwards stars as American Olympic skiing champion Bill Johnson in "Going for the Gold: The Bill Johnson Story," airing Tuesday, May 7 on CBS. Dennis Weaver and Deborah Van Valkenburgh co-star.

BEHIND THE SCENES

'Lace' author keeps us wondering with sequel

By Marta Tarbell

Shirley Conran has made lots of money asking penetrating questions. Her best-selling potboiler "Lace" opened with this zinger: "Which one of you bitches is my mother?"

Thanks to that query, Miss Conran was able to buy a 16th-century, 20-bedroom castle near Cannes, France, and houses in London and Monaco.

Now, "Lace II" is on the bookracks — and on ABC Sunday, May 5 and Monday, May 6 — and Miss Conran poses the equally pithy question: "Which one of you bastards is my father?"

The 52-year-old author knows how to tell a good yarn. "I like to leave people feeling cheerful when they're finished reading my books," Miss Conran explains. "I try to write what you want to read when you're sick in bed with influenza."

Like many of her characters, Miss Conran grew up as a member of the international jet set. She attended a Swiss finishing school similar to the one where her four main "Lace" characters meet, and she was launched as a London socialite when she was 17 years old.

When Miss Conran turned 23, she married home-furnishings tycoon Terence Conran. Eight years later, their divorce put her out on the street, with only severance pay from Conran Fabrics, Ltd., the textile company which she founded and ran, supporting her.

A single mother with two sons, Miss Conran had, for the first time in her life, hit hard times. But she soon bounced back — this time as a newspaper editor on London's Fleet Street. "I learned to write in a very tight way," the author recalls.

Shirley Conran

By 1975, she had written her first best-seller — "Superwoman," a humorous guide to household management — which grew out of her own experience as an independent rich girl, coming to terms with the mundane demands of everyday life.

Today, Miss Conran prefers to write in her hideaway chateau, where she puts in 12-hour stretches, six days a week with no interruptions.

Has anything ever daunted the author?

"I was very nervous about the sex scenes when I was writing 'Lace,'" she confesses. "I wanted to make sure they were from a woman's point of view. So I interviewed people, it all came from that. Except for the incident with the goldfish. That was something my ex-husband dreamed up. Of course," Miss Conran laughs, "we never put it into practice."

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By Val Carew

What can you tell me about Simon MacCorkindale, the actor who plays Greg Reardon on "Falcon Crest"? Is he married? Where can I write to him? — C.B.W., Butler, Tenn.

Simon MacCorkindale

MacCorkindale, who was born in Ely, Cambridge, England, is married to actress Susan George. He first became involved with the theater when he wrote a play at age 8. While in school, MacCorkindale wrote, produced, directed and acted in more than 25 theatrical productions. He recently starred in a Los Angeles production of "The Importance of Being Oscar," a play about the life and times of Oscar Wilde.

MacCorkindale has an impressive list of stage and television credits. His first international TV assignment was the role of Lucius in "Jesus of Nazareth." This was followed by roles in "Mansions of America," "I, Claudius" and "Obsessive Love." The actor was also the title star in the ill-fated series "Manimal."

During his free time, MacCorkindale likes to play tennis, listen to classical music and dabble in photography. You can write to him c/o Lorimar Productions, 3970 Overland Ave., Culver City, CA 90230.

Help! Please settle an argument I'm having with my husband. I insist Shelley Hack played Tiffany Welles on "Charlie's Angels," but he says the character was played by the actress who replaced Miss Hack. Who's right? — B.A.J., Edwardsville, Ill.

Shelley Hack

You are correct. During Miss Hack's one season with the show (1979-80), she portrayed super sleuth Tiffany Welles. Tanya Roberts, the actress who replaced Miss Hack for the 1980-81 season, played Julie Rogers.

(Do you have a question about TV? Write Val Carew at 200 Park Ave., Room 602, New York, NY 10166. Questions cannot be answered personally but those of general interest will be answered in future columns.)

Drug Abuse Among Adolescents In Maryland On The Decline

The proportion of adolescents in Maryland involved in the usage of drugs is on the decline, although there is still a continuing cause for concern.

That is the conclusion of officials of the State Health and Mental Hygiene Department's Drug Abuse Administration, following a 1984 survey of drug abuse among adolescents.

The survey is conducted bi-annually by the Drug Abuse Administration to provide information on adolescent usage, trends, and knowledge of available substances. The 1984 survey reflects the opinions of 36,649 young people from 20 subdivisions, who anonymously answered state-provided questionnaires, and is believed to be the largest survey conducted in the country.

Participants were divided into three categories depending on age: early adolescence, middle adolescence, and late adolescence. Data indicates a downward trend in the current use of nearly all substances, with the exception of cocaine, PCP, and solvents.

While cigarettes are the most frequently used drug products, (excluding alcohol) marijuana was the second most frequently used substance. By young adolescence, one out of five have tried it, with two out of every five kids trying it by middle adolescence, and more than 50 percent of all late adolescents experimenting with marijuana. However, there is now evidence of a gap in frequency of use between young and late adolescents. The younger age shows 3.5% abuse frequently, while 12.8% of the later adolescents abuse marijuana frequently.

These figures are down significantly compared to statistics provided in 1980, but the gap between young and late adolescents is larger.

Similarly, frequent use of any drug (excluding alcohol and cigarettes) dropped from 8.3% to 5.0% for the youngest group, from 18.5% to 12.0% for the middle group, and from 20.9% to 15.4% for the oldest adolescents.

Health officials credit extensive prevention and research programs with the apparent decline of usage of some drugs.

"Ten years ago, if a kid was warned against the evils of marijuana, there was little supporting data available," explained Dr. Eugene Farrell, deputy director of the Drug Abuse Administration. "Research has since objectively demonstrated the harmful nature and effects associated with significant marijuana use. The message now is more believable because it's based on fact."

Role models of adolescents are also playing a positive role in the decline of drug abuse, according to Howard Silverman, acting director of the Drug Abuse Administration.

"Today's trendsetters, those who set cultural patterns, are celebrity types such as rock performers, movie and TV stars," Silverman said. "Kids today are seeing these people admit that drugs took them down disastrous paths.

"The kids are also influenced by trendsetters seeking treatment, and publicly confessing to the evils of drug abuse. I think the downward trend is reflective of the role models," he added.

But drug abuse officials say despite the decline of some substances, there is still "definitely" cause for concern.

The use of cocaine, PCP, and solvents by late adolescents is on the rise, which officials say is indicative of the availability of drugs and spending money with which to buy them.

Also, one of every five late adolescents surveyed indicated they were "high" or "stoned" five or more times during the past year. Nearly 50 percent of current users and 65 percent of frequent users reported use of drugs caused them problems, ranging from absences from school to emergency room treatment.

"The numbers are still shocking, even if overall they indicate a decline," said Silverman. "The frequency of the use of more dangerous drugs such as cocaine and PCP is alarming in that these youngsters are major candidates for treatment now."

Overall, though, health officials are satisfied with the findings of the latest survey.

"The findings are not unexpected, in lieu of national surveys," said Dr. Farrell. "They support very much the position of the Drug Abuse Administration that the Baltimore Washington Metropolitian areas are witnessing a resurgence of PCP use.

"The data also support recognition of cocaine abuse, and the evidence that solvents are becoming more of a problem," he continued. "However, I think the results of the survey are reflective of the investment that this country, and this State in particular, has made in providing comprehensive programs for dealing with drug abuse, ranging from prevention and research, to treatment and evaluation.

Herrington Manor Ranger Is Moved To Hagerstown

According to the Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service, Park Ranger Cynthia Broadhurst has been transferred from Herrington Manor State Park to Greenbrier State Park, just east of Hagerstown.

Broadhurst was appointed to Herrington Manor in January 1984 and made her home near Red Run on Mayhew Inn Road. During her local assignment, she was graduated from the Maryland State Ranger School at Elk Neck and the Maryland Police and Training Commission School in Salisbury. She has been a commissioned law enforcement officer since May 1984. Presently she is enrolled in the Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service Interpretor Course. This one-year course will enable her to effectively lead hikes, build exhibits, arrange programs and to provide other related visitor services.

Broadhurst was given a farewell party at the Pizza Hut in Oakland on April 12. The party was attended by her co-workers and area friends. A unique hand-carved lamp in the shape of a tree, made by Assistant Park Manager Roger Riley, was presented to Broadhurst as a remembrance item from Herrington Manor.

At Greenbrier, Broadhurst will be responsible for visitor safety, protection and services, day-to-day shift operations, interpretive programs, and general maintenance duties.

Teen Challenge Rep To Speak At Lakeside Assembly

H. Mason Sorensen, assistant director of Teen Challenge of Maryland, Inc., will be the guest speaker this Sunday, May 5, at 10:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. at Lakeside Assembly of God Church, Sand Flat.

Teen Challenge is a unique Christian ministry that helps young people with life controlling problems such as drugs and alcohol. With a documented 86% cure rate, it is claimed to be the most successful rehabilitation program in existence today.

Sorensen joined the staff at the Teen Challenge Induction Center in August 1984. He and his wife, Joan, and three small children are former residents of Snoqualmie, Wash., where Sorensen was employed by the Weyerhauser Company.

Prior to his conversion to Christianty in 1976, Sorensen led a stormy life which included periods of incarceration in over a dozen jails, and living in a truck from which he dealt drugs during the hippie era of the 1960s.

Sorensen is a graduate of the Berean School of the Bible with a diploma in ministerial studies. He has directed a Christian ministry at Washington State's largest correctional facility and worked as a counselor in a juvenile detention home.

He has spoken on radio and television and ministered in churches and to para-church organizations. His present ministry includes administering the daily operation of the Teen Challenge Center in the Washington, D.C. area.

Working with Rev. Mike Zello, the Executive Director of Teen Challenge of Maryland and pastor of New Life Assembly, Mason has been involved in the inter-city evangelism and the establishment of a flourishing cross-cultural church body.

Pastor David Howe extends a welcome to all youths in the area to attend these services.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Spec. 4 David T. Ward, son of Mildred E. Rodeheaver and stepson of Donald E. Rodeheaver, Route 1, Accident, was involved in a NATO-sponsored exercise by participating in the Army's return of forces to Germany (REFORGER) 1985.

The exercise was designed to develop uniformity of doctrine, standardize procedures for rapid response to a crisis and demonstrate solidarity in commitment to NATO goals and objectives.

Ward is a tracked-vehicle mechanic with the 8th Infantry Division in Baumholder, West Germany.

His wife, Glenda, is the daughter of James W. and Fern Lininger, Friendsville.

The specialist is a 1983 graduate of Northern High School.

Marine Pvt. Rodney G. Rounds, son of Lois J. and Arthur C. Rounds, Jr., Route 40, Grantsville, has completed a motor vehicle operator's course.

During the seven-week skill training at Marine Corps Base, Camp LeJeune, NC, Rounds received classroom and behind-the-wheel instruction on the operation and capabilities of Marine Corps vehicles; defensive driving techniques; "rules of the road" and user-level preventive maintenance.

George W. Swauger, son of Della L. Swauger of 161 Star Route, Grantsville, has been promoted in the U.S. Air Force to the rank of senior airman.

Swauger is a fire protection specialist at Tyndall Air Force Base, Fla., with the Air Defense Weapons Center.

His wife, Sherry, is the daughter of Ronald E. and Mary A. Karvinen of Eben, Mich.

He is a 1981 graduate of Northern High School.

Pfc. Brett E. Friend, son of Mrs. Shirley Friend, Friendsville, and the late Eugene (Pee Wee) Friend, completed basic training at Parris Island, S.C., in January 1985 and graduated from Engineer Maintenance School in Camp LeJeune, N.C., April 4. He will now be stationed at Camp LeJeune, N.C.

Friend enlisted in the U.S. Marines in October, 1984.

Airman James P. McClaskey, son of Alice M. McClaskey of Rural Route 1, Swanton, has been assigned to Aberdeen Proving Ground after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received specialized instruction in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized struction in the aircraft systems maintenance field.

Marine Pfc. George V. Futch, son of George V. and Tommie M. Futch, Route 1, Swanton, recently reported for duty at 1st Marine Brigade, Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii.

State Receives Huge Grant For Automation Project

The State of Maryland has been awarded a grant of nearly $2.5 million by the U.S. Department of Labor for the automation of its Unemployment Insurance program.

According to Brent M. Johnson, Secretary of Employment and Training, Maryland's grant is the largest of 26 similar grants awarded across the nation. Thirty-seven states submitted proposals last fall requesting assistance from the U.S. Department of Labor in the automating of their Unemployment Insurance programs. Maryland's grant represents one-eighth of funds awarded nationwide.

"This is a major step in improving the quality of our programs and the services provided to the people of Maryland through the Department of Employment and Training," Johnson said. "This has been our goal since the department was created a year and a half ago."

Cost efficiency, error reduction and more timely service are among the benefits of the new system, the secretary said. He also indicated that there is a possibility that Maryland's new system will become a model for the nation and adopted by other states.

Administrative costs will be reduced by approximately $1.7 million per year after the system has been fully implemented.

Significant reductions in errors are expected primarily through the elimination of the manual review of weekly claims to determine eligibility and benefit amount. The new system will determine both by the utilization olf an optical character reader, according to data processing officials within the agency.

The system, they explained, will eliminate much of the recordkeeping and filing tasks now performed by employees.

Claims examiners, those staff who determine eligibility, will be able to spend more time on the judgments required to determine whether a claimant meets the job separation and work search requirements of unemployment insurance eligibility.

Secretary Johnson said that the error reductions anticipated would benefit the State's employers by reducing the number of improperly paid claims which increase an employer's taxes. The system would also insure the proper distribution of tax charges when a claimant has earned wages from more than one employer during the period of which his eligibility is based, he said. In addition, employers will now be notified immediately when a claimant receives the first unemployment insurance check.

The most impressive feature of the new system, Johnson said, will be the dramatic reduction in the time required to process claims and deliver unemployment insurance checks.

A major innovation of the new system will be a change from weekly to bi-weekly payments. After the first check for the first week of unemployment, claimants will file claims and receive benefits every other week. Officials say this will benefit claimants by reducing the number of claims they must file and reducing postage costs when mailing claims. Under the new system, all claims will be mailed to departmental headquarters rather than being delivered to local offices throughout the State.

In the future, Johnson said, the department hopes to further automate the system by including electronic banking and fund transfer designed to eliminate delays inherent in mailing benefit checks.

Secretary Johnson said that the system will be implemented in four local offices in February and statewide by April 1, 1986.

SEEKING NEW RECRUITS — State Police are looking for special members to join the force. If they meet the qualifications they will be trained at a special 14-week school before receiving their assignments. Prospective candidates may be German Shepherds or retrievers, and must be in good health, good physical condition with balanced dispositions. German Shepherds must also be male, one to two years old, and weigh at least 65 pounds. Retrievers may be the Labrador golden breed, and must be 12-18 months old. Although not essential, AKC registration is preferred. The State Police K 9 Corps has specialty teams that can track fleeing criminals, locate lost children, search buildings, detect narcotics, locate explosive devices and recover firearms. Persons wishing to donate male German Shepherds or retrievers may contact the State Police K 9 Unit for First Sergeant John Dodd or Sgt. Ben Cohey at (301) 442-2700 or (301) 486-3101, Ext. 217.

Savage, Rodeheaver Honored By WOW

Ernest F. Savage of Friendsville, and Robert F. Rodeheaver of Oakland, field representatives for the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society, have been notified by President John G. Bookout that they have qualified for membership in the President's Club.

"Their membership in the Millionaire Section of the President's Club honors their top-rated performance in membership protection along with meeting high standards of professional conduct and service on behalf of their clients," stated Leland A. Larson, vice president of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society.

The two new members of the Club will be guests of President Bookout next summer at a meeting in San Diego, Calif.

Clifford Chew, Jr., Evangelist

God reached out to Rev. Chew in the late 40's when he was one of the top commercial fishing captains on the east coast. He immediately went to work for Christ and the church as a Sunday School teacher and church bus operator. He later sold his boat and nets and "came ashore" to serve God more fully and better shepherd his seven children. After helping to found several churches, God called him into the full-time ministry. While pastoring churches he maintained a busy evangelism schedule—to which he now devotes his full energies. Stories of the sea and of sinners illustrate his scriptural sermons. NO ONE SLEEPS!

Trial dates have been set for June 20 in Garrett County and June 27 in Allegany County.

PE Study Show Energy Savings Via Heat Pumps

A recent study conducted by Potomac Edison's Market Research and Economic Development department concluded that an Electric Add-On Heat Pump saves customers on their total heating energy bills when used in conjunction with an existing, warm-air heating system.

The results indicate that the average heating energy cost savings amounted to 23 percent when comparing the EAOHP operation to a stand-alone oil, warm-air heating system. The EAOHP reduced oil consumption by 49.6 percent. An EAOHP is a specialized application of an air-to-air electric space heating heat pump. It is normally installed as an addition to an existing fossil fuel warm-air furnace. Unlike, a standard electric heat pump, the add-on heat pump does not operate with the fossil fuel furnace simultaneously. For the purposes of PE's research project, an outdoor thermostat set at 35 degrees was connected into the control system. This allowed the add-on heat pump and the oil furnace to operate independently. The heat pump would supply heat at and above the outdoor thermostat point, while the oil furnace took over and operated at temperatures below.

Thirty EAOHPs were installed in residential homes in Potomac Edison's eastern division (Frederick County). Magnetic tape metering was used to record hourly demands, indoor temperatures and outdoor temperatures. An hour counter, connected to the oil furnace was read on a monthly basis to determine furnace kilowatt-hours and oil consumption.

Named Academy Award Winner

Kelli Iden, a student at Northern Middle School, has been named an award winner in English by the United States Achievement Academy. She was recommended for the honor by Nancy Frank, English teacher at Northern Middle.

Miss Iden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Iden, McHenry, will have her name published in the Academy's yearbook.

The Academy states that it selects students for awards based on things such as academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, enthusiasm, and recommendation from a teacher, advisor, or counselor.

Dangers Of Canine Heartworm Disease Medicine Noted

Giving dogs preventive medicine for canine heartworm disease before the animals are found free of the disease by a veterinarian can cause acute illness and possibly death, warns the Maryland Veterinary Medical Association MVMA).

The disease is spread by mosquitos and many dog owners administer daily doses of preventive medication to their animals for only about six months of the year. With the mosquito season approaching, some people may assume their dogs are disease-free and start giving the medication again without a blood test performed by a veterinarian.

If dogs infected with heartworms receive the preventive medication, they may experience a severe reaction manifested by vomiting, diarrhea, increased heart rate, difficulty breathing, pale gums, incoordination, weakness, and/or collapse. A diagnostic examination should first be conducted by a veterinarian to assure that no such infection is present.

Canine heartworm disease is caused by long, white worms which reach a length of six to 14 inches and live in the right side of the heart and in the adjacent large blood vessels. Large accumulations of adult worms impair circulation of the blood, often resulting in serious damage to the dog's heart, lungs, liver and kidneys.

A great deal of damage may occur to a dog before any outward signs of heartworm disease are noticed. In advanced stages, the disease may cause its victim to have difficulty breathing, cough, tire easily, become listless, lose weight and faint. If not detected and controlled with proper treatment, the disease can lead to congestive heart failure and death.

About 60 species of mosquitos are capable of carrying the disease from dog to dog.

Although no vaccine is available for heartworm disease, veterinarians recommend a preventive medication in liquid, pill or chewable form that is given to dogs in small daily doses throughout the mosquito season and for two months after the season ends.

The daily medication should be given year-round in regions where mosquitos are present all or most of the year.

Most dogs can be treated successfully for heartworms if the disease is detected early. There is always some risk involved in treatment, but adverse effects are uncommon among dogs that are otherwise in good health, according to the MVMA.

Southern Middle School Students Accepted At Summer Centers

Nancy Alvarez

Mike Madigan

Mike Vance

Three students from Southern Middle School, Nancy Alvarez, Mike Madigan, and Mike Vance, have been accepted in Maryland State Department of Education sponsored Summer Centers Program courses.

Nancy Alvarez will be examining American art works from a variety of perspectives; discussing how art can improve the quality of life, studying the development of the visual arts within American life and culture from colonial times to the present. She will also be expressing, through personalized creative writing, her interpretations of art works viewed. She will round out her experience with sailing, swimming, dance, tennis, volleyball, movies, dinner theatre, socials, and an exposure to life on Maryland's Eastern Shore.

Nancy will depart for the Creative Writing and Painting Program at Washington College in Chestertown on July 7 and return on July 20.

Mike Madigan will be developing skills, including the identification, collection, and preparation of edible wild plants; the trapping and preparation of wild animals; the use of primitive techniques for starting fires, purifying water, administering first aid, and constructing tools and shelters; developing comprehension of major ecological concepts and principles; and deepening appreciation of the conservation ethic. Mike will round out his experience with a four-day survival trip, where he will rely on his wits and nature to supply all needs. He will be participating in the Living off the Land Program at Carey Run Bird Sanctuary, located in the Frostburg area, from July 27 to August 9.

Mike Vance will be involved in discussions and demonstrations of photography as an art form and use of photography as a way to understand and express a personal view of the world. His experience will include trips to interesting locations for taking pictures and development of skills in black and white darkroom techniques.

Mike will depart for the Photography Program at Goucher College in Towson, on July 7 and will return on July 20.

Maps Produced For Low Vision, Blind Readers

For the first time, thousands of people whose eyes can not see well enough to read maps and regular print can enjoy and understand maps of the state of Maryland and its counties.

An innovative new atlas of Maryland combines braille, raised lines, large print and voice-indexed cassettes to present geographic historical and demographic information for easy understanding by low visioned and blind readers.

The Tactile and Large Print Atlas of the State of Maryland is produced and edited by Dr. Margaret Rockwell Pfanstiehl, president of The Washington Ear, the radio reading service for blind and physically handicapped of the Maryland-DC-Virginia region, 35 University Blvd. East, Silver Spring, Maryland 20901.

Cartography is by Professor Joseph W. Wiedel, an internationally known expert in designing maps for the visually impaired, assisted by graduate student Mary Helmsen. Both are with the University of Maryland department of geography.

The atlas includes 21 maps (7 state and 14 regional), a unique touch coordinate system, an index with 250 entries and an instructional voice commentary for each map with additional historic, geographical, and demographic information.

The commentary is also available in print for sighted family members, teachers and friends. A large-print-only version of the maps is available for low vision and fully sighted readers.

Included are major political boundaries, cities, towns, waterways, railroads, highways and roads, parks, cultural and educational institutions, and historical information from early resident indian tribes through colonial settlements to the present.

The audio commentary is voice-indexed on four cassettes for quick reference. Mrs. Pfanstiehl's husband, Cody, narrates the commentary.

Mrs. Pfanstiehl composed 128-pages of commentary on her word processing computer that speaks words as fast as they are typed.

"I could touch the braille on the maps, but Cody's eyes were my eyes in checking the print-out from my word processor," she said.

Maryland is first jurisdiction anywhere to have an atlas combining braille, raised lines, an easily understood coordinate system, large print and the spoken word for both visually impaired and sighted readers.

Begun in January 1984 and available in May 1985, the pioneering project is a part of Maryland's 350th Anniversary celebration. It is funded by the Maryland Humanities Council, the Maryland Heritage Committee, the National Geographic Society and The Washington Ear.

Volunteer Braille Services of Washington, D.C., transcribed the index into braille and proof read the braille labels on the 21 maps.

The atlas will be introduced at a symposium May 8 at 2:00 p.m. at Strathmore Hall, 10701 Rockville Pike, Rockville.

HEALTH OCCUPATION STUDENTS PLACE IN STATE COMPETITION — Northern High School recently sent four students to the state competition for all Health Occupation Students of America held in LaPlata. The two days of events consisted of Leadership and Health Related Skills. Lori Sisler placed second in the state in the Prepared Speech Category, Karen Sisler placed second in Job Seeking Skills, and Ronda Sisler placed third in the state in Medical Spelling. All three girls are eligible to compete nationally against 36,000 Health Occupation Students in Nashville, Tenn., in June. Also attending the competition were Sheila McCarty and Advisor Elsie Slagle. The girls participated in Prepared Speech, Extemporaneous Speech, Medical Spelling, Medical Terminology, Job Seeking and HOSA Bowl events. Pictured above from left to right are Karen Sisler, Ronda Sisler, and Lori Sisler.

Carnival To Be Held By Union Elementary PTA

The Union Elementary PTA will hold a carnival at the Union Educational Complex on Route 50 in Mt. Storm on May 10 from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

Highlights of the carnival will be the crowning of a king and queen, the drawing for door prizes, a cake walk, games and food, a bake sale, a white elephant sale, and more.

This annual event is the PTA's only fund raiser of the year, and the funds are used to provide the students with movies, sports uniforms, Riff program books, and anything extra that is needed.

AN INTERNATIONAL TEA was held recently by the fourth grade gifted/talented class at Dennett Road School. This was the culmination of independent research projects on various countries around the world. Students shared their findings with parents, teachers, Clark Sharpless, principal, and special guests. Desserts from each country studied were enjoyed by all. Students presenting reports were, kneeling, left to right, Steven Bittinger, England; and Jonathan Sines, Italy; standing, same order, are Jonathan Lane, Egypt; Ingrid Carlson, Sweden; Heather Gilbert, Switzerland; Todd Shaffer, Japan; and Jason Ridenour, West Germany. Rosetta Rodeheaver is the teacher.

State Granted Welfare Waiver Of $1.3 Million

The State Department of Human Resources has successfully sought a waiver of $1.3 million in welfare funds from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Maryland was one of six states granted waivers of the 28 states that applied, according to Ruth Massinga, DHR secretary.

HHS initially applied monetary sanctions against the states for failing to meet target error rates in their Aid to Families with Dependent Children programs in fiscal 1981.

Under threat to repay the federal government $1.3 million and severely limit the AFDC program in Maryland, the application for a waiver was filed two years ago.

DHR launched a massive effort to reduce the error rate to its present level, of 5.4 percent. Based on the good faith effort of DHR, HHS applied a stringent review process and approved Maryland's waiver request.

"Reducing the error rate in Maryland has been a priority since 1979 and we are pleased that HHS recognized the remarkable progress we have made and waived the sanction," said Secretary Massinga.

Southern Garrett GOP Women Meet April 16

The April meeting of the Southern Garrett County Republican Women was held April 16 in the meeting room of the Garrett County commissioners. President Sue Shockey presided over the meeting.

It was reported that as a result of last month's meeting with Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home's Activities Director Joanne Harsh, two of the Republican women were motivated to help the home in various ways. Arzella Parsons arranged for the Oak Park Church Choir to present its Easter Cantata at the home, and Pat White provided enlarged Bingo cards for use by the residents. She is also having a cat neutered and declawed in preparation to be given to the residents. The club also voted to sponsor the "Las Vegas Night" at the Home in October.

Also discussed were the goals and objectives of the organization for 1985. Ann Groves presented a list of potential goals and projects as recommended by the Maryland Federation of Republican Women. She stated that the purpose of the club is best described by the Maryland Federation by-laws which state, "The objectives of the Maryland Federation of Republican Women shall be to broaden the understanding of Republican aims in government, to increase the number of women registered in the Republican Party, and to unite their efforts along party lines." With these objectives in mind, the Club will begin working on the various goals which will qualify the members for the 1985 Annual Achievement Award sponsored by the Maryland Federation.

After the business meeting, Delegate George Edwards was introduced as the evening's guest speaker. Delegate Edwards reported on the status of local bills which he had introduced into the legislature and highlighted the major legislative issues of this year's General Assembly. He was accompanied by his administrative assistant for Southern Garrett County, Mary Lou Stemple. Following Edward's presentation, the meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served.

Named Member Of Alpha Phi Omega

Marsha C. Savage, became an active member of Alpha Phi Omega, West Virginia University's national service fraternity, on Friday, April 19.

Alphi Phi Omega (A.P.O.) performs many services for the campus, community and country. All members follow the characteristics of leadership, friendship and service.

W.V.U.'s chapter of A.P.O., Lambda Omicron, is celebrating its 30th anniversary of service on the W.V.U. campus this spring.

Miss Savage is a junior, studying petroleum engineering, at W.V.U. The daughter of Donald and Arveta Savage, Oakland, Marsha has completed a pledge program requiring all people wishing to become members to perform 16 service hours to their campus, community and country.

SPECIAL EDUCATION Level IV students at Northern High School recently prepared and served lunch to Level IV students from Southern High School. As part of the Home Management curriculum, students were involved in preparing the shopping list, as well as accounting for money spent. Pictured left to right are Ann Hersick, NHS; Theresa Glaze and Liz Terrant, SHS, Jim Soult, Lisa Resh, Mrs. Sonja Golden, aide, and Jeff Bittinger, all of NHS; Phillip Wotring and Randy Harvey, SHS; Barry Frazee, NHS; John Keefer, SHS; and Mary Bowser, NHS. Area Agency On Aging Plans Two Trips For May

The Garrett County Area Agency on Aging is sponsoring two trips for Garrett County senior citizens during the month of May.

A trip to the History House in Cumberland is scheduled for May 18. As well as visiting the History House, the seniors will be able to do some shopping at the downtown Cumberland Mall or the Country Club Mall. The cost of this trip will be $7.00, which includes transportation and admission. Deadline for reservations is May 13. The trip is limited to 38 people. For information and reservations, persons may call 334-3986.

The second trip scheduled is to Inner Harbor in Baltimore, where participants will visit the Aquarium. Other highlights of Harbor Place are shops, cruises, and restaurants offering a multitude of food experiences and entertainment. There is a considerable amount of walking involved which should be taken into consideration by prospective participants.

The trip is scheduled for Friday, May 24. The cost is $20 per person which includes transportation and admission into the Aquarium only. Deadline for reservations is May 15 and the trip is limited to 44 persons. There will be three pick-up points and the departure time for each location is as follows: Oakland Senior Center at 6:00 a.m., Accident (Old School) at 6:30 a.m., and Grantsville (Casselman) at 7:00 a.m.

Sheriff's Deputies Arrest Two On Charges Of Theft

Two theft arrests and one investigation of a theft have kept the Garrett County Sheriff's Department busy this past week.

Dale Lee Beal, 36, Frostburg, was apprehended by Deputy P.K. Buckel and Deputy P.J. Pratt last Thursday when Beal attempted to flee police who were trying to serve him with two previous warrants.

With the assistance of Tfc. D.W. Broadwater of the Maryland State Police, Beal was captured at the intersection of Rt. 495 and Jennings Road and was charged with two counts of assault, automobile theft and fleeing and eluding a police officer.

A Mtn. Lake Park man was also apprehended for theft last Tuesday by Deputy Richard Kutchman.

Eugene W. Shiflett, 21, was charged with the theft of a Suzuki four-wheeler he had allegedly taken from a storage shed belonging to Gary Langston, Silver Spring. The storage shed was located at the summer residence of Langston on Clifton Drive. The theft allegedly occurred sometime between April 17-19.

The four-wheeler was recovered on Mountain Lake in Mtn. Lake Park after it had been discovered by an employee of Sisler Lumber Company.

The theft of 30 pine trees in the Friendsville area is currently being investigated by Deputy Russell Drenning.

Chauncey D'Pugh, Smearman Road, reported that someone had uprooted and taken 30 pine trees from his property on April 11 between noon and 8:00 p.m. The trees are valued at $500.

Everyone loves surprises and so do we. We enjoy surprising our customers who request estimates from us on new floor coverings. They make comments to us that they are surprised when our total is less than anywhere else for the same materials. That's because less overhead in our home means greater savings to you.

Please choose your carpet or vinyls in advance so we can place your name on our lists for installation. Our crews are very busy right now, so in order for us to please, we suggest you shop early. Come out soon, we're anxious to meet you.

Remember, we're the couple who says "A floor without a rug is like a kiss without a hug."

Spencer Schlosnagle Attends GYAC Spring Conference In Harford County

Spencer Schlosnagle, Garrett County's Delegate to the Governor's Youth Advisory Council, attended the annual Spring Conference of the Governor's Youth Advisory Council in Harford County at the Aberdeen Sheraton from April 19 through 21. Some items on the agenda for the weekend included election of new officers, consideration of by-law amendments as well as general business.

The Governor's Youth Advisory Council expresses the concerns of Maryland's youth to the governor. The council is composed of 115 youth from around the state who serve as delegates. Council delegates must be between the ages of 13 and 22, and be citizens and residents of the state of Maryland during their term on the council.

"Though it would be impossible to give a description of a typical' GYAC delegate," said Schlosnagle,"it is safe to say that they all have two things in common, the desire to learn about and become active in state government and a concern for the needs of the youth of Maryland."

While attending the conference, Schlosnagle ran for the office of Outreach Committee Chairperson and was elected to that position, He has served on the GYAC for the past three years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Schlosnagle of Friendsville.

Newsy Notes From SMS

by Student Government Representatives of Southern Middle School

The annual County-Wide Talent Show, sponsored by the Garrett County Council of PTA's, was held Friday, April 26, in the Southern Middle School cafetorium. Both middle school division trophies went to students from our school. Alexis Long received the first place trophy for her jazz dance routine. Scott Clever won the second place trophy with his snare drum solo. Southern Middle School is proud of these students.

Featured teacher of the week is Mrs. Brook Green.

Mrs. Green has been with the Garrett County school system for ten years. She currently teaches sixth, seventh and eighth grade science at Southern Middle. In an interview with Mrs. Green, she stated that she enjoys the Middle School aged child very much. She feels that they are still curious and eager to learn about the world around them.

Mrs. Green grew up in Cumberland, where she graduated from Fort Hill High School. She attended James Madison University and Frostburg State College. She had a bachelor's degree in biology and a master's degree in business management.

Her non-teaching time revolves around her family: her husband, David, and three-year-old son, Sterling. She loves classical and gospel music, reading, camping, hiking, bird-watching, the beach, anything green and playing Trivial Pursuit.

Southern Middle students are fortunate to have Mrs. Green on the faculty.

Memory books, candles, and eighth grade dance tickets are on sale until May 3. The dance will be held Saturday, May 18, from 7 to 10 p.m. John Martin will be the disc-jockey.

A dance will be held this Friday from 7 to 10 p.m. Disc-jockies will be John Carter and Patrick Mitchell.

Spirit days will be held throughout the month of May. May 1 is "dress-up" day. May 8 is "red and white" day.

A poster contest entitled "Summer Vacation" is being sponsored by the Student Government.

A locker clean-up will be held Friday during eighth period.

Seventh grade students were administered the Functional Writing tests last week.

The Southern Middle School Band is busy rehearsing for their annual Spring Concert which will be held on Friday, June 7. More about this in our next "Newsy Notes."

The March Students of the Month are: 10th grade, Renee Warnick; 11th grade, Missy Bittinger; and 12th grade, Angie Bender.

Talent Show

Congratulations to Dee Dee Seaman for getting first place at the Markleysburg, Pa., talent show. She received $25.00 and the school received a trophy in her behalf. Marcie Beiler and Sheila Bender won third place.

Student Leadership Week

Last week our school celebrated National Student Leadership Week, where students were honored for their dedication, responsibility, the sacrifice of personal time and the positive future that leaders represent.

Fundraisers

The chorus is selling M&Ms for 50¢ a box.

Anyone wishing to buy sweats should contact coach Speicher. The cost is $10.00 for sweatpants and $12 for the hooded sweatshirt, and $9 for the unhooded sweatshirt. Prices are lowered when the complete sweatsuit is ordered.

National Secretaries Week

Our school would like to thank Dorothy George and Gerry Teats for their hand work and dedication as secretaries of Northern High School.

Science Fair

The annual Science Fair will be held May 2. Projects done by students will be displayed and judged at this time.

Prom Tickets

Tickets for the Jr.-Sr. Prom and Banquet were picked up in Martin Green's room. A fee of $20.00 was collected for guests (anyone who is not a junior or senior at Northern).

SUNNYSIDE-UNDERWOOD

The Underwood Bible study group met on Thursday afternoon in the home of Sybil Merrill with her daughter, Mollie Jones, as co-hostess.

Devotions were opened with prayer by Mildred Peterson. The lesson in second chapter of Exodus was taught by Jane Kope. Closing prayer was by Mary Thomas, table grace was by Ann Cannon. Others attending included Elaine and Amanda Beckman, Bessie Canan, Myrtle Fulk, Wilma Waybright.

Bessie Canan will be hostess for next Thursday afternoon's meeting.

Ann Cannon was hostess in her home for Bible study the week before.

Darwin and Ruth Fike accompanying Milton and Dawn Canan to the Pittsburgh Airport on Thursday where the Canans and son, Scott, left for Owasso, Okla., where they plan to visit their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn, for several days. Bessie Canan is staying with the other members of the family in Accident, except David, who is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sibre Skipper.

The Underwood Ladies Aid is holding a turkey dinner in the community building on Saturday afternoon, May 11. Serving time is from 4 to 8 p.m.

Bonnie and Lynn Edwards and family, Kevin Canan and wife and daughter, Connie, Rock and Sheila of Kent and Ravenna, Ohio, were guests on Sunday evening of Larry and John Canan.

John and Wilma Canan of Ravenna, Ohio, were overnight guests of their aunt, Bessie Canan. They were all here to attend the funeral of their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Maude Canan, 87, who died Saturday.

Funeral services were conducted at Stewart Funeral Home on Monday with burial in the Close Mt. family cemetery above Leadmine.

Mrs. Mildred Peterson accompanied a group of senior citizens and friends on a five-day trip to Virginia Beach and other places of interest this week.

A covered dish carry-in dinner was held on Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Friend as a surprise to Earl for his birthday. Among those attending were their son, Jack Friend, Virginia Beach; Jack's wife, Matilda and family, Tom and Daisy Graham, Pattie Graham and family, Bessie Canan and granddaughter, Marylyn, Autumn, Carolina and Clarissa Canan, George and Hazel White, Linda Spink and family and Robin Schroyer and family.

Bessie Canan and granddaughters were Saturday evening supper guests of the granddaughters' grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sibre Skipper.

PRIVATE PROPERTY WEEK

PRIVATE PROPERTY WEEK: APRIL 28 - MAY 4 — The Garrett County Board of Realtors announced it wants everyone in the county to be aware, particularly this week, of the significance of private ownership rights in their lives. "Home ownership brings out the best in people because it allows them to assume a responsibility, put down roots and make a commitment to the community," said Barbara Kirkham, committee chairman. "Because property owners pay taxes, they care about what happens here to the schools, hospitals, streets, sewers, the trees, and the parks. They want adequate police and fire protection. They care about the quality of life for their families. It's really no different for people who own businesses here, either." The Garrett County Board of Realtors is one of more than 1,850 boards constituting the National Association of Realtors. This professional trade association represents some 650,000 members involved in every phase of the real estate industry. Serving on the board this year are president, Lois Beckman Meyers; vice president, Jan Bernard; secretary/treasurer, Vickie Berry, and executive secretary, Alice Baasland.

State Easement Program Will Be Seminar Topic

The Maryland Environmental Trust is sponsoring a one-day conference May 4, 1985 at St. John's College in Annapolis on "Rural and Coastal Land Protection: the Conservation Easement Approach." The conference will focus on the fundamentals of protecting natural areas in Maryland, through state and private conservation programs.

Conservation easement programs allow private landowners who own land with important natural areas to protect that land. In donating an easement, the landowner gives up the right to develop his or her property, to instead keep the land in its natural state forever.

Conservation easements protect valuable wetlands, coastal areas, farmland, forests and scenic areas that often serve as wildlife habitats. As well as saving natural areas, easements can protect historical and archaeological sites. In return for an easement, the landowner receives certain tax benefits.

The conference will explore the purpose of easements and the incentives for making charitable donation to a qualified organization. The afternoon sessions will cover many technical aspects of easement donation as related to federal tax laws.

"The conference should be of interest to a broad audience including citizens and landowners, public officials, attorneys, appraisers and real estate professionals," said Susan Flanigan, spokesperson for the Trust.

For further information persons should contact the Maryland Environmental Trust, 501 St. Paul Place, Suite 1310, Baltimore, Maryland, 21202, (301) 659-6440.

Money Management Workshop Scheduled By New Horizons

"Making Your Money Work For You" is the topic of a workshop to be conducted by the New Horizons Program of Garrett Community College at the Oakland Center of GCC on Wednesday, May 8, from 10 a.m. to noon in Room 603. This is the second in a specially prepared unit on money management.

The workshop provides specific suggestions for cutting food, clothing and health care costs. Diet, nutrition, and prevention are the focus of the discussion of saving on health care costs. Credit, indebtedness and financial emergencies resulting from over-extension will also be discussed. Ideas for a second income will help participants start thinking about creative ways to increase family cash flow.

This money management workshop is free and is open to the public. Participants are requested to pre-register by calling 334-9184 weekdays and 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

SHS Honor Society Schedules Car Wash

The Southern High School National Honor Society is sponsoring a car wash on Saturday, May 4, from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. at the Vocational Building behind the school. Donations are welcome.

Half of the proceeds will go to the German Scholarship fund and the other half will go to the National Honor Society.

DEER PARK

The Deer Park Homemakers are scheduled to attend the Deer Park United Methodist Church May 5 at 7:30 p.m. in observance of Homemakers' Week.

Daily Vacation Bible School at the United Methodist Sunday School is planned for June 24-28.

Students Receive Academy Honors

Bryan Custer

Kimberly Ann Frank

Julie Swauger

Several Garrett County students were recently named recipients of United States Achievement Academy awards. They include Bryan Custer, Southern High School; Kimberly Ann Frank, Northern High School; Julie Swauger and Roxanne Bender, Northern Middle School; and Jennifer Glotfelty, Southern Middle School.

Bryan Custer, son of Clarence and JoAnn Custer, Oakland, received Academy awards in band, leadership, and student council and was also informed he had been named to Who's Who Among American High School Students and Who's Who in Music. He is also an Academic All-American and listed among the Society of Distinguished American U.S. Students. He is drum major for the Southern Garrett Band, a member of the Stage Band, Junior Class president, and a Student Council representative.

Kimberly Frank, daughter of Nancy Frank, Accident, and Paul Frank Jr., Martinsburg, W. Va., received two U.S. Achievement Academy awards, one in leadership and one in cheerleading. A sophomore, Kimberly was selected a junior varsity cheerleader at Northern last year and is presently a member of the varsity squad. She has served on various Student Council committees and was a blue ribbon recipient at Northern's 1984 Excellence Fair. She is a member of the Northern/Southern Hand Bell Choir, Zion Lutheran Church Choir and is vice president of Zion Lutheran Church Youth Group.

Julie Swauger, daughter of Harold and Linda Swauger, Accident, received the Academy's English award. She is an active member of the Oak Grove Church of the Brethren Youth Group.

Roxanne Bender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Bender, Cove Road, also received the English award and has been named an Academic All-American.

Jennifer Jo Glotfelty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald (Butch) Glotfelty Jr., Oakland, received the student council award.

The U.S. Achievement Academy selects students for awards based on their academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, and citizenship, among other criteria, plus the recommendation of a teacher, coach, or counselor. The names of the award recipients will appear in the Academy's yearbook.

Something To Think About

R. Mark Durst
DIRECTOR

WHAT IS GRIEF?

All human relationships end in separation. It's a fact which cannot be denied. Regardless of how much energy or emotional commitment we invest in a relationship, it cannot last forever.

When a relationship is brought to an end by death, the loss is known as bereavement. It is the emotional reaction to such a loss that we call grief. It can have many forms and manifestations, it can last for varying lengths of time and be felt to different degrees, but there are a few universal factors about grief.

We understand that grief is a normal response. It can also be extremely painful, and potentially harmful if avoided. The proper goal of grief is the internal realization and recognition of death. Recovery, however, does not mean that all emotional significance of death has ended. Rather, it signifies the ability of the griever to form new relationships and make new commitments.

SCHOOL BUS CONTRACTORS MEET — Seat belts in school buses are a real concern to school bus drivers and owners who would be held responsible for being sure that every student on the bus is wearing a seat belt. Seat belts were a major part of the discussion at the recent annual meeting of the Maryland School Bus Contractors Association who transport the majority of the 450,000 school students of the state each year. Until tests prove seat belts give the safest ride, the contractors have gone on record agreeing with other school bus professionals in the state that the present special "egg carton" concept of seating, with high padded seats is workable safety proved out by the excellent safety record in every county of Maryland. "Seat belts could provide a weapon for one student against another and dangling seat belts could cause accidents," said an association spokesman. "Unlike automobiles, the interior of a school bus is designed without nobs and buttons for safety." Attending the two day meeting in Annapolis representing Garrett County school bus drivers were Wanda and George Wassell, Bittinger, third and fourth from left. Also pictured, left to right, are Franklin Riffle, Delegate from Frederick County; John Musey, State Vice President; and William P. Kerns, Director of Transportation for for Anne Arundel County schools.

Health Hazards Result From Oil To Gas Conversion

Homeowners who have converted their home heating systems from oil to natural gas are being warned by government safety experts to have chimneys inspected now for possible carbon monoxide health hazards.

According to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, the buildup of soot deposits on the linings of chimneys from years of oil heating contributes to the possible problem. CPSC said that after the heating system is converted from oil to gas, the soot deposits tend to loosen and fall to the base of the chimney. The debris may block the exhaust from the gas furnace and could cause a buildup of carbon monoxide fumes in the house.

CPSC said consumers exposed to carbon monoxide often experience symptoms frequently associated with "having the flu," including dizziness, nausea, headaches, irregular breathing and loss of consciousness.

CPSC said homes which continue to be heated with oil do not experience this problem.

Homeowners who have converted from oil to gas or who are considering the change should promptly arrange to have the chimney inspected by professional or certified cleaners who are familiar with soot buildup in chimneys. If there are signs of soot buildup, the chimney should be cleaned.

CPSC said annual inspections should be made until no subsequent accumulations of soot deposits are found.

Offerings From Pentecost Sunday Going To Habitat

The ministries of the Garrett County Habitat for Humanity, Inc. will be furthered through a special love offering received throughout the county's churches on Pentecost Sunday, May 26. The 1984 Pentecost offering saw participation from 41 local congregations and netted over $6,600 for the organization.

Habitat for Humanity is an interdenominational ministry which seeks to provide adequate shelter for low income families in Garrett County. Houses are constructed and made available to families on a plan of "Biblical economics," that is, no profit, no interest charges. All building capital is received through gifts and free will offerings.

The Habitat will provide posters, offering envelopes, and brochures to all participating churches. Persons may secure these and additional information by calling the Habitat office at 334-1731.

A power lawn mower is a big help for the homeowner but, used carelessly, it can be a hazard. Note these simple safety measures:

Rocks, sticks, even toys, can be flung about by the mower. Clear them off the lawn before you start. Wear sturdy shoes with good traction.

Keep children and dogs a safe distance away when you mow. A young child should not be permitted to operate a power mower.

It's safer to mow ACROSS the lawn, not up and down. Be sure to PUSH the mower; don't PULL it. Don't use an electric lawn mower on wet grass or in the rain.

To protect your hands from getting caught in the blades, shut off the mower before you empty, clean, or adjust the grass catcher. For extra protection, unplug the cord or disconnect spark plug wires.

Your protection is our concern. For all your insurance needs, see the experts at

Famine Relief Effort Underway, Auction Slated

A local effort to raise money to provide food and medical supplies to the people of Ethiopia is being organized by Gary Thompson, a teacher at Southern Middle School, and his seventh grade social studies students.

A number of activities are being planned for the drive, which has been labeled the Ethiopian Famine Relief Fund, including an auction scheduled for June 1, at the Broadford Park Pavilion. The auction is being held in cooperation with the Parent Advisory Group of Southern Middle.

Thompson stated that inspiration for the project came from a recent special edition of ABC television's 20/20, which told of the children of New York City organizing under the direction of a Congressman Ackerman and raising $125,000 for the Ethiopian people. In order to make sure their money was used properly and the food was received by the Ethiopians quickly, the children bypassed other organized relief organizations and the federal government by purchasing the needed grain themselves and hiring a jet to transport it to Ethiopia. Thompson said that the local effort will follow a similar pattern so persons contributing can be assured that their donations will directly help those in need. He stated that if the proper connections cannot be made to the

OVER THE HILL GANG? — Although these fellows may be approaching what most consider to be middle age, they still maintain sufficient physical condition to participate in the ninth annual Hike and Bike of the Garrett Organization for the Handicapped, held this past weekend. All five of these gentlemen pictured ran five miles in this effort, the major fund raising event for GOH, although John Toston admitted that he and a few others walked about a half-mile. Two Hike and Bikes were held in the county, one in the southern region and one in the northern region, involving about 100 participants. In the photo, left to right, are Dennett Road School principal, Clark Sharpless; retired State Trooper Ron Lewis; Toston, an Oakland attorney; Bill Carlson, of the Board of Education; and Garrett County Sheriff Frank Finch. Also running five miles were John Lewis, son of Ron; and Tom Dabney, also an Oakland attorney. At present, it is unknown how much money was raised though the event.

Runners, Pledges Being Sought For 200-Mile Relay

A few more runners and lots of financial pledges are needed by a local group of runners planning a 200-mile benefit relay run from downtown Oakland to Washington, D.C., the weekend of June 1-2. The event is one of several activities being held to support the Ethiopian Famine Relief Fund, created by a Southern Middle School teacher and students.

The relay will involve ten runners who will each run a total of 20 miles, either all at one time or in two segments of ten miles each. Pledges of so many cents per mile will be sought from businesses, organizations, and individuals. The runners will carry a small bag of grain, symbolic of the grain that many American church groups and relief organizations have been attempting to get to the starving people of Ethiopia and other drought-ridden African nations.

The run will begin in downtown Oakland on Saturday, June 1, and end at the Ethiopian Embassy, located along Kalorama Road in Washington, on Sunday, June 2. The participants will not run during the night, but are planning to complete at least 100 miles the first day.

The effort is being coordinated by Don Sincell and Steve Hile, both of Mtn. Lake Park. Other runners who plan

Chestnut Ridge Coal Co. Wrestling With Dust Problem In Kitzmiller

The Chestnut Ridge Coal Company of Elk Garden, W.Va., has been working to steadily improve the coal dust problem at the Kitzmiller Elementary School, which is located just across the Potomac River from the coal company.

Conditions at the school have improved somewhat, according to Principal Brenda McCartney, however, they are still getting some coal dust. "The problem was much worse," said McCartney, "and we don't want it to reach that level again. We don't know how much coal dust you can have before it gets dangerous."

McCartney stated that the coal company has been cooperative. They monitored the dust accumulation at the school for eight hours last week and found the amount to be low. She feels that monitoring at that particular time may not have provided a definite answer, though, because there was not as much dust due to a recent rain.

According to McCartney, Chestnut Ridge officials assured her that if the problem develops to serious proportions again, she may call them and they will instigate ways to control the problem.

Tim Lanager, of Chestnut Ridge Coal Company, explained that the West Virginia Department of Natural Resources came to the site and investigated the measures the company is taking to control the dust. Their findings were that the coal company is doing everything possible to control and eliminate the problem.

Lanager is encouraged by the monitoring results and the findings of the W.Va. DNR because the company's production is at the same level or slightly higher since the problem was first called to his attention, with a decrease in the amount of coal dust at the school.

He stated that the company took some immediate steps to provide a solution to the problem, and that they also have some long-range plans for dust control.

Steps that have already been put into effect include: enclosing every coal transfer point to keep coal dust from getting airborne; a complete inspection of their dust-collecting devise, after minor repairs, has proved the system to be 100 percent serviceable; sprinkler systems have been installed; and speed limits have been enforced.

Long range plans underway are to relocate the operation. Permits have been submitted to the state by the coal company to move the operation some 3,000

College Board Approves Budget

A proposed draft of a budget for fiscal year 1986 was approved by the Garrett Community College Board of Trustees at a special meeting held by that board.

The college is proposing a five percent increase in the overall budget, which amounts to approximately $113,000, in the form of an additional $15,920 for tuition, $71,850 in increased state aid and $25,333 from the county.

According to Dean of Academic Affairs, Leo Martin, the proposed increase in real dollars is not significant, compared to this year's budget, which roughly estimated will be in the neighborhood of $1,885,000. That total could be higher by the end of this fiscal year. The proposed request for fiscal year 1986 is $1,994,683. The actual amount the college is requesting for the county is $590,000.

The budget request is to be submitted to the Board of Garrett County Commissioners for their approval by May 17.

First United Seeks To Raise Funds For Hospitals, Crippled Children

A promotion to raise money for area hospitals and crippled children's funds was announced today by First United National Bank & Trust.

The promotion, entitled "Help yourself . . . Help our children . . . Help our community," is expected to raise $20 million in new deposits for the bank, and of that amount the bank will donate 50 basis points ($100,000) to local hospitals and crippled children's agencies. According to bank officials, the new money invested with the bank would be used primarily to meet the increased loan demand currently being experienced in western Maryland.

Courtney R. Tusing, chairman of the Board and president of the bank, stated, "Depositors are being encouraged to bring their out-of-town money back home and invest in certificates of deposit with one, two or three-year maturities in order to help meet local credit demands." The depositors will receive the top rate paid by the bank in effect at the time of the deposit on the maturities mentioned.

The institutions and organizations that would share the $100,000 donation are: Garrett County Memorial Hospital, nursery & infant care; Garrett County Crippled Children's Fund; Frostburg Community Hospital, renovation fund; Sacred Heart Hospital, nursery & pediatrics; The Memorial Hospital, nursery & pediatrics; and Allegany County League for Crippled Children, Inc. The depositor will make the choice and his or her name will be forwarded to that agency.

The campaign is expected to continue through December of this year.

Cystic Fibrosis Walk Raises Over $1,200

Through the generosity of Northern Garrett County residents and the determination of 36 participants, over $1,200 was raised to help children who suffer with cystic fibrosis in the recent Cystic Fibrosis Walk for Breath.

"We couldn't have done it without the support of the wonderful sponsors and the participants who gave so much to help the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation in its battle against the genetic disease, cystic fibrosis," says Marian Borch, chairman of the event.

Winners of the Walk for Breath were: Erin Wengerd, first place; Steve Heatwole, second; Sandy Murray, third; and Marsha Swauger, fourth.

Prizes were donated by local merchants, including Penn Alps Restaurant, Flowers and Things, Sport About Unlimited, Mary Kay Cosmetics, Folk's Paint and Glass, Beachy's Pharmacy, A&G District Co. Inc., and the Pepsi Cola Bottling Co.

According to Borch, proceeds from the event will fund research to find a cure for cystic fibrosis, the number one genetic killer of children in this country, and medical care programs to lengthen the lives of children with cystic fibrosis. The Maryland Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, with the aid of volunteers across the state, raises funds to support these programs through special events like the Walk for Breath in Grantsville.

Sierra Club Lawsuit Prompts Letter To State Health Secretary

The Sierra Club lawsuit filed two weeks ago seeking a court injunction to stop activities of a peat harvesting company in Garrett County has prompted a letter from Del. George Edwards (R-Allegany, Garrett) to the secretary of the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene.

Secretary Adele Wilzack is one of four agency officials named in the suits filed in a U.S. District Court in Baltimore and in the Garrett County Circuit Court. The Sierra Club claims that the agencies have failed to enforce permit and licensing requirements for Garrett County Processing and Packaging Corporation which the club asserts has been harvesting peat in The Glades, a wetland area in northeastern Garrett County, without obtaining necessary permits.

After the Sierra Club notified the GCPPC and federal and state regulatory agencies on January 2 of its intentions to file suit to force compliance with the necessary laws, an array of regulatory agents have inspected the GCPPC operation.

Del. Edwards' letter to Wilzack deals with her department's dealings with the GCPPC and requests that her department "does a thorough and fair evaluation of the expressed concern and that the Department does not react too quickly and maybe unfairly just because a large national environmental group is taking it to court."

Edwards pointed out that the peat harvesting operation "has been a good member of the community since 1963 and an important contributor to the State as two-thirds of the peat harvest is sold to Maryland firms." He added that the harvesting of peat has taken place since 1963 and no complaints have been lodged locally about its operation.

The letter was also sent to Torrey Brown, secretary of the Department of Natural Resources, another of the four persons named in the suit.

The GCPPC is named as a co-defendant in the suit which is filed in the U.S. District Court.

Sierra Club Attorneys Visit Bog

Meanwhile, the officials of GCPPC say they have been cooperating with all the regulatory agencies to determine what permits are necessary and to proceed with obtaining those.

Two attorneys and a representative of the Sierra Club visited the GCPPC May 2 to observe its operation in The Glades. Two attorneys of the GCPPC and four of its board members met with the Sierra Club representatives to initiate discussions over the lawsuit.

Public Hearing On Deep Creek Plan Scheduled

A public hearing on the proposed plan for the Deep Creek Lake Area, Section 21 of the Garrett County Plan, has been scheduled for May 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Garrett Community College. The hearing will be in two parts, one part conducted by the Garrett County Planning Commission and one conducted by the Garrett County Commissioners.

Planning administrator Anna McNallie stated that the proposed plan is still subject to revision if citizens point out areas overlooked by the Commission, but she noted the Planning Commission would have the decision on whether or not concerns brought out during the hearing will be addressed through plan changes.

McNallie also noted that this hearing may not be the only one held on the plan before the county commissioners, who have ultimate approval over the plan, make a final decision.

The final approved version of the plan is to be incorporated in the Garrett County Plan.

Charlotte Griffith To Resign Post As Executive Director Of APA

Charlotte Griffith, executive director of the Appalachian Parent Association, Incorporated, has announced her resignation from that position and has accepted a job working for the Eighth Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada. She will be an investigator assigned to the Child Custody Unit, assisting in the resolution of legally disputed custody of children. Her jurisdiction covers Clark County, Nevada, including Las Vegas.

A native of New Jersey, Ms. Griffith moved to Garrett County nine years ago from Baltimore with her two children, Beth and Charles. Five of those years saw her employed as a social service worker in the county. She worked with the Garrett County State's Attorney's office as a nonsupport investigator, she worked with the Garrett County Department of Social Services as a worker in the areas of family services and child abuse and neglect, she worked with the Garrett County Health Department as an aftercare worker and mental health counselor, and she worked as the county's only Division of Vocational Rehabilitation counselor.

For the last four years, Griffith has administered the programs and services of the Appalachian Parent Association, Inc., which operates the Appalachian Center, the Appalachian Workshop, and the Country Oven Bakery; training and employment programs for disabled Garrett County residents. Through her tenure, she helped to establish a sound financial base, increased program services, increased employment opportunities, increased the number of handicapped individuals served, developed needed services in the community; increased public awareness and support of local programs for the handicapped; obtained funding, donations and grants to renovate the facility to become access-

Lupis Accepts Superintendent Post In Kent Co.

James Lupis, Oakland, has been named as the new superintendent of schools for Kent County and, consequently, has submitted his resignation as assistant superintendent of administrative services for the Garrett County Board of Education.

Lupis, who has been in the county school system in his current position since Sept. 2, 1982, will leave the Garrett post near the end of June and will begin his new responsibilities on July 1.

In discussing Lupis' resignation, which will be presented before the Board of Education at today's meeting, Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, county school superintendent, stated, "I think it is going to be difficult to replace him. He not only directed the administrative area of operations, but also has served as chief negotiator with our three employee groups."

Lupis, who has done a great deal of work on the Northern High School renovation project, said that even though he will not be involved in the final stages of the project completion, he will "see it when it is finished."

Besides the NHS project, Lupis has been involved in the completion of the Accident Elementary School and with the Open Space project at Southern High School in which outdoor athletic facilities were constructed.

Lupis also noted among accomplishments during his years in the county this year's two-year agreement with the Garrett County Teachers' Association and with the first round of negotiations with two classified employee groups.

Lupis described the Kent County school system as having a student population of 2,459, which is about half that of Garrett.

As he discussed leaving the county, Lupis stated, "I have a lot of mixed emotions, except this position was a superintendency, which is what I really wanted."

Lupis' career has taken him to various areas throughout Maryland. Before coming to Garrett County, he served 16 months as administrative assistant to the superintendent in

GETTING READY for this evening's annual spring concert is the Southern High School Band, under the direction of Richard Clever. The program will get underway at 8 p.m., in the Southern cafetorium and will feature a variety of music, from classical to contemporary. Annual awards will also be presented to deserving band students midway through the concert. The public is invited to attend.

County Habitat For Humanity Selects Families For Houses

The Board of Directors of Garrett County Habitat for Humanity May 7 approved the families for Habitat houses, recommended by the Family Selection Committee. The families are Willard and Brenda Yommer of Grantsville, Betty and Ron Guthrie of Deer Park, Brenda and Bill Saggers of Oakland, Lisa and Vaughn Sweitzer of Accident and Carol and Gerald Matthews of Kitzmiller.

These five families will not enter into a covenant relationship with Habitat, according to a Habitat spokesman. On the part of Habitat this relationship involves providing the materials, volunteers, and supervision of the construction. The family's responsibility will include paying the monthly, no interest mortgage (approximately $90 a month) over a 15-20 year period. Each family also makes a commitment of time put into the Habitat program.

The family selection process begins when a family completes a written application. These applications are scrutinized and judged by the Family Selection Committee on two bases: 1) need and 2) ability to make monthly mortgage payments.

If a family is considered a potential candidate, it is visited by a team of committee members. The present housing situation and family relationships are carefully assessed. References are requested and checked.

In a meeting of the entire Family Selection Committee, the visiting teams present and compare their findings. In light of these findings the Committee makes a recommendation to the Board of Directors where the decision is made.

Construction will begin this week on the Yommer site. Students from Northern and Southern High Schools, under the supervision of their teacher, Harold Humberson, will lay the block on Monday, May 13.

On Thursday, May 16 students from Northern High, under the supervision of their teacher, Jeff Montgomery, will assemble the house on site which they built in shop class.

At 9:00 a.m. on May 13 there will be a cornerstone laying ceremony. A small Bible will be placed in one of the blocks as a reminder that Jesus Christ is the cornerstone and the foundation on which the Habitat program is built.

The public is invited to attend this ceremony which will take place on the Yommer property on the Old Shade Hollow Road off Rt. 40 west of Grantsville. The site is adjacent to the Mountain Counties Milk Hauling Cooperative.

Local Student Arrested For CDS Violation

A 14-year-old student from Northern Middle School was arrested recently by the Maryland State Police for a controlled dangerous substance violation as the result of a lengthy investigation.

According to a report filed by Tfc. R.C. Georg, the boy, a resident of the Salem Children's Trust Home, Frostburg (Garrett County), allegedly took some pills from his mother when he returned to Baltimore for Easter vacation. Reportedly, he then gave them to one student, who, in turn, gave them to another student, who turned them in to his bus driver. The bus driver gave the pills to vice-principal Elmer Redinger, who contacted the State Police.

The juvenile is now in custody at a juvenile detention center in Cumberland awaiting action by Garrett County Juvenile Services.

Sanitary Commission Hears Updates On County Sewer And Water Projects

Updates on county water and sewer projects were the topics of discussion at the May 7 meeting of the Garrett County Sanitary Commission.

Deep Creek Lake Sewer

The Sanitary Commission expressed its pleasure to the Deep Creek Property Owners Association for landscaping the pump station on Route 219 at the Deep Creek bridge.

Henry Doyle, of Greenhorne and O'Mara, gave an engineer's report on the project status of the Deep Creek project. The project is 96 percent complete with total expenditures to date, $17,175,000.

Contract 12 has the only contract still working on the pump stations for the expanded area. It is 95 percent complete, with restoration work and minor work at major pump stations left to do. Contractor H. J. Schneider feels that the restoration work will be done by June 1, with final inspection to be held June 3.

Administration

The commission approved a proposal by Hoye, Graves, Bailey and Associates to do the audit for the fiscal year, ending June 30, for a quote of $5,500.

Kitzmiller Water

Bill Elliott, of Greenhorne and O'Mara, gave an engineer's report on the project status. Contract I, the distribution system, is 97 percent complete with one more service tap to install. The contractor has started property restoration work.

Contract II, the storage tank, is 90 percent complete, with site restoration work to finish and the tank painting to complete.

Contract III is for the treatment plant and impoundment site. The treatment plant building has been erected and only the electrical wiring needs to be completed. The impoundment dam has been constructed and the rock base has been installed. The impoundment is 87 percent complete.

Time extensions for contract I and II were requested. The completion deadline is May 16. The contractor requested that the deadline be extended to June 1. The sanitary commission did not approve the extensions, and want to wait and see if they are needed, as both the time factor and the cost factor are important.

Upper Youghiogheny

Sanitary District Administrator Wendell Beitzel met with Mtn. Lake Park Mayor Russell B. Alexander, Sr., and officials of the State Health Department concerning some questions Mayor Alexander had about how the debt would be repaid for improvement to the system and how the project would be directed. Beitzel feels that those involved were able to resolve the mayor's questions to his satisfaction.

Gorman Sewer

Engineer Frank Arnold had requested a fee increase based on the change in scope of the work that resulted from a state mandated change in the disinfectant system, the sewage treatment plant site relocation, telemetry system, and negotiation with the railroad for easements. The commission decided to table the request until the next meeting when the engineer can meet with them and explain his need for an increase.

Accident Proposes Summer Youth Activities Program

The Accident Mayor and Town Council met May 6 with the oath of office given to newly elected officials, and discussion held concerning the town's budget, water and sewer rates, the youth activities program, and the upcoming Fourth of July celebration.

Oath Of Office

Newly elected Councilman Hobert Bowser and re-elected Councilman Charles Strauss took the oath of office before Mayor Wayne Fratz. Also in attendance for the May 6 business meeting were Councilmen Richard Carlson and James Smith.

Budget For 1985-86

Prior to convening the regular business meeting, Mayor Fratz held a work session to review the proposed general fund and water and sewer budgets for the coming fiscal year 1985-86. The proposed budget will be presented at a public hearing scheduled for June 3 at 7:30 p.m. in the town hall. All interested citizens are invited to attend and provide comments and ask questions concerning the entire budget. Copies can be obtained by contacting the town clerk, Marjorie Fratz.

Water And Sewer Rates

The mayor and town council will hold a public informational meeting on the proposed new water and sewer rates. Jim Cooper, a management consultant from Salisbury, will be at the meeting to present the new rate structure due to the increases in the cost of operations of the water and wastewater facilities. This will be the first rate increase since the systems became operational in 1976. All town of Accident water and sewer customers are invited to attend the meeting scheduled for Monday, May 20, at 7:30 p.m. at the town hall.

Purchase of Parkland

An additional .86 acre of land on the north side of Deakin Street was purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Gus Bauman for inclusion with the Accident Community Park West. Settlement took place on May 3 in the office of the town's attorney, Linda Sherbin. The total cost to purchase the land was funded through the state's land acquisition Program Open Space. As a complement to the picnicking and pavilion area, the Council plans to clean off the lot and utilize the additional land area for a volleyball court and horseshoe pitch. No decision has yet been made on whether the barn structure will be utilized.

Renovation of Town Garage

Councilman Strauss reported that renovations to the exterior of the town hall and garage building are nearing completion. The contractor, Francis Miller, is expected to complete the bricking and finishing work within the next two weeks, weather permitting.

MES Contract

The council took action to renew the contract with the Maryland Environmental Service for another year. Under the terms of the contract, MES provides routine weekly supervision of the operations and maintenance of the town's water and wastewater facilities. This includes technical supervision and training to Accident's operator, Vaughn Sweitzer. The facilities are also given assistance, as needed, for maintenance and repair of equipment.

Street Repairs

The council discussed various streets within the town in need of patching or paving, including Deakin Street from Main Street to the town park. Councilman Smith was authorized to proceed with contracting for the necessary street repair work. The council also discussed the need to begin an annual program of sidewalk installation and repair.

Youth Activities Program

A written report to the council on a proposed program of planned activities for youth of the Accident community was reviewed. During the month of March, Paul and Claudia Hook formed a meeting of parents in the town who were interested in providing organized and supervised youth activities. The group proposes to use the Accident community parks for outdoor activities. For an indoor facility, the gymnasium area of the planned community center in the former Accident Elementary School was recommended. Various indoor and outdoor activities were identified in the report, such as volleyball, basketball, roller skating, sledriding, holiday parties, etc. The council endorsed the proposed program and will forward a copy of the report to the Community Action agency, owners of the indoor facility, for their comments.

The group of parents specifically recommended a program on bicycle safety for the youth who ride bikes in the town. The council agreed to sponsor such a program and will request a representative from the Maryland State Police to come to the town and make a presentation. The date will be announced later.

Water Alarm System

Mayor Fratz relayed that electrical work was completed to install a flashing red light and alarm system at the town's water storage tank. If the water level reaches a low level, the light will flash and the alarm will sound to alert town officials of a potential water supply problem.

Fourth of July

A contribution to support the annual Fourth of July festivities in the town of Accident was approved again this year. The Accident Volunteer Fire Department annually sponsors the various activities, including a parade.

Judge Convicts Mtn. Lake Park Man Of Theft

A 20-year-old Mountain Lake Park man has been found guilty of the March 30 theft of a Ford van from Fitzwater Furniture, Mountain Lake Park.

Garrett County District Court Judge Jack Turney ordered a pre-sentence investigation for Eugene W. Shiflett after convicting him of the theft charge in court on April 30.

The state did not prosecute a charge of carrying a deadly weapon filed against Shiflett. Both charges were brought against him by Tfc. R.C. Resh of the Maryland State Police.

A second theft charge in a separate case against Shiflett was also not prosecuted.

Shiflett was reprented by Robert Watson, an Oakland attorney.

In other cases, Judge Turney granted probation before judgment for Tammy Wells, 21, Terra Alta, W.Va., on a battery charge filed by Colleen Y. Reckner, Accident.

Judge Turney fined Wells $50 and placed her on six months unsupervised probation. He also ordered Wells to pay $141 in restitution to Reckner. The charge stemmed rom a March 30 incident.

Wells' attorney was public defender John Toston.

Probation before judgment was granted for George L. Snyder, 18, Oakland, who faced charges of theft and of malicious destruction of property. The charges were filed by Garrett County Deputy P.J. Pratt after the April 16 theft of five gallons of gas from a Mattingly Construction site in Crellin.

The judge fined Snyder $25 for the theft charge and $10 for the destruction of property charge. He also placed Snyder on 90 days of unsupervised probation for each offense.

Judge Turney found Leo G. Coddington, 65, Grantsville, not guilty of battery as charged by David G. Rinker, Accident.

The state chose not to prosecute a theft charge filed against Archie Miller, 20, Accident, by Robert C. Lapp, Grantsville, calling the charge of a civil, not criminal nature.

A theft charge against Thomas R. Bowers, 19, Deer Park, filed by Tfc. R.C. Resh of the Maryland State Police was not prosecuted.

Bambacus To Meet With Constituents Today In Oakland

State Senator John N. Bambacus will hold office hours for Garrett County constituents who may have questions about or problems with agencies and programs of the State of Maryland.

Bambacus will meet with constituents at the Garrett County Courthouse, Commissioners' Meeting Room, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. on Thursday, May 9.

The Senator welcomes any constituents to stop by to speak with him.

Frostburg Man Cited For DWI Following Mishap

A Frostburg man was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and driving on the wrong side of the road following a mishap in the Grantsville area early Friday morning.

Scott Bradley Davis, 18, was operating a 1976 Chrysler Cordoba east on U.S. Route 40, one-half mile west of the Beall School Road, when the vehicle crossed the center line and travelled into the westbound lane. The vehicle then left the roadway and struck an unoccupied pickup truck and a utility pole at the Long Stretch Market.

Tfc. D.W. Broadwater investigated the accident and filed charges against Davis.

State Police are also investigating two motorcycle accidents which occurred last week on the Buffalo Coal Company strip mine property.

Robin L. Stillwagon, 20, Kitzmiller, and his sister, Jennifer, 15, were slightly injured Friday when the all-terrain cycle they were riding flipped over backwards as they attempted to climb an embankment.

They were taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by private vehicle where they were treated and later released. Tfc. D.G. Riggleman investigated.

In another cycle accident on April 30, Nedra M. Paugh, 16, Kitzmiller, and her brother, Michael, 13, were slightly injured when the cycle on which they were travelling swerved to miss another cycle and went over an embankment, striking a tree.

Both were taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by private vehicle where they were treated and later released. Riggleman investigated.

Lift-Off For Cerebral Palsy Set For May 18

United Cerebral Palsy of Western Maryland will be holding its first annual "Lift-Off" for cerebral palsy on Saturday, May 18, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. The sponsor and location of this fundraiser will be Bodyshapers Health Spa in the Searstown Shopping Center.

The UCP Coordinator, Ginny Briefs, and Bodyshapers owner, Doug Clarke, have coordinated the event in such a way that most anyone can participate. The only criteria for participants is that they are able to benchpress at least 25 pounds.

The participants will seek people to sponsor their lift on the benchpress by the pound. First, second and third place trophies and prize money will be awarded to those who raise the most money from their lift, "so it doesn't matter how much you can lift, it's how much money your sponsors pledge for your lift that counts," states Ms. Briefs.

All participants will receive a UCP "Lift-Off" tee shirt. Door prizes, donated by various businesses, will be given out and there will be a live radio broadcast.

Money raised by this event will be used for equipment and to develop and improve services for children and adults with cerebral palsy in Allegany and Garrett counties.

Those wishing to take part in the event can pick up sponsor sheets at Bodyshapers in the Searstown Shopping Center or at the UCP office, 303 Virginia Avenue (upstairs), Cumberland.

For more information persons may contact Ginny Briefs at 722-8436.

Oakland Council Sets New Rates For Park, Lot

New rates at Broadford Park and the Liberty Street parking lot were included in the business discussed by the Oakland Town Council at their May 6 meeting.

James Evans, chairman of parks and recreation, presented new rates for the 1985 summer season at Broadford Park. Passenger cars will be charged $2, walk-ins will be 50 cents, summer passes will be $25, and pavilion rental will be $25. The mayor and council moved to adopt the new rates.

The council agreed by consensus, to donate the use of the pavilion at Broadford Park, Saturday, June 1, for a county fund-raising auction to aid African Famine Relief.

Rent for parking spaces in the Liberty Street lot will be raised from $55 to $60, starting July 1. Renters of those spaces will be notified of the increase.

The summer recreation program at the Center Street school will begin June 17, and run through August 9.

Letters were directed to Jenny Mandrovsky, Pat Powers, and Ann Englander regarding their appointment to the Board of Zoning Appeals. Charlotte Bock will be the alternate to the board.

Council President Francis (Hank) Seifert read a letter of appreciation from the town to Delegate George Edwards for an American and a Maryland flag and poles and stand, which are on display in the council room.

Karen Hamilton Meets President Ronald Reagan

Karen Hamilton, of the Maryland Association of the Future Farmers of America, attended a special recognition ceremony for Outstanding Youth at the White House. The ceremony began at 11 a.m. on Thursday, April 25, in the Rose Garden, with President Ronald Reagan greeting the youth and speaking briefly about volunteerism.

April 22 through 28 was National Volunteerism Week, and the President stated, "Our American tradition of neighbor helping neighbor has always been one of our greatest strengths and most noble traditions."

The youth were presented with awards which recognized them for their outstanding service in their communities. The ceremony was concluded and the guests were permitted to tour the White House grounds.

Karen is the daughter of Brooks Hamilton of Red House.

Extension Service To Sponsor Class

"Terrific Tops" is the topic of a class to be held on May 15 at 10 a.m. in the Grantsville Health Center and at 1:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. at the Extension Office in Oakland. Sewing tips to use in making dressy, casual and sporty tops will be discussed. All interested persons are invited and may register by calling 334-2145.

A planning meeting for the Fall State Homemakers Meeting will be held in Room LC154 of Garrett Community College on Wednesday, May 15 from 1 to 3 p.m. All Homemaker Clubs are urged by the Extension officials to send a representative.

Drastic Meaures Needed

Despite claims from the administration of Garrett Community College that things are now brighter at the college and "the lines of communication are now open", we do not see it that way. In fact, in our opinion, the situation has worsened and the very future of the college is, at best, on shaky ground. Over one third of the fulltime faculty members have announced their resignations and we understand that several others are planning to leave. Is this an indication that things are "brighter"?

We believe that many persons and situations have contributed to the problems at the college. The blame should not rest solely on the shoulders of the board of directors, the administration, or the faculty. There have been blunders by each of these groups which have led to the present low morale of the faculty, distrust of the administration and board, and uneasiness of the student body. Personal issues between some faculty members and the administration have, unfortunately, been allowed to become college issues.

A gross lack of communication is what we believe to be the main culprit in this fiasco, along with far too much emphasis on "procedure" by the board and administration. At times, "procedure" must yield to common sense and basic survival efforts.

It is our opinion at this point that the president of the college is not doing what needs to be done to save the college. He has isolated himself from the Academic Forum, continuing to cite "proper procedure" while the ship is rapidly sinking. He should be meeting with the faculty DAILY until the situation is resolved, not shielding himself with all the other people under him. He is the president. He is ultimately responsible for what happens at the college. He is the one who should have jumped into this mess with both feet weeks ago and worked diligently to solve the problems.

In what seems to be a last ditch effort by the faculty, President Harman received a request for a meeting with the Academic Forum this past week. He was offered three different meeting times. His response was a letter informing the Forum members that he would meet with them, but only after they followed "procedure" by first meeting with three other levels of personnel. More side-stepping, more costly delays.

When the Forum was given an opportunity to express its concerns to the board of directors, as the special meeting opened, the chairman of the board passed out a statement which expressed complete confidence by the board in the administration and its policies. This was done BEFORE hearing the concerns of the faculty. In other words, the jury made its decision before hearing the testimony of both sides.

President Harman was also given a top-notch evaluation recently by the board of directors.

We believe drastic measures are needed to save the college. We believe that the resignation of President Harman is among them. While he certainly has strengths in a number of areas, he does not, apparently, have what it takes to effectively communicate and tackle these enormous problems head-on.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

This is in response to last week's letter concerning the Ethiopian people. I feel inspired to share what might be the prayer of an Ethiopian child.

Dear God, I'm so hungry.

Please tell the people in America

I'm sleepy, but my tummy hurts so bad.

If maybe I could have a cup of milk, a piece of bread. I hope that's not too much.

I'm so tired.

I'd like to run and play, but I'm too weak.

I feel so alone.

Please God, tell the people in America to help us.

Maybe tomorrow they will. I'm sure they will. I must lie down.

Now I lay me down to sleep.

I pray the Lord my soul to keep.

If I should die . . .

Name withheld by request

To the Editor:

Any of us who thought about participating in the Hike and Bike Sunday afternoon, but didn't, should have witnessed the perseverance of one who made "only" 2½ miles on his crutches. This was good exercise and a worthy endeavor for all who took part, but in my book, Frankie Durst was the real winner. I can't think life will hold very many "insurmountable" difficulties for this young man!

Sincerely,
Mrs. Tom Brobst

To the Editor:

In your April 18 issue you raised a question about The Nature Conservancy's involvement in a law suit brought against a Garrett County Peat mining operation. As a matter of policy, The Nature Conservancy does not ever try to achieve its goals of natural area preservation by legal action. The only way we preserve land is by purchasing land from a willing seller. We have twice attempted to purchase the Cherry Creek Glades peat bog, but have failed both times because we could not afford the asking price. In 1983 we were outbid at the auction by the Garrett County Processing and Packaging Company (GCPPC) which paid $770,000 for the bog. Early this year, GCPPC offered to sell all its land and equipment to The Nature Conservancy for $1,500,000. Obviously this was not a price we could afford, so we have ended all our attempts to preserve the bog.

The Nature Conservancy is not "working together" with any part in any lawsuit in Garrett County, or Maryland, for that matter. We never have and we never will. Ironically, the Conservancy is criticized by some "activist" conservation groups for not being willing to use aggressive tactics, such as lawsuits. We simply believe that cooperation, not confrontation, is the best policy for what we are trying to accomplish.

Thank you for publishing our comments.

Steven T. Hamblin
Director Maryland/
Delaware Field Office
The Nature Conservancy

To the Editor:

I am concerned about the Northern High School Renovation. Both of us are working parents. We have two children: one in elementary school and one in high school. I'm concerned about their safety. We live ½ mile off the main road and in order to get to the bus stop they will need to walk. My concern is that a lone child walking that distance in the dark, or at any hour, is not safe. There are already too many missing children.

Everyone is so concerned about the "latch key" kids. This schedule of children alone off and on from 5:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. is just adding more fuel to an already dangerous situation. The safety of our children should be first.

Has anyone considered the crimes and other juvenile problems this extra unsupervised time will create?

I'm also concerned about the shortened hours of instructional time. Our children now need to pass functional reading, math, writing and citizenship tests. A large number of Garrett County students did not pass these tests last year, so what is going to happen if their instructional time is cut further. Is test teaching next?

Why couldn't the college or Camp Hickory be used for the classes?

Or the sixth graders be left at the elementary schools? All elementary schools can accommodate the sixth graders.

I do not feel that enough parent input was considered. I understand there is to be a meeting with parents June 4 & 5 at some unknown time. However, this meeting comes after most of the decisions have already been made.

What happens when the children have snow delays, early dismissals, or no school? Whose day will be delayed? At what time will this decision be made? If the middle school students complete their day at 12:30 and at 1:00 p.m. early dismissal is called for elementary schools, will the high school students have no school? Who will be expected to make up this snow day—all, some, or none of the children? Will these snow decisions be made after we go to work and the kids will be left alone?

The board has failed to consider what will happen to our family life. How are we to schedule non-school activities of our family?

In my opinion, the board has done a poor job planning for this renovation.

A very concerned parent

To the Editor:

Thanks to medical science and modern health measures, a great number of persons are living into their golden years of seventies, eighties and beyond. Hence, more elderly people are being cared for in long-term facilities.

The aged suffer many physical and mental losses such as: inability to always remember, impairment of hearing, poor eyesight and many other handicaps imposed by disease. Along with these physical problems, some in nursing homes feel lonely and isolated. They have been uprooted from their familiar surroundings, families, and other social contacts. They are human beings who need love, care, affection, people to talk with, and someone to laugh with in times of loneliness and stress.

May 12-18 is National Nursing Home Week, a special time when we need to remember our neighbors in the nursing homes in our area. Visit a local nursing home. It will be appreciated by many residents. Even if you touch one life, I think you will find it worthwhile.

satisfaction of him and the other coordinators of the local effort, the money raised will be donated to the New York children's project to assure its proper use and a speedy response.

The auction is slated to get underway at 10 a.m. John Hill is donating his services as auctioneer, and the mayor and town council of Oakland voted to allow free use of the pavilion, as well as free admission to the park for persons going to the auction. Persons are asked to use the Broadford Road entrance to the park.

Food and beverages will be available at the auction.

Persons who have items to donate for the auction are asked to bring them to the residence of Don Glotfelty on Memorial Drive, one-half mile east of the hospital, or to Thompson's residence along Broadford Road (log house beside Broad Ford and Southern Middle schools) during the evening. Persons who have items to donate, but are unable to deliver them, are asked to contact Thompson during the evening hours at 334-8891 so arrangements can be made for pick-up.

Officials Plan Rabies Clinics

The Garrett County Health Department will be conducting low cost rabies immunization clinics for cats and dogs during the upcoming week. Places and times for these clinics are as follows:

McHenry, GCC Maintenance Bay, Monday, May 13, 5-6 p.m.; Gorman Fire Hall, Tuesday, May 14, 5-6 p.m.; Friendsville Fire Hall, Wednesday, May 15, 5-6 p.m.; Deer Park Fire Hall, Thursday, May 16, 5-6 p.m.; Grantsville Elementary School, Friday, May 17, 5-6 p.m., and Oakland-Southern Middle School, Saturday, May 18, noon-2 p.m.

In announcing the clinics, Dr. William W. Pope, Garrett County Health Officer, stressed the importance of area residents having their domestic pets immunized against rabies. During the preceding two years, Maryland has led the nation in the total number of reported rabies cases. In 1984, Garrett County reported 23 cases of this disease with one reported case thus far in 1985.

Vaccination of pets is the single most effective method of protecting humans from contact with the disease, Pope noted. In Maryland last year 15 cats and one dog acquired rabies. Many of these cases resulted in the exposure of the disease to humans. Thousands of dollars in post-exposure rabies treatment could have been saved if these domestic animals had been vaccinated for rabies.

The vaccine which will be used in the upcoming clinics offers protection for three years to both dogs and cats one year of age and older. For dogs and cats three months to one year of age, revaccination would be required the following year.

The cost of the immunization is $3 per animal. Dogs should be under the control of a responsible individual and cats must be brought to the clinic in a wire cage for other suitable container.

Correction Noted

In last week's Republican, it was incorrectly reported that Erin Long received sixth place in the Fifth Annual County Talent Show. Sixth place was won by Stephanie Thomas, a fifth grader at Friendsville, for her ventriloquist act. The article also neglected to mention that Alexis Long, of Southern Middle School, who danced to "The Heart of Rock & Roll", won first place.

County Officials Face Additional State Regulation

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners at a press conference Tuesday told reporters that they must face yet another state regulation in the form of a newly enforced permitting process to replace or relocate existing culvert pipes in the county roads system.

The Water Resource Administration, a division of the Department of Natural Resources, informed the Garrett County Roads Department of this action only this spring, which could create problems this summer for roads maintenance crews.

Although some culvert jobs take only an hour to complete, the permitting process and red tape involved could take up to two months, causing great delays in the roads department's already short summer season.

The commissioners said they are willing to go along with the regulation, but they feel the Water Resource Administration will have to work closely with them since there was short notice given on the permitting process.

It is estimated that there will be nealy 100 culvert jobs to complete this summer, so the commissioners feel that the Water Administration will have to show some leniency to the roads department, at least this summer.

The Water Resource Administration is taking stricter measures with water run-off largely due to the efforts to save the Chesapeake Bay.

Zoning Regulations

The commissioners also met with Garrett County Zoning Administrator, John Nelson, Tuesday to get an update on various zoning projects, especially the ongoing efforts to control and regulate the county's junkyard problems.

Nelson told the commissioners the Zoning Board has filed charges against two junkyard owners this week for violations of that code. Those charged were Ray Kight and Ernest Martin.

Commissioner Ernest Gregg Jr. commented, "We respect the right of every individual to earn a reasonable living, but we also have to provide protection to neighbors who border unsightly, unscreened junkyards. We feel, very sincerely, the orders to clean up unsightly junkyards is not intrusive in any way."

Frostburg Meeting

The county board met with the Frostburg Mayor and Town Council on April 30 to discuss that town's plans for a water supply expansion.

Frostburg is supplied water from the Piney Run Dam, part of which is located in Garrett County. Frostburg officials need to acquire 40 additional acres from the private sector in Garrett County to complete their dam project.

According to Commissioner Gregg, the main purpose of the meeting was to ask for the support of the Garrett County Commissioners in Frostburg's efforts to obtain the additional land. The commissioners said they would support the town's efforts if the purchase of the private-held lands needed, was fair and equitable to the three landowners involved.

Another main concern of the commissioners is the restructuring of a bridge on a road in the county system. The involved bridge would have to be widened. Frostburg officials stressed that the land they need to acquire would merely serve as a buffer strip.

Our Turn

We (Susan and Pam) decided to honor our mothers this week since Sunday is Mother's Day. If either of our tributes fits your relationship with your mother, feel free to clip them to share with your mother and let her know how much you love her.

Going Through The Drawer
by Susan Alvarez

There's a dresser drawer in my parents' home in Atlanta, Ga. that serves as a mini-museum of our family history.

My sister and I, both "grown and gone", have a ritual of going through the drawer whenever we go back home to visit. We look at the old pictures, amazed at how skinny we once were. Or, we wonder what happened to that neighbor kid who was so bad; or laugh at our dress styles, so modern then.

There are torn programs from recitals and graduation. There are ticket stubs, souvenirs from vacations, old corsages and sorority pins. Nothing really of great value—except to us.

When Pam called and said, "Let's do a tribute to our mothers this week," I had a hard time trying to write some thing that was "enough". Then I thought of our "drawer museum" and its curator. Just about anyone can feed, bathe and care for kids, but it's a Mom that has a drawer.

RESOLUTION
A TRIBUTE TO MY MOM
by Pam Ashby

Whereas, Elva Jo Frantz became my mother on December 2, 1951; and

Whereas, She fed me every two hours and constantly walked the floor with me in my infancy because of a colicky condition; and

Whereas, She was instrumental in my development, i.e., potty training, temper control (I had the need to throw things when I was angry), introducing me to good literature and music, and knowing just the right time to buy me a new dress (when I couldn't stand to look at another one of my sister's hand-me-downs); and

Whereas, She waited up for me after my dates with Joe and took the time to talk with us; and

Whereas, She taught me the proper way to press a shirt, finish a seam and bake a loaf of bread; and

Whereas, She shared all my joy and pain and loved me as much as her other five children. Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That I love and appreciate the most wonderful woman in my world; and be it

Resolved, That Mom has the best Mother's Day ever. I love you.

A GCPPC spokesperson stated that the company pointed out to the Sierra Club representatives that it could buy the bogs, which the club believes is an "ecologically unique wetlands" and should be preserved.

GCPPC officials maintain their operation does no harm to the ecological balance of the bogs and may even improve it as a habitat for wildlife.

The Need Continues

Then the King will say to those on His right, Come, you who are blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

For I was hungry and you gave me something to eat; I was thirsty, and you gave me drink; I was a stranger, and you invited me in;

Naked, and you clothed me; I was sick, and you visited me; I was in prison, and you came to me.

Then the righteous will answer Him, saying, Lord, when did we see You hungry and feed You, or thirsty and give You drink?

And when did we see You a stranger, and invite You in, or naked, and clothe You?

And when did we see You sick, or in prison, and come to You?

And the King will answer and say to them, Truly I say to you, to the extent that you did it to one of these brothers of Mine, even the least of them, you did it to Me.

Browning Classic To Be Reprinted

Because of so many requests for copies of a 1982 commemorative edition reprint of Meshach Browning's "Forty-Four Years of the Life of a Hunter", the Appalachian Book Shop of Oakland announced this week it has scheduled a second limited printing of this scarce autobiography for June 1985.

This reprint will also be a faithful reproduction of Browning's original edition of 1859, according to Ivan Rowe, owner of the Appalachian Book Shop. Browning published his reminiscences (1795-1839) in the last year of his life.

Recognized as Maryland's most famous frontier hunter for over 150 years, Browning recounts his remarkable adventures during many "hunting-fever" years while stalking large game in the Appalachian wilderness, now known as Garrett County and the surrounding region of West Virginia.

"Meshach Browning's keen observations and commentary on hunting and woodcraft, wild animal behavior and habitat, together with his 'roughly written down' descriptions of western Maryland folkways and settlement life, has long established this as an important 19th century classic," stated Rowe.

Persons may reserve a copy of the reprint for $25 each throughout the month of May. The cost will be $30 per copy after May 30. The reprint will be limited to 1,000 copies, Rowe stated. Persons should contact the Appalachian Book Shop for more information.

Judge Convicts Six Persons In DWI Cases

Six persons have been convicted on charges of driving while under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol by Garrett County District Court Judge Jack Turney.

Judge Turney, in court April 30, fined Thomas L. Layhue $500 on a DWI conviction.

In court cases May 1, Judge Turney found Stuart F. Hamill not guilty of a DWI charge. A DWI charge against William S. Whvel was not prosecuted.

The judge levied $500 fines against Charles E. Weakley, Gary C. Campbell, Terry L. E. Sater, Stephen W. Weber and Roy S. Williams. Fines were reduced to $200 for Weakley and Williams.

ible to wheelchaired persons; and obtained equipment to provide more training and employment opportunities.

Because of its training and employment programs for the handicapped, the Country Oven Bakery won the 1982 "Small Employer of the Year" award from the Maryland Governor's Committee on the Handicapped, and in 1983, won the "National Small Employer of the Year" award from the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped. The Bakery and its employees were written up in the Congressional Record on May 11, 1983.

Ms. Griffith has been an active member of the Garrett Organization for the Handicapped, participating in its annual Hike and Bike and planning their annual Autumn Glory Road Rally. An original incorporating member, she was an active member of Garrett Crossroads, Inc., a local residential program for mentally retarded adults and Frederick-Garrett Residences, Inc., a local group leasing homes to agencies serving the handicapped.

She has been an active member on the Mt. Top Volleyball League, playing in the women's division and the mixed division as a member of the Stonewall Construction team. She has also served as a member on the Mt. Lake Park Zoning Appeals Board, the Garrett County Vocational Advisory Committee, the Garrett County Mental Health Advisory Board, the Western Maryland DVR Vocational Advisory Committee, the Western Maryland Coalition for the Disabled, and the Maryland Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped. She has also been a volunteer for the Garrett County Hospice.

Ms. Griffith will be using her remaining leave days while she travels to Las Vegas to start her new job and get established. While in Las Vegas she will be in frequent communication with the staff until she returns in mid-June to help train the next executive director and to assist in completing end of year reports. Her final day as APA director will be June 18.

"I have been very fortunate to have found my way here and to have met friends and have become a useful member of our community," she stated. "It certainly is not easy to leave our home and move 2400 miles to a totally different environment, but I am convinced this change will bring me many positive opportunities. I have worked as a custody and adoption investigator in Baltimore for a couple of years. I enjoy the work and being a child advocate. I will be enrolling in graduate school at the University of Nevada of Las Vegas, and I'm excited about going back to school. I have visited Las Vegas a number of times, in all seasons, and I have friends there so the move will not be difficult. I will be driving cross country to Las Vegas and I look forward to that adventure.

"This is also an excellent time for the reorganization of APA, Inc., and Garrett Crossroads, Inc., which will be merging effective July 1," she continued. "The search for the executive director to manage the combined agency is underway and I feel confident the next administrator will build on our successful foundations."

Griffith summarized her departure, saying, "I'll be taking with me memories of one of the most beautiful places and nicest people who were part of my life's journey. Richard Bach, author, stated it best, 'Don't be dismayed at goodbyes. A farewell is necessary before you can meet again. And meeting again after moments or lifetimes is certain for those who are friends.'"

Bava Couple To Celebrate 50th

The children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. John Bava, Davis, W.Va., will hold an open house reception to honor the couple on their 50th wedding anniversary. Friends and family are invited to attend the celebration on Saturday, May 25, from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Fire Department Community Room at Davis.

Rev. Perry Fred Stone, Sr., son-in-law of the couple, and Rev. Perry Fred Stone, Jr., grandson, will officiate for the renewal of vows at 2:30.

John Bava and Lucille Cathern Luprese Rexrode were united in marriage in Thomas, W.Va., on February 8, 1935, by the late Rev. Andrew B. Mann. Mrs. Bava was reared by her uncle and aunt, the late Rev. and Mrs. R.L. Rexrode. Mr. Bava is a retired coal miner and presently pastors the Church of God in Gorman. He is the son of Pete Bava and his late wife, Lectie.

The couple now resides in Davis after having spent several years in Fairmont. They were well known throughout the state for their gospel singing.

They are the parents of two daughters: Juanita Stone of Hickory, N.C., and Janet Williams of Buckhannon, W.Va. They also have seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The couple has requested that gifts be omitted.

Marriage Permits Recently Issued

Garrett County Clerk of the Circuit Court Clifford DeWitt reported that 13 couples applied for their marriage licenses in the past week.

Roy Lynn Bee, 39, and Mary Louise Taylor, 36, both of Youngstown, Ohio.

Richard Allen Johnson, 23, and Linda Darlene Riley, 21, both of Albright, W.Va.

Douglas George Buckalew, 41, and Roxanne Hill, 26, both of Cresaptown.

Larry Wayne Barthelemy, 30, Thornton, W.Va., and Stephanie Vespoint, 25, Clarksburg, W.Va.

Raymond Leeroy McCormick, 61, and Brenda Kay Tonkin, 32, both of Brookhaven, W.Va.

Steven Douglas Davis, 20, and Lucinda Jon Fleming, 18, both of Swanton.

Walter Leroy Butler, Sr., 41, and Sherry Lee Oswalt, 28, both of Accident.

Bernard Edward John Dennis, 55, and Vivian Jean-Johnson, 40, both of Morgantown, W.Va.

William Bryan Friend, 23, and Kellie Sue Meyers, 20, both of Oakland.

Elmer Courtesy Shriver, 46, Point Marion, Pa., and Marjorie Elizabeth Shaffer, 52, New Salem, Pa.

Derrell Junior Collins, 32, and Gwendolyn Jean McCormick, 27, both of Morgantown, W.Va.

Donald Ray Blosser, 38, and Karen Bonita Hardesty, 33, both of Bretz, W.Va.

Wayne Dean Miner, 21, and Nancy Lynn Bittinger, 19, both of Grantsville.

Cosners Celebrate 45th Anniversary

An outdoor party was given for Martha and Paul Cosner Sr, by their children, to celebrate their 45 wedding anniversary on Saturday, April 27.

The celebration was attended by approximately 60 of the Cosners' children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and friends. A son, Jimmy Cosner, and a daughter, Eliza Jane Mickel, who were not able to attend, both called long distance to wish their parents a happy anniversary.

Their sons and daughters who attended, along with their children and grandchildren, were: Joann and Robert Moats, Alma and Paul Cosner Jr., Betty Mae and John Bishoff, Rebecca Esposito, Margaret and Donald Cosner, Peggy and Ronald Cosner, Ruth Ann Warren, Ruby Ellen and Tom Whiteman, Kay Cosner and her future husband John Francis. Friends in attendance were: Ralph and Susan Friend, and Cleta Tasker.

An anniversary cake was baked by Susan Wampler of Friendsville.

May Fellowship Celebration Held At Cherry Glade

The Garrett County Chapter of Church Women United observed May Fellowship Day, a celebration centering on building relationships in the local community, May 3 at the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church.

The business meeting was called to order by the president, Mary June Harvey. Nominations were accepted for vice president and Martha Glotfelty was unanimously re-elected. Charlotte Mousch was installed as treasurer.

An invitation was received and accepted from Bethel United Methodist Church of Mt. Lake Park to hold the fall meeting there on November 1, 1985.

The meeting was closed with a word of prayer from Helen Glotfelty. A covered dish luncheon followed.

The worship service, entitled "Our Piece of the Action" began at 1:00 p.m. with a greeting from Ida Maust, the pastor's wife from Cherry Glade. The local concern this year was on poor housing in Garrett County. Sister Catherine Arata, representing Habitat for Humanity of Garrett County, gave a slide presentation showing the work that has been completed in the county during 1984. A special offering was received to be used to provide food for the work crews that will be coming to the area to help in the construction of the 1985 homes.

Participants in the program were Charlotte Mousch, Beulah Moon, Helen Glotfelty, Helen Henline, Verna Harvey, Faye Mahoney, Martha Glotfelty, and Helen Keller as readers; Virginia Beitzel and Irene Diller as offering attendants and Lori Schmuck as song leader.

The Fellowship of the Least Coin was observed.

Registration showed 13 churches from five denominations from Garrett County represented. A total of 30 women attended the service.

Homeschooling Workshop Slated In Cumberland

The AHLOR Spring Introductory Workshop on Homeschooling is scheduled for this Saturday, May 11, 7:00 p.m. at Living Stone Church of the Brethren, corner of W. Second and N. Cedar Streets in South Cumberland off Industrial Blvd. For directions persons may call 759-9258 or 729-8006.

The workshop is free and open to the public. Before the workshop there will be a short, regular meeting to give an update or current homeschooling happenings in the state and local area.

Allegany Home Learning OutReach is sponsoring the workshop. AHLOR is a support group that reaches out into the community to acquaint parents, teachers, pastors, physicians, and others with the underlying principles behind teaching children at home and to discuss the practical and legal aspects of home instruction in the state and local area. AHLOR serves as a common meeting place for homeschoolers and facilitates the development of special interest groups that continue to meet periodically throughout the year. For more information persons may write: AHLOR, P.O. Box 564, Cumberland, Md. 21502.

The workshop will be taught by Sharron Eror Moody, a local homeschooling mother who teaches three of her children at home. She is co-coordinator of Allegany Home Learning OutReach and Christian Home Schools of Western Md., advisory board member of the Maryland Home Education Association in Columbia, and is the local coordinator for the Christian Liberty Academy Satellite School System based in Prospect Heights, Ill.

Mrs. Moody is a 1967 graduate of Fort Hill High School and received a BA in English education from the University of Maryland in 1972, later doing graduate work there. She taught grades 9-12 in Carroll County at North Carroll High School. She is also a trained Montessori teacher, having received an AMS-Pre-Primary, degree in 1978 and the AERCO/Philadelphia Montessori Teacher Training Center. She and her husband owned and operated a Montessori-oriented preschool and kindergarten, Children's Creative Learning Center, until she became interest in homeschooling.

Bambacus Named Award Recipient

State Senator John N. Bambacus (R-Allegany, Garrett) has been named the recipient of the "Outstanding Service Award" by the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County.

Senator Bambacus, who teaches political science at Frostburg State College and advises the local chapter of his own fraternity, Tau Kappa Epsilon, is being honored "for successfully sponsoring the first anti-hazing criminal law in Maryland history, thereby furthering an interfraternal effort to deter the reckless and hazardous practices of some high school and college student organizations."

The award will be formally announced by the Chancellor of the International Fraternity, at a banquet to be held on Friday, May 10, in Baltimore.

"WHEN IT COMES TO A PUMP FOR YOUR HOME WATER SYSTEMS . . . COUNT ON GOULDS . . . AND YOUR GOULDS DEALER."
Tom T. Hall

"Rugged, efficient Goulds jets and submersibles are the best water systems pumps in the world!
And they're the heart of the home water system you can expect from your Goulds dealer.
He's a well water expert. You can count on him to get you water, and to give you the best home water system value your money can buy.
And, seeing as we can't live long without water, that's something nice to know!"

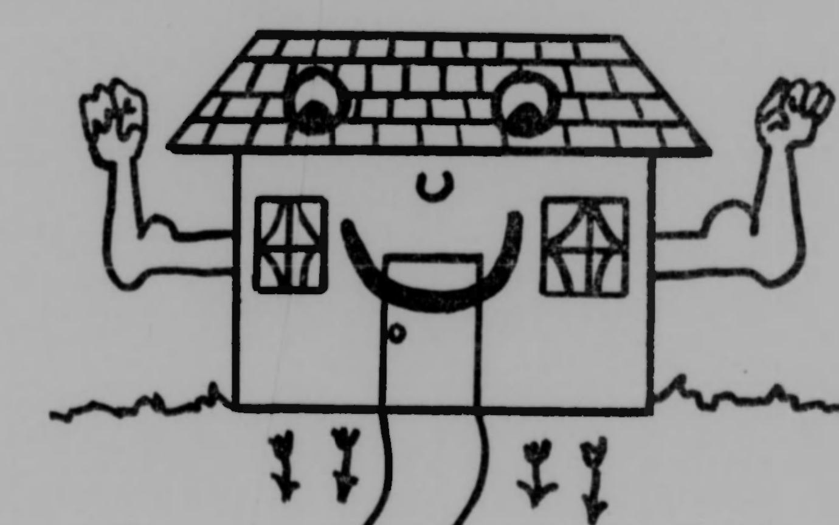
We've had several calls in the last week requesting our price per square yard on carpet that our shoppe doesn't carry. Several inquiries were on carpets we don't wish to sell as we feel the carpets are overpriced and over rated.

We suggest that you don't pay more just for the name. Remember, carpet companies copy each other. So probably whatever is turning you on elsewhere, we have it at the same quality but under another brand name.

Just remember the rule to compare apples with apples, not oranges with bananas, and you'l be headed in the right direction—perhaps even in our direction.

Remember, we're the couple who says "A floor without a rug is like a kiss without a hug."



Humberson Homes, Inc., wants to make you aware of our well-built, energy efficient homes. Standard items include:
- Solid wood cabinets
- Wood trim throughout
- 2"x6" side wall construction
- R-38 ceiling insulation (12" fiberglass)
- R-19 wall and floor insulation (6" fiberglass)
- Entire home wrapped in sheathing
- And many more

Lakers' Season Ends With Pair Of Losses In Sectional Tourney

It's tough to beat any team five times in one season, as the Garrett Community College Lakers were painfully reminded this past weekend as they fell to CCAC South Campus, 10-5, in the Sectional Tournament at Boyce Community College in Pittsburgh.

Garrett had whipped CCAC South on four previous occasions in the regular season.

Coach Lawrence Nesselrodt's squad was also edged by Beaver CC, 8-7, which ended the season for the Lakers. Nesselrodt finished his first year as head coach with a 24-18 record.

A solo home run by Ted Sova in the first inning gave the Lakers a 1-0 lead against CCAC South, but the Pennsylvanians came back with three runs of their own in the bottom of that inning and never again trailed in the contest.

Russell smacked a three-run homer in the fifth for CCAC, followed by a solo shot by Brush. A two-run blast in the sixth by Holmes gave CCAC a 10-3 advantage.

Garrett put together a rally in the top of the seventh when Sova and Jim Keller hit back-to-back doubles and Lynn Shook singled home Keller; however the Lakers could get no closer.

In the contest against Beaver, the Lakers found themselves down 4-0 after just one complete inning of play. Tim Pavlic's RBI single in the second was answered in the fifth by Beaver.

Vaughn Yenich came to the mound in relief of Denzil Evans to retire the side with the Lakers down 7-1.

Garrett got back into the contest in the sixth when Kent Freeman singled, moved to second on a Marty Harvey walk, and then came home on a single by Pavlic. Then Bob Scavina walked, followed by an RBI single by Phil Carr. Shook then plated Scavina and Sova sent Shook home to pull the Lakers to within two, 7-5.

Harvey led off with a walk for GCC in the top of the seventh and Rick Harrista was sent in as a pinch runner. Harrista stole second and scored on Scavina's single. Phil Carr then reached base on a fielder's choice and raced home on a Shook double, which knotted the score at 7-7.

After retiring 12 straight batters since he took the mound in the fifth, and with two outs in the bottom of the seventh, Yenich suddenly suffered an arm injury on a pitch and had to be pulled from the game. Brian Jones came on and subsequently walked two batters. Sainovich then socked a single off Jones for the game-winning run.

"Our goal this year was to win 25 games," stated Coach Nesselrodt, "and we came awfully close. At one point we were 23-9, but playing so many games in so few days finally caught up with us."

Nesselrodt stated he would release final season statistics next week.

Southern Tennis Teams Win One, Lose A Pair

The Southern boys tennis team crushed Hampshire on Monday in Oakland 7-0, but fell to Frankfort yesterday, 5-2, also on the Rams' court. The Rams are now 4-4 on the season and will travel to Northern on Friday afternoon.

After the Rams swept every match from Hampshire, Gordon Savage was the only repeat winner in singles against Frankfort. Allan Sisler and Doug Fike teamed up in doubles to earn the only other win for Southern.

In girls action, the winless Lady Rams fell to Hampshire, 6-1, also on Monday. Kelly Hershman and Cheryl Ross provided the only Southern win, topping the team of Tammy Corbin and Aleida Smith, 8-6 and 6-1.

Huskies Fall To Knights, Rebound Against Indians

For six complete innings Friday's baseball game between Northern and Valley was close, as the Black Knights went into the top of the seventh with a single-run advantage, 4-3. However, at the end of the contest, Valley was on top 11-4 as the Knights scored seven runs in that final frame, compared to one by the Huskies.

Northern rebounded on Monday with an 11-1 thrashing of visiting Oldtown to improve its record to 8-6.

Winning pitcher Greg Ritchie opened the scoring in the top of the seventh for Valley with a two-run homer. His blast came with two outs. John Smith then added his third hit of the contest, another two-run shot over the fence. Ed Miller and Dave Hawkins added RBI doubles in that inning, while Bob Beeman plated the final run for the Knights with a single.

Miller also had a solo home run in the sixth to put Valley on top for good.

Kevin Sines paced Northern's offense with a double and three singles, while losing pitcher Steve Zumpano hit a pair of singles and Brent Beachy rapped an RBI single. The Huskies were out-hit 13-11 as Ritchie and Zumpano both went the distance on the mound.

Bill Murray stroked a three-run homer to highlight an eight-run third inning against Oldtown on Monday to put the game out of reach for the Indians.

Sines finished with three RBIs on two singles, while Zumpano went 3-for-3, including two doubles and two RBIs.

Sines, who went the distance for the Huskies, limited Oldtown to just three hits, two of which were recorded by Dave Calhoun. Sines fanned nine batters in the five-inning game which was called because of the ten-run rule.

Northern Girls Continue Streak By Ripping Salisbury, Southern, Hancock

The Northern High School Girls Softball team copped five victories this past week to raise their season record to 11-1. Victims of the Lady Husky rampage were Salisbury, Southern and Hancock.

Northern bested Salisbury 6 to 1 in the first game of the doubleheader and completed the sweep in the nightcap, 11-1. Missy Durst went 3-for-4 in the opening contest and scored three of Northern's six runs. Kim Buckel was the winning pitcher as she yielded only four hits.

Buckel pitched and batted the Huskies to their second victory of the evening by going 3-for-3 and scoring two runs. She was aided offensively by Schree Savage, Kris Speicher, Susie Bowser and Missy Durst who each had a pair of hits. Savage had two doubles while Durst connected for a triple.

In the cross-county rivalry, Northern erupted for 11 runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to break open an otherwise close ballgame and go on to defeat the Southern Rams, 17-1.

Kim Buckel allowed only two hits to earn her eighth victory of the season.

Lori Sisler pounded out three hits, one a double, while Schree Savage, Kim Buckel and Susie Bowser had two hits each. Liz Sisler, Buckel and Bowser each had a double. Julie Robeson had a bases-loaded triple and collected four RBI's.

All of the Northern starters scored a run while Durst scored three times. The Huskies pounded out 13 hits on the evening.

The Huskies finished up their week by defeating Hancock, 14-3 and 18-2. In the first game, Lori Sisler collected three hits, including a double, while Susie Bowser, Kris Speicher, and Julie Robeson each had two hits. Besides Sisler's double, Kim McClintock and Bowser each had two-bagger.

In the nightcap Hancock drew first blood with a pair of runs in the opening inning. That was all the offense they could muster. Kim Buckel shut them down, allowing no more runs and yielding only one hit.

The Huskies came back in the bottom of the first with five runs. Liz Sisler and Buckel both tripled in that frame.

Sisler also had a homerun in the third inning and drove in four runs on the afternoon. Sisler, along with Julie Robeson, went 3-for-3. Susie Bowser collected a double and a single.

Crossing the plate three times were Missy Durst, Schree Savage, Robeson, Sisler and Buckel.

The Huskies have five games remaining, a single contest with Southern, and double headers with St. Maria Goretti and Clear Spring.

Local Runners Race In Mental Health Event

Seven local runners participated in the second annual Greater Cumberland Jaycees' 10-Kilometer (6.2 miles) Run for Mental Health Awareness this past weekend.

Steve Hile, Mtn. Lake Park, completed the distance in 39 minutes, 24 seconds, which placed him 17th overall.

Other runners, all from the Oakland area, and their finishes are as follows: Bill Pope, 41:48, 29th place; Randy Storey, 43:49, 43rd place; Lewis Martin, 47:42, 66th place; Norman Wawzinski, 48:08, 70th place; Mark Powles, 48:43, 78th place; and Jeri Lynn Storey, 50:50, 84th place. There was a field of 125 in the event.

Jeff Smith, Cumberland, won the race with a time of 32 minutes, 11 seconds. Lynn Bridges, Cumberland, was the first female to cross the finish with a time of 42:43.

The next race in which several Garrett County runners plan to participate is the West Virginia Pride 10-K, slated for May 18 at 5:30 p.m. in Rowlesburg, W.Va.

Rams Defeated By Campers, 5-2, Then Top Valley

A pair of dropped fly balls in the third inning resulted in three unearned runs and the margin of victory for the Allegany Campers over the favored Southern Rams last Friday afternoon in Cumberland. The 5-2 upset win broke a five-game losing streak for the Campers and evened their season record at 7-7, while Southern fell to 10-4.

The Rams bounced back yesterday, however, to hand Valley a 4-1 defeat in Lonaconing as Scott Stem hurled a three-hitter, striking out nine batters and walking none. The 11-4 Rams will face a tough test this afternoon when they host Keyser at 4 p.m. The Golden Tornado is currently 22-3 and nipped Southern earlier this season, 11-10, after the Rams blew a 7-2 lead.

Allegany got on the board in the first inning against the Rams when Rob DeVore walked, Geno Taylor singled, and Danny Porter followed with an RBI double to plate DeVore and move Taylor to third. A sacrifice grounder by Terry Bittinger scored Taylor, giving Allegany a 2-0 advantage.

In the third inning, DeVore walked and stole second. Taylor then singled him to third, and Porter's ground out put men on second and third. The first dropped fly ball, hit by Bittinger, scored DeVore. After Shaffer grounded out, Kirk Robinette hit a ball into the outfield which was also dropped, scoring the final two runs for the Campers.

Bruce Bosley led off the seventh inning for the Rams with a double, followed by J.R. Gibson's two-run homer which completed the scoring for the afternoon. Gibson also had a single earlier in the contest.

Scott Shaffer, who went the distance for Allegany, struck out 12 batters and walked three. Scott Stem took the loss for Southern.

Both teams finished with six hits.

Jeff Sweitzer provided an RBI single in the first inning for Southern against Valley on Wednesday afternoon and then rapped a two-run single in the third inning to give the Rams all they needed for the win. Dave McLaughlin added an RBI single in the third for Southern's final run.

The Black Knights, who fell to 8-6, got their only run when losing pitcher Ed Miller singled in the second inning, moved to third on an error, and raced home on a fielder's choice.

The only other hits against Stem were a triple by Dave Hawkins and a double by Fred Rounds, but both were left stranded on base.

Miller allowed six hits on the afternoon and struck out six.

After today's contest against Keyser, Southern will entertain Bruce on Friday at 3:30 p.m., and then host Northern next Wednesday for the final game of the regular season.

Caruso Slates Youth Baseball, Softball Camps

Frostburg State assistant baseball coach Phil Caruso will be conducting a series of baseball camps this summer.

The first camp will be held at Broad Ford Elementary School June 3-7 from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. each day. The camp is for boys and girls between the ages of 8-15, whether or not they are in Little League or Pony League.

The purpose of this camp is to provide instruction in baseball that Little Leaguers and Pony Leaguers may use during the season as well as instruction for those not in a league. Players will receive instruction in fielding, throwing, base running, sliding, pitching, bunting, and an emphasis on hitting using the Charlie Lou method.

Charlie Lou was the top Major League hitting instructor in baseball before his untimely death last year. His theory on hitting has made the careers of several major league players, the most famous being George Brett of the Kansas City Royals, Caruso stated. "I had an opportunity to meet Charlie Lou four years ago at a clinic and have become a disciple of his since. Many of the top hitters I've coached at Garrett Community College were converted to the Charlie Lou method, and this year's top hitter at Frostburg State converted this year to the theory."

Each camper will be evaluated to his or her strengths and weakness. Each day there will be a 30-minute instructional period followed by an hour for a game. Little Leaguers who have games that week may be excused early for their games. Should it rain, camp will be conducted in the Broad Ford Elementary School gym.

There will be a limited enrollment of 25 to maximize instruction and evaluation. Should there be a large enrollment, a second camp will be held the following week June 10-14.

The cost for the camp will be $20.00 for the week.

A softball camp for girls will be held jUne 17 and 18 at Broad Ford for ages 9-14. Camp will include instruction in all areas of softball and will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day. Campers are to pack lunch. Cost is $20.00 for two days. Applications for both camps may be picked up at the following schools: Broad Ford, Dennett Road, Loch Lynn and Southern Middle. Campers may register at Broad Ford, however if the session is full they will have to wait until the following week for the second session. Persons with questions may call 334-9445 before 9:00 a.m. or after 3:00 p.m.

Stemple Named Head Coach Of All-Star Team

Southern Girls Basketball Coach Don Stemple is one of four persons selected to serve as head coaches for the 1985 Western Maryland All-Star Basketball Classic, slated to be played June 8 at Bruce High School in Westernport. The event pits Western Maryland All-Stars against neighboring West Virginia All-Stars, and will include a boys and a girls contest.

Stemple, who will coach the Western Maryland girls team, will bring a 51-29 overall record as girls coach at Southern into the contest. He also compiled a 73-47 record during the 1970s as the Rams' boys varsity coach.

Both the 1984 and '85 Southern girls teams made it to the Maryland Class C semi-finals, while Stemple's 1976 boys varsity team was a state finalist in Class B.

Stemple is a graduate of Southern and Frostburg State College. Other coaches selected for the Classic include Greg Smith, of Franklin High, who will coach the West Virginia girls; Paul Pacella, of Union High School, who will coach the West Virginia boys; and Allegany Coach Tim Scaletta, who will coach the Maryland boys. Ken McLaughlin, also on the Southern staff, was named an assistant coach for the Maryland girls.

Southern Jayvees Sweep Bulldogs

A one-hitter tossed by Southern jayvee Phil Spaulding highlighted a Ram sweep over Bruce on Saturday, 8-1 and 8-0, to keep the junior Rams' record perfect at 5-0. Scott Lohr allowed only two hits in the opener.

Bruce Bosley paced the Rams in the first game offensively as he rapped a triple and a double for a pair of RBIs. He also tripled and singled in the nightcap, while teammates Chad King and Brad King each added two hits.

Old Timers' Softball Results Announced

Bethlehem split with Coors of Terra Alta; Bausch & Lomb swept Doerr's and Wilburn; My O' Tire split with Ralph's Richfood; and Oakland Equipment and the Sheriff's Fall Guys served as umpires.

Fishing Contest Winners Named

The weekly fishing contest winners were announced by the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council for the week ending May 5. They are as follows:

Largemouth bass, 5 lbs., 21 inches, caught by Robert E. Bittinger, Grantsville.

Smallmouth bass, 4 lbs., 20½ inches, caught by Charles Gosnell, Swanton.

Crappie, 1 lb. 10 ozs., 14¼ inches, caught by Dave Stuck, Oakland.

Northern pike, 13 lbs., 40 inches, caught by Donald Stanton, Grantsville.

Rainbow trout, 2 lbs., 17 inches, caught by William Walker II, Annapolis.

Winners are named weekly and receive a citation and patch. The contest, sponsored by Johnny's Bait House and the Promotion Council, begins May 1 and runs through September 30. All fish must be registered at Johnny's Bait House on Route 219 at Deep Creek Lake.

Smith Memorial Tennis Tourney Set For May 14

The 8th Annual Smith Memorial Indoor Tennis Tournament is scheduled for May 17-19, at the Rawlings Heights Racket Club, sponsored by Coors and Coors Light through the Western Maryland Distributing Company of Cumberland, announced Nancy Hodges, Tournament Coordinator. The registration deadline is May 14 at 4:30 p.m.

"We have planned a weekend of fun and exciting tennis," said Hodges, "to benefit the American Heart Association, Western Maryland Division's research and community programs."

The pewter trophies, on display at the Rawlings Heights Racket Club, will be presented to the Smith Memorial Tournament winners by Bob Gronall at a tennis celebration, open to all tournament players, Sunday, May 19, at 7:30 p.m., at the Rawlings Heights Racket Club, catered by Ping's Restaurant at the Country Club Mall.

"We are looking for new tournament players," Hodges stated, "Anyone interested in joining the Smith Memorial Tournament play, please contact the American Heart Association at 724-4011, or pick up a form from the Starlite Restaurant and Motel, Oakland; Southern High School Tennis Coaches Linda Garris or Fred Pratt; or Northern High School Athletic Director Don Douds."

Shredded wheat was the first ready-to-eat breakfast cereal, introduced in 1893.

4-H Club News

Monte Vista

The Monte Vista 4-H Club met on May 2 at the home of Angie Bittinger. There were 27 members, three visitors (Sherry Nelson, Chrissy Harvey, and Shannon Dabney), two parents (Mary Harvey and Linda Freyman), and six leaders present. Lori Dodge, president, presided.

Demonstrations were given by Tammy Thomas on Hair Care and Alice Hevner on Manners.

The club congratulated Patty Gnegy for receiving the "I Dare You" award at the Achievement Dinner. Also recognized were those members who had entries in the District Food and Nutrition Day in Hagerstown. They included: Pam Evans, who placed first in essay writing, senior division; Lori Dodge, first place, senior, poster; Miriam Evans and Pam Evans, participation recognition; Pam Gnegy, third place, senior, demonstrations; and Patty Gnegy, second place, senior, table settings.

Record books and awards were given to those members who were not present to receive them at the Achievement Dinner.

The Club also received an Achievement Seal for its program and secretary's book submitted to the state and will receive recognition at the Maryland Recognition Day June 25.

On May 11 several members will go on the County Citizenship tour in Washington, D.C. Older Youth/Teen Weekend, with Allegany County clubs, will be held May 18-19 at the Western Maryland 4-H Center. Cost is $5 and registration deadline is May 13. The County Council will meet May 16.

Members were reminded they must enter something to participate in the Garrett County Fair August 12-17.

The club members voted to go to Hershey Park, Pa. Cost will be $12. Selling one box of candy bars will cover $11. Money and registration for the one-day trip must be turned in at the next meeting on June 6 at the Extension Office.

Members planning to attend 4-H Camp should have their registration in to the Extension Office by May 20. Camp is set for July 7-12.

Refreshments were served following the meeting by Heather Lipscomb, Ruth Evans, and Barbie Nelson.

Edwards Speaks At Democratic Club Spring Meeting

Delegate George Edwards was the guest speaker for the spring meeting of the Garrett County Democratic Club held April 23 at the American Legion, Oakland. Delegate Edwards discussed highlights of the recently concluded legislative session of the Maryland General Assembly. After explaining certain bills of local and state interest, Delegate Edwards answered questions from the group.

Margaret and Leo Barkman, LaVale, were also in attendance to answer questions. Mrs. Barkman is the district aide for Congresswoman Beverly Byron.

In his president's Report, club president Spencer Schlossnagle reported he had attended the 5th Annual Winter Dinner and Gold Star Reception in Baltimore, on March 25. The dinner was sponsored by the Maryland Democratic Party and had as its featured speaker, Patrick Caddell, nationally recognized pollster and political consultant.

On March 9, president Schlossnagle, Phyllis Trickett and Doris Goldsborough attended a Democratic conference in Frederick, the purpose of which was to discuss the future of the Democratic Party in Maryland.

It was noted that Bill and Doris Goldsborough hosted a reception at their home for Lt. Gov. Joseph Curran on April 15. Lt. Gov. Curran is a possible candidate for state Attorney General and was visiting the Western Maryland area.

Committee reports were given by finance chairperson, Frank Finch, noting suggestions for various club fundraisers and a membership report by Maurice Brookhart, membership chairperson. Club memberships are still available for $3.00.

Plans are being finalized for the Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner according to Pat Zumpano, dinner committee chairperson. The dinner will be May 24, 6:30 p.m., at the McHenry House, Wisp Ski Area. Tickets are $12.00 per person and are available until May 15 from dinner committee and club members or by contacting Sheriff Frank Finch. Deputy Attorney General for Maryland, Eleanor Carey, will be the keynote speaker for the evening.

In other business, the club voted to purchase two books, to be placed in local libraries, in memory of Iola Guy and Ed Leuba.

The summer meeting of the Democratic Club will be Tuesday, June 25, 7:30 p.m. in Grantsville. Members and interested Democrats are encouraged to attend.

"THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF WALT DISNEY", a dance and gymnastic revue will be presented by "Brenda & Company" on Sunday, May 19, at 2 p.m., at Southern High School. Scenes from Alice in Wonderland, Snow White, Pinocchio, Winnie the Pooh, Dumbo, Mickey Mouse Club and many more are planned. "Brenda & Company" is comprised of 125 youth ranging from age 3 to 16. They are instructed by Brenda Brosnihan and Tami Fike. The children worked from September through December learning and perfecting their various skills in dance, gym, baton and rifle. The group began practicing for the show in January. The show is filled with colorful costumes, scenery, props and decorations. Mickey Mouse will be present to greet everyone at the door. Admission for adults is $2 and students is $1. Participants in the show, shown below, left to right, are, front row, Kellie White, Sheila Butt and Angie Teagarden, second row, Cindy Tichnell, Dawn Scheffel and Shannon Mahoney, third row, Kelly Mahoney, Shelli Cannon and Tracey Teagarden.

Shawn Reed Is Outstanding SHS Chemistry Student

Shawn Reed has been selected as the outstanding chemistry student of the year at Southern High School. She was honored Friday evening, May 3, at a dinner held at the Lane Center of Frostburg State College. The dinner to honor outstanding chemistry students is held every spring by the Western Maryland section of the American Chemical Society.

Shawn is a member of the Girls' Athletic Association at Southern High School and is a member of both the concert band and the marching band, serving as drum major for the latter. She is currently serving as treasurer of the Junior Class and has been elected president of the Student Council for next year. Shawn is a student and a member of the National Honor Society. Shawn is the daughter of Keith and Roxanne Reed.

Gifted Students To Attend State's Summer Program

Fourteen Garrett County students have been selected to participate in the 1985 Maryland summer program for gifted and talented students, Dr. Charleen Evans-Thomas, director of the elementary schools and coordinator of the gifted summer centers for Garrett County, has announced.

For the last nine years, the Division of Instruction, Maryland State Department of Education, has sponsored centers throughout the state which offer intensive, advance-level learning opportunities to students entering grades five through twelve who demonstrate outstanding academic or artistic ability. This year, a course for fourth graders has been introduced, along with selected residential course offerings for fifth and sixth graders.

The range of courses at the centers include science, economics, mathematics, government, humanities, problem solving, leadership, visual and performing arts, creative writing and international studies.

County students selected to attend the Maryland Science Center, Baltimore, are Benjamin J. Hetzel, Friendsville Elementary, and Katherine T. Willey, Route 40.

Chosen to attend the Leadership Development Center at St. Mary's College, St. Mary's City, is Cindy A. Bosley, Northern Middle School.

Lyle M. Madigan, Southern Middle School, will participate in a living off the land course which will involve a variety of field-based activities.

Enrolled in the center for Creative Writing in the Humanities, located at Washington College, Chestertown, will be Ralph J. Klotzbaugh, Northern High School; Leona A. Schmidt and Kimberly G. Mansfield, both of Northern Middle School, and Nancy F. Alvarez, Southern Middle School.

Four students will attend the center for the arts at Goucher College, Towson: Renee L. Warnick, Northern High School; Stacy R. Carlson and Petrina L. Jones, both of Northern Middle School, and Michael D. Vance, Southern Middle School.

Herbert S. Lambert III, will attend computer programming courses at the center for Mathematics and Technology, Western Maryland College, Westminster.

Yoder School student Tara L. Wilson will attend the center for Aquatic Studies at the National Aquarium, Baltimore.

Lioness Club Slates Walkathon, Annual Bingo

The Deep Creek Lake Lioness Club met on April 25 at Deep Creek Lodge with 14 members present. President Melanie Rodney presided.

Plans were made for the second annual Walk-A-Thon set for June 8. Rain date June 15. Anyone wishing to participate may contact Lois Lear at 387-5146 or Melanie Rodney at 387-4674. Proceeds will go to screening and purchase of eyeglasses for the sight-impaired in the county.

Plans were made for Big Bucks Bingo slated for July 27 at the National Guard Armory in Oakland. It is sponsolred by the Deep Creek Lions and Lioness Clubs. Tickets are available from the members.

The club has sponsored Kris DeWitt in the Walk-A-Thon for the Garrett Organization for the Handicapped and Jon Garner in the Bike-A-Thon for St. Jude's Children's Hospital.

The clubs bake sale and flea market will be May 25.

The next board meeting will be this evening, May 9, at Deep Creek Lodge, 6:30 p.m.

TERRA ALTA NEWS

Rotarians Hear About Holy Land

The vice president of the Terra Alta Rotary Club, the Rev. Bruce Reed, was the program chairman for the meeting on Thursday, April 25, at Alpine Lake.

Rev. Reed talked about his experiences during a recent trip to the Holy Land and Egypt. To illustrate his narration, he displayed pictures, postcards, souvenirs and slides. The projection of slides followed the same sequence since he left the Sinai, crossed the Suez Canal and into Egypt. Slides of the Holy Land were saved for a planned dinner sometime in May at the First United Methodist Church.

A guest of John Markwood was his grandson, Robbie, who helped Rev. Reed describe places, monuments, and customs in Egypt.

The Board of Directors met May 6 at Lee Rice's residence to discuss internal affairs of the Club.

Secretary Bud White attended the Rotary District Conference in Parkersburg on April 19-21.

PTO News

The Terra Alta Elementary PTO noted its appreciation to those who helped with the Spring Carnival on April 26.

The following businesses made donations for the event: Dairy Queen, Thomas Big Key Market, Shop N' Save, Penny Pincher, Terra Alta Bank, Calvert's Hardware, First National Bank, Country Fabrics, Spahr's Exxon, Gregg's Pharmacy, Bunk's, Delano's, and The Open Door.

The following is a list of winners: quilt, Shawn Felton; food baskets, Clarence Beckman and Sally Britner; food box, Mabel Kelly; $10.00 gift certificate, Ben Kelly; Timex clock, Larry Friend; Cabbage Patch Banks, Delores DeBerry and Regina Zinn; car banks, Isaac Hovatter, Arnold White, Jr., Mike Shaffer, and Lula Bryant; clean air, Beth McCrum; West Virginia Hat, Helen Sisler; T-shirt, Virgil Feenit; mouth bank, Mary Mullenax; ready file, Lola Stouffer; Santa dog banks, Janet Ridenour and Marvin Rodeheaver; plaque, Janet Ridenour; Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus banks, Amy Ashby, John Beerbower, Flora Burton and Carol Sanders.

Persons who have not picked up items won may do so at the TA Elementary Building Office during school hours.

The third graders of the Terra Alta Elementary will be taking a trip to Laurel Caverns on May 9. The cost of the trip will be paid by the PTO.

Car Wash Set

The East Preston High School cheerleaders will sponsor a car wash from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, May 11, at the East Preston High School parking lot. Cost will be $5 to have the car cleaned inside and out and $3 to have the outside washed only.

SADD Being Organized

Students at East Preston High School are in the process of organizing a SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving) Program. Members sign a contract with their parents. The contract states that if the student is drinking or with someone who is drinking, he or she will call for a ride. The parents agree to pick the child up with no questions asked at that time. The parents agree to call for a safe ride if they become unable to drive.

SADD also informs students of the legal and physical consequences of driving drunk.

More than 70 students have shown an interest in the program. A steering committee was elected recently.

Before the prom, organizers hope to have SADD members from Northern High School present a program to help them get started at East Preston.

FFA Banquet Held

The annual Parent-Member FFA Banquet was held April 19 at the East Preston Common Area.

The following awards were presented: Agricultural Mechanics, Beef Production, Soil and Water Management, Turf and Landscape, Star Chapter Farmer and the B.F. McConnell Memorial Award went to Steve Parsons; Agricultural Sales and Service Diversified Livestock Production went to Jackie Lantz; Mark Falkenstine received the Crop Production award; Butch McConnell given Dairy Production award; Home and Farmstead Improvement went to Willie Lantz; Fruit and Vegetable Production and Swine Production plaques were awarded to Brent Hauser; Clifford Keller received the awards for Sheep Production and Most Active Sophomore; Joe Bishop was named Star Greenhand; Sid Freeland most Active Freshman; Most Active Member was Jennings Freeland; Joe Stemple received the award for Established Farmer; Sandra Blamble was awarded the Creed Contest trophy; Ben Stemple was given the award for Prepared Public Speaking; and Shauna Sisler was named Chapter Sweetheart.

Baby Shower

A stork shower was held on April 13 in the social room of Trinity United Methodist Church for Reva and Dennis Martin. Hostesses for the event were Rose Nordeck, Shirley Teets and Jeannette Short.

A theme of rainbows and tumbling bears was enhanced by two cakes. One cake, baked and decorated by David A. Teets, resembled a baby carriage. The second cake, baked and decorated by Shirley Teets, resembled a sky background with angels resting on clouds.

Those winning prizes in various games were Marie Shahan, Opal Roy, Donna Sypolt, Marion Clutter and Diana Meddings. The door prize was won by Vickie Swearinger. Refreshments were served before gifts were opened and displayed by the guest of honor, Reva Martin.

Out-of-town guests were Barbara Martin, Arlington, Va.; Judy Martin, Morgantown; Phyllis Hoffman and Carol and Missy, Shinnston; Opal Roy, Oakland, Md.; Debbie Zimmerman and Rachel, Crellin, Md.; and Teresa Roy, Oakland. Approximately 35 local persons also attended. Twenty-three others sent gifts.

Auxiliary To Meet

The Loar Auxiliary of Garrett County Memorial Hospital will hold a membership tea on Tuesday, May 14, from 1:30 to 4 p.m. at the St. Peter's Catholic Church social room. Mildred Cecil and Elizabeth Mullennex will serve as hostesses. Officers of the organization urge all members to attend and bring with them any potential members.

National Nursing Home Week To Be Observed By Oakland Nursing Homes

Cuppett and Weeks Nursing Home and Dennett Road Manor are making preparations for activities and special events in observance of National Nursing Home Week, May 12-18.

Both facilities will be holding Open House this Sunday for kick-off festivities, refreshments, entertainment and visiting.

Miss Mary Junkins, Miss Viola Wilhelm, Miss Josephine Wolfe and Mrs. Blanche Lewellen, residents of Dennett Road Manor, will be hostesses for the refreshments, while Mrs. Ocie DeWitt, resident, will be in charge of the guest book. Tours at Dennett Road Manor will be conducted by Josephine Bolyard and Robin Tusing, teen volunteers.

Cuppett and Weeks Nursing Home will also have a balloon lift-off at 2:00 p.m., an all day slide show, tours from 2-4 p.m., and live entertainment on Sunday. Dennett Road Manor will conduct tours and provide live entertainment on Sunday.

Monday's activity at Cuppett and Weeks will be a Casino Nite at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday is Staff Appreciation Day. On Wednesday, Dennett Road Manor staff will honor the residents with a luau with special music provided. That same day Cuppett and Weeks will have a "Love Boat Cruise" at 3:00 p.m. and a family Bingo night at 7:00 p.m.

Thursday at Cuppett and Weeks has been designated as Geriatric Nursing Assistant Appreciation Day, given by the residents and activity staff.

On Friday, at 2:45 p.m., the D.A.V. and the Southern High School Band will be dedicating the flag and flag pole, donated by the D.A.V., the V.F.W. and the Proctor Kildow Post 71, American Legion, at Dennett Road Manor. Western Roundup Day will be observed at Cuppett and Weeks on Friday with a Western barbeque scheduled for 6:00 p.m. There will also be live entertainment and the staff will be costumed in Western attire.

Throughout the week, Dennett Road Manor will be honoring the different departments who serve the residents.

National Nursing Home Week was founded may years ago by the American Health Care Association to honor the residents living in American Health Care Association nursing homes and allied long-term care facilities and the quality of care they receive.

Sheila Hauser, activities director, and Lisa Frazee, assistant director, from Cuppett and Weeks, and Mrs. Joanne Harsh, activities director at Dennett Road Manor, all echoed the statement, "This is our residents week to shine. We want them to know how much we care. Won't you take this opportunity to visit someone special and let them show you that love is ageless."

OFFICIAL RECOMMENDATION
MARYLAND DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND MENTAL HYGIENE

PET	VACCINATE
Puppies, and Kittens, under one year	Should be vaccinated at three months of age, revaccinate after twelve months
Dogs and Cats, over one year	vaccinate every three years

Rabies is now epidemic in Garrett County.

Protect yourself, your family and your pets from the threat of rabies by bringing your pets to the clinic in your area. The cost of the vaccination is only $3 per animal.

Only pets under the control of a responsible person may be brought to the clinic. Dogs should be on a leash. Cats should be in a wire cage or box securely closed with air holes provided. No other animals will be vaccinated.

NOTE: In 1984, 15 cats and 1 dog became rabid in Maryland. Protect your pets from this disease by attending a clinic in your area.

Sheriff's Dept. Arrests Two; Probes Thefts

Members of the Garrett County Sheriff's Department made two arrests this week and are investigating two reports of theft.

An Oakland man was arrested Monday evening and incarcerated in the Garrett County Jail on a charge of battery.

Frank Robinette, Oakland, allegedly battered Richard Wildesen at the White Oak Trailer Court in Swanton, according to Deputy Charles P. Nolan, arresting officer.

A bond hearing was scheduled for Tuesday morning.

An Oakland woman was aresterd and charged with disorderly conduct on the property of another last Thursday.

Jessie Ruth Glotfelty, 48, allegedly refused to leave the residence of Robert Cannon, Crellin, early Tuesday morning and reportedly knocked on the door for over three hours.

Deputy Russell Drenning responded to the Cannon residence and placed Glotfelty under arrest.

Deputy P.K. Buckel is investigating the report of a theft which occurred at the summer home of Manuel L. Deleos, Columbia.

Deleos told Buckel that sometime between May 1 and May 3, unknown persons had entered his home and removed a Sears television with a stand and remote control device, eight orange life preservers and a 5 gallon gas can. Total loss value has been set at $677.

Buckel said there was no forced entry displayed. The investigation is continuing.

Deputy Buckel is also investigating the report of a theft and destruction of property by Carl Everly, Mtn. Lake Park.

Everly told police someone had attempted to remove a vehicle from his garage, but broke the key in the ignition in the attempt.

He also reported the theft of assorted tools from his garage having a value of $250. The theft occurred sometime between April 28 and April 30.

Civic Club Has Annual Dinner

The Junior Woman's Civic Club held its annual Progressive Dinner on May 2. Appetizers were at Glenda Newcomb's residence, salads at Denise Sanders', the main course at Cindy Parsons', and desserts at Candy Parsons'.

The Club's hoagie sale is scheduled for June 3. Anyone interested in purchasing a hoagie may contact any JWCC member.

Sue Lear was installed as a new member.

Plans are being made for a fall Fashion Show.

Election of Officers was held for the year 1985-1986. The results are as follows: president, Debbie Friend; vice president, Debra Ahern; recording secretary, Patti Battista; corresponding secretary, Yvette Compton; and treasurer, Teresa Field.

The next meeting will be held at Silver Tree on June 6.

Northern GOP Women Hear Tax Assessors

The Northern Garrett County Republican Women's Club met at Hill Top Inn April 30. The speakers were introduced by Linda Edwards, program chairman.

Jim Margroff, supervisor of assessments of Garrett County, spoke on the Constant Yield Tax Rate. He stated although setting local property tax rates is the task of elected officials, Maryland's Constant Yield Tax Rate provision guarantees property owners a voice in the process before the final determinations are made. He also explained the procedure in appealing one's tax assessment.

Jim Carl, assistant state supervisor, Department of Assessments and Taxations, spoke on the Maryland assessment and how it works, the growth factor, and how assessing is an art, requires skill, training, and sound judgment. Questions asked by the group were answered by the speakers.

The meeting continued with president Carolyn Ganoe presiding.

Devotions were by Carol Frazee in the absence of the chaplain. Future meetings were discussed. The Western Regional Meeting is to be held May 4 at Burgitville. Carolyn Ganoe will represent the club.

The joint meeting and covered dish picnic of the Southern and Northern clubs will be held July 16 at 6 p.m. at the Broadford Park pavilion. Southern will supply the meat and beverage. Northern will provide all table service. Men and families are welcome.

The next meeting will be May 28 with guest speaker Sister Catherine Arata representing Habitat for Humanity.

Present besides those mentioned were: Wilma Wilburn, Evelyn Younkin, Louise and Mary McKenzie, Stella Edwards, Cleda Baker, Bernice Merrill, Zeola Robeson, Lois Rowe, Cora Bowser, Orpha Miller, Helen Keller and Jean Friend.

Christian Women To Meet May 15

The Oakland area Christian Women's Club will hold its monthly luncheon meeting at the Will O' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake, Wednesday May 15.

The Special Feature, "Thank Heaven for Little Girls" will be children modeling clothing provided by Youthland of Oakland.

The speaker will be Eileen Rice, Parkton.

The luncheon meeting will begin at 11:30 a.m. and the price is $5.50. Reservations may be made by telephoning Janet Smith at 334-1115 or Brenda Thorn at 334-8506. Reservations must be honored.

A free nursery is available nearby at the Deep Creek Baptist Church.

Nursing Student Receives Award

Linda Gail Miller, a senior majoring in nursing at Alderson-Broaddus College, Phillipi, W. Va., has been notified that she was recently selected as an Extraordinary Christian Student of America for 1984-85.

The award is given in recognition of extraordinary student achievement, exceptional leadership and outstanding Christian service.

Miss Miller is a 1981 graduate of Northern High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Miller, Accident

Local Students Initiated Into Society At PSC

Sigma Phi Omega Honor Society at Potomac State College accepted 20 new members, including four area students, during its spring initiation ceremony Wednesday evening, April 17.

Among those taking part in the ritual was LuAnn Gregg, Oakland, vice president of the Society.

During the business meeting that followed Kristin J. Naylor and Gary Athey II, both of Keyser, were elected president and vice president respectively for next year.

Membership in Sigma Phi Omega is one of the highest honors attainable at Potomac State. Requirements for admission include a 3.0 or better average, a schedule of 14 or more semester hours, membership in at least two campus organizations or activities, and election by the college faculty who are members by virtue of their position.

Those area students initiated include Roxanne Evans and Lyvonne Harsh, Horse Shoe Run; Terry Hauser, Eglon and William Lantz, Aurora.

Even if they're not bus drivers, chauffeurs, or others whose jobs keep them behind the wheel, it's not unusual for employees to drive on company business.
Business auto insurance covers claims in case of accident in a company car, and an employer's non-ownership endorsement offers protection if an employee has an accident driving on company business in his own car.
If a company's workers have a lot of accidents, the firm's insurance costs will rise, so it makes sense to check the driving records of prospective employees before you hire.
Check driver's license records with the Department of Motor Vehicles. Drunk-driving or reckless-driving citations, or a series of speeding tickets, many spotlight a potential for trouble.
Check that employees have auto insurance of their own, with adequate limits of liability.

There is a story about two men who took a chance—and one who didn't!

Three trusted servants were left in charge of a small fortune. One began with five talents and earned five more. The second began with two talents and earned two more. But the third was afraid to take a chance. He took the single talent left in his care and buried it. All he earned was the wrath of his master.

The progress of our churches in nurturing the spiritual life of the community depends on the earnest, tireless efforts of people who put their talents to work. Worship is but one ingredient of religion—willingness is another.

Cultivate that spiritual gift the Bible calls zeal. When you're asked or challenged to do something for God, for your church, for your neighbors . . . take a chance. Bring your talents to the task!

WHAT WAS A "THERIAC OF MATTHIOLU"

Back in the 16th century, persons afflicted with the plague were frequently given a medication that consisted of 130 ingredients which when mixed and ready for the patient weighed 13 pounds. Not only was it of dubious value, but the time involved in the preparation (several days) and the cost made it almost prohibitive to the average patient.

Today we have come a long way from the Theriac of Matthiolu, but there are still some prescriptions that have to be compounded of more than one ingredient. We welcome prescriptions like this that give us a chance to show our professional skill.

"A GREAT MANY PEOPLE ENTRUST US with their prescriptions, health needs and other pharmacy products. We consider this trust a privilege and a duty. May we be your personal family pharmacy?"

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

IS IT ALL "VANITY"?

May 12, 1985

Background Scripture:
Ecclesiastes 1:1 through 2:11; 12

Devotional Reading:
Ecclesiastes 7:1-13

Except for Chapter 3, which begins with the familiar words, "For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven ...", I am quite certain you've heard few, if any, sermons from the book of Ecclesiastes. It seems to be no one's special source of faith and inspiration.

Interestingly enough, if Ecclesiastes had been published outside the Bible, it would probably have survived as a gem of philosophic literature. But no one I have ever encountered seems to have a satisfactory explanation as to why Ecclesiastes is found in our Bible. What purpose can it possibly serve? It's mood is so depressed, so hopeless, so crushing that it seems an outlook on life really quite in contrast to the perspective of faith and hope.

WHAT THE PREACHER SEES

The problem is not so much what the writer of Ecclesiastes sees in the world, but with the conclusions about life which he draws from his observation. The Preacher, as the writer of Ecclesiastes is known, has his facts down pat. What did the Preacher see? He saw pretty much what many of us see in our world today: he saw lots of evils and problems that appeared to be utterly beyond his ability to do anything about them, he saw the world in a rut or treadmill — running like mad, but getting nowhere — and he saw a sense of "vanity" in all that he tried to do. Nothing seemed to matter.

Who among us has not put down the morning paper and its fresh accounts of disasters and evil around the world and not said the contemporary equivalent of: "Vanity of vanities! All is vanity"? (1:2). Life seems futile, devoid of meaning, and going nowhere fast. Nothing we do appears to make any difference.

ADDING IT UP

But, if we read through the twelve chapters of Ecclesiastes, even though we first identify with the Preacher's gloomy feelings, we may find ourselves saying, "Enough is enough!" Yes, we all feel that way sometime, but the Book of Ecclesiastes is one complaint or gloomy prediction after another. Maybe that's why there is a Book of Ecclesiastes in our Bible: to serve as a negative example, to show us how we are not supposed to be.

By the time I come to the end of reading this book, I want to argue with the Preacher and say to him, "Yes, life can be discouraging, but it can also be inspiring. Yes, there is a lot over which to be gloomy, but there's also much over which to be happy and thankful."

Probably the most positive thing the Preacher says, is: "Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man."

Perhaps it was as much as could be said, until the coming of Christ, who changed the Preacher's "vanities" into God's redeeming purpose.

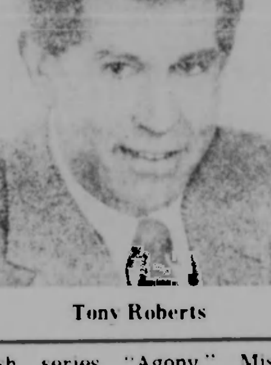
SHOW AND TELL

Tony Roberts hopes for a long, hot summer

By Gregory Garver

HOLLYWOOD — Tony Roberts insists Hollywood lives by one formula: Hit equals hot. "The thing about the acting profession these days," the 45-year-old actor says, "is that a hit mentality pervades the business. If you have a hit, have been in a recent hit or have the prospects of a future hit, then you're hot. Hit equals hot. And if you're hot, then other things come your way."

Roberts thinks this may be his hot year because he's optimistic that it's going to be a hit year. Roberts is currently co-starring in the comedy series "The Lucie Arnaz Show." Then there's his upcoming summer flick "Key Exchange." "I've already seen it and know it's good," he says. "It's well done and very funny." Then there's an off-Broadway show, "Doubles," a comedy about tennis.



Tony Roberts

The actor also believes, despite some poor reviews, that "The Lucie Arnaz Show" is quality television. "Lucie is the perfect TV sitcom star," Roberts explains. "She is talented and attractive, but, even more, has a quality that enables the audience to empathize with her quickly and easily, I think," he adds. "Lucie could inherit the Mary Tyler Moore mantle."

In the CBS sitcom, which is loosely based on the hit English series "Agony," Miss Arnaz plays a radio psychologist who answers listeners' personal problems while wrestling with many of her own.

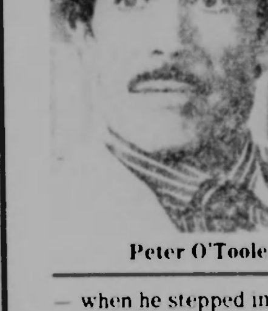
"I play the radio station manager," Roberts says, "who is someone I call a male chauvinist boob." Miss Arnaz and Roberts have previously worked together in the Broadway hit "They're Playing Our Song." They had gotten along well, and the actor believes that's the reason he was hired for Miss Arnaz's show.

"I don't know if she suggested me," he says with a smile, "but Lucie certainly had veto power and could have turned me down."

Peter O'Toole takes NYC theatergoers hostage

By Cindy Adams

NEW YORK — Peter O'Toole recently surprised New York theatergoers — and his daughter Kate O'Toole — when he stepped into a one-time, one-night only role in "The Hostage," the play Kate recently appeared in at NYC's Irish Arts Center.



Peter O'Toole

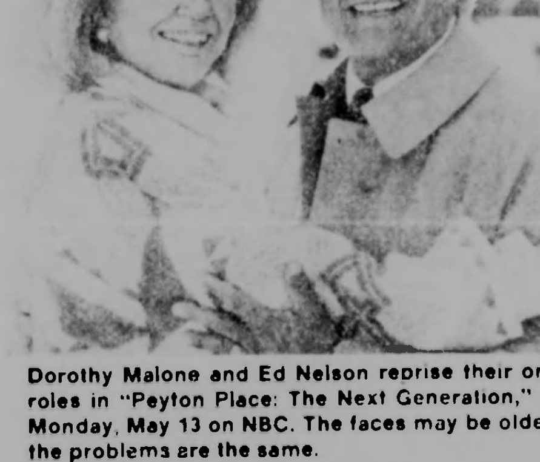
It seems O'Toole, flashing a gold earring in his ear, walked through the seamy streets of Manhattan -- the theater is not located in the Big Apple's best neighborhood — until he wound up at the cultural institute. The next night he did the same thing, finally muttering (during the intermission) "I know this play from my Dublin days. I'd like to be in it."

So he chose a role: The Secret Policeman, who carries a gun and hat (the theater supplied these) and wears a trenchcoat (O'Toole brought his own). There were no rehearsals; the actor knew his lines. As he eyed the prostitute (played by Kate) and arrested the IRA gunman (played by Kevin Breslin), he delivered his biggie: "I'm the Secret Policeman and I don't care who knows it."

He and Kate held hands during the curtain call. He worked for free, but O'Toole's no fool: He treated the company for drinks at a nearby bar.

The Friar's Club has picked its next Man of the Year. He's Phyllis Diller. Remember back in October, 1983, when the funny lady dressed like a man and crashed the club's gents only off-color stag party that roasted Sid Caesar? Now they want to see if she can take it — as well as she faked it — like a man. The fete will be held on Oct. 9, and no other females are allowed. There won't even be ladyfingers on the menu.

Phyllis Diller



Dorothy Malone and Ed Nelson reprise their original roles in "Peyton Place: The Next Generation," airing Monday, May 13 on NBC. The faces may be older, but the problems are the same.

'Kidd Video' is MTV for the sugar-coated crowd

By Marta Tarbell

All work and no play has built a musical empire for Israeli-born Haim Saban. But it's paid off. Saban, 40, has worked in nearly every aspect of the music industry. He's been a musician, manager, agent, record producer and label owner. Saban is now the producer of the animated television series, "Kidd Video," the NBC Saturday-morning show that dishes up a kiddie version of the MTV to the sugar-coated cereal set.

"'Kidd Video' wasn't my idea," he confesses. "The children's programming executive at NBC came up with the idea of doing a music show for children with Top 40 music. She thought it should it be animated. I thought it should be live."

So "Kidd Video," which features an animated cartoon, sandwiched between a two-and-a-half minute "wraparound" with live actors, was born. It features a rock 'n' roll band, both live and animated, that really does play together — they plan to release an album before launching a national tour.

"I define the show as a long-form video that uses more than one song," says Saban. "We have great stories, complete with both adventure and comedy. The music is almost like icing on the cake."

Haim Saban

For that icing, Saban goes straight to the top of the music charts, where he picks out the music for each "Kidd Video" episode. The music works — a recent episode, "Graveyard City," featured music from "Thriller" and "Ghostbusters" — but the price is high. "Kidd Video" has the distinction of being the most expensive show on Saturday mornings.

Unfortunately, "Kidd Video" doesn't differ from the usual Saturday morning fare. Its cartoon characters move like stick people, through plots that hinge on capturing or escaping from the villainous Master Blaster. And its live actors, who play musicians, are masters at the "Look at me — I'm a star" posturings that you can catch any hour of the day on MTV.

None of this bothers Saban. "I'm having a ball," he says happily. "I think it's great."

Wayne Northrop's soap 'Days' are over for now

By Kimberly Redmond

I miss Wayne Northrop, the actor who left "Days of Our Lives" several months ago. Will Northrop or his character Roman Brady be returning any time soon? — S.H., Cumberland, Ky.

Wayne Northrop

There are no plans to recast the role of Roman Brady, and don't hold your breath hoping that Northrop will return to the NBC soap. The actor filmed "You Are the Jury" for the network shortly after leaving "Days," and last week he was seen in the CBS movie "Going for the Gold: The Bill Johnson Story."

I'm in love with Mary Gordon Murray, the actress who stars as Becky Buchanan on "One Life to Live." What can you tell me about her? — S.C., Greenville, Texas.

Miss Murray, who grew up in Fairlawn, N.J., wanted to be an actress-singer since she was three. She has had an illustrious career on Broadway, where she appeared in such musicals as "I Love My Wife," "Grease" and "The Robber Bridegroom." She toured with national productions of "Godspell" and "Merry-Go-Round" before joining "OLTL." From time to time Miss Murray has demonstrated her vocal talents on the ABC soap. Miss Murray's last Broadway appearance was in 1981 in the revival of "Little Me," a musical written by Neil Simon. Miss Murray is single and has three brothers.

I just got hooked on "Capitol," but the show was suddenly yanked from our local CBS station. What happened? I know the show still airs in other parts of the country. — L.C., Clearwater, Fla.

As it sometimes happens, your local affiliate decided not to air regular network programming. You can call your local station to find out why they dropped the soap. If enough people complain, "Capitol" might be reinstated.

Cheryl Ladd portrays real-life Beverly Hills socialite Hope Masters — a woman whose life is nearly destroyed by rape and murder — in "A Death in California," airing Sunday, May 12 and Monday, May 13 on ABC.

MONDAY

To the moon Alice! After more than 30 years, Jackie Gleason and Audrey Meadows reunite for "Jackie Gleason Presents the Honeymooners Reunion," airing Monday, May 13 on NBC.

Cheryl Ladd tackles 'mesmerizing' TV role

By Marc Minnelli

"Aren't you going to congratulate me?" Cheryl Ladd asks as she stands in the living room of her West Hollywood home. A bevy of construction men and cabinet-makers swarm about, measuring and matching wood that will be used in the house's renovation. "I'm going to the smoking doctor to be hypnotized so I can give up cigarettes," she says. "I wished I never started — I was stupid — and after chain-smoking in 'Death,' I realized it was time finally to stop." Miss Ladd pauses. She repeats the query. "Well, aren't you going to congratulate me?"

Cheryl Ladd as Hope Masters

Indeed, the 33-year-old actress should be congratulated — not only for giving up her nicotine addiction, but for turning in a mesmerizing performance in "A Death in California." In the film, Miss Ladd portrays chain-smoking Beverly Hills socialite Hope Masters, a woman who is nearly destroyed by the brutal murder of her fiance, and who is later viciously raped by the crazed killer. The film, based on a real-life case and co-starring "Mask"'s Sam Elliott, airs Sunday, May 12 and Monday, May 13 on ABC.

Though Miss Ladd has successfully shed her vapid "Charlie's Angels" image — some critics say the actress proved her acting abilities in the 1983 TV-saga "The Grace Kelly Story" — "Death" is, perhaps, the actress's greatest challenge. And she knows it.

"I don't want to be stereotyped," Miss Ladd explains, "so I tackle those roles that have substance to them. For too long I was caught in a niche — a television series — and I vowed it would never happen again. That's why I've turned down series after series."

For her "Death" role, Miss Ladd met briefly with Miss Masters, read the book on which the film is based and read some of Miss Master's personal letters. "Hope's feelings are so well-defined in the script," the actress says, "that my task was made a lot easier."

What wasn't easy was the climactic rape scene. "I prepared for it by not preparing," she says, "because no one prepares for a rape. When Sam (Elliott) threw me on the bed and attacked me, it was so brutal that I was left with bruises all over my arms. We repeated the scene several times, and each time I sobbed hysterically. It was painful and humiliating. Now I understand what torment is all about."

Fate returns Lucie to TV and her own sitcom

By Gillian George

In the rare moments when Lucie Arnaz allows herself to be analytical, the actress realizes how much of an emotional survivor she is. "After all," she explains, "if you have the bizarre luck to be born to parents who are superstars and you have to grow up in their shadow, you've really only got two ways to go. You can let your sense of inferiority destroy you, or you can stand on your own hind legs and become a very strong individual."

Even a cursory glance at Miss Arnaz's career choices and personal qualities makes it clear that she has chosen the second option. Ever since she was a little girl waiting at home for her parents (Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz) to return from their grueling professional schedules, she's had a mind of her own. And when her mother offered to give her and her brother Desi Arnaz Jr. a career break by casting them in "Here's Lucy," she was more pragmatic than starry-eyed.

Even though the years she spent on the CBS series were positive, Miss Arnaz says she made up her mind not to have anything more to do with series television. The actress took the demands the medium made on her parents' marriage and, later, on her brother's personal life, to heart.

"Desi was working so hard that his life fell apart," she says. "He got into drugs and alcohol, but he's spent the last two years pulling his life together. He's done a very good job of it. We're all proud of him in the family."

Lucie Arnaz

As for herself, Miss Arnaz chose to go into the one aspect of show business that her parents were not prominent in — the stage. Five years ago, she scored a personal triumph in the comedy musical "They're Playing Our Song." As a bonus, it was during this period that she met her husband, actor Larry Luckinbill.

Totally content with her life — the actress recently gave birth their to their daughter, Katharine Desiree Luckinbill — Miss Arnaz was extremely skeptical when a psychic told her she would be going back into series television. But when she received an offer to film six episodes of "The Lucie Arnaz Show," she remembers that "it was obviously fate. It was just too good to turn down."

Now all of Miss Arnaz's fans can see the strong-minded actress dishing out good advice in her role as a radio psychologist — but don't be surprised if much of it sounds like it comes straight from the actress's own extraordinary psyche.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By Val Carew

I love Parker Stevenson. Is he married? If he is, who's the lucky gal? — P.F., Mexico, Maine

Parker Stevenson

Stevenson, who played teenage sleuth Frank Hardy on the ABC series "The Hardy Boys Mysteries" and who recently ended a stint on "Falcon Crest," is married to actress Kirstie Alley. Miss Alley, who co-starred on the ill-fated 1984 series "Masquerade," recently starred as feminist Gloria Steinem in "A Bunny's Tale." The actor and his wife live in Studio City with their cat Mendacity.

I'd like to be a stuntman. Is there any organization that can supply me with information? — B.B.E., Washington, D.C.

It takes determination and perseverance to be a stuntman, as well as having the knowledge that you may not succeed in such a tough business. Why don't you write to the Stuntman's Association? They can give up more much information. Address your letters to 3518 Cahuenga Blvd. West, Hollywood, CA 90028.

"Hardcastle and McCormick" is one of my favorite shows. I never miss an episode! Has co-star Daniel Hugh-Kelly been in other TV shows? — A.A., Shell Knob, Mo.

For three-and-a-half years, Hugh-Kelly played Frank Ryan on the ABC soap "Ryan's Hope." He also appeared in the TV movie "Thin Ice" and the feature film "Cujo."

Sports keep Siebert fit for 'Trapper John' role

By Renee Ross

Charles Siebert

Charles Siebert doesn't follow doctor's orders when it comes to getting in shape. "I know it's good for you, but exercise isn't something that comes naturally to me. It's my weekly New Year's resolution," laughs Siebert, 47, who plays boyish, vulnerable Dr. Stanley Riverside II on the CBS series "Trapper John, M.D."

"I'm terribly undisciplined," the actor adds. "Even as a kid, I wasn't very athletic. It took me my whole life to determine I had any athletic ability or interest." But Siebert has certainly made up for lost time.

"In the past couple of years, I've gotten involved in a few sports — tennis, scuba diving and rock climbing. I also love hiking in the Santa Monica Mountains in California. They're mildly strenuous walks with beautiful views.

"Going to a health club for hours every day never interested me," adds the Kenosha, Wis. native, whose career has spanned primetime TV, more than half dozen a Broadway shows, soap operas and regional theater. "People get nutty about it — which is their business — but there's so much mania about exercise.

"Experts are now discovering that things like jogging can be harmful if overdone," the actor adds in a tone best described as "doctorly." "To me, the best exercise has always been swimming and walking, because there's rarely damage done to the body."

The 6-foot-1, 200-pound Siebert claims he's always had to struggle with his weight. "I go in and out like an accordion, depending on what I eat," he explains. "Good eating takes time and thought, and those are often hard with my schedule.

"For one thing, I eat out in restaurants a lot, so it's difficult to maintain a strict diet. And when I'm shooting 'Trapper John,' I have erratic schedules and don't have meals at the same time every day. I'm not a vegetarian," the actor adds, "but I try to avoid red meat and watch my fat intake. And I've weaned myself away from salt because it makes me retain water."

The actor pauses. "I'm having a wonderful life," he says, "but I believe in the theory of not too much of anything. Not too much exercise or overeating, not too much chocolate or lettuce, not too much activity and not too much rest."

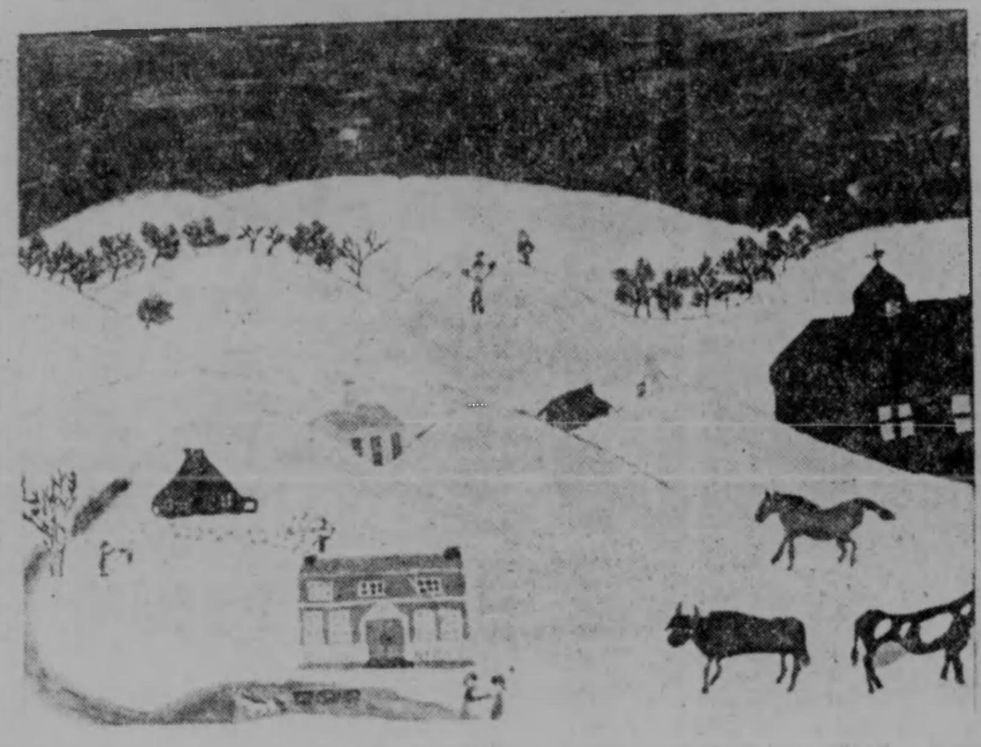
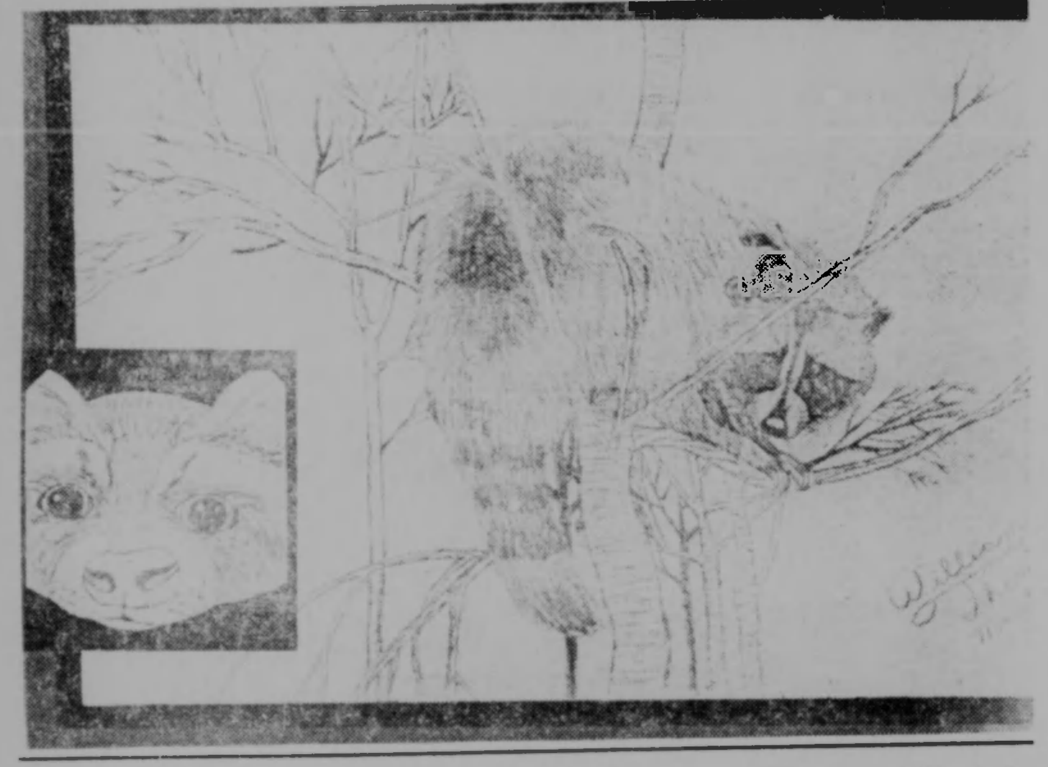
MARYLAND FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS YOUTH ART SHOW WINNERS — The Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs annually sponsor a Youth Art Show. For the first time, the Civic Club of Oakland sponsored works of art by area youth in the district and state contests. Dawn Scheffel, president, took 12 works of art to the Western District Art Show. Four of those art works received prizes or honorable mentions. An oil fireman scene, pictured above immediate right, by James Fether, a senior at Southern High School, won first prize. Watercolor flowers, far right, by Tracey Humberson, a sophomore at Southern High School, won third prize. Honorable Mention awards were given to Sharon Lewis, a sophomore at Southern High School, for her tempra winter scene below and William Thomas, a seventh grader at Southern Middle School, for his pencil drawing of a raccoon, right. Others participating in the district show were: Wendy Brode, a seventh grader at Northern Middle School; Yolanda Walkling, an eighth grader at Southern Middle School; Heather Savage, a sophomore at Southern High School; Ashley Carr, a senior at Southern High School; Renee Warnick, a junior at Northern High School, and Beth Zimmerman, a junior at Southern High School. James Feather's fireman scene went on to compete in the Maryland Youth Art Contest and placed second, earning James a $100 prize. James is pictured above, center, receiving his check from Dawn Scheffel, with his art instructor, Sonia Pratt, standing by. The art teachers involved were: Linda Reeves and Sonia Pratt, both of Southern High School; Ralph Miller, Northern Middle School; Maggie Pratt, Northern High School; and Marcette Danner, Southern Middle School.





New Applications For Surplus Food Being Accepted

The Garrett County Community Action Committee announced this week it is accepting new applications for the Surplus Commodity Program. The next distribution is scheduled for Mid-June.

Households that received commodity cards for the December 1984 or March 1985 distribution do not need to reapply. Also, households that have received energy assistance from Community Action during the past winter do not have to apply. A card will automatically be sent to the households.

Applications will be taken at the Community Action Office in Oakland, Monday-Friday, between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., and at the Gateway Office in the Jennings Community Center on Tuesdays and Wednesdays between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Also, a representative from Community Action will be at Bull's Restaurant, Route 135, near Bloomington, on Thursday, May 16, between 12:30 and 2:30 p.m. to take applications.

The deadline for applications is May 29. Eligibility is based upon total household income and size.

Senate Mass Mail Records To Be Made Public

The Senate Rules Committee has approved five amendments to the regulations governing mass mail, including a proposal by Committee Chairman Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. (R-Md.) to provide public disclosure of the volume and costs of mass mailings for each senator.

Majority Leader Robert Dole proposed the other four amendments. They are:

—to raise minimum paper allowance for each senator from 1.2 to 1.8 million sheets per year;

—to exempt paper used for "dear friend" letters or post cards in response to an organized mail campaign from being charged to paper allowance;

—to authorize general use of postal patron mail for newsletters;

—to exempt card stock used for town meeting notices where a senator would be appearing from being charged to paper allowance.

It was estimated that the costs of additional paper allowance would be a maximum of $2.1 million per year.

The provision on cost and volume disclosure of mass mail will go into effect July 1, 1985. The other amendments are effective immediately.

Brides, Others Need New Social Security Card

Brides, along with anyone else who had a recent name change, should contact the Cumberland Social Security Office to arrange to have their names changed in Social Security records and to apply for a new Social Security card showing their new name, Elaine Watson, Social Security district manager in Cumberland, said recently.

As with all Social Security matters, there is no charge for this service.

"Unless the bride plans to continue using her maiden name after marriage, Social Security records should be changed so that any earnings she may have are propertly reported to the correct record." Ms. Watson said.

To apply for a new Social Security card, which will show the bride's new name but the old Social Security number, she should submit evidence showing her old and new names; a marriage license, for example.

Only original documents or copies certified by the issuing agency are acceptable. Uncertified photocopies are not acceptable.

After acceptable evidence is submitted, it will take about two weeks to issue the new Social Security card, Ms. Watson said.

More information about applying for a Social Security number can be obtained at the Cumberland Social Security office, located at the Country Club mall. The telephone number is 729-3232.

Body Language Workshop Slated By New Horizons

A free workshop entitled "Body Language-The Unspoken Language" will be sponsored by the New Horizons Program of Garrett Community College on Wednesday, May 15, from 10 a.m. to noon at the Oakland Center of GCC in Room 603. The workshop will be conducted by David Rockwood, pastor of the Bittinger Lutheran Church, and Jean Sweitzer, administrative assistant of the New Horizons Program.

This workshop will explore the non-verbal ways in which persons communicate, focusing on the affect such non-verbal messages have on interpersonal relationships with others as well as on job interviews and employment situations.

The workship is free and is open to the public. To preregister interested persons may may call New Horizons at 334-9184 weekdays between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

APPLYING FOR SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS

Millions of dollars in legitimate benefits are lost or delayed each year because people either didn't know they were eligible or didn't know how to apply. This is oftentimes the case with Social Security Survivors' benefits.

When someone who is covered by Social Security dies, qualifying survivors should apply as quickly as possible for benefits at the nearest Social Security office. At that time, the following documents should be presented: your Social Security number; Social Security number of the deceased; proof of your age; proof of relationship to the deceased, such as a marriage certificate; proof of death of the insured, such as a death certificate; and if the deceased was self-employed, a copy of his or her last filed income tax forms.

In addition, the Social Security Administration may require other documents, such as proof of disability or of school attendance, depending upon the exact nature of your claim.

GNB Bankshares Notes Election Of Board, Officers

Stockholders of GNB Bankshares, Inc., held their annual meeting on Thursday, April 25 and re-elected ten directors to serve until the next annual meeting. The stockholders of Garrett National Bank, a wholly owned subsidiary of GNB Bankshares, Inc., also met and all 10 directors of GNB Bankshares were re-elected to serve as directors of Garrett National Bank. Approximately 72% of the total shares outstanding were represented at the meeting, by proxy or in person.

A review of the activities and results of 1984 was presented by officers George W. Evans and David W. Cathell. It was noted in this review that the bank's assets grew by 7.5 million, or almost 9% in 1984, bringing the total growth for the last two years to almost 19%. Income for 1984 was $928,630 or $4.76 per share, well above the average earnings per share for the past five-year period ending with 1984. Total dividends paid for 1984 totaled $399,781, or $2.05 per share, as compared with $2.00 per share or $390,030 in 1983. Renovation performed at the Bloomington branch office was reviewed as well as upgrading of the bank's computer capabilities to provide faster, more efficient customer service.

Chairman of the Board, James H. Feaster, Jr., M.D. commented on the completion of the formation of GNB Bankshares, Inc., and noted that this reorganization would allow the flexibility necessary for the corporation to meet the challenges presented by the rapidly changing financial services industry." He also reviewed the bank's progress on a new branch location at Deep Creek Lake and the installation of automatic teller machines to provide modern convenience banking to customers.

Reelected as directors of GNB Bankshares, Inc. were: Milford E. Beckman, president, Garrett National Bank; Carl DelSignore, chief executive officer, Buffalo Coal Co., Inc.; Richard S. Devlin, president, Devlin, Inc.; James H. Feaster, Jr., M.D., chairman of the Board of Garrett National Bank and physician; Thomas J. Johnson, director, Rosedale Coal Co., Inc.; Thomas D. Jones, director, Garrett County Economic Development Corporation; Thomas D. Kight, president, Kight's Insurance, Inc.; Max A. Messenger, president, Daugherty Coal Co., Inc.; Arthur Naylor, president, A.D. Naylor and Co., Inc.; and W. Dwight Stover, attorney-at-law.

A reorganization meeting was held immediately following the stockholders' meeting at which the directors elected the following officers of GNB Bankshares, Inc.: James H. Story Of The Yough River Told By Tim Palmer

People from all over the United States, about 150,000 per year, come to run the rapids of the Youghiogheny River at Ohiopyle, Pa., while others simply enjoy the natural beauty of Ohiopyle State Park.

In "Youghiogheny: Appalachian River," Tim Palmer explores the river by canoe, raft, van, and on foot, from its origin as a spring in West Virginia to its muddy end at McKeesport, Pa. He writes about the people, afternoon visitors and eighth-generation natives, and about their pasts and their hopes, about the shaping of the land, and the land's inevitable shaping of them.

In his book, Palmer captured the essence of the mountains, the people, and the river. From Eagle Rock, on Backbone Mountain, Palmer describes Garrett County as, "the tip of western Maryland, a part that is geographically, economically, and culturally a part of West Virginia or southern Pennsylvania; more coal mines than horse farms, more food stamps than dividend checks, more chewing tobacco than Virginia Slims; deer rifles, not duck hunters' shotguns. This is remote Garrett County, Maryland's equivalent to Alaska."

Palmer interviewed residents of Sang Run and Friendsville who remember when the Youghiogheny Corridor was being established in the early seventies, and the controversy that surrounded it. They talked about the beauty of the river, its past and its future, and Palmer describes his raft journey from Sang Run to Friendsville.

He chronicles the rise of the five Ohiopyle rafting companies that host visitors each year and then Palmer takes the reader on one of these outfitted voyages. Finally, Palmer paddles beyond the Appalachians to the river's urban end near Pittsburgh, Pa. Strip mining, land development, and recreation management are examined with a consciousness that asks, "What will happen to this remarkable but threatened place?"

Tim Palmer, a native of Beaver, Pa., is a writer and photographer who has explored America from Alaska to Florida. His other books are "Rivers of Pennsylvania" and "Stanislaus: The Struggle For A River."

"Youghiogheny" is illustrated with maps and sixty photographs. Copies of "Youghiogheny" are available at The Book Mark'et in Oakland.

Frostburg State Commencement Set For May 19

Frostburg State College has announced that it will confer 454 degrees at its 86th Commencement Ceremonies scheduled for Sunday, May 19.

The College's Spring Commencement Weekend begins Saturday, May 18, with the President's Reception for the degree candidates and their families to be held at the Lane Center beginning at 8 p.m.

Sunday's events include ROTC Commissioning Ceremonies at 10 a.m. at Pullen Auditorium, a Commencement Brunch honoring 50-year graduates and John Allison Senior Award winners at 11:30 a.m. at the Lane Center, the luncheon for seniors and their families at Chesapeake Hall from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., and the Commencement Ceremonies at the Physical Education Center at 2:30 p.m.

Dr. Nelson P. Guild, president of the College, will deliver the Commencement address, and presentation of degrees will be made by members of the Board of Trustees of the State Universities and Colleges.

Dr. Alice R. Manicur, vice president for student affairs and dean of students, will recognize returning members of the Class of 1935, and Dr. Ronald P. Kealy, dean of the school of professional studies, will present the annual R. Bowen Hardesty Award for excellence in the graduate program in education.

Dr. Kenneth Jablon, vice president for academic affairs, will present the annual Faculty Achievement Awards.

The opening prayer and benediction will be offered by Rabbi Edwin Schoffmann of the B'er Chayim and Beth Jacob Congregations of Cumberland.

Music for the Ceremonies will be provided by the Commencement Ensemble under the direction of Robert H. Hearson.

Miss Elizabeth Mae Mulford, a graduating senior from Galena, Md., will lead the singing of the National Anthem and alma mater.

Local Students Among Potomac State Honorees

The 45th annual Recognition Day at Potomac State College, sponsored by the campus honor society Sigma Phi Omega, was held April 30 in the Church-McKee Arts Center auditorium. Campus leaders in academics, athletics and citizenship, including some students from the local area, were presented awards by Potomac State faculty and administration.

After opening selections by the Jazz Ensemble under the direction of Dr. Charles D. Whitehill, Richard Taylor, president of the honor society, presented an introduction to the ceremony and described the purpose of the organization.

The following local students were presented certificates by Professor Jack M. Hartman for being named to "Who's Who in American Junior Colleges:" Lisa D. Fike and LuAnn Gregg, Oakland, and Arlene K. Roth, Horse Shoe Run.

The Agriculture Club Award and Scholarship was presented by Professor Don S. Starcher to Lyvonne Harsh, Horse Shoe Run.

Arlene Roth was named the winner of the Computer Programming Technology Award by Professor James M. Hoey and also the McPherson Citizenship Award by Dr. Peter L. Paulson. Miss Roth also received a Circle K Scholastic Achievement Award and was awarded Honorable Mention in the Outstanding Student Award Winner category.

Increase In Local Flood Insurance Coverage Noted

As of June 5, 1985, limits of flood insurance coverage have been increased for residents of Garrett County. The change, a result of conversion to the Regular Phase of the National Flood Insurance Program, was announced by Paul F. Giordano, Director, Region III, of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

As a result of recent adoption, by elected officials, of measures to safeguard property from flooding, expanded limits of coverage are made possible. Where previously only $35,000 of coverage was available for a home, now $185,000 coverage may be purchased. Increases in contents coverages from a previous $10,000 to a present $60,000 are also available. Coverage increases for small business and other classes of structures are also obtainable.

Information on rates and amounts of insurance available may be obtained from any licensed property and casualty insurance agent. During the first 30 days after conversion to the regular program, coverage will become effective the day following application, whereas normally there is a five-day waiting period. There are beneficial exceptions to this rule which should be discussed with an insurance agent. Maps showing the floodprone areas may be examined by interested individuals upon request to their local government official.

Census Bureau Slates Survey

The Census Bureau will visit Garrett County May 20-25, to collect unemployment and other data on the workforce, according to James Holmes, director of the Census Bureau's Philadelphia regional office.

The unemployment data will contribute to May's national picture to be released June 7 by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

In addition, data on work schedules, dual job holding and premium pay are being gathered. These data will provide estimates on the number of people involved in alternate work patterns, reasons for holding more than one job, extent of overtime work, and the impact of premium pay on the economy.

Information supplied by individuals is kept confidential by law, Holmes said.

Ronald C. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Moses C. Miller, Rt. 4, Deer Park, has enlisted in the U.S. Army Delayed Entry Program. Miller is currently a senior at Southern High School and works parttime at Naylor's Hardware Store in Oakland.

Miller enlisted in the Supply and Service Field where he has a job as an equipment records and parts specialist. He will receive a guaranteed cash bonus of $2,500 upon completion of his advanced individual training in the supply field.

While Miller is on active duty he will be able to continue his education by attending college and the Army will pay 75% of tuition costs. He also qualified for the Army College Fund, which will entitle him to over $25,000 for college upon completion of his enlistment. His training in the Army will give him college credits which he can apply to the college of his choice.

Miller will depart in August for basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and will receive advanced training at Ft. Lee, Va.

John P. Agnew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Agnew, Star Rt., Mount Storm, W.Va., has enlisted in the U.S. Army Delayed Entry Program. Agnew is currently a senior at Union High School and South Branch Vo-Tech in Petersburg, W.Va.

Agnew enlisted in the mechanical maintenance field where he has a guaranteed job as a heavy-wheeled vehicle (diesel) mechanic.

While Agnew is on active duty, he will be able to continue his education by attending college or vocational schools and the Army will pay 75% of tuition costs. His Army training will give him college credits which he can apply to the college of his choice.

Agnew will depart in September for basic training and advanced training at Fort Jackson, S.C.

Donald Lee Wolf, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wolf, Sr., Route 2, Oakland, has joined the United States Navy Delayed Entry Program and will begin Recruit Training at Orlando, Fla., in August of this year.

After basic, he will attend Cryptologic Technician School for 19 weeks of individualized instruction in typing, Morse code, security procedures and equipment, analyzing and reporting classified materials, and operation of electronic communication equipment. Following this, he will be assigned duty within the World-wide Naval Communication Network in the United States or overseas. Stations overseas include Guam, Japan, United Kingdom, Europe, Puerto Rico, and several others.

Wolf is a 1983 graduate of Southern High School. He will be graduated this May from Garrett Community College with an associate of arts degree in business.

John Eugene Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Nelson, Mt. Lake Park, has joined the United States Navy Delayed Entry Program and is slated to begin basic training at Great Lakes Naval Center near Chicago this July.

Following basic training he will begin a series of schools for advanced training in the nuclear engineering field. This will consist of nearly three years of formal experience-based training. His studies will include classes in basic math, physics, chemistry, heat transfer and fluid flow, reactor principles, reactor plant technology, radiological fundamentals, and other subjects related to atomic energy. He will receive hands-on training at an operational prototype plant, at one of three locations New York, Idaho or Connecticut.

Upon completion of this training, Nelson will be assigned duty on an atomicpowered surface vessel or submarine, where he will receive an additional year of instruction for qualification as a reactor plant operator.

Nelson is a varsity baseball player and a senior at Southern High School.

Airman Paul D. Harvey, grandson of Arvillia Brady, and son of Marylou Harvey, both of Oakland, has completed Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

The airman, who is remaining at Lackland for specialized training in the security police field, studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

Completion of this training earned the individual credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

He is a 1983 graduate of Southern High School.

David Vaughn Tressler, son of Mr. and Mrs. George White, Route 1, Oakland, recently joined the United States Navy Delayed Entry Program and will begin active duty at Great Lakes Naval Training Center near Chicago in June of this year.

Upon graduation from basic, he will begin training lasting for nearly three years, beginning with technical school at Great Lakes from six to 22 weeks. Here he will receive training in one of four technical areas related to the nuclear engineering field. After completing this school, he will attend a mathematics course for six weeks in Orlando, Florida, followed by 24 weeks of instruction in physics, chemistry, heat transfer and fluid flow, reactor principles, reactor plant technology, radiological fundamentals, and other subjects related to nuclear energy.

He will then attend one of the Navy's three land-based prototype facilities in Idaho, New York or Connecticut, where he will receive hands-on training with an operational nuclear power plant. Following this, he will be designated for duty on one of the Navy's nuclear-powered surface vessels or submarines for an additional year of supervised instruction for qualification as a reactor plant operator.

Tressler is a 1983 graduate of Southern High School. He also attended Garrett Community College.

Morgan Franklin Uphold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Uphold, Route 1, Oakland, has joined the United States Navy Delayed Entry Program and is slated to begin basic training in June at Great Lakes Naval Center near Chicago.

Following basic, he will attend technical school for six to 22 weeks of training in one of four technical areas related to atomic energy. He will then be transferred to Orlando, Fla., for six weeks of mathematics school and 24 weeks of Basic Nuclear Power Training. Here he will receive instruction on the theory and fundamentals of atomic energy, including courses in physics, chemistry, heat transfer and fluid flow, reactor principles, reactor plant technology, radiological fundamentals, and other subjects related to atomic energy.

He will then attend a nuclear prototype facility for hands-on training with a nuclear power plant for 26 weeks at New York, Idaho, or Connecticut. After graduating from the prototype facility, he will be assigned duty aboard one of the Navy's nurclear-powered surface vessels or submarines for an additional year of supervised instruction for qualification as a reactor plant operator.

Uphold is a 1983 graduate of Southern High School. He is presently attending Garrett Community College, where he is majoring in accounting.

Ban On DTP Booster Shots Lifted By State

The temporary ban on booster shots for DTP, a triple vaccine that protects children against diphtheria, tetanus, and whooping cough has now been lifted, announced officials of the State Department of Health and Mental Hygiene.

Since December, 1984, a shortage of the DTP vaccine made it necessary to postpone booster shots for older children, as physicians and local health departments conserved their supplies for babies. Under normal circumstances, babies are vaccinated, then receive booster shots at 18 months of age, and again between the ages of four and six.

According to Dr. Feng-Ying C. Lin, of the Office of Disease Control and Epidemiology, whooping cought is most dangerous in young infants. However, she said, older children need to be protected as well, and can now resume booster shots.

Under Maryland law, children must be fully immunized to attend school or day care. The requirements for DTP boosters was suspended during the vaccine shortage, but goes back into effect September 1, 1985. Dr. Lin advises parents whose children did not receive their DTP boosters during the shortage to make appointments for them now.

"On September 1, we will once again require the full number of doses of DTP vaccine recommended for new school enterers and children attending day care," said Dr. Lin.

She commended the medical community for its cooperation during the shortage. "Most private doctors did postpone the boosters," Dr. Lin pointed out. "If they had not, some babies might not have been able to get their primary doses."

Three Honored At Annual Lincoln Day GOP Dinner

The annual Lincoln Day Dinner, sponsored by the Garrett County Republican State Central Committee, was held April 27 at the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department with some 200 persons in attendance.

The guest speaker, Harold Hunter, U.S. Department of Agriculture, administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration, encouraged citizens to support President Reagan's policies on cutting the budget and other key issues.

The Honorable Lewis R. Jones served as master of ceremonics for the 13th annual dinner. He introduced several distinguished guests who included: Robert Taylor, Maryland National Committeeman; Helen Chamberlain, Maryland National Committeewoman; and Thomas Chamberlain, member, Maryland House of Delegates, Baltimore County.

Following the dinner, awards were presented to three outstanding Republican party workers. Cora Bowser, District Chairman of Accident, was presented a plaque by Susan Crawford, for her outstanding efforts as a co-chairman. A plaque was presented to Kenneth Savage, District Chairman of Friendsville, by Senator John N. Bambacus, for work as an outstanding co-chairman. The Republican of the Year award was presented to Cleda Baker by Delegate George C. Edwards, House of Delegates.

Open House Slated For Senior Citizens

Senior citizens throughout Garrett County are invited to an "Open House" on May 20 at the Oakland Senior Citizen Center located at 104 East Center Street in Oakland. The Open House is sponsored by the Area Agency on Aging in recognition of "Older Americans Month."

The theme for Older Americans Month is "Help Yourself to Independence," and, while attending the Open House, persons will be able to view some of the arts and crafts made by senior citizens throughout the county.

"Senior citizens and other members of the community are a vital part of the daily operations of 13 nutrition sites located throughout Garrett County. In honor of their dedication to such an important program, the Area Agency on Aging will set aside a portion of the day to recognize their efforts," stated an Agency spokesman.

As well as craft displays, various information pamphlets will be available covering numerous topics of interest to senior citizens.

Light refreshments will be available during the day and the staff will be available to answer questions persons may have concerning the entire program.

False Report Of Assault Charged Against Woman

A Mtn. Lake Park woman has been charged with falsely reporting a crime to the Maryland State Police, McHenry detachment.

Diana Renee VanMeter, 18, 402 Spruce Street, was served with a summons last week charging her with false reporting of a crime.

A criminal summons was obtained by Cpl. Gary Berkebile.

The young woman allegedly reported on March 2 that she had been assaulted and injured by someone in the Mtn. Lake Park area.

Youth For Christ Note Beginning Of Fund Raiser

The Board of Directors of Mt. Top Youth for Christ announce the beginning of the organization's 13th annual spring fundraising effort, which will again take the form of a Telethon. The dates for the drive are May 20-29, during which time all participants—staff members, students, and other volunteers—will conduct a personal and telephone canvassing effort, attempting to obtain sponsoring pledges of financial support and be available to share information about the ministry of Youth for Christ.

All three Campus Life clubs from Southern, Northern, and Salisbury high schools will be participating. As an incentive and reward for student and staff participation, four categories of involvement are offered: a Prize Plan, a Group Plan, a College Scholarship Plan, and a Campus Life Activity Plan. More information on each of these is available from the YFC Office or from any Campus Life staff persons or members.

Participants in the telethon will request a pledge of support. Checks should be made out to Mt. Top Youth for Christ, Inc. Telethon volunteers will collect their pledges or make arrangements for them to be mailed to the YFC Office, P.O. Box 286, Oakland.

Mt. Top Youth for Christ is a non-denominational youth ministry organization for high school students. The program includes Campus Life clubs, a Christian counseling service, and a full schedule of summer options for high school students, such as camps and other outings. The ministry operates under the authority of a local board of directors. The program is conducted by adult members of the professional and associate staff. The local chapter is chartered by the Youth for Christ USA organization, based in Wheaton, Ill.

Mt. Top YFC receives no funding of any kind from government agencies or religious groups other than the local churches who support the program as part of their mission efforts. The entire budget of Youth for Christ is raised through contributions and various fund raising activities.

Insight Into Education

This article was written by Dr. Jerome J. Ryscavage, Superintendent of Schools.

INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Approximately two months ago the Annual Report for the Public Schools of Garrett County, Year Ending June 30, 1984 was distributed in the county schools and elsewhere. As part of the report the Garrett County Board of Education suggested that a short survey be included which, if completed, might assist in determining how the Garrett County community felt about information concerning the public schools.

Of the several thousand surveys which were distributed, 105 members of the community took the time to return them. Although certainly not a large response, school administrators feel that the response may represent a relatively fair view of the community-at-large. Because of this feeling, we want to share some of the responses as well as concerns raised.

Approximately two-thirds of those responding feel that they have an average knowledge of the public schools in this county. Their primary source of this knowledge comes from the newspapers, school newsletters, and the radio, in that order.

Somewhat surprisingly, these sources of information over-ranked word-of-mouth from students themselves. The Annual Report document itself was considered to be an important piece of information as well as a worthwhile expenditure of funds.

Respondents, perhaps expectedly, felt most strongly interested in information concerning student performance, with the information on finance ranking second in importance. Lastly, it was overwhelmingly felt that the series of articles which have been published through this newpaper should be continued next year.

A wide range of suggestions for future articles was given by the respondents. Some of these suggestions such as more information about the after-school recreation program have already been followed up while other suggestions such as articles on school bus policies and the Board of Education-employee organizations negotiations process will be discussed in the next two articles to appear in this newspaper. Several other suggestions such as the spotlighting of individual schools may be followed up in next year's series of articles.

Many, many other good thoughts were given concerning a vast array of subjects from those of a personal nature such as thanks for a good job done with a particular student to those of a critical nature such as a concern over a reported incident of green hot dogs. Several comments concerning the financing of the public schools clustered into two areas: (1) Do some schools get less than others?, and (2) What are "other" funds?

The answer to the first question is yes—some schools do get more than others. Although it is the intention of the school board to equalize funding and teacher loads from school to school, the teacher-to-student ratio varied for 1983-84 from a low of 20.4 students to each teacher at one elementary school to a high of 25.5 students to each teacher at another elementary school. All other elementary schools fell somewhere between these two extremes.

At the middle school level the student-to-teacher ratio at one middle school was 22.9 to 1 (Northern Middle) while at the other it was 26.1 to 1 (Southern Middle). Likewise, at the high schools the student-to-teacher ratio varied from 20.6 to 1 at Northern High to 23.3 to 1 at Southern High.

The reasons for this variation are many, including: (1) the size of the total student body—i.e., to provide equal service to all schools the smaller schools may need more staff to accomplish the same objective as a larger school, (2) special state and federal funds may be used only at certain schools and not all schools, and (3) certain types of programs (e.g., special education) cannot, by law, accommodate as many students as regular programs, which would tend to imbalance ratios among schools.

Although the factor of student-teacher ratios probably contributes most to inequalities among schools, other factors also contribute. For instance, the cost of operating a school (i.e., heating, lighting, water/sewer) varies due to its heat source, construction of the building, and site location. Another factor which contributes to inequalities of expenditures among schools is the age of the building in that older buildings typically require more in the way of maintenance such as repairs to roofs, upgrading of life-safety code violations, and the repairs associated with buildings under continued use for long periods of time.

The term, "other" funds, as used in the Annual Report, was used in two contexts. First, it referred to "all other expenses" in the FY 1984 budget, which amounted to one percent of the total expenditures. These expenditures were made for three purposes: (1) to fund the office of pupil personnel services which functions as a resource to students, teachers, counselors, principals, parents, and community agencies in working with the needs and problems of individual children, (2) health services of a minimal nature for children, and (3) the provision of food services for certain children in residence at Camp Hickory, the Board of Education's outdoor environmental education center.

Second, the Annual Report referred to "other funds" in terms of revenue. These "other funds" represented 3.2 percent of the FY 1981 budget and included receipts such as those obtained from tuition-paying students, the sale of equipment considered surplus to the needs of the Board of Education, interest earned in short-term accounts, funds received for use of Board of Education transportation equipment, and finally, revenue sharing funds provided from the federal government through the Garrett County Commissioners.

Should you want a copy of the Annual Report for the Public Schools of Garrett County, it is available free of cost from your public library or the office of the Superintendent of Schools.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Cornelius Ray Friend, who passed away May 10, 1965, and son and brother, John Lewis Friend, who passed away May 9, 1982.

No one knows the heartaches. Only those who have lost can tell, the grief we bear in silence for the ones we loved so well.

Loving and kind in all their ways; upright and true until the end of their days. It was a sad day when God called them away.

But I hope some day where heaven may be, that they will be standing at the door up there to welcome me.

Sadly missed by wife, mother, son, brother, daughter-in-law,
sister-in-law, granddaughter and niece

HEALTHY MOTHERS/ HEALTHY BABIES

The following article was submitted through the Garrett County Health Department by the local Women, Infants and Children (WIC) Program.

SMOKING: NO BETTER TIME TO QUIT

Most people who smoke know that cigarettes can be bad for their health—and they're reminded by the message on every pack they buy. Some smokers, though, think smoking may hurt other people but won't hurt them. Others say they plan to quit—some—day—or would like to quit now, but just can't.

If you still smoke, now that you're pregnant, you should think hard about some reasons why there's never been a better time to stop.

You already know you're eating for two, but do you know you're smoking for two as well? It's true, and nicotine and carbon monoxide from the cigarette smoke you inhale can have harmful effects on your unborn child.

Nicotine makes your blood vessels grow smaller when you smoke. This change in the size of these vessels cuts down on the amount of oxygen and nourishment they can carry to your baby. Carbon monoxide acts in a different way, by limiting the amount of oxygen your blood can carry. When you get less, your baby gets less too.

Because each cigarette takes away a little oxygen and a little nourishment the baby would otherwise have, babies born to mothers who smoke during pregnancy often weigh less and are less well developed than babies of mothers who don't. And for babies who are born too small, the first hours of life can be very hard, even with the best medical care. Low weight at birth, in fact, is a factor in two thirds of all infant deaths.

The fact that a woman smokes during pregnancy doesn't mean that her baby is sure to be born too small or develop problems later. But it does mean that the risks for the baby are greater—especially if the mother smokes during the last 6 months of pregnancy, when the baby ought to be growing fastest. You should know, too, that women who smoke while they're pregnant are more likely than nonsmokers to have a miscarriage, give birth prematurely, or have a stillborn child.

Luckily, if you stop smoking as soon as you know you're pregnant, you and your baby will begin to benefit almost at once. And if you quit no later than the beginning of your fourth month of pregnancy, the risk that your baby will weigh less at birth than he or she should is about the same as that for a nonsmoker.

HOW CAN I QUIT? Maybe it won't be as hard as you think. Some women find that smoking just doesn't taste as good in pregnancy, or even makes them sick. If you're not that lucky, here some ideas that may help:

•Set a date when you will quit completely—then do it.

•Tell your family and friends the date you plan to quit. Maybe some of them will quit with you. In any case, they can cheer you on and help you resist temptation.

•Instead of thinking about how much you'll miss cigarettes, think of the pluses you'll gain from not smoking; your baby's health and your own; money saved; better-smelling house and clothes—even whiter teeth.

•Think ahead. Try to develop a number of tactics you can use to fight the urge to smoke. Plan plenty of activities to keep you busy, including daily exercise. Think of things you can do with your hands—perhaps knitting, crocheting, or sewing for your baby. Figure out things you can substitute for smoking, like munching a carrot stick or sucking on a straw, when you yearn for the feel of a cigarette in your mouth.

•On your quitting date, get rid of all cigarettes, matches, and ashtrays. If you leave them around the house, the temptation to use them may be too strong.

•If you fail the first time you try to quit, don't be discouraged—try again, and if necessary yet again. Lots of people who don't smoke now had to try to quit more than once, but they finally managed it, and so can you.

•If you need aid in quitting, call your local American Lung Association or American Cancer Society. They can help you.

Remember that there's no worse time to smoke—and no better time to quit—than when you're pregnant. For your baby's sake and yours, do it now.

GARRETT COUNTY MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Health Lines...

May has been designated high blood pressure month throughout the nation and as part of the observance Garrett County Memorial Hospital has provided the following article.

WHAT IS HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE?

High blood pressure is a condition in which a person's blood pressure becomes too high and stays there. Blood pressure normally goes up and down during the day, depending on a person's activities. The problem occurs when blood pressure stays too high.

About one in four Americans has high blood pressure. It is a dangerous disease if untreated because it can lead silently but directly to crippling or deadly events—heart attack, stroke, and kidney failure. High blood pressure is especially dangerous because it has no outward signs. A person can have it and not even know. It rarely produces symptoms. It does not hurt, and it rarely causes dizziness, nervousness, or headaches. As a result, many people live with high blood pressure for years without knowing it, but they still suffer the physical effects.

It is very important for people to have a regular blood pressure checkup and, if it is high, to follow the prescribed treatment. Along with drugs, salt reduction, weight loss for the overweight, and exercise are among the most important ways to treat high blood pressure.

GOOD HEALTH HABITS HELP YOU BEAT THE ODDS

What do uncontrolled high blood pressure, high blood cholesterol, and smoking have in common? They all increase your chances of getting heart disease.

And don't forget: excessive salt consumption and heavy drinking may contribute to your chances of having high blood pressure. But you can reduce your odds by losing excess weight, quitting smoking, reducing salt consumption, and controlling your blood pressure.

How much? The answer is different for each person. Your doctor can tell you how big a chance you may be taking with your health by not controlling risks that can be modified or eliminated.

How many risks are you willing to try to reduce? Talk with your doctor about changing everyday habits to help you beat the odds. Then decide which change you are able to make first, and begin immediately.

SALT AND YOUR BLOOD PRESSURE

Research shows that some people can lower their high blood pressure by cutting down on their salt intake. Table salt is a compound made up of sodium and chloride. It is the sodium in salt that causes the problem. Most of us consume much more than we need. If you are having a problem with your blood pressure, your doctor may prescribe pills or ask you to cut down on your salt consumption. To reduce your sodium intake, you can eliminate table salt from your diet and avoid prepared and canned foods. Ask your doctor or dietitian for more specific ways to cut down on salt intake.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE IS A FAMILY AFFAIR

Doctors have found that there is a chance of more than one member of a family having hypertension. Family members will benefit if they learn early on how to deal with high blood pressure, watch their own weight, cut back on salt, and get more exercise. As they help you treat your high blood pressure, they will help themselves.

Give your family members things to do to help them help you control your high blood pressure. Your doctor or nurse can tell you how to measure blood pressure and record readings on a chart. A family member might be asked to remind you to take daily medication. Family members also can help with pill refills, doctor visits, and getting help from other health workers like educators, nutritionists, or dietitians.

Friends can help, too. Changes your doctor asks you to make—such as reducing your weight, using less salt, exercising more, or smoking less—effect activities often done among friends. Tell a friend you need help following your doctor's advice.

Elk Garden Grad To Attend A-B

Barbara Ellen Braithwaite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Braithwaite, Elk Garden, W.Va., has been accepted at Alderson-Broaddus College, Philippi, W.Va., for the 1985-86 fall term.

She will be a 1985 graduate of Elk Garden High School, where she has been a member of the band, chorus, pep club and yearbook staff. She participated in girls basketball, was statistician for varsity football, freshman and junior varsity basketball teams. She is also a tutor and the salutatorian of her graduating class.

Miss Braithwaite will also be a 1985 graduate of Mineral County Vocational Technical Center in the Health Assistant Program, under the direction of Sue Ann Spotts, R.N. She is receiving clinical training at Heartland Nursing Home in Keyser, W.Va.

She attends Elk Garden Assembly of God where she is the secretary-treasurer of the youth group, and also assistant teacher for the nursery class.

Barbara plans to major in the nursing program at Alderson-Broaddus. She attended that college in the summer of 1984, taking pre-nursing courses.

Alderson-Broaddus is a four-year accredited liberal arts and science college located in the foothills of north central West Virginia. The college had the first baccalaureate degree program in West Virginia.

Farming in Maryland

Growers Harvest 49,000 Acres Of Vegetables In '84

Maryland growers harvested almost 49,000 acres of vegetables, sweet corn, strawberries and melons during 1984.

Sweet corn accounted for the largest acreage. There were 16,900 acres of this crop harvested in the state compared with 16,500 acres in 1983. The production of sweet corn grown in Maryland for the fresh market during 1984 totaled 533,000 hundredweight, 56 percent more than the 1983 production. Growers produced 48,640 tons of sweet corn for processing in 1984. This output is up 52 percent from 1983. In terms of the number of ears, it's over 186 million. There were 8,600 acres of sweet corn harvested for the fresh market and 8,300 acres were harvested for processing. Average yields were up substantially from the previous year.

The tomato harvest in Maryland during 1984 totaled 288,000 hundredweight harvested for the fresh market and 52,580 tons for processing. The acreage of tomatoes harvested was off by 400 acres from 1983, but fresh market production was up 14 percent and processing production increased 49 percent from the previous year. Average yields per acre for both fresh market and processing tomatoes were up from 1983.

The output of green peas totaled 4,080 tons for processing and 2,000 hundredweight grown for the fresh market. Forty-eight hundred acres of cucumbers were harvested in Maryland during 1984. The acreage for processing accounted for nearly three quarters of the acreage. With few exceptions the average yields of vegetables produced in 1984 were larger than the yields of 1983.

Commercial strawberry growers harvested 3[illegible],000 hundredweight, or 1.6 million quarts of this fruit in 1984. Strawberries yielded an average of 65 hundredweight and the area harvested was 490 acres.

Polled Hereford Sale To Be Held Saturday, May 11

The Mason-Dixon Polled Hereford Association will hold a spring show and sale at the Garrett County Fairgrounds, in McHenry, on Saturday, May 11.

The show will start at 10 a.m. with the sale beginning at 1 p.m.

Persons interested in the beef cattle sale may contact Larry Chaikei, secretary, at (412) 529-2347.

Garrett, Allegany Farm Women To Meet Tuesday

The members of the Garrett County Farm Bureau Women's Committee have invited the Allegany County Women's Committee to join them in a combined luncheon meeting at Penn Alps Restaurant near Grantsville on Tuesday, May 14, at 11:30 a.m.

Plans for the day include a pottery making demonstration by Lynn Lais, wool spinning by Bernice Bartholomew, and a wood carving demonstration by Dennis Ruane.

Separate County business meetings will be conducted following the demonstrations.

Cost of the meal is $3.40 per person and all Farm Bureau Women are welcome to attend. Reservations must be made by Saturday, May 11, by calling Donna Glotfelty at 245-4345, or program chairman, Karmen Carey at 689-8114.

Livestock Association Holds Spring Meeting

The spring meeting of the Garrett County Livestock Association was held recently at the Extension Office in Oakland with Lee Shillingburg, president, presiding.

Jean Wright reported that a picture package containing two 5X7-inch color photos and two 3X5-inch color photos is available from Charles Pariseau. It was decided to use the package and divide the cost equally between the livestock association and the exhibitor. A fee of $2.75 will be deducted from the exhibitor's animal check. No money transactions will be conducted at the fair. After making the buyer posters, each exhibitor will receive the remaining photos via their 4-H club leader or FFA advisor.

The committee to purchase livestock scales consisting of Ted Sprangel, Janet Boggess, Harold Loughry, and Bill Wildesen will meet with a committee of fair board members to find a suitable place to install the scales at the fair grounds. Immediately after this meeting the committee will secure help and material to install the scales.

Steer camp will be held at the Garrett County fairgrounds June 7 and 8. Dan Hayes, of Kingwood, will lead a program beginning Saturday at 8 a.m. on steer grooming, fitting and showing. Steer camp is being held along with the District Livestock Show. Exhibitors are responsible for health papers through their individual groups.

MARYLAND FARMERS • PARTNERS WITH THE BAY •

This is the third in a five-part series of articles resulting from a cooperative project between the Maryland Soil Conservation Committee and the Cooperative Extension Service. The articles relate to agriculture management practices and soil conservation and are provided by Shaun Sanders, district manager of the Garrett Soil Conservation District, located in the Garrett County Court House, Oakland. Questions or requests for additional information may be directed to Sanders by calling 334-8339.

WASTE OR RESOURCE: MANAGING ANIMAL WASTES TO PREVENT POLLUTION

Which is a source of pollution to the Chesapeake Bay: A farm or a factory?

Most people would say a factory, but both answers are correct.

According to the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), of the more than 146 million pounds of nitrogen that enters the bay annually between March and October, 67 percent comes from nonpoint (diffuse) sources. Approximately 90 percent of the nonpoint load comes from cropland.

Like their industrial counterparts, many of today's farms are highly specialized. An individual farm may house hundreds of head of cattle or swine, or thousands of chickens.

These meat, milk and egg "factories" produce a staggering amount of by-product in the form of animal waste. This includes the manure, urine and waste milk produced by the animals and the bedding and wash water used to keep their quarters clean.

According to the United States Soil Conservation Service (SCS), over 10 million tons of manure are produced on farms each year in Maryland.

Where does it all go? Most is put back on the land as fertilizer. Applied at recommended rates, that's enough to cover an area the size of Baltimore and Washington, and a six-mile swath in between, with a layer a half-inch thick.

Applied to cropland, animal waste is a resource for the farmer, says Whitey Secor, a resource conservationist for SCS.

It provides nutrients for crops, and improves the physical condition of the soil. It also reduces the need for expensive chemical fertilizers.

Animal waste is a problem when it is improperly handled, he says. Applied on wet or frozen ground, it easily washes off into streams and rivers.

"Animal waste contains nitrogen and phosphorus. If you let it run off or leach into water, it'll cause the same kind of problems as chemical fertilizers," Secor says.

Nutrients like nitrogen and phosphorus do the same thing in water as they do on land—stimulate plant growth. The problem arises from over enrichment, says Dr. William Magette, an agricultural engineer at The University of Maryland.

"The nutrients in animal waste stimulate the growth of algae. When the algae die, bacteria work on the algae to decompose them and, in the process, consume oxygen from the water."

"The dead and living algae cells cause the water to cloud, blocking out the sunlight needed by submerged aquatic vegetation. These are the plants that provide food and habitat for higher level creatures like the blue crab," says Magette.

What can be done to prevent animal waste pollution?

"Proper handling is the key," says Secor. "And that means having a waste management system that handles manure, disposal problems and runoff control."

An animal waste system includes "best management practices" that are tailored to the needs of each farmer. It takes into account the type and number of animals, farm size, feed, crops, equipment and the farmer's budget.

One of the key components to a good waste management system is storage, says Secor.

"Without storage, you're into daily spreading. When farmers do that, they tend to spread on convenient fields, perhaps because they're dry or close to the barn.

"This can overload the soil with nitrogen. Any nitrogen not taken up by the plants will leach down into the groundwater and enter a stream through subsurface flow."

With a storage structure such as a lagoon or pit, the wastes can be stored until conditions are right for disposal.

Storage also saves time and labor by eliminating the hassle of daily hauling and spreading, and saves aggravation during inclement weather.

Like commericial fertilizer, animal wastes should be applied according to plant needs. Nutrient content in manure will vary, depending on the type of animal, kind of feed, type of storage and method of application. Nutrient content can be analyzed by a laboratory, or estimated from standard charts.

Knowing the spreader capacity and the rate of application is also important. This is especially critical with poultry manure, which is very high in nitrogen.

"Disposing of poultry manure is a problem," says Secor, "because spreaders can't be adjusted to apply it at low enough rates."

The best time to apply animal waste to fields is in the spring or fall, when it can be incorporated into the soil for use by the crop.

In fact, says Secor, SCS designs waste structures for a minimum of 180 days of storage. "This gets the farmer through the winter without having to spread on wet or frozen ground when runoff is more likely to occur."

Care should be taken to apply animal waste far enough away from streams to avoid contamination.

Erosion control is another important part of a waste management system, since phosphorus attaches itself to soil particles and enters streams, tied to sediment.

Soil conservation practices such as grass waterways, contour stripcropping, no-till farming, or diversions may be needed to control runoff. Pastures should be fertilized to assure good plant growth to hold soil in place. And animals should be rotated among different fields to prevent overgrazing.

Pollution can also be caused by what Secor calls "direct deposit." This happens when cattle go to a stream for water.

"What goes in one end, comes out the other. That's direct deposit," he explains.

Secor recommends providing alternative watering sources by siphoning water from a natural spring or pond to a watering trough. If a stream must be used, it should be fenced and the open areas protected with stone riprap. This will keep the animals from congregating in the stream and trampling the banks.

Cost is an important consideration in deciding whether to build a waste storage or treatment structure. The average cost of a manure storage structure for a 100-cow herd ranges from $20,000 to $50,000. Although the government offers various cost-share incentives, the farmer has to bear the brunt of the cost.

"Waste storage and treatment structures may not be economically feasible for all farmers," Secor says. "But every farm with animals should have a waste management system. It could be as simple as planting grass filter strips along streams or practicing good soil conservation. It'll pay off in better resource management and water quality."

Farmers Enroll 345,467 Acres In Programs

When the signup period for the 1985 feed grain and wheat programs ended April 1, Maryland farmers had enrolled 36,057 acres of wheat and 309,410 acres of feed grains in the program. Olin S. Davis, Jr., chairman of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said the totals represent 27 percent of the state's eligible wheat base and 53 percent of its eligible feed grain base. The County ASCS Offices began accepting applications for 1985 acreage reduction programs on October 15, 1984. "Farmers who meet the acreage reduction program requirements will be eligible to receive price support loans and target price protection, in addition to land diversion payments for wheat," said Davis.

The 1985 commodity programs call for a 30 percent reduction in wheat and a 10 percent reduction in feed grain acres. As part of 30 percent reduction, wheat program participants will receive payments for diverting 10 percent of their base at a payment rate of $2.70 per bushel. Participants in the

The Weevil is here! I have seen a lot of damage during the last week on Alfalfa. Better check your fields. If there is 50% damage, spray immediately.

Herbicides And Dry Weather?

Rain following application of a pre-emergence herbicide is highly critical for effective performance. Incorporated herbicides are not affected as greatly by limited rainfall but they perform best in soil with good soil moisture. Usually ½ to 1 inch of rainfall after application of a pre-emergence herbicide is ideal. Often there is enough moisture in the soil to germinate the planted crops and to germinate many weed seeds.

However, there may not be sufficient rain to activate the herbicide (move the herbicide into the zone where the weeds are germinating). Under conventional situations, early cultivation with a rotary hoe, rolling cultivator or sweep cultivator removes these weeds while they are still small and shallowly incorporates the herbicides. Otherwise, a postemergence herbicide will have to be used. To date, most herbicides applied have been the triazines (Atrazine, Princep, Bladex) or the acetanilides (Dual & Lasso). Entry into germinating weeds is different with both groups. Triazines are typically root-absorbed, while the acetanilides are typically shoot-absorbed. So, what can we expect if it rains?

Provided one-half to one inch of rainfall occurs, it may be enough to wash the herbicides down in the top one inch or so of soil. If weed emergence has occurred and the roots are in the top one inch of soil, triazine uptake will occur. Eventual yellowing, chorosis and death will occur to the weeds. With larger weeds that have developed roots down two to three inches, death may not occur. You should monitor the corn fields one to two weeks after rainfall to determine if additional control programs such as Bladex 80W postemergence would be necessary.

With Dual and Lasso, problems may occur. Once again, if rainfall occurs, they will get washed down and subsequent germinating weed seeds will take the chemical up and die. For emerged weeds, it may be a different story. Some root uptake will occur. Symptoms to look for in germinated grasses are the typical buggy-whipping injury. The grasses will probably die. Once again, monitor your fields. If the grasses look healthy, think about Bladex 80W overtop, or if the grasses are too tall (past the 3-leaf stage) try a post-directed material such as Paraquat, Lorox, or Evik. Check the label for corn height restrictions when using post-directed herbicides.

One other weather related problem in corn is with atrazine. Atrazine will control and/or suppress many small and large seeded broadleaf weeds. Yet, if rainfall occurs and washes it down in the top one inch of soil, many large seeded broadleaf weeds may germinate from greater depths and cause havoc. Thus, in problem fields, a timely application of 2,4-D and/or Banvel may be necessary.

Acreage Reduction Program Guards Against Erosion

Olin S. Davis, Jr., chairperson of the Maryland Agricultural stabilization and Conservation Committee said the 1985 acreage reduction and land diversion programs guard against soil erosion through the installation and maintenance of protective cover crops and conservation practices on the land taken out of production.

"To qualify for full program benefits, farmers are required to plant a vegetative cover or establish an approved conservation practice on their acreage conservation reserve (ACR) land," Davis said. Farmers should contact their local County ASCS Office for a list of approved conservation practices.

"The approved cover and practices recommended for these acres are sufficient to protect the land from soil and water erosion," he said. The conservation protection is approved by the county ASC committee and also by the district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service.

ACR consists of unpaid acreage reduction acres and diverted acreage for which payment is made. Cover crops approved for these acres include annual, biennial or perennial grasses and legumes, volunteer stands other than weeds, small grains and crop residue from use of no-till or minimum-till practices. Other cover or plantings, particularly those benefiting wildlife, may be approved by the County Committee as long as the practice meets erosion control standards.

The ASCS official said farm operators are expected to control weeds on ACR prior to June 15 and August 31. Acceptable control measures include mowing and/or spraying. "Disking is not an acceptable control measure because it disturbs the conserving cover," said Davis.

Depending on actual plantings, as much as 41 thousand acres of cropland in Maryland could be withdrawn from production by the 1985 acreage reduction and land diversion programs. In deciding on the cover and control measures for the ACR acreage, farm program participants are encouraged to consider soil and water conservation benefits, protection of wildlife, and the long-term nutrient returns from a well-chosen cover crop.

Fitzwater Member Of Angus Association

Frederick Linn Fitzwater, Deer Park, is a new junior member of the American Angus Association, reports Dick Spader, executive vice president of the national organization with headquarters in St. Joseph, Missouri.

Junior members of the association are eligible to register cattle in the American Angus Association and take part in Association sponsored shows and other national and regional events.

The American Angus Association is the largest beef registry association in the world, with over 30,000 active adult and junior members.

ASCS To Open Producer Storage Loan Program

USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service will administer a Special Producer Storage Loan Program that permits farmers with maturing or unsettled matured grain reserve loans to obtain a new, one-year loan.

"The new program will allow farmers to maintain control of their grain and earn storage payments on it instead of being required to repay the loan or forfeit the grain to the Commodity Credit Corporation," Olin S. Davis, Jr., chairman of the Maryland State ASC Committee said. The special program applies to all reserve grains stored on farms and in commercial warehouses.

To give eligible producers an opportunity to participate in the program, Davis said no forfeiture or delivery action will be taken on mature or maturing reserve loans until full program details are announced. Basically, the program will allow a farmer whose grain reserve loan has matured or soon will mature, to repledge the grain as collateral for a new, 12-month loan. The farmer will earn advance storage payments at the same rate that is applicable to the farmer-owned reserve program, and will have the option of repaying his or her extended loan anytime during the one-year period. However, the loan will mature in 12 months or upon demand by CCC during the loan period.

The ASCS official said interest will be charged on the new loan at the rate in effect when the new loan is obtained.

Davis said farmers who wish to apply for a loan under the new Special Producer Storage Loan Program should contact their County ASCS office.

Egg Production Up During 1984

Egg production in Maryland during 1984 totaled 836 million eggs, up slightly from the 1983 production. The value of these eggs amounted to $57.4 million, an increase of 23 percent from 1983. Producers received an average price of 82 cents a dozen in 1984, compared with 67 cents in 1983.

Egg production in the United States during 1984 was virtually unchanged from the previous year at 68.2 billion eggs. However, the value of these eggs was up 18 percent due to higher prices received by farmers.

Honey Loan Rate Lower Than 1984's

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service will offer honey producers an average loan and purchase rate of 65.3 cents per pound on their 1985 production, 0.5 cent per pound less than in 1984.

Olin S. Davis, Jr., chairman of the Maryland State ASC Committee, said rates for extracted honey will range between 68.5 and 53.5 cents per pound, depending on color and class. The loan level represents 60 percent of the April 1985 adjusted parity price of $1.087 cents per pound.

"Farmers may obtain loans on 1985-crop honey stored in eligible containers, on or off farms. They have until January 31, 1986 to request loans that will mature April 30, 1986," Davis said.

Loan and purchase rates for extracted table honey in 60-pound or larger containers are: 68.5 cents per pound for white or lighter; 64.5 cents for extra light amber; 59.5 cents for light amber; and 53.5 cents per pound for other table and non-table honey.

Producers who wish honey price support should contact the ASCS office before January 31, 1986.

Farmers Enroll

programs could request an advance payment equal to one half the land diversion payment and one half the projected 1985 deficiency payment, at the time they signed into the program.

Cropland idled by the programs is placed in an acreage conservation reserve (ACR) and must be planted to certain grasses, legumes, small grains or maintained in other approved cover to prevent soil and water erosion. The contract also requires that farmers protect these acres from weeds, insects and rodents." In Maryland, June 15 and August 31 are the dates by which participants must control weeds on their ACR," said Davis. "ASCS employees will be spotchecking participants after both dates to ensure compliance with the weed control requirements."

The ASCS official said harvesting ACR land is prohibited and grazing is prohibited during the five principal growing months of April 1 to September 1.

Milk Production Up Substantially

Maryland dairymen had a larger number of cows in their herds in March than a year earlier and the milk produced per cow was up substantially, resulting in an overall increase in milk production of eight percent.

The average milk produced per cow during the month amounted to 1,175 pounds, an 85 pound increase from a year earlier.

Producers were feeding an average of 16.5 pounds of grain and other concentrates to milk cows on April 1, compared with 14.1 pounds a year earlier. The price of this feed averaged $8.45 per hundredweight, down $1.00 per 100 pounds from a year earlier.

Farmers Certify Wheat, Barley Crops For 1985

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service recently closed the sign-up period for the 1985 wheat and feed grain acreage reduction programs. Farmers who enrolled should now prepare to certify or report their program acres to the agency.

"Maryland farmers have until June 1 to report the acres and intended uses of their wheat, oats, barley, rye and other fall-seeded crops to their county ASCS office," said Olin S. Davis, Jr., chairman of the Maryland State ASC Committee. Small grain crops that are not reported by this deadline will be ineligible for program benefits.

To be eligible for price support loans, deficiency payments and other acreage reduction and land diversion program benefits, Davis said all program participants must correctly certify their entire farm after planting. ASCS verifies that crop reports are accurate by randomly checking farms and also by providing aerial photographs for farmers to identify their fields.

For a nominal fee, farmers can request that ASCS measure their program acres prior to reporting the acreage, and avoid unnecessary worry over the loss of program benefits. "The service includes measurement of planted crops, acreage conservation reserve (ACR) land, subdivisions of fields, total cropland and land acres for other purposes," Davis said. The measurements are guaranteed for the crop year.

The ASCS official said measurement service is valuable not only to producers participating in the acreage reduction programs, but to any farmer who desires an accurate acreage for any reason.

Maryland farmers who have not certified their fall-seeded crops are urged to do so by June 1.

Corn Plantings Expected To Be Same As 1984

The Maryland Crop Reporting Service's prospective plantings report places Maryland's 1985 corn seedings at 685,000 acres, the same as plantings last year. Corn plantings for the nation are expected to total 82 million acres this year, two percent more than last year and 36 per cent above the payment-in-kind level in 1983.

Olin S. Davis, Jr., Chairperson of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said that acreages actually planted can vary from those indicated because of the 1985 farm programs, the effect of weather, availability of production inputs and changes in market conditions prior to planting. The report is based on voluntary responses from about 45,000 farmers to a questionnaire mailed in late January. "The sign-up period for our acreage reduction programs does not close until April 1," said Davis. "Therefore, the report provides only a preliminary indication of farmers' responses to the acreage reduction programs for 1985."

Under the feed grain program, farmers who plant no more than 90 percent of their corn base this year will be eligible to receive a federal target price of $3.03 per bushel and price support loans at a National rate of $2.55 a bushel. The Maryland corn loan rate is historically at least 23¢ higher than the national rate. Ten percent of the farm's feed grain base would be removed from production to keep corn supplies in line with demand.

The farm price for corn, which averaged $3.25 per bushel last season, is expected to range between $2.60 and $2.75 per bushel this season.

The report shows that farmers planted 685,000 acres of corn in 1984, and 650,000 acres in 1983.

More Broilers Produced In '84

Broiler growers in Maryland produced over 271 million chickens in 1984, 4 percent more than the number of broilers produced in 1983. The total liveweight of these chickens was also up 4 percent. The average liveweight both years was 4.1 pounds.

Due to the combination of higher prices received and more production, the value of broilers produced in the State was up 23 percent from 1983 to $405.8 million.

There were nearly 4.9 billion broilers produced in the United States in 1984. This output is up two percent from 1983.

Poultry Source List Published

Spring is here, and that means the hatching season is at hand. With the number of small poultry flocks growing all over Maryland, purchasing baby chicks in small lots is becoming big business, according to the Maryland Cooperative Extension Service.

Young birds are bought day-old and as started stock to enlarge flocks or to begin new ones. Advances in disease control and small flock management mean that it is important to choose quality stock.

To help locate good sources, Charles J. Wabeck, Extension poultry specialist at the University of Maryland's broiler substation near Salisbury, has prepared a leaflet titled "Sources of Poultry for Small Flock Owners."

The partial list includes individuals and firms providing day-old and started egg production and meat chicks, purebred chickens, turkeys, waterfowl, quail, and five other kinds of poultry.

Dr. Wabeck stresses that all of the suppliers are part of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's National Poultry Improvement Plan (NPIP), which assures that the parent stocks are healthy and the premises meet NPIP sanitation standards.

He adds that the list is not an endorsement of recommendation of the suppliers by the University of Maryland's Cooperative Extension Service. Rather, it is meant to be an alternative to buying from hatcheries where the quality of the stock is not known.

Lists can be obtained from local Cooperative Extension Service offices.

QUALITY CONSTRUCTION OF CHILDREN'S SHOES

Next to fit, when purchasing shoes for a child, the construction is the most important. Price is not necessarily an indication of quality. Examine a shoe carefully for the following characteristics to make sure you are getting a good quality shoe.

- •Close, even stitching that has been done with strong thread should be evident.
- •The shoes should be neatly finished with smooth edges.
- •The lining should be smooth with covered seams, as well as being absorbent.
- •The toe caps should be scuff resistant.
- •A lined shoe tongue should be stitched at the correct angle to the shoe upper.
- •Firm heel counters should spring back into shape when pressed down.
- •There should be no exposed staples or tacks.
- •Padding should be evident under the heel.
- •Straps need to be fully lined.
- •When buckles are present, they should be attached to elastic loops.
- •When Velcro closures are used, each strip should be sewn on all four sides.
- •Observe that there are no rough spots, uneven color or loose threads.
- •The stitched sole construction should be durable.

Pay close attention to the label or stamp that gives the materials from which the shoes were made. Many vinyl and synthetic materials look like leather but will not perform the same.

Take your child's feet and shoes seriously. Be concerned about fit, comfort, fashion, quality and value when you shop. For more detailed information on selecting children's shoes, call 334-2145 to obtain a free comprehensive fact sheet.

FOOD NOTES

There's nothing better than homemade bread or rolls! Here's an easy recipe at which even a novice breadmaker can be successful.

OVERNIGHT BUNS

6 p.m. Mix ¼ cup warm water, 1 tablespoon sugar and 1 package dry yeast, let stand 10 minutes. Then mix with ¾ cup sugar, 2 cups lukewarm water, ½ cup vegetable oil, 1½ teaspoon salt and 7 cups flour. Set aside and let raise.

9 p.m. Work dough down with wooden spoon. Let raise.

10 p.m. Form buns or rolls, or make into cinnamon buns by spreading with cinnamon, sugar and butter. Cover and let stand until morning. Make sure buns or rolls raise at least 8 hours! Bake at 350°F. for 15-20 minutes. Makes 3 dozen. They freeze well.

HOW NEW HOMES FINANCED

There are many ways to finance the purchase of a new home. Last year, between a half and one million homes were sold and all of them were financed through five basic sources. Here is the breakdown according to the Bureau of Census:

Conventional mortgages, 56.16%; FHA insured mortgages, 23.20%; VA guaranteed mortgages, 11.68%; All cash (surprise), 7.68%; FMHA (Farmer's Home Administration insured), 1.28%.

As you can see, over half of all the financing for the new homes is through conventional mortgages, but it's nice to know that there are other sources.

Which one is best for you? That depends on your present income and the property in question. The job of the professional agent is to match the right house to the right buyer and to the right financing. Call us if we can be of assistance.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices.

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

The annual Mother's Day smorgasbord will be served this Sunday, May 12, at the Aurora Fire Hall. Serving begins at noon and continues through the afternoon. Donations are $3.50 for adults and $1.50 for children. The affair is sponsored by the Aurora VFD Auxiliary.

A flea market and auction are to be held at the Aurora School on Saturday, June 1, sponsored by the Aurora PTO. The flea market will be from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. and the auction at 7 p.m.

Donations are being sought for the auction and a bake sale. Persons who wish to have a table for the flea market (a cost of $5.00) should contact Linda Martin at 735-6481 after 5 p.m. or Cindy Kelly at 735-5058.

Aurora Pioneer 4-H Club will meet Monday, May 13, at the Union Ambulance Hall and will have as guest speaker Carolyn Tichnell, coordinator of Pulmonary Care program with Preston Medical Associates. All parents are invited to attend the meeting which will begin at 7:00 p.m.

Seniors Meet

The regular Union District Senior Citizens dinner and meeting took place in the Aurora U.M. Church Memorial Building on May 4 with 43 attending. Blessing for the meal was asked by Ted Hardesty.

President Wilda Wilt called the meeting to order following dinner and opening devotions were Mary Belle Myers.

Mrs. Myers informed the group about the Union District Senior Citizens Travel Club and said there will be further information forthcoming. It was also decided that the meetings will be changed to a 6:30 p.m. hour during the summer months to begin with the next meeting on June 1.

Commodities will be distributed at the Aurora Fire Hall on May 21 between 9:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m.

Mary Ann Whitehair was present to explain about Hospice of Preston County. Ernest Shaffer showed a film, "Radiation-Naturally." The Rev. Ralph Wycoff closed the meeting with a benediction.

Area Students Honored

At the 45th annual Recognition Day held on April 30 at Potomac State College, sponsored by Sigma Phi Omega Honor Society, presentations of certificates to the society were given to Roxanne Evans, Lyvonne Harsh, Terry Hauser and Willie Lantz, all Aurora area students. They were also honored at a banquet that evening. Lyvonne Harsh was presented with the Agriculture Club Award and Scholarship for being the Outstanding Freshman. She has also been elected to serve as secretary of the organization which Terry Hauser serves as president.

Arlene K. Roth received a Who's Who Certificate upon her selection by Potomac State College to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges. She also received the Computer Programming Technology Award; the Circle K Scholastic Achievement Award given to a sophomore with the highest academic average and the William B. McPherson Citizenship Award. She was selected and interviewed as one out of five sophomore students to receive the Outstanding Student Award which was also an honor.

Attending the program were Barbara Hauser, Frances Lantz, and Don and Elaine Roth, parents from this area.

Education for Disabled Focus On "INSIDE YOUR SCHOOL"

In the past decade our society has made an enormous commitment to meeting the needs of its disabled citizens.

This month "Inside Your Schools" (IYS) looks at how public schools and teachers have contributed to this commitment by making quality education available for all children from the earliest years—even those with the severest disabilities.

Some highlights:

Park City, Utah - Outstanding athletic achievement is within the reach of the many disabled youngsters participating in the annual Special Olympics. IYS tells the story of one such athlete, 17-year old Shane Antonich, and the Ogden, Utah special education teacher who inspired him. Antonich tied for the gold medal in the slalom ski competition this year.

Broward County, Florida - "Inside Your Schools" reports on a preschool for speech and hearing impaired youngsters, focusing on one child who has problems communicating out loud because his deaf parents speak only sign language. Viewers will also see how Nautilus equipment, traditionally associated with body building, is used for physical therapy with disabled children in the Broward schools.

St. Cloud, Minnesota - IYS visits Westwood Elementary school to see how severely disabled and non-disabled students can help each other when paired as "special buddies."

Fairfax County, Virginia - One goal of education is to prepare all students for the world of work. In one report, slow learners are seen training for construction trades.

Massachusetts - IYS reports on two professors at Southeastern Massachusetts University who have developed computer systems that help profoundly disabled teenagers learn at home.

Also featured is an overview of the 14-year old federal law mandating public schools to "mainstream" handicapped students into the "least restrictive environment." Classroom teachers and teacher leaders are interviewed about the positive and negative impact of this law . . . including problems created for teachers who are not trained or do not have appropriate facilities to work with the disabled.

Hosted by Steve Allen, the award-winning "Inside Your Schools", series can be seen on over 700 cable systems and 80 public stations nationwide. Produced by the American Federation of Teachers, it is the only regularly scheduled national TV series devoted exclusively to covering public education.

Local Student To Participate In Navajo Seminar

A Garrett County student is participating in a summer seminar, May 4-June 2, sponsored by Eastern Mennonite College in Harrisonburg, Va.

Anita F. Zehr, Accident, and 11 other EMC students will study issues facing contemporary Navajo Indian community and live with Navajo families.

Nancy R. Ryan, assistant professor of education at EMC, is seminar leader.

Participants will explore Navajo history, art, religion and culture in an attempt to understand this intricate society and how outside influences have affected it, Ms. Ryan said.

Students will earn three semester hours credit in EMC's "Global Village" curriculum which requires students to take nine semester hours of cross-cultural courses.

Ms. Zehr is a junior special education major at EMC. Her parents are Kenneth and Audrey Zehr, Rt. 1, Accident.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear mothers, Homa A. Sweitzer and Pauline Paugh and sister Helen Michaels on mothers day 1985. On the wings of death and sorrow, God sends us hope for tomorrow and in His mercy and His grace. He gives us strength to bravely face the lonely days that stretch ahead and know our loved ones are not dead, but only sleeping and out of sight in that land where there is no night. Love and sadly missed by Harvey, Alberta Sweitzer and family

—Adv. 10-1t.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Clifford Friend for his birthday, May 11. Beautiful memories woven in gold, this is the picture we tenderly hold. Deep in our hearts your memory is kept to love and cherish and never forget. The depth of sorrow we can not tell, of the loss of one we loved so well. And while he sleeps a peaceful sleep, his memory we will always keep.

Sadly missed by Granny and Pap Friend

—Adv. 10-1t.

"MOTHER'S DAY"

In memory of our dear mother Grace Resh. Passed away March 30, 1971. We are thinking about you on "Mother's Day" many memories flood our mind, the things you said, the things you did were so very special one of a kind. Those memories grow like flowers, in the garden of our hearts. You will always be remembered, though for now we've had to part.

Loved and sadly missed by 12 children

—Adv. 10-1t.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks for all the cards, flowers and prayers during my recent stay in the hospital. A special thank you to Dr. Johnson, Dr. Goralski, second and third floor nurses and the staff at Garrett County Memorial Hospital for their excellent care and kindness during my hospitalization.

Mary Josephine Long

CARD OF THANKS

My wife and I extend our sincere appreciation and thanks to Dr. Mance, the personnel on second floor of Garrett County Memorial Hospital and the Rescue Squad for their care and kindness during my admissions of 3/30-4/6 and 4/24-4/30. We also thank our family, friends and neighbors for their cards and help and kindness.

Persons with disabilities, parents, friends and interested persons are invited to assist in setting priorities for the Maryland Disability Law Center's work for the next year.

The Maryland Disability Law Center, Inc., provides legal representation for children and adults with disabilities. Since resources are never sufficient to represent all persons who could benefit from legal assistance, comments and suggestions are welcome to determine those issues which will be the target of the MDLC for the next year.

NOTICE

Of Informational Hearing.
Public Notice No.:
NAOH-444a
Issue Date:
April 26, 1985

The Water Resources Administration has scheduled an informational hearing to consider the denial of Waterway Construction Permit Number 85-WC-0601 to Wayne W. Broadwater. The proposal is to build a dam 20 feet high that would impound 4.5 acres of water. The pond is to be used privately for recreation and as an attraction for wildlife. The project site is located on Christley Run, a natural trout stream approximately 6500 feet upstream from the confluence of Christley Run with the Savage River in Garrett County. The informational hearing shall be converted to an adjudicatory hearing if valid requests are submitted in accordance with COMAR 08.05.06.03B. Futhermore, the informational hearing may be converted to an adjudicatory prehearing conference in accordance with applicable statues.

The hearing will be held in the offices of the Department of Natural Resources, Western Maryland Regional Services Center, Route 8, Box 22, Naves Crossroad, Cumberland, Maryland on June 13, 1985 at 11:00 a.m.

For additional information please contact Mr. Reed McDonagh, Hearing Officer, at (301) 269-2260.

PUBLIC NOTICES

BLASTING NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that Gaylord Fuel Corporation Stone Division, P.O. Box 128, McHenry, MD, will conduct blasting at its surface quarry operation located at Sang Run Road, Hoyes Run, Garrett County, under Permit No. 77SP0131.

From April 11, 1985 through December 31, 1985, in compliance with all 1979 State and Federal laws.

Blasting will occur either between the hours of 8 a.m. and 12 noon, or between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday, weather permitting. This schedule will be followed except during adverse conditions that will prevent blasting, or if the operator or public safety requires unscheduled detonations.

At least 10 minutes prior to all detonations all access roads will be controlled to prevent unauthorized entry. A warning signal will be sounded at least 5 minutes prior to detonation with 3 blasts of 10 seconds duration. The warning signal will be sounded once after detonation of 15-second duration as an all clear signal.
—Adv. 6-31t.

GARRETT COUNTY SCENES painted by Ruth Smouse, of Accident, are on display at the Ruth Enlow Library during the month of May. Mrs. Smouse began painting and studying art about nine years ago while taking an Adult Parks and Recreation Class on painting. The display is made up of recent oil paintings of Garrett County scenes, and one Preston County scene. Mrs. Smouse is a member of the Civic Club of Oakland and the treasurer of the Garrett County Arts Council. She has won many honors for her paintings, including first place in the 1982 Garrett County Arts Council Art Festival and second place in the 1983 GCAC Art Festival. Her most recent award was first place in the professional class at the Maryland Federation of Women's Club Exhibit in Baltimore, on April 21, for her painting titled, "Mill in the Snow", pictured above. Two of her other art works at the library this month are a painting of a farm outside of Accident, above right, and the old stone house, east of Grantsville on Route 40, right. Her paintings will be displayed in several local business establishments in the near future, also.

Blood Pressure Screening Sites Are Announced

May is High Blood Pressure Month. The American Heart Association wants the public to be aware of free blood pressure screening sites in Western Maryland.

According to the Association, over 5,000,000 Marylanders have high blood pressure, but less than half of them have the disease under adequate control. Many either do not realize they have it or are not following their treatment program correctly. This puts many of those with high blood pressure at continued risk of heart attack, stroke and kidney failure.

Since there are usually no early warning signs, the only way to detect high blood pressure is to have one's blood pressure measured at least once a year. The American Heart Association states it wants to increase the numbers of aware and properly controlled hypertensives in Maryland.

The Garrett County Health Department has developed a program to provide routine blood pressure screenings at Senior Citizens Centers across the county. For scheduling information, persons may telephone 334-8111.

Changing lifestyle is the recommended method of controlling high blood pressure, but a calorie and salt restricted diet, weight control, exercise and moderate use of alcohol may not be enough to control hypertension in everyone, the Association says.

Some people must regularly take drugs in addition to altering diet and increasing exercise to keep their pressure normal, and the medication may have side effects. But according to Walid Hijab, M.D., P.A., president elect of the Western Maryland Division of the American Heart Association, the benefits of controlling high blood pressure far outweigh the side effects.

"Uncontrolled high blood pressure can cause stroke, heart attack, congestive heart failure and kidney failure," Hijab said. "People with high blood pressure severe enough to require constant drug treatment should realize that medication may be the only way to prevent serious medical problems."

Because physicians don't know the cause of the disease, they often have to try different medications before they can identify one, or a combination, that lowers blood pressure and creates the fewest side effects. Each patient has a unique medical history and lifestyle, and may experience one of the common side effects of antihypertensive drugs. These side effects include leg cramps, nasal congestion, insomnia, cold hands and feet, slight nausea, tiredness and even impotency among males.

Dr. Hijab stressed that it is critical for people taking medications not to stop taking them because of the side effects.

"Patients should see their doctors regularly when they begin a medication program and talk about the side effects," Hijab said. "Often the dosage can be adjusted or another combination can be tried. The important thing to remember is that high blood pressure will not go away or be cured, it can only be controlled."

Youghiogheny Glades Chapter To Meet

Youghiogheny Glades Chapter, NSDAR, will meet Tuesday, May 14, at the home of Mrs. Charles Thomas at 6:30 p.m. for a covered dish dinner.

The guest speaker will be Luther Parrack, whose topic will be education. Hostesses are Mrs. Clair Hawkins, Mrs. H. Robert DeWitt, Mrs. Robert C. Zeller and Mrs. Charles Briner. Mrs. Willard Hayden and Mrs. Richard Sherwood will report on NSDAR Continental Congress, held in April.

Coke Bottlers, Council Partners In Promotion

The 15 Coca-Cola bottlers of Maryland, including Oakland's, and the Maryland Travel Council announced Monday that the two groups have become partners in a statewide promotional effort to boost awareness of tourism in Maryland.

The campaign will join the slogans "Capture a Maryland Memory" and "Coke Is It" on promotional materials designed to focus on Maryland Tourism Week, May 19-25, as part of National Tourism Week.

Coca-Cola trucks throughout Maryland will feature posters highlighting the state's oceanfront, mountains and Inner Harbor. The truck backs will give the state tourism phone number for travelers' reference. As the trucks travel on the state's highways, the state's tourism slogan will get additional exposure.

Samples of Coca-Cola will be distributed free in the state's information centers and in the Inner Harbor during tourism week. Samples will be available at the Youghiogheny Overlook in Garrett County on May 22.

In addition, 100,000 litter bags will be distributed free throughout the state. This part of the joint effort will encourage Maryland visitors and residents to do their part to keep Maryland beautiful.

The soft drink company is also providing over 1,000 Capture A Maryland Memory/Coke Is It T-Shirts by asking trivia questions furnished by the State Tourism Office.

The Maryland Travel Council will also be giving away vacation trips to Maryland in the trivia contest.

Roadway Mishaps Claim 21 Lives

Enforcement agencies throughout the State of Maryland reported 21 motor vehicle traffic fatalities this past week. Of these fatalities, 11 were drivers (three were motorcyclists), eight were passengers (one on a motorcycle) and two were pedestrians. Preliminary investigation of these accidents revealed that alcohol was a contributing factor in two deaths, speed in 10 and driver error in 20.

May is American Bicycle Month. Cyclists are reminded to obey the same laws and rules as traffic, such as obey signs, signals and pavements markings; keep to the right, ride with traffic, use arm signals, keep a safe distance between you and the vehicle ahead, and protect yourself at night by wearing light or bright colored clothes. A "Day-Glow" flag on a six foot flexible shaft on bikes warns motorists of cyclists' presence.

Fatalities through May 5 in Maryland total 206, compared to 174 during the same period last year.

Tax Money From Alcohol, Tobacco Sales Disbursed

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reported that Maryland's 23 counties and Baltimore City will receive $5,289,973 as their share of the distilled spirits, beer and cigarette tax revenue for the third quarter of Fiscal Year 1985 (January, February and March, 1985). "That's a slight decline of 2.1% compared with the same quarter of the previous fiscal year and it reflects the trend in distilled spirits, beer and tobacco tax collections," he said

Tobacco taxes accounted for the largest amount of money returned to the 24 subdivisions, $3,376,102, registering a drop of 1.2% from the same three months of Fiscal Year 1984. The distilled spirits tax generated $1,011,677 in distributions, down 3.9% while beer tax distributions totaled $902,194, off by 3.5%.

Garrett County received $20,020.37 in tobacco tax revenue, $4,795.99 in beer tax revenue, and $4,166.32 in distilled spirits tax revenue for the quarter.

"These distributions continued to reflect the national trend of consumption of cigarettes and distilled spirits," Goldstein said. "Beer sales and tax revenue is more volatile, responding to seasonal weather changes and other market factors."

For the first nine months of Fiscal Year 1985, the subdivisions' share of these receipts total $18,029,820, or 2% below the amount distributed for the same period during Fiscal Year 1984. The beer tax distribution yielded $3,170,468, a decline of 4.6% from the third quarter of Fiscal Year 1984. The distilled spirits tax distribution of $3,688,012 shows a 4.3% decrease while tobacco tax revenues were off by just fourtenths of one percent registering a total of $11,171,339.

Approximately one-third of Maryland's $1.50 per gallon tax on distilled spirits is returned to the local governments based on deliveries to licensed retailers within each subdivision. The 23 counties and Baltimore City also receive approximately one-half of the nine cents per gallon beer tax revenue, based on deliveries within the subdivision. Three cents of the 13 cents per pack tax on cigarettes is returned to the subdivisions, based on population.

County, State Officials Seek Police Facility

A new facility for the Garrett County division of the Maryland State Police is being sought and District 1 Senator John N. Bambacus has been instrumental in communicating with state officials to obtain information and funding for a new police barrack in the county.

In a March 4 letter to Col. W.T. Travers Jr., superintendent of the Maryland State Police, Senator Bambacus pointed out the development of the Deep Creek Lake area as a reason for a better police facility as well as sufficient troop strength. He stated, "I have personally visited the McHenry Detachment on several occasions and I'm sure you'll agree that the existing building does not quite reflect the professional image that is projected by your very fine staff of troopers."

Col. Travers responded to the senator's letter on April 8 and said that he had received a similar letter in August of 1984 from Delegate George C. Edwards, District 1-A, expressing similar concerns.

Col. Traver's letter stated, "We did have a proposal in the Maryland State Police five-year plan to erect an office structure in Garrett County, adjacent to the Department of Natural Resources' building at Mt. Nebo. The Department of Public Safety and Correctional Services removed this proposal from the five-year plan. We will resubmit this proposal in next year's budget."

Travers went on to say that since that time they had held discussions with the Department of General Services concerning the rental of office space in the McHenry area. The lease on the existing office space expires May 31, 1985, and the department has advertised for rental space in the same area. He also said it was conceivable that the owners of the present location could submit the low bid.

In his letter, Travers also noted that the State Police continually review distribution of manpower and said if sufficient grounds existed for additional troopers in the county, they must then decide which area of the state would lose manpower. "As you know, we have not received an increase to our police staff for some years."

In an attempt to further the cause of a new police detachment in the county, Bambacus sent a letter to Gov. Harry Hughes on May 10 reiterating the need for a better facility and adequate police coverage and asked him what his plans were for addressing this need.

WHICH CAME FIRST? — That may be what these Friendsville Headstart children were trying to determine as they observed the chickens and the eggs at the Thomas Brothers Egg Producers Plant near Friendsville last Friday. The children were guests of the Garrett County Farm Bureau Women's Committee as part of the group's on-going endeavor to familiarize non-farm people with agriculture and its related operations. The 15 students were accompanied by Darlene Schmidt, teacher assistant; Robin Sines, bus aide, Mary Casteel, parent; and Donald Glass, bus driver. Farm Bureau hostesses were Carol Umbel, Farm/City Week Activity Chairman; and Betty Guard, Women's Committee Director. Richard Thomas, manager, welcomed the group and gave a detailed explanation of the operation. The children viewed the hens on the nests and watched the eggs roll down to conveyor belts which moved them to a room where employees were waiting to wash, candle, and package them for shipment and sale. Thomas also showed them his rabbits and baby colt, and presented each person with a dozen of eggs. Farm Bureau pencils were distributed, and student quizzes provided from Farm Bureau's "Chicken and Eggs Activity Booklet", designed for young school children and available to anyone interested at a cost of $4.00 each. Refreshments were provided later by the Women's Committee.

Garrett County Students To Pay 25c More For Lunch Next Year

Garrett County students will pay 25 cents more per meal next year as a result of action taken by the county school board at its May 9 meeting.

"The school board had a hard time making that decision," said Dr. Ryscavage after the meeting.

After 45 minutes in deliberation, the board approved the fiscal year 1986 Food Service Department budget which included the 25 cent increase.

Richard Buckingham, Food Service director, explained that the 25 cent increase was necessary because of an anticipated loss of $74,278 in federal funding next year. Federal reimbursement for paying students in the lunch and breakfast programs has been recommended by President Ronald Reagan for elimination while a 12 percent reduction has been proposed in the free and reduced priced lunch program. The U.S. Congress is currently reviewing President Ronald Reagan's proposed cuts.

Although allocation of USDA commodities are to be increased, Buckingham explained that the supply of food would not replace the actual money lost which is needed to pay, for one thing, the negotiated six percent increase in salaries and wages to employees in the Food Service Department.

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, county school superintendent, noted that even with the 25 cent increase, the food service budget is not balanced and a $38,000 loss is anticipated.

Buckingham further noted he expects a 25 percent decrease in student participation in the school lunch program because of the increase.

In other school board business, the board approved a proposal by Albert Ringer, assistant superintendent of curriculum and instruction, for a change in the organizational structure of the two county middle schools.

The new organization changes the degree of student movement between classrooms with sixth graders remaining in classrooms in one part of the school, while eighth graders will go to different rooms for different subjects.

Jack Rickman, Southern Middle School principal, said he believed the new plan, devised

Oakland Visit Of Bloodmobile To Be May 17

The American Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit the Oakland area May 17 from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and will be stationed at the Oakland Armory, Eighth Street.

Lucy Burnett, Oakland Blood Program chairman, has announced the quota for this visit is 200 pints.

Persons aged 17 through 60, who weigh at least 110 pounds, are in generally good health and who have not given blood in the past 56 days are eligible to donate blood.

Burnett explained that blood donation is a relatively quick and painless procedure. "The process takes less than an hour and includes registration, a mini-physical, donation and refreshments. The donation itself takes six to 10 minutes."

Approval Given For Improvements At Four State Parks In County

Garrett County state park capital improvements which have been approved by the Department of Natural Resources, Program Open Space, and Capital Projects Program, include some but not all of those suggested on the Garrett County Commissioners' priority list. The parks approved for improvements include Herrington Manor State Park, Swallow Falls State Park, New Germany State Park, and Deep Creek Lake State Park.

Some of the improvements are now in progress and the others will begin sometime within the next year.

At Herrington Manor State Park, $443,551 has been alloted for bath house and concession renovation and expansion. A winterizing program of the existing cabins has been started, with 10 completed and three more to be done this year at a cost of $60,000. A multi-use court or in-field will be constructed. Design studies for the water and sewer systems and dam repair at an estimated cost of $50,000 will be conducted.

Swallow Falls State Park planned improvements include a new comfort station above the parking lot and paving of the parking lot. Trails in the camping area are now in progress along with an automatic gate at the campground.

Improvements at New Germany State Park will include a new bath house in the camping area, costing an estimated $160,000; a bath house for the swimming area, costing an estimated $180,000; winterizing three existing cabins, including handicapped facilities, for an estimated $60,000; purchasing two woodstoves for the recreation building for $2,500; and paving the parking lots for an estimated $11,000.

The only improvement scheduled at Deep Creek Lake State Park will be rebuilding a bath house at Loop No. 1 Camp.

Commissioners Review Budgets, Bids And An IRB

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners had a busy agenda on their regular meeting day Tuesday as they reviewed several budget proposals from various county agencies and met with two agency directors.

The commissioners first met with Garrett County Development Director, Tom Jones, who presented a letter of intent for an Industrial Revenue Bond for William J. Vandermark.

Vandermark expressed an interest in an IRB for the rehabilitation and expansion of Wynlyn's, located in Thayerville, for a proposed mini-mall that would entail 14,000 square feet of space. Vandermark is requesting $700,000 for the eight or nine store mini-mall. He told the board that several businesses have already expressed an interest in a space at the mall if the IRB is approved.

Later in the day, the commissioners met with Lee Thorne from Stormwater Management for bid openings of a state-funded off-road, four-wheel drive vehicle.

The commissioners said they received two bids that will now be submitted to Gary Mullich, general operations director for the Garrett County Courthouse, for his analysis of the bids. Mullich will evaluate the bids and make recommendations to the board.

Also Tuesday, the board met with Community Action Director Duane Yoder and Garrett Community College Dean of Finance Leo Martin in executive sessions to discuss budgetary matters.

At a press conference later in the day, the board told commissioners the remainder of their week would be spent at various meetings and dinners.

Torrey Brown Asks Gov. Hughes To Veto Steep Slope Mining Bill

Governor Harry Hughes received a formal letter this week from Dr. Torrey C. Brown, Maryland Department of Natural Resources secretary, requesting him to veto the steep slope mining bills which are awaiting his signature.

The bills, Senate Bill 230 and House Bill 466, were sponsored in the Senate by John N. Bambacus (R-Allegany-Garrett) and Victor Cushwa (D-Allegany-Washington) and in the House of Delegates by W. Timothy Finan (D-Allegany), Del. Casper R. Taylor (D-Allegany-Washington), Del. George C. Edwards (R-Garrett-Allegany), and Del. Charles Avara (D-Baltimore), and would permit companies to mine coal from slopes steeper than 20 degrees. The only local member of the General Assembly who refused to support the measure was Del. William B. Byrnes (D-Allegany).

The governor will have an opportunity to sign the bills on May 21 or May 28 before veto hearings, tentatively scheduled for May 28, are held. Before the legislature amended HB-466 and SB-230, Hughes said the steep slope measures were good candidates for veto, but according to State House aides, he now has a more neutral attitude toward them and will evaluate both bills carefully.

Brown feels that under the terms of HB-466 and SB-230 the DNR "does not have the authority to ensure that the environment and the public's safety can be protected in the event a steep slope operation either is not conducted properly or is abandoned."

"In view of the significant risks anticipated if steep slope mining is allowed, and the lack of significant economic or other benefits to be gained, we respectfully suggest that you veto HB-466 and SB-230," wrote Brown.

The Maryland Coal Association and independent coal operators, who have fought for the passage of the bills, believes that there are 38 million mineable tons of coal, or 25 years of surface mine production, under Maryland steep slopes and all of it is in Garrett or Allegany counties.

Maryland is currently the only one of 26 coal producing states whch prohibits steep slope mining. For these reasons and because of the overall financial benefit of permitting steep slope mining, state economic developers continue to urge Hughes to sign the bills into law.

Brown confirmed that his department is working with the State Department of Economic and Community Development (DECD) to review possible economic benefits which would result if HB-466 and SB-230 became law.

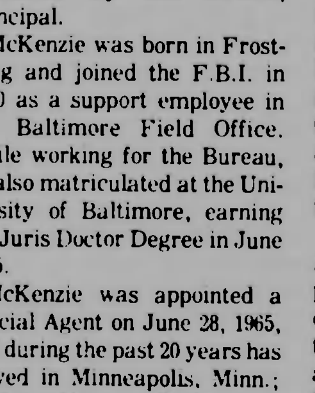
Assistant Director Of F.B.I. Will Give NHS Commencement Address



James McKenzie, a 1960 Northern High graduate and now Assistant Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, will address the 1985 graduating class of Northern on Sunday, May 26, it was announced by Ed Green, principal.

McKenzie was born in Frostburg and joined the F.B.I. in 1960 as a support employee in the Baltimore Field Office. While working for the Bureau, he also matriculated at the University of Baltimore, earning his Juris Doctor Degree in June 1965.

McKenzie was appointed a Special Agent on June 28, 1965, and during the past 20 years has served in Minneapolis, Minn.; Boston, Mass.; Washington, D.C.; Kansas City, Mo.; and Miami, Fla. He has been a Supervisory Special Agent since 1970, and has served as the Assistant Special Agent in charge in Kansas City and Miami. In July 1979, Judge William H. Webster promoted him to Inspector-Deputy Assistant Director of the Training Division at the FBI Academy, Quantico, Va.

Since February 1980, as head of the FBI Academy, he has been responsible for all training of FBI and criminal justice personnel at the 24 building, 401-acre Academy complex, as well as the instruction provided by the more than 2,000 Special Agent instructors assigned to the Bureau's 59 field offices. In his present capacity, McKenzie is an active member of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, National Sheriffs' Association, and the FBI National Academy Associates.

During his tenure at the Academy, the facility has expanded significantly with the addition of the Forensic Science Research and Training Center and the New Agents Training Center. A third dormitory and an engineering research building are scheduled for construction in the near future.

Under his leadership, the FBI Academy has concentrated on providing training for FBI employees that directly relates to their investigative mission, and offering executive and technical training to local, county, and state criminal justice employees that is not available from other sources.

Garrett Countians Come Together For Ethiopian Famine Relief Fund

The local effort to raise money for the Ethiopian Famine Relief Fund is gaining momentum daily as Garrett Countians are coming together to demonstrate a desire to participate and contribute to the cause.

A number of activiies have already been planned for the fund drive as schools and communities are working together to make the effort a success.

School Events

Gary Thompson's seventh grade social studies students at Southern Middle School, in cooperation with the schools' Parent Advisory Group, will be sponsoring an auction at Broadford Lake Park pavilion on Saturday, June 1, beginning at 10:00 a.m., rain or shine. The auctioneer will be John Hill. All proceeds from the auction will be donated to the Ethiopian Famine Relief Fund.

In addition to the auction, hoagies, baked goods and beverages may be purchased. Also, there will be a balloon launch and a local artists' art and craft sale, with all proceeds going toward the fund.

One of the items to be auctioned will be a dump truck load of firewood; either in poles or cut, donated by Glotfelty Lumber Company. Anyone wishing to donate items for the auction may do so by bringing them to Don Glotfelty's residence on Memorial Drive (one-half mile from the hospital) any morning, or to Gary Thompson's residence on Broadford Road (log home near Broad Ford Elementary School). Persons who have items to donate but are unable to deliver them, are asked to contact Ann Glotfelty at 334-4439 or Gary Thompson at 334-8891 for pick-up service.

Also on June 8, the students at Southern Middle School will be having a car wash in the school parking area from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Donations will be accepted on behalf of the fund drive.

A cash donation from Broad Ford Elementary School will be given from proceeds realized from their annual Fun Carnival to be held May 17 at the school.

NATIONAL POLICE WEEK was recognized Tuesday by the Board of Garrett County Commissioners. A special ceremony was held yesterday at Garrett County Memorial Gardens and flags were flown half mast to honor fallen police officers. David Livengood, Garrrett County Sheriff's Deputy; June Evans, Garrett County Sheriff and Deputy; Percy Lawton, Oakland City Police Chief, Donald Tucker, Maryland State Police trooper, and Henry Arnold, Oakland City Police Chief. Local law enforcement agency he[illegible]n above, standing, are Oakland City Police Chief John K. Sines, Sgt. William Graham of the Maryland State Police, McHenry Detachment, and Garrett County Sheriff Franklin G. Finch. Seated, left to right, are Commissioners Ernest Gregg Jr., Elwood Groves II, and John Braskey.

THE LONG-AWAITED SEWER LINE NEARS COMPLETION on Broadford Road. Contractor Robert Ridder explained that the last of the pipe was laid on Wednesday and clean up will continue throughout next week. Within two weeks he expects to complete any necessary black topping. Ridder stated that the people along Broadford Road have been very patient and helpful, and the work progressed this far without problems. The only difficulty experienced was with the traffic, according to Ridder. "Traffic is terrific," he said, "but we've tried not to hold up traffic and have maintained two-way travel throughout most of the job." The project was postponed last fall when both the County Roads Administrator and the County Commissioners refused to issue a permit for construction of the sewer line because of the uncertain weather at that time of year and the safety factor involved because of the school traffic on Broadford Road.

Deputies Arrest Man After Chase, Probe Thefts

Garrett County Sheriff's Deputies arrested one man following a chase this past week and are currently investigating reports of three thefts around the county.

Timothy Allen Welch, 20, Mtn. Lake Park, was arrested last Thursday following a chase that began in the Southern High School area and ended in the Dennett Road area.

Deputy W.C. Thomas arrested Welch and charged him with driving without a license, driving an unregistered vehicle, driving an uninsured vehicle, fleeing and eluding a police officer and reckless driving. Officer Charles Warfield of the Oakland City Police Department assisted in the chase.

Welch was incarcerated in the Garrett County Jail and has since been released on 10% of $1,000 bond.

A theft from Lakeside Resort, Inc. realty office sometime between April 29 and May 2 is being investigated by Assistant Chief Deputy Harland Tichnell.

Reportedly, unknown persons broke into that office, pried open a metal file cabinet and removed $1,493 in cash and checks. The investigation is continuing.

Deputy Richard Kutchman is investigating a theft reported by James Railey, 27, Oakland.

Railey stated that someone had removed a 150,000 BTU space heater from a home he has under construction on the Rock Lodge Road. The theft allegedly occurred on May 2-3. The heater is valued at $400.

Another report of breaking and entering and theft was reported to the department Tuesday by Walter Ross, carpenter/foreman for the H.J. Schneider Construction Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Ross told police that someone had removed a fuel pump from a 1,000 gallon gas tank and an undetermined amount of fuel. A padlock had been cut from the door of a metal shed at the construction site located on the North Hill Road in the Shallmar area. Loss has been set at approximately $150. Deputy Larry Gnegy is investigating.

Field Of Runners Completed For 200-Mile Relay

The field of ten Garrett County runners is now complete for the 200-mile Relay for Life from Oakland to Washington, D.C., the weekend of June 1-2, according to Don Sincell and Steve Hile, coordinators of the benefit event.

Pledges are now being sought and all proceeds from the relay will go for famine relief in drought-stricken Ethiopia and other African nations.

The ten participants will each run 20 miles in the relay, which will begin early Saturday morning, June 1, in downtown Oakland and conclude Sunday evening, June 2, in front of the Ethiopian Embassy in Washington. The runners will cover 100 to 120 miles the first day, spend the night in the Hancock area, and then complete the distance on Sunday. Tentatively, the course will be along Scenic Route 40 and then veer south near Frederick to Washington on a route yet to be selected.

Brad Stewart, Oakland, has donated the use of his camper as a spotter vehicle, complete with gasoline, for the runners along the course. Frank Custer, former athletic trainer for West Virginia University, has offered to drive the camper and provide medical aid, if necessary.

A small bag of grain will be carried by the runners, symbolic of transporting needed grain to the starving people of Ethiopia. When a runner completes his distance, he will then hand the bag of grain to the next runner.

"We are so fortunate to have good health and strong bodies," stated Sincell, "and it seems that we should use our good health, strength, and whatever other resources we have to help our fellow human beings whose bodies are dying from starvation. Despite their weakness, many of them walk great distances to reach one of the few food distribution centers. In a sense, our relay is a way for us to do some of the leg work for them."

Hile noted that, although many efforts to help the Ethiopian people have failed because of the communist control of the government, some have been successful, such as the recent three-week project by the children of New York City, covered by ABC television's "20/20", which resulted in a collection of $150,000 and the direct purchase and delivery of grain to the Ethiopians, all within three weeks. The money raised from the relay will be donated to the New York project, now entitled Children for Children.

"We Americans had only one chance in 20 of being born in this nation," Hile said, "and yet we take so much for granted. We each have a responsibility to respond to this tremendous need as best we can."

Pledges are now being sought by the runners on an individual basis and via The Republican newspaper (see page 5 for pledge form). Local radio stations will also be requested to assist with collecting pledges.

Runners involved in the relay besides Sincell and Hile include Randy Storey, Bill Pope, Gene Helbig, Craig Abrahamsen, Tom Ruckert, Rick Briggs, Jeff Rice, and Mark Powles. Sincell stated that the field was limited to ten so it will mean "a real effort that will mean something" to each of the participants. He said, however, several other runners have offered to contribute ten miles, if they are needed.

Liller Receives Jail Sentence For Drug Theft

A 23-year-old Oakland man has been sentenced to 18 months with the Maryland Department of Corrections and fined $25 on a charge of stealing drugs from the emergency room of Garrett County Memorial Hospital on April 11.

Garrett County District Court Judge Jack Turney in court on May 7 suspended six months of the term for David E. Liller and placed him on 24 months of supervised probation.

Three charges of unlawfully obtaining prescription drugs were not prosected while another theft charge was placed on the stet docket. The charges were filed against Liller by Garrett County Sheriff's Deputy Charles Nolan.

In a separate case, but involving the same incident, three charges of unlawfully obtaining prescription drugs against David Liller were not prosecuted. Charges of theft and burglary with intent to steal were placed on the stet docket. The charges were filed by Donald J. Kisner, Oakland.

Liller was represented by John Toston, public defender.

In other court cases, Judge Turney convicted Melvin D. Petersheim, 27, Addison, Pa., of battery and wanton trespassing for an October 13 incident. The charges were filed by Glenda F. Everly, Grantsville.

Petersheim received a $50 fine and a one-year jail sentence on the battery charge as well as one year of supervised probation. He received a $25 fine for the wanton trespassing charge and a one year prison sentence and one year of supervised probation. Judge Turney suspended the jail terms and ordered the probation periods run concurrently.

Judge Turney ordered a pre-sentence investigation for Rodney D. McKenzie, 26, Frostburg, after convicting him of battery as charged by Gary Baker, Salisbury, Pa. The charge stemmed from a March 23 incident.

Alan R. Sines, 24, Oakland, received a $25 fine and one year with the state Department of Corrections on a battery charge filed by Sgt. Charles Hinnant of the Maryland State Police after a March 13 incident. The judge suspended the jail sentence and placd Sines on one year of unsupervised probation.

Judge Turney granted probation before judgment for Russell W. Yocum, 53, Rawlings, who was charged with battery by Garry S. Davis, Swanton. The judge fined Yocum $5 and placed him on three months of unsupervised probation. Davis filed the charge after a March 12 incident.

Michael Shay, a Cumberland attorney, represented Yocum.

Lois Brenneman, 39, Oakland, received probation before judgment on a battery charge filed by Jeannette Sweitzer, Deer Park, after an April 3 incident. The judge fined Brenneman $5 and placed her on a 30-day unsupervised probation period.

Brenneman's attorney was John Toston, public defender.

Probation before judgment was granted for James F. Adams, 59, Aurora, W. Va. who was charged with theft by Oakland Police Chief John Sines. Adams received a $25 fine and six months of unsupervised probation.

Thomas Dabney, Jr., an Oakland attorney, represented Adams.

Judge Turney found Edward A. Boehm, 21, McHenry, not guilty of assault as charged by Garrett County Sheriff's Deputy Paul Pratt. A charge of assault with intent to murder was not prosecuted.

Boehm was represented by Michael Morrissette, an Oakland attorney.

Joseph W. Miller, 33, Oakland, was found not guilty of battery and malicious destruction of property as charged by Janet E. Harvey, Kitzmiller.

Three charges in a separate case against Miller were not prosecuted. The charges, filed by Margaret Miller, Kitzmiller, were two counts of battery and malicous destruction of property.

Miller was represented by Michael Morrissette.

A charge of battery against John C. O'Leary, 34, Mountain Lake Park, filed by Loretta J. Marzec, Pittsburgh, Pa., was not prosecuted because the witness failed to appear.

Charges of assault and battery were not prosecuted against Anthony S. Riley, 24, Deer Park, because the victim was unable to appear. Tfc. R.J. Resh filed the charge.

Riley's attorney was John Toston.

Five Area Drivers Cited For DWI By State Police

Five area drivers were cited for driving while intoxicated or driving while under the influence of alcohol this past week, according to reports filed by the Maryland State Police.

Elizabeth Ann Paul, 41, Meyersdale, Pa., was charged with DWI last Thursday at 10:59 p.m. on the Chestnut Ridge Road by Cpl. John Ralston.

Clinton Scott Mahaffey, 27, Oakland, was also charged with DWI last Thursday at 12:15 a.m. by Tfc. R.M. Hershberger on Route 39 in Rosedale.

At 12:20 a.m. Friday, Michael Milton McRobie, 26, Oakland, was charged with DWI by Tfc. Hershberger on U.S. Route 219, just north of Oakland.

David Lewis Hockey, 28, Central City, Pa., was stopped on Route 219 North at the Meadow Mountain Motel near Accident Saturday at 9:50 p.m. by Tfc. R.J. Resh and charged with DWI.

A DWI charge was filed against Clement Bushrod Hardesty, 25, Deer Park, on Saturday at 1:30 a.m. by Cpl. G.A. Berkebile. Hardesty was stopped on U.S. Route 219, just north of Oakland.

Deep Creek Lake Committee Meets

The Deep Creek Lake Management Committee met Monday night to review the comments made concerning the proposed Deep Creek Regulations at the public hearing held at Garrett Community College on March 30. They also reviewed written comments that were sent to the DNR state office in Annapolis.

The committee discussed several proposed changes but are uncertain if these changes would require another public hearing at this time. This would be decided after the DNR attorneys look over the management committee's proposals.

One of the proposed regulations the committee reviewed and discussed states, "Metal drums, other than aluminum and stainless steel, are prohibited; heavy plastic such as polyethylene or fiberglass, alunimum shells, or other buoyant substances which are non-permeable, non-toxic, and are not harmful to aquatic life are permitted."

According to the committee's commissioner representative, Ernest J. Gregg, the feeling now is that because the metal drums do rust and deteriorate, and in a couple of years will totally disintegrate, they may cause less lake pollution than plastic or polyethylene drums, which will sink and eventually fill up the shore area of the lake. One concern was that metal drums may have contained toxic materials, however, they feel that it's also possible that many plastic drums may have contained toxic materials.

This was only one of the proposed regulations discussed because of comments submitted, and the committee hopes to know within a week if another public hearing will be necessary.

Memorial Day 1985

Remember your loved ones this Memorial Day with an enduring gift in their names by helping Garrett County Habitat for Humanity provide decent homes for five (5) qualifying and selected families.

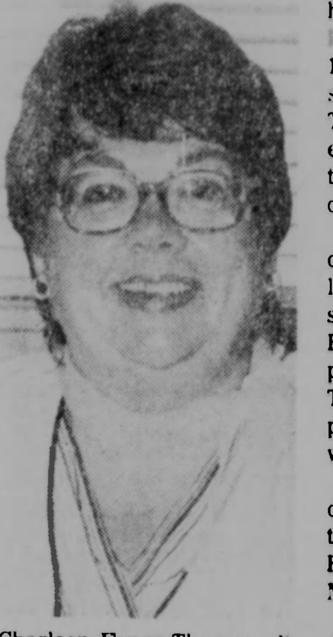
Evans-Thomas Obtains Doctorate From Univ. Of Md.



Charleen Evans-Thomas, director of elementary education for the Garrett County Board of Education, has received her doctorate of education from the University of Maryland.

Grueling might be the word to describe the past year the McHenry/Bittinger area resident spent on completing her dissertation necessary to earn her doctorate. Besides meeting her responsibilities as a 12-month employee of the school system, Dr. Evans-Thomas spent her weekends, evenings and mornings from 5 to 7 a.m. to write the 225-page dissertation.

"When you are working on a doctorate on the candidacy level, you really have to have a supportive spouse," noted Dr. Evans-Thomas who highly praised her husband James Thomas for his support and patience throughout her course work.

In fact, she has dedicated her dissertation to her husband and to her mother, Hazel Sapp Evans, a resident of The Meadows, Mountain Lake Park.

The University of Maryland four-year doctoral program was offered to Western Maryland residents, as well as persons residing nearby in neighboring states, in cooperation with Frostburg State College.

Dr. Evans-Thomas' dissertation is entitled "The Evaluation and Validation of a Reading Handbook Designed for Teachers of Students Experiencing Reading Problems."

In her research, Dr. Evans-Thomas set out to find how teachers of students with reading problems will use a teacher handbook which offers different approaches to working with their students.

In her dissertation she records the results of her studies which, among other things, showed that teachers who participated in the development or workshops on the handbook did seem to influence other teachers in their school in using the handbook. Schools with those teachers show a higher incidence of using the handbook.

She also notes those teaching approaches which teachers felt were most useful in helping students with reading problems.

Explained in her dissertation is a teaching approach developed by Dr. Evans-Thomas and in use by some teachers in the school system.

In discussing her dissertation, Dr. Evans-Thomas stated she had pulled together her 27 years in education in her work. She added that teachers who responded to a questionnaire she used in her research were an immense help in completing her work.

All-in-all she enjoyed the experience. "I enjoyed the challenge," she stated.

Among the members of her doctoral committee were nationally renowned reading specialists Dr. Robert M. Wilson and Dr. Linda Gambrell. Also on the committee were Dr. David Williams and Dr. Charles Johnson. Dr. George Eley, Jr., associate professor of education, served as chairman of the committee and as Dr. Evans-Thomas' academic advisor.

Dr. Evans-Thomas received financial assistance in the past year through the Hazel Johnson International Scholarship bestowed by the Delta Kappa Gamma Society International.

Besides obtaining her doctorate, Dr. Evans-Thomas holds a master's degree in elementary supervision and a bachelor's degree in elementary education from West Virginia University. She also holds advanced professional certification in six areas: superintendent, assistant superintendent, elementary/middle principal and superintendent, special education, reading specialist and elementary grades.

She began her career in education as an elementary school teacher in Friendsville in 1958. From 1959 to 1974, she taught in schools in the Uniontown, Pa. and Markleysburg, Pa. area working as an elementary school teacher, then in special education and in adult education. She served as an elementary supervisor from 1972 to 1974 in the Carmichaels Area School District, Pa.

Dr. Evans-Thomas returned to the Garrett County School System once as an elementary teacher at Friendsville from 1964 to 1966 and then again in 1974 when she served as principal of the Route 40 Elementary/Middle School.

In 1977 she was appointed instructional supervisor for the Garrett County school system and was promoted to director of elementary education in 1982.

Dr. Evans-Thomas has served as an adjunct professor at Garrett Community College and as chairperson of the board for the Regional Education Service Agency of Appalachian Maryland.

Additionally, Dr. Evans-Thomas has authored, co-authored or edited eight professional publications, including two curriculum guides.

Dr. Evans-Thomas has been a keynote speaker for two conferences on adult education in Harrisburg, Pa., and has made presentations in reading workshops in Maryland.

Asked what she plans to do in the future, Dr. Evans-Thomas said she hopes to write and publish articles. She noted that she loves her present position, but that she is open to new experiences.

Opinion Potpourri . . .

Relief effort—It's encouraging and heartwarming to see so many local residents jumping on the Ethiopian Famine Relief Fund bandwagon. Great things can be accomplished when people work together toward a goal of helping others.

The Northern High School students pictured on page three who held a fund-raiser which netted nearly $500 for the Leukemia Society should be commended for their caring.

DWI—Nearly every week we report an additional eight to ten arrests for drunk driving. It seems that the police are doing their job, but the drivers, and perhaps our lawmakers and courts, are not doing theirs. It was reported last night that the man who was responsible for the death of the young girl whose mother founded MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Driving) was involved in another mishap this week which seriously injured another young person. This was this driver's sixth DWI arrest.

Accidents—With warm weather comes more outside activity and with that more accidents. There has been a rash of mishaps recently involving three-wheel vehicles and extremely young operators. We would encourage parents to think twice about allowing their young children to climb aboard these cycles.

Tourism—This week has been declared Tourism Week in Garrett County and it goes without saying how important this particular "industry" is to the local economy. The influx of summer residents and visitors will be upon us and we look forward to another profitable season for local businesspersons.

Memorial—National Police Memorial Day was yesterday, a day to remember the persons who chose this line of work and gave their lives for the cause. In particular, we remember Deputy Dave Livengood.

Steep Slope—Although we are convinced that the steep slope mining bill passed by the Maryland legislature is a strong, environmentally safe law, DNR Secretary Torrey Brown still doesn't think so and has sent a letter to Governor Hughes asking that he veto it. It will be interesting to see just how much influence Dr. Brown has over the governor.

Child Abuse—We are pleased that the Board of Education has placed into writing its policy on how teachers and other educators can, and must, report suspected cases of child abuse. Although the policy has been used for some time, having it in writing will strengthen it and facilitate better documentation.

School Lunches—The Board of Education has proposed a 25-cent increase in the cost of school lunches. Although this is a significant jump, local students will still pay no more than $1 for a hot lunch, a price which couldn't be beaten anywhere else. We realize this will be an increased burden for many parents, however if we are ever to reduce the size of the federal deficit, sacrifices like these must be made and accepted by all of us.

Relief Fund

Red House Elementary School is planning to make a donation to the fund through a collection at their next PTA meeting on Monday, May 20.

Mr. Teets' third, fourth and fifth grade classes at Crellin Elementary School are making toy guns to sell to the public and all Crellin students are bringing in cash donations. Their school goal is $500.

At Loch Lynn Elementary School, each classroom has designed money posters for their room and are collecting money to be placed on the posters. On Friday, May 17, the school will tally their donations and the PTA has agreed to match their funds.

The students at Dennett Road Elementary School are writing Ethiopian poems and stories to be compiled in a booklet which will be available to the public at $1.00 per copy.

Friendsville Elementary School has agreed to give a $10 donation from money received at their Fun Carnival to be held May 10 at the school.

The students at Bloomington Elementary School are conducting a Pizza Sale with all proceeds going toward the fund.

A booth will be set up at the Kitzmiller School's Spring Fling with all proceeds from that booth being donated to the fund.

Several other county schools are in the process of making plans to contribute to the fund. They will be listed in next week's edition of The Republican.

Community Events

In addition to school fund-raising events, organizations and members of the various county communities are also jumping on the bandwagon to raise funds for the starving Ethiopians.

A free-will offering will be collected at the June 1 concert in Allegany County in which the Garrett County Choral Society will be performing. Also a percentage of money received at the Society's June 7 concert in Garrett County will be donated to the fund.

The Eastern Garrett County Volunteer Fire Company is playing one game of Bingo each week during the month of May for the Ethiopian Famine Relief Fund. They will be donating half of the proceeds from this game to the fund.

St. Matthew's Episcopal Church is donating $200 to the fund through World Vision, Inc., and the church's Nearly New Shop will be donating all monies received from sales on Friday, May 31.

Don Sincell and Steve Hile are organizing a 200 mile relay run from Oakland to the Ethiopian Embassy in Washington, D.C., on June 1 and 2. The pledges they receive will benefit the fund. (See separate story)

Garrett Countians for the Ethiopian Famine Relief Fund will be holding a Spaghetti Dinner, Friday, May 31, at the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department. Cost of the dinner is $3.50 for adults and $1.50 for children. The menu will include spaghetti, cole slaw, Italian garlic bread, cake, coffee, tea and punch. For further information, contact Pam Ashby at 334-9133.

The Garrett Countians for the Ethiopian Famine Relief Fund has scheduled Wednesday, May 22 as a countywide Day of Fasting and Prayer. The group is asking individuals or families to donate to the fund what they would normally spend on food for themselves or their families for one meal or the entire day. Prayer on that day for the success of this county humanitarian effort will be equally important. Beverly Sincell is organizing this event.

Mt. Lake Park Boy Injured In Bike-Car Mishap

A seven-year-old Mtn. Lake Park boy received knee injuries in a bicycle-automobile collision which occurred Sunday afternoon.

Casey Vaughn Patton was injured when he was operating a bicycle and failed to stop at a traffic sign at the intersection of L Street and Philadelphia Avenue in Mtn. Lake Park and collided with a 1974 Chevrolet Chevelle operated by Carrie Belle Harford, 80, Mtn. Lake Park.

According to Cpl. John Ralston of the Maryland State Police, the Patton youth was transported to Garrett Memorial Hospital by Diane Frantz in a private vehicle. The boy was treated for knee cap injuries and has since been released from the hospital.

Famine Relief Group To Hold Spaghetti Dinner

A spaghetti dinner will be held by Garrett Countians for the Ethiopian Famine Relief, Friday, May 31, from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department.

The menu will include: spaghetti, coleslaw, Italian garlic bread, cake, coffee, iced tea and fruit punch. Cost for the dinner is $3.50 for adults and $1.50 for children.

According to Pam Ashby, coordinator of the dinner, the cost of an adult dinner will feed 70 starving Ethiopian children for one day and the cost of a child's dinner will feed 30 for a day.

Sponsors of the Ethiopian Famine Relief Fund are urging all Garrett Countians to "come on May 31 and eat for the starving."

Persons wishing to help prepare and/or serve the dinner are asked to call Pam Ashby at 334-9133 or 334-3963.

Steep Slope

DECD Secretary Thomas Maddux will receive a positive staff recommendation about the bills and will urge Hughes to sign the bills into law, stated DECD spokesman Thomas Saquella.

Brown stated that he feels the amended bills do not sufficiently protect people and property and enforcement would remain a problem. Those views were expressed in his letter to Hughes when he said, "Although it may be argued that steep slopes can be mined in a safe manner under the right conditions, these conditions are not present in substantial portions of Maryland's coal districts."

"We are particularly concerned that there are residences down slope from potential steep slope mining sites in Maryland, particularly in the Georges Creek Basin, which contains Maryland's largest volume of coal reserves. Furthermore, the Department believes that there would be significant environmental risk from steep slope mining, particularly if potential problems due to stormwater runoff, water quality, sedimentation and slope instability cannot be adequately controlled," wrote Brown.

Brown also suggested that once a cut is made on a steep slope, "it is imperative that such measures as drainage controls, sediment controls and proper grading and stabilization of overburden material be promptly and correctly implemented and continuously maintained. By definition, mining on steep slopes combined gravity with the factors of water and weathering to cause a greater potential for harm if controls are not adequately implemented and maintained. In addition to the obvious risks to person and property if residences are located downslope, there is the potential for impact on downslope water supply impoundments, trout streams, and other man-made and natural features."

Sen. Bambacus continues to feel that, with the amendments made to the bill by the legislature, Maryland would have "one of the strongest steep-slope laws in the nation. I honestly think all the amendments took care of everyone's concerns."

Also supporting the bills are the Garrett County Commissioners, Elwood L. Groves II, John G. Braskey, and Ernest J. Gregg Jr., who wrote a letter to Governor Hughes in April urging him to act favorably by concurring with the amended bills.

At the same time bill opponents, including several George's Creek residents and several environmental protection groups, are in favor of the DNR position stated by Brown in his letter to Hughes which also made these basic points:

The amended SB-230, although somewhat improving enforcement, doesn't address enforcement and reclamation at a site where the operatr's adherence to permit requirements is "marginal or has failed completely."

The House rejected a DNR-sponsored amendment to HB-466 which would have added another bond requirement for mining on steep slopes.

Maryland mining law is not a minimum requirement of the federal program and a bond forfeiture in this state would not necessarily affect the mine operator's standing in other states.

A minor difference exists between the two bills but it would have no effect in practice.

HB-466 says the DNR, through the Bureau of Mines, may deny a strip mining permit on steep slopes if certain adverse findings are unearthed. SB-230, on the other hand, states that the department may deny a strip mining permit on steep slopes if it makes such a finding.

High Point Inn's License Suspended For One Month

During a "Show Cause Hearing" held Friday, May 3, by the Garrett County Liquor Control Board, Ross Augustine was found guilty of violating Article 2-B, consumption after hours. Augustine owns and operates High Point Inn, near Grantsville. His license has been suspended for one month, effective June 1.

Edith B. Nicklosis of Oakland has filed an appeal asking for a continuation from the liquor control board, who recently turned down her request for a liquor license.

She has filed an application with the Oakland Board of Zoning Appeals to open an eating place for food and beverages, called "The Back Door," in the rear of the property formerly known as Jan Florists on Alder Street in Oakland.

The terms of the Oakland zoning laws do not permit such an establishment within the town limits, according to John Nelson, zoning administrator. He stated that no official action has been taken on the application at this time.

To Pay More

by principals and interested teachers of both middle schools, made the middle schools more student-oriented, rather than subject-oriented. He added that the plan also provided middle school students a smoother transition from elementary school to high school.

Although the new plan will be implemented at Southern Middle School in the next school year, Tom Fowler, principal of Northern Middle School, noted his school will remain with the current organization next year due to the split-shifting at the school between the middle school and high school students. The school will convert to the new plan in the 1986-87 school year.

Al Coviello, director of pupil services for the board, informed the school board of a policy added recently to the administrative procedure manual. The policy outlines procedures for school personnel to report suspected child abuse or neglect.

Coviello told the board there has in past years been an informal procedure, but now that procedure is in writing.

The board voted to waive two work days in this school year for teachers, cafeteria workers and instructional aides, clerical aides and media aides who work a 10-month year. These employees' work year will end June 17.

The board approved the Youth Employability Program for this summer and for the 1985-86 school year.

John Ledden, coordinator of the program, told the board the summer program for high school students has been expanded to include eighth graders and this year's graduates.

Several parents of Northern Middle School children addressed the board during the time set in the meeting for public comment.

The parents stated their opposition to the plan to split-shift Northern Middle and Northern High School students next year while the high school is undergoing renovation.

The parents also said they opposed the way the decision to split-shift was made because they believed there was not enough public opinion sought.

Members of the school board and Dr. Ryscavage discussed with the group how and why the decision was made and described to them other options considered.

Our Turn

There's One In Every Crowd

by Susan Alvarez

Have you ever watched parents trying to keep small children quiet in church, or at a meeting, or anywhere where kids are supposed to "sit and behave?" With the season of graduations, weddings, etc. upon us, watch and listen to spy a few of these rare types in such audiences.

The Pincher—This parent is adept at reaching over and giving their child a squeeze on the arm or leg. Unfortunately for the parent, this usually results in the loud response, "Ouch! You're hurting my leg!!", at which point everyone turns around and stares, the parent's face turns beet red, and the child continues to wiggle and giggle as before.

The Giver—This parent has decided that bribery gets you everywhere, so he or she comes armed with such ammunition as candy, gum or crayons. It is a problem for the parent, however, since he or she is so busy digging around in his or her pocket or purse for bribery material, that the parent misses most of what is going on during the services.

The Ignorer—This parent's tactic is rather simple. He chooses to pretend that he doesn't see Johnny standing on his head in the aisle throwing paper airplanes with his feet. I guess this parent thinks, "If I don't see him, no one else will either."

The Face-maker—This is my favorite species of parent. This parent can contort his or her face into a variety of grotesque configurations, all aimed at getting the child's attention with a threatening look. Techniques include: teeth-gritting, eye-narrowing and jaw-setting. The face-maker usually winds up looking silly, while the child continues his performance.

The Leaver—This technique is generally used only after all other techniques have failed. This parent swoops up the child and walks briskly to where the child wanted to go in the first place—outside.

Grantsville Man Suffers Fracture In Cycle Mishap

A Grantsville man sustained a broken leg and abrasions as a result of a motorcycle accident Saturday afternoon, according to a report filed by the Maryland State Police.

Ross John Augustine, 32, was flown to Memorial Hospital in Cumberland by the Maryland State Police Medevac helicopter following the 3:55 p.m. mishap.

Reportedly, Augustine was northbound on Route 495 when he failed to negotiate a left turn and struck a guardrail. The 1973 Honda skidded 280 feet before coming to rest on the guardrail.

Tfc. R.J. Resh investigated and charged Augustine with driving while intoxicated and negligent driving.

An Oakland man was charged with driving while intoxicated, driving while suspended and driving an unregistered vehicle following a Monday night accident on the Smouse Road.

According to police reports, the accident occurred when the 1974 Ford Pinto, operated by Bruce L. McDonald, 20, entered a right curve and struck a ditch, causing the vehicle to overturn.

Investigating officer Tfc. Gary Resh said McDonald, and his two passengers, Junior Miller, 19, and James Miller, 21, both of Oakland, were uninjured in the mishap.

A Deer Park girl was treated for a hairline fracture of the right arm at Garrett County Memorial Hospital and later released following a 3:30 p.m. mini-bike mishap last Thursday.

Joyce Ann Friend, 13, was injured when the throttle of the mini-bike she was operating stuck causing the vehicle to gain speed. The girl lost control of the vehicle and fell. The accident occurred on her driveway on the King-Wildeson Road. She was transported to the hospital by private vehicle.

Tfc. C.R. Smith investigated and said an inspection of the bike revealed a broken throttle cable.

Studies show that the average teenager spends twenty months, in hours, watching television during the high school years.

Frostburg Receives $6.5 Million Loan For New Piney Dam Project

United States Senator Paul Sarbanes has announced that the town of Frostburg has received a $6,541,200 federal loan to construct a new Piney Dam. Farmers Home Administration will provide the loan for 40 years at a 7.25 percent interest rate. Piney Dam is located in Garrett County and provides water for Frostburg.

The new Piney Dam would be built about 150-feet downstream from the existing earthen dam. Although recently renovated, the current breastwork, which retains about 6 million gallons of water, is expected to have only about a 15-year lifespan.

Frostburg City Administrator Dale E. Iman said that the new dam should last until at least the year 2025, would have a 400 million gallon capacity, and would better serve the city's 12,000 water customers including 19 small water companies.

Frostburg officials hope to purchase about 40 acres located in Garrett County to expand the planned impoundment. There are three private landowners involved, and Frostburg officials are meeting with them individually to propose the purchase.

The city of Frostburg had sought a $1 million bond bill from the 1985 Maryland General Assembly but that bid, filed by Sen. John N. Bambacus (R-Allegany-Garrett) was rejected.

Bambacus and other lawmakers have said they will pre-file a similar bond bill for the 1986 assembly session in order to reduce the project costs for service area customers. The Garrett County Commissioners have promised their support of the bond bill in the 1986 General Assembly.

May Is Older Americans Month

by Margo Van Diver, Director, Area Agency on Aging

It has taken a long time in America to have older Americans recognized in a meaningful way. In a country where youth has been promoted as a commodity which is to be revered and marketed unceasingly as a product, the sendior citizen had to fight long and hard for a place in the sun. What's strange is that since it will be the place we all find ourselves—if we are lucky enough to survive the vicissitudes of life—we should be able to look forward with anticipation not concern. Fortunately, finally, seniors are being taken seriously. There is attention being paid to their special needs. Programs are designed to stimulate appetities and conversation—not to mention skills. These are in place just in time, since our senior population is the fastest growing segment of the U.S. population. By 2030 there will be 65 million older persons, two and one-half times their number in 1980. This means one in four U.S. Citizens will be a senior citizen in 2030.

Not only in May Older Americans Month, it also has a theme: Help Yourself to Independence. Within the Garrett County Area Agency on Aging (AAA), we have many fine citizens demonstrating this theme in every aspect of their daily life. Many seniors are very active within the senior programs as volunteers and paid staff. Being 85 hasn't slowed them down!

One shining example of a senior in action is the AAA Policy Council President, Lula Brown, of Grantsville. Lula not only serves on the Policy Council but on the Community Action Board as well. She travels to Baltimore regularly as the Garrett County representative to the State Office Nutrition Council. Additionally she often attends to AAA matters around the county.

In her "spare time" Lula leads the senior programs in Grantsville. She never takes "no" for an answer—nor does she often say no to any charitable act or cause.

Lula is a prime example of a senior keeping active in her home and community. She not only provides herself with a large dose of independence, she helps others to seek independence every day as well.

Join Us In A
Day Of Fasting & Prayer
Wednesday, May 22
Pray For
•Relief •Rain •Success for this effort
The Garrett County Ethiopian Famine Relief Organization has scheduled this day for a countywide day of fasting and prayer. We view it as a day to become involved in aiding those beset with hunger, thirst and disease in Ethiopia. We ask you to join us in praying for relief for these people and to pray for our effort. We hope you will join us in giving up one meal on this day and depositing the money not used for the meal in the Ethiopian Famine Relief Fund at the First United National Bank & Trust. If you choose not to fast, please contribute what you can.

Bernard Installed Jurisdictional WOW President

Thomas Bernard, Oakland, was installed as Jurisdictional President of Maryland, D.C. and Delaware Woodmen of the World at the Tenth Biennial Jurisdictional Convention. The three-day meeting was held recently at the Holiday Inn, Cumberland.

The installing officer was Wayne Graham, National Secretary, also originally from Oakland. Other officers installed were Steven Moore, vice president; Kathyrn Jenkins, secretary; Darlene Jenkins, treasurer; Ed Robinson, escort; Leota Peck, watchman; Mary Frantz, sentry; Adrian Landis, musician; Thomas Bender, Ted Buser, Chauncey Friend, James Baker, William Buckel, trustees; and Orlean Rider, junior past president.

Work-Release Program Begins At Broadford Park

Five inmates from the Garrett County Jail recently completed their first work-release project of the year, according to Sheriff Franklin G. Finch.

Finch said the men worked a total of four days at Broadford Recreational Park cleaning up leaves and broken tree limbs and placing picnic tables.

Noni Alexander, manager at the park, said, "The men did an outstanding job. They hauled a total of 500 48-gallon bags of leaves and debris out of this park."

The park operates on a free labor basis and in the past has been aided by CETA and the Summer Youth Program.

Alexander said, "I'm grateful to Sheriff Finch and his wonderful program." She also gave credit to Warden Danny Rumer who accompanied the inmates to the park. "The men were all very nice and well-mannered and they did a fantastic job," she stated.

Finch said the work-release program can "benefit any non-profit community service." Those interested in taking advantage of the program can send a letter to me at the Sheriff's Department, explaining the type of work they need done," said Finch.

Until letters are received and approved, the inmates involved in the program will be doing roadside garbage detail.

Senior Citizen Tours

Sheriff Finch also began his Senior Citizen Tours on May 1. He said the senior citizens have given him many helpful suggestions and complimented the department for their constant investigations, especially of break-ins.

They also felt the various programs given at the local schools and Homemakers meetings have been beneficial to the county.

TYPE-A-THON HELD FOR LEUKEMIA SOCIETY — Eighteen Northern High School business students recently participated in a type-a-thon to benefit the Leukemia Society of America. Students collected $477.45 from pledges based on correct words per minute typed in a five-minute timed test. Funds raised in the type-a-thon will be used to support leukemia research, patient aid, and public and professional education. Mrs. Vera Graham, business education teacher, coordinated the activity. Junior Kevin Sines collected $64.30, senior Liz Sisler collected $55, and sophomore Marla Hare collected $54.10. Each received a pocket radio for collecting over $50. Virginia Guthrie, Stacy Thomas, Jill Sines, and Susie Kolbfleisch each received pocket calculators for collections of at least $30. These students are pictured above along with other students receiving certificates of appreciation for participation in the type-a-thon. Exhibit Includes Artwork Of Six County Students

The artwork of six Garrett County students were displayed in three buildings in the state during the Week of the Young Child, April 21-27, offices of the Maryland State Department of Education, WBAL-TV and the World Trade Center.

The six young artists were among elementary school children throughout the state whose works were hung for public viewing.

The students each received a certificate of appreciation for contributing artwork to the exhibit. Those students were: Martha Beachy and Sharon Miller, Swan Meadow Elementary School; Chad Mellinger and Matthew Parker, Kitzmiller Elementary School; and Justin DeWitt and Nicole Dilly, Crellin Elementary.

"The artwork made a fascinating exhibit," stated Joseph Showell, a state education official, in a letter to local educators. "In addition to being colorful and creative, the display served as a reminder of our commitment to young children—our investment in the future."

Deputy Attorney General Carey To Speak At Dinner

The Honorable Eleanor Carey, deputy attorney general for Maryland, will be the keynote speaker at the Garrett County Democratic Club's annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner to be held Friday, May 24, at 6:30 p.m., at the McHenry House.

Carey is Maryland's first female deputy attorney general and is a candidate in the 1986 attorney general race. If elected, she will be the first woman to hold that position.

A 1965 graduate of Wellesley College with a B.A. degree in Political Science, Carey graduated from the University of Maryland School of Law in 1973. She began her career as a law clerk to Judge Thomas Hunter Lowe in the Court of Special Appeals of Maryland and was later in private practice with a Baltimore firm.

Carey ran Attorney General Steven Sachs' campaign in 1978 and was named associate deputy attorney general in 1979 and deputy attorney general in 1982. Carey's main responsibilities have been setting the policy for the office and the hiring and supervision of the 21[illegible] assistant attorney generals.

Dinner tickets are available through May 20 by contacting Frank Finch or Pat Zumpano.

Relay For Life

Relay For Life

Famine is not a media event.
It's long-term suffering that doesn't end when the cameras stop rolling.

It's little children with bloated bellies and mothers too weak to respond to their cries.

It's old people who will not age gracefully and die with dignity, but will expire hungry and in pain.

It's people in Ethiopia, Mauritania, Chad, Niger, Kenya, Mali, Somalia, Mozambique and Sudan who need your help.

If you have already responded, with concern and with money, to the terrible disaster confronting 35,000,000 Africans, thank you.

But the need continues.

Your pledge to our 200-Mile Relay For Life will make a difference. Please help!

I wish to give of my many blessings so that others not nearly so fortunate might live.
I hereby pledge ________ per mile (or a total of $________) for the 200-Mile Relay For Life, to be run June 1-2, from Oakland to Washington, D.C. Mail pledges to: Relay For Life, c/o The Republican, P.O. Box 326, Oakland, Md. 21550.

Expert On Drug Abuse To Lead Special Program

A program designed to help health care professionals, counselors, teachers and parents fight drug and alcohol abuse among youth in Western Maryland and will be held Friday, May 24, at Allegany Community College in Cumberland. Norman Panzica, internationally recognized expert on drug abuse and senior consultant to the Canadian Council on Drug Abuse, will be the featured instructor.

Made possible by the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene as part of a regional prevention program grant to the Washington County Health Department, the course is designed to inform participating professionals and interested local residents on how to identify current and potential young substance abusers and how to take advantage of available programs for intervention and prevention.

More information about the program is available from Ed Zook, Garrett County Health department, 334-8111, or Donna Walbert, Allegany Community College Center for Continuing Education, 724-7700, ext. 285.

Panzica is the author of the book "Your Teen and Drusgs-A Parent's Handbook." He began his interest in drug abuse as an investigative reporter for Canadian television. From his current home in Toronto, Panzica is active in drug abuse prevention and treatment. He has led discussions before an estimated 500,000 people, ranging from fourth graders to police officers, social workers, teachers, and military personnel and is often called in Canada to testify in the matter of juvenile drug offender sentencing.

Panzica is a graduate of McMaster University in Hamilton and has completed further graduate studies at York University in Toronto. His publications include Criminal Law Quarterly, Chitty's Law Journal, the Journal of Drug Education as well as popular press and magazines.

The day-long course begins at 8:30 a.m. and includes continental breakfast, coffee breaks, lunch and a copy of Panzica's book. Preregistration is encouraged.

Film Series Slated At Baptist Church

A series of five films will be presented at the Deep Creek Baptist Church May 22-26.

The first of the series is entitled "Change Points", followed by "Your Irregular Person", "Mourning Song", "God's Waiting Room", "His Stubborn Love", and "Tough and Tender." The films will begin at 7:30 p.m. each evening.

A freewill offering will be taken. The church is located along U.S. Rt. 219 at Deep Creek Lake. Rev. Donald Wilson, pastor, invites the public to attend this presentation.

Housewarming Set

There will be a housewarming honoring Geneva Junkins this Sunday, May 19, from 1 to 6 p.m. at the Junkins residence near Eglon. The event is being given by her children, who invite all relatives and friends to attend. The residence is the first house on the right along the Eglon Road.

BITTINGER-GLADES

Church News

Pastor Rockwood Resigns

Pastor David Rockwood of the Bittinger Lutheran Parish has announced his resignation effective on June 16.

A native of New Jersey, he came to the parish four years ago shortly after being ordained by the Western Pennsylvania-West Virginia Synod.

While here, he served in several capacities other than his regular pastoral duties. He has served for sometime as Dean of the Mountain District, vice pastor of the Accident parish during the time they were without a pastor, chaplain of the Bittinger Volunteer Fire Department, worked with the Habitat for Humanity program and aided in numerous community outreach programs.

He has accepted a call from an 800-member church in Cheyenne, Wyo., where he will serve as an assistant pastor.

Other Church News

A talent show will be held at the Fire Hall on June 14 to benefit World Hunger. Anyone willing to participate should contact the pastor soon.

There will be a special offering for Habitat for Humanity on Pentecost Sunday, May 26.

Holy Communion was held in all three churches of the parish on Sunday.

A Mother's Day dinner was held at the Bethesda Church of the Brethren on Sunday.

Next Sunday evening, Sister Kathryn Arata and Duane Yoder will speak at the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church concerning progress of the Habitat for Humanity program in the county.

Mother-Daughter Banquets Held

Emmanuel's Mother-Daughter banquet was held at the Bittinger Fire Hall Friday evening with 70 in attendance. Professor Phibs and his wife presented a program of "Gospel Magic." Door prizes were awarded, there was group singing. Each one present was given a small potted plant to take home.

The Cherry Glade Mother-Daughter Banquet was held on Sunday evening with 100 present. Ruth Beitzel was the speaker.

Hospital News

Ira Yaste has returned home from the hospital and is recuperating at his home here.

Dino Dipaolo is reported "improved greatly" at this time.

Zion LCW Meets

The Lutheran Church Women of Zion held their monthly meeting in the church on May 7 with six members present.

Leota Baker presented the topic "Justice in Marketing" from the Social Concerns series. The program demonstrated to what ends that manufacturers will go to attract the desires of the public, instead of considering nutritional values.

Creative ideas were received concerning congregations whose projects have helped to alleviate hunger in their areas.

Mrs. Nellie Yommer conducted the business meeting. Plans were formulated to host the reception honoring the confirmands following the joint worship service to beheld at Emmanuel on Pentecost Sunday.

Leota Baker reported highlights and showed pictures and literature concerning the LCW Spring District Assembly which she had attended at St. Johannes's Lutheran Church, New Milton, W.Va., on April 20.

Memberships were received for the Auxiliary to the Lutheran Seminary in Gettysburg, Pa.

The meeting adjourned with the missionary benediction, and Mrs. Lee Broadwater led the group in singing.

The next meeting is scheduled for June 4. The project for Passavant Health Center in Zelienople, Pa., will terminate at that time.

Personal Items

Lois Brenneman, Traverse City, Mich., is spending her vacation with her mother, Amelia Brenneman, and her sister, Miriam Brenneman. Sunday evening supper guests at the Brenneman home were Mr. and Mrs. William (Bud) Brenneman, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Puffinburg, Springs, Pa. During-the-week visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brenneman and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Brenneman and Steve, Junior, Brent, Travis and Meredith Brenneman.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Heston, Clarksburg, spent the weekend in the area attending the wedding of Wayne Miner and Nancy Bittinger at the Maple Grove Church on Saturday, and visiting Mr. and Mrs. Miner on Mother's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Buckel spent last week in Chestertown at the home of their son, Dr. Ralph Buckel, Jr., and his wife.

Mrs. Beulah Moon was honored with a Mother's Day dinner by all her sons at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Moon in Finzel.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kerns and family, Burke, Va., and Pauline Kerns spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brenneman.

Kristine Maust will graduate from West Virginia School of Nursing next Sunday.

Twila Maust visited her brother, Gerald, over the weekend at Oakmont, Pa.

Sunday Mother's Day dinner guests of Ida Reckner were Mr. and Mrs. John Reckner, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James Glotfelty, Linda and Sheli Bittinger, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Carey and sons, Lisa Platter and Lloyd Brenneman.

Kathy Glotfelty and sons, Mark and Duane, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Yaste.

Bertha and Harold Casteel, Ellicott City, spent the weekend at their cottage in Friendsville. On Wednesday, along with Martha Glotfelty, they visited Fort Necessity, had dinner in Uniontown and visited Mrs. Lucy Casteel in the afternoon.

Kenneth Buckel was a Sunday evening visitor of Mrs. Leonora Buckel and family.

Beatrice Glotfelty is a patient in the Garrett County Memorial Hospital at this writing.

Post Office News

May 20 through May 25 has been designated as Mailbox Improvement Week, a time for residents to make sure their mailbox is in good enough condition to make it through another year.

The purpose of the designated week is to call attention to the need for providing mail receptacles which are designed to protect the mail from the weather and are neat in appearance, conveniently located and safe to use. Because of weather and traffic hazards, rural mailboxes need particular attention.

Residents are requested by the postmaster to make sure the door of the mailbox fastens securely and the flag works properly. If the mailbox is rusty, it should be painted. The post should be firmly in the ground with the mailbox fastened securely.

John Rokicki To Speak In Aurora

The Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship International will host a special program this Saturday, May 18, at the Aurora, W.Va., fire hall which will feature guest speaker John Rokicki, Valley Forge, Pa. The program will get underway at 7 p.m.

Rokicki is a former drug and alcohol addict who was expelled from the U.S. Army and abandoned by his family and friends at the age of 27. He then turned to Christianity, at which time he says "God took charge of my life and brought me out of the pit of despair, gave me a new spirit and began to restore my body and soul."

Now a graduate of Teen Challenge and a student at Valley Forge Christian College,

John Rokicki

Rokicki travels extensively telling others of his experiences.

Tickets for the program are $4 for adults and $2 for children.

Coors Establishes Veteran Memorial Scholarship Fund

Adolph Coors Company, in cooperation with major veterans groups across the country, announced that it has established a $500,000 scholarship fund for the children and dependents of American veterans and of servicemen killed in the line of duty, missing in action, or taken prisoners of war.

Lohr Distributors, of Oakland, is participating in this effort to support the veteran scholarship fund at Garrett Community College. Robert Lohr, owner, stated that his company has placed collection containers at numerous business places in the county. Lohr Distributors will match whatever amount is received in the containers and donate it to GCC.

"The Coors Veterans' Memorial Scholarship Fund is our way of celebrating the true intent of Memorial Day—to honor the American veterans who defended our country and those who gave their lives," said Peter Coors, president of the Sales Marketing and Administrative Division.

"Many of their children and dependents are in need of financial aid to complete their educations, and we are pledging our support as a way of providing the recognition due to those servicemen," he said.

Several veterans service organizations will be working in cooperation with Coors to establish scholarship criteria and distribute information about the fund, including Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U.S.; State Directors of Veterans Affairs; AMVETS; Military Order of the Purple Heart; Paralyzed Veterans of America; and the National League of Families.

In 1983, the Adolph Coors Company was presented the U.S. Secretary of Labor's Recognition Award for the hiring of veterans, who compose nearly a third of Coors' workforce. Coors has also been named "The Outstanding Employer of The Year" by the DAV, and for the past four years by the Colorado American Legion, in addition to receiving recognition and awards from numerous veterans groups around the country.

The Coors Veterans' Memorial Scholarship Fund will also enlist the local grass roots support of communities around the nation to raise additional funds. This will include collection drives sponsored by Coors distributors and local veterans organizations.

Coors plans to communicate the availability of the scholarship funds with national television and radio advertising and sales promotion activities.

Lohr said local persons may obtain details from the Financial Aid Office at Garrett Community College or from any veterans organization in Garrett County.

Oakland Stores Will Continue Friday Hours

Stores in the Oakland area that changed their Friday evening hours from 9 to 8 p.m. this winter will continue to maintain the earlier closing time as a result of a vote taken Tuesday by members of the Greater Oakland Business Association.

Seventeen Oakland area merchants attended the luncheon meeting conducted Tuesday by Jack Jones, president, at Cornish Manor, Memorial Drive.

The group also heard a report from Janna Naylor, secretary, that in the past five months membership has increased from 39 to 49.

Jones attributed the increase to the association's decision to drop a stipulation that members had to operate businesses in downtown Oakland, thereby allowing any interested business persons in the Oakland area to join. Jones added that new members are welcome.

In other business, the group discussed the advertising tabloid being prepared to promote the Memorial Week Sale and talked of ideas to promote the upcoming Sidewalk Sale.

HSA Governing Board Convenes

The Governing Board of the Health Systems Agency of Western Maryland met in Grantsville, on Thursday, May 2, with Paul R. Shockey, president, presiding.

Business of the day consisted of approval of the Quarterly Reports of the Management, Plan Development and Review, Evaluation and Implementation Committees for the months of February through April 1985, and approval of the actions of the Governing Body for the same period.

The meeting also included review and approval of the Agency's Grant Application for Continued Designation 1985-86 and James R. Stanton, executive director, gave a brief synopsis of the activities of the Agency during the past quarter. The Board discussed the activities of the Maryland Health Resources Planning Commission, the Governor's Health Care Cost Containment Package, and Certificate of Need applications for the region.

The Governing Board also accepted with regret and congratulations the resignation of Stanton as executive director. Stanton has been appointed executive director of the Maryland Health Resources Planning Commission in Baltimore. In a related incident, the Board approved the appointment of Kery C. Hummel as acting executive director for a period not to exceed six months.

The next meeting of the Governing Board will be held on Thursday, August 1, 1985, 10:30 a.m. in Allegany County.

Governing Board members from Garrett County in attendance were: Com. Ernest J. Gregg, Jr., Com. Elwood Groves II, Com. John G. Braskey and Shockey.

Tax Collections For April Yield $987,056.34

Tax collections for the month of April, 1985, amounted to $987,056.34, according to figures released this week by Arzella Parsons, Garrett County Treasurer.

Of the amount collected, $111,533.25 was from 1984-85 real estate taxes, $2,808.78 from 1984-85 personal property taxes, $10,562.96 from 1984-85 ordinary business taxes and $94,730.50 from public utility taxes.

Taxes from prior years brought in $60,167.25, while state taxes amounted to $21,441.46. Ad Valorem taxes totaled $5,544.87.

Coal tonnage taxes tallied $81,033.94, while trailer park taxes amounted to $3,714.23. Property tax shared totaled $56,416.00 and cigarette taxes tallied $20,020.37.

A total of $96,379.10 was realized through forest and parks state shared taxes. Interest income added $51,026.18 to the total, while $380,446.01 was received from other sources.

A total of $8,768.56 was allowed in discounts and credits.

New Automobile Law In Maryland Effective July 1

A new Motor Vehicle law enacted in 1984 will become effective on Maryland Highways July 1, 1985, according to Sgt. William Graham of the Maryland State Police, McHenry Detachment.

The new law states that a person may not operate a Class A (passenger) vehicle with a bumper that exceeds the height of 20 inches; or a Class E one-half or three-quarter ton truck or a Class M (multipurpose) vehicle with a bumper that exceeds a height of 28 inches.

Sgt. Graham urged all drivers to become familiar with the new law since State Police will be issuing citations to violators after July 1, 1985.

Swimming Pool Operator's Course Offered, May 25

The Garrett County Health Department will offer a swimming pool operators' training course on Saturday, May 25, 1985 beginning at 9 a.m. in Room 010 in the Administration Building at Garrett Community College, McHenry, Maryland. The afternoon session will consist of a field trip to an area pool.

The course will cover items such as pool water chemistry, equipment operations, and Maryland state regulations governing public swimming pools and is designed to prepare the participant for passing the operator's certification test. This examination will be given at the end of the course to all those interested. Maryland law requires that all public swimming pools be under the supervision of a certified operator. There is no charge for the course although an updated swimming pool operator's manual will be available for $12.00 for those interested.

The Health Department encourages all swimming pool operators and other interested persons to attend this course. For more information contact the Health Department at 334-8111 or 895-5050.

Local Guard Unit Members Attend Annual Training

Members of Company C 121st Engineer Battalion, Maryland Army National Guard, Oakland, recently spent two weeks of training at Fort Bragg, N.C., with the famed 82nd Airborne Division for their Annual Training (AT).

The three engineer platoons assigned to the Oakland unit were evaluated in combat readiness. Each platoon was graded under the ARTEP (Army Training Evaluation Division Program). This evaluation was conducted by members of the 82nd Airborne Division.

Each platoon received 80 continuous hours of hard combat exercises consisting of installing minefields, construction of obstacles to stop enemy armor and battlefield survival. Each platoon of the local unit completed the training with a satisfactory rating.

After the training had ended on Thursday of the second week, members of the unit started their journey home. Friday evening was spent at Fort Lee, Va., and the unit departed Fort Lee and arrived at the local armory around 4:00 p.m. on Saturday, May 4. Members were sent home for the evening and returned to the armory on Sunday morning for a day of cleaning and maintenance of equipment.

The unit is scheduled to go to Camp Dawson this weekend for individual weapons qualification.

Lady Huskies Cruising To Playoffs; Rip Southern, St. Maria Goretti

With three more victories this past week, the Northern High School girls softball team moved one step closer to the state playoffs. Easy wins over Southern and St. Maria Goretti raised their season's mark to 14-1.

The Lady Huskies won their 11th game in a row by capturing the county championship with its second win over rival Southern, 17 to 7. Kim Buckel pitched and batted her way to her 10th victory, going 4-for-5 at the plate, including a run producing double and scoring three runs.

The trademark of the Husky season—offensive power—was again evident as the Huskies pounded two Ram pitchers for 17 hits. Kris Speicher aided the Husky cause by driving in six runs while also going 4-for-5. Freshman Kim McClintock, who socked a solo home run in the fifth inning, went 2-for-3. Missy Durst opened the sixth inning with another solo homer.

The Huskies collected a total of six extra base hits. All nine starters scored at least one run and after being shut out in the opening game, Coach Vonda Yunker's squad has scored in every inning since.

The big inning for the Rams was the third when Joy Hamilton cleared the bases with a triple to drive in three runs.

On Tuesday the Huskies traveled to Hagerstown and swept a double header from St. Maria Goretti by the scores of 25 to 1 and 10 to 0. The long bus ride apparently didn't stiffen up the Lady Huskies because they jumped, ran, and battered the Gaels for 16 runs in the very first inning of the first opening contest. All nine starters scored at least once in the opening frame.

Scheree Savage crossed the plate four times while Missy Durst, Julie Robeson, Liz Sisler, Lori Sisler, and Susie Bowser scored three times. Sharon Hare scored once for the Huskies.

Two hits each were recorded by Liz Sisler, Lori Sisler, Susie Bewser and Kim McClintock, who rapped her second home run in a week. Kim Buckel went the distance on the mound, yielding only five hits and not walking a batter.

In the second contest, Husky defense was the name of the game. Outstanding defensive plays by centerfielder Bev McCarty, rightfielder Amy Margroff, leftfielder Liz Sisler, and shortstop Scheree Savage helped to preserve the shutout for Kim Buckel. The Gaels never got a runner beyond second base.

Buckel gave up only three hits, walking none, and striking out eight Goretti batters.

Offensive stars for the Huskies were Julie Robeson who went 3-for-4 and Kris Speicher who was 2-for-3. Lori Sisler and Missy Durst each banged out doubles, while Durst, in her leadoff spot, scored three runs.

The Huskies will complete their regular season with a double header against Clear Spring. According to Coach Vonda Yunker, the opening round of playoffs should be at Northern's field this Saturday, May 18. Starting time and their opponent are undecided at this time.

Interested fans may call Northern High School on Friday afternoon for the playoff details.

Herrington Manor State Park Lake Closure Noted

The Herrington Manor State Park Lake will be closed to fishing, swimming, diving and boating from 8:00 a.m., May 20, through 8:00 a.m., May 24, according to Gerald Sword, park manager.

During this closure, a limited treatment will be completed in the lake to reduce nuisance weed growth, Sword said. "Shallow water lakes in which weed control is not carried out soon become choked with weeds such as water milfoil and others," he stated. "Once this occurs, the lake is no longer desirable for fishing, boating, diving or swimming."

All required permits and approvals have been received by the park from the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, Maryland Fisheries Administration, The Maryland Water Resources Administration and the Maryland Department of Agriculture. The work will be carried out under the direct supervision of Roger Riley, assistant park manager at Herrington Manor. Riley holds a Maryland State License authorizing him to supervise various types of pesticide applications in Maryland.

Public cooperation is desired during this official closure, Sword said. Persons having questions about the project may call Riley at (301) 334-9180.

Huskies Crush Campers Before Falling To Beall

The Northern Huskies needed only five innings to dispose of visiting Allegany last Thursday afternoon as they rolled to a 10-0 win over the Campers.

Steve Zumpano tossed a three-hitter for the Huskies and aided his own cause with a two-run homer in the first inning.

Northern was involved in another three-hitter on Monday, however it was Beall pitcher Bob Hilderbrand who went the distance for his fourth win in as many starts as the Mountaineers defeated the Huskies, 9-2, in Frostburg.

In the Allegany contest, Zumpano also had an RBI single, while Ken Savage contributed two singles and an RBI and Charlie Beiler rapped a pair of singles.

Kirk Robinette finished with a double for the Campers, who fell to 7-9 with the defeat.

Beall's Hilderbrand was assisted in Monday's contest by the Huskies, who committed five errors on the afternoon. It was the Mountaineers' 12th win in 15 outings.

The game was scoreless until the bottom of the second inning when five balls were tossed away by the Huskies, resulting in five runs for Beall.

The Mountaineers then led off their half of the third inning with a walk, followed by a hit by John Meyers, a run-producing single by Russell Hugenschmidt, and a two-run single by Chris Stevens.

Meyers scored on a balk in the fifth inning after reaching base on a single, stealing second, and moving to third on a wild pitch.

Aaron Zumpano accounted for two of the Huskies' hits, both singles, while Steve Zumpano doubled for the other one. Taking the loss on the mound was Keven Sines.

The loss dropped the Huskies to 9-7 on the season.

Yunker, Harsh Honored At A-B Volleyball Event

Two Garrett County students were recently honored at the annual Volleyball Banquet of Alderson-Broaddus College, Philippi, W.Va.

Linda Yunker, a sophomore medical technology major, and Patty Harsh, a senior therapeutic recreation major, were members of the A-B Battler volleyball team, which won its third straight West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference title and its first Area 13 championship.

Linda is the daughter of Robert and Vonda Yunker, Grantsville.

She is a 1983 graduate of Northern High School.

Patty, a 1980 graduate of Southern High School, is the daughter of Harold and Joanne Harsh, Mt. Lake Park.

The Battlers finished the 1984 season with their first trip to NAIA National Volleyball Championships in St. Joseph, Missouri. The team took a 25-4 record to the tournament, which was held at Missouri Western State College.

Head Coach Gloria Stewart received her third straight Coach of the Year award from the WVIAC.

With only one graduating senior on the squad this past season (Harsh), Stewart is optimistic about her team's chances of repeating their success next year.

Rams Top Bruce Following 11-3 Loss To Keyser

A solo homerun and three singles by Scott Colaw, coupled with five singles by Scott Stem, paved the way for a 14-9 Southern High victory over visiting Bruce Friday afternoon, the 12th in 17 games this season.

Approximately 24 hours earlier, the Rams took it on the chin from the area's number one team, Keyser, 11-3, also in Oakland. It was the Golden Tornado's 24th victory against only three defeats.

Recording two singles apiece for the Rams against the Bulldogs were Jon Reneslacis, Danny Holler, and Jeff Sweitzer, as Southern finished with 18 hits.

Pacing the Bulldogs' hitting was Ron Carr, who smacked three doubles.

Ed Cuthbertson rapped a three-run homer for Keyser, while Shawn Hill tripled and singled and Mike Smith hit three singles.

The only offensive highlights for the Rams were a two-run homer by J.R. Gibson and a double and single by Manuel Moon.

Little League Opens Season; New Teams Noted

The Oakland Little League opened its season on Saturday at the Broadford Park fields with two new teams, Ralph's Richfood and Stewart's, in the Senior Division. The manager for Ralph's is John Foley and Paul Nazelrod is the coach. Rodney Johnson will manage Stewart's, while Jim Shafer will coach.

In the season openers, American Legion hammered K of P, 17-1, as Charlie Plauger picked up the win on the mound. Big Tee defeated Lions, 5-3, in the second game with Kevin Green earning the win. Lohr's Astros stopped Brownings, 9-4, with Richard Hetrick taking the win. The Western Maryland Orioles walloped Garrett National, 18-3, behind the pitching of Henry Moore. In the final game, W.O.W. outlasted Glotfelty Enterprises, 4-2, with Tommy Ritchey recording the victory.

In Senior Division action, the Elks nipped My-O-Tire, 6-5. Mike Inglese smacked a double to help Eric Eiswert record his first win. Shawn Craver fanned ten batters in a losing effort.

Ralph's Richfood won its first game ever by edging First United, 13-12. Jody Wagner came on in relief to take the win.

On Monday the Elks came from behind in the fifth inning and went on to defeat Stewart's, 18-10. Zack Gisbon rapped the first home run of the year as he earned the win on the mound.

Officers of the League are: Don Bittinger, president; Franky Martin, treasurer; Linda Ritchey, Auxiliary president; Sue Fulmer, Auxiliary vice president; Bev Thrasher, Auxiliary secretary; and Jim Sweitzer, player agent.

Other teams and their respective managers and coaches are: First United, Bill Kelley and Roger Bowman; My-O-Tire, Gary Bosley and Joe Everd; Elks, Xie Colaw and Charlie Paugh; American Legion, Charlie Upole; Big Tee, Butch Redinger and Ben Shaffer; Browning's, Leo Martin and Richard DeWitt; Garrett National, Steve Cosner and Steve Few; Glotfelty's, Dave Sweitzer and Jerry Calhoun; K of P, Lawrence Dawson; Lions, Van Evans and Clarence Stem; Lohr's, Clara Fitzwater and Dave Upole; Orioles, Jay Rice and Buck Moon; and W.O.W., Porter Welch and Andy Damon. Bob Damon is the Minor League manager.

Season Begins For Oakland Girls' Softball League

Tuesday night was the start for the Oakland Girls' Softball League. This is the second year for the girls' league, and the girls range in age from eight to twelve years old.

There are five teams at this time. They are: Buffalo Coal Co., Inc., coached by Charles Grubb and Joann Glotfelty; G & S Coal Co., coached by Susan Shaffer and Linda Glotfelty; Dennett Road Manor, coached by Dennis and Wanda Riley and Kenneth DeWitt; Arnold Brothers, coached by Amanda Louie; and Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home, coached by Larry and Janet Tichnell.

A few girls are still needed and those interested may contact Wanda Riley at 334-3827.

The games are played each Tuesday and Thursday evening at 6 p.m.

The scores from the games Tuesday evening are: Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home over G & S Coal Co., 21-13; and Dennett Road Manor over Arnold Brothers, 16-12.

Six-Run Sixth Inning Gives Rams 10-4 Victory Over Huskies

Until the bottom of the sixth inning, the contest between the Southern Rams and the Northern Huskies couldn't have been more exciting for both sides as the score was knotted at 4-4 at that point. However, the Rams exploded for six runs in that frame behind a three-run homer by J.R. Gibson and went on to win the game, 10-4, yesterday afternoon in Oakland.

The win gave the Rams a 13-5 regular season record which they will take into the Region I Class C tournament next week. The Huskies finished their season with a 9-9 mark.

The Huskies opened the scoring with a single run in the first inning, which was answered by a Southern score in the bottom of the first. The Rams went on top 4-1 in the bottom of the second inning, however Northern picked up a pair of runs in the fourth and a single score in the fifth to tie the score.

Besides the three runs scored via Gibson's homer, the Rams' other three scores in that inning were on bases-loaded walks. Gibson also finished with an RBI double and a single, while winning pitcher Jon Reneslacis contributed a double and two singles. John Nelson, who was relieved on the mound by Reneslacis in the fourth, rapped an RBI double in the Rams' three-run second inning.

Pacing the Huskies' offensive effort were Aaron Zumpano, who hit two singles, and Kevin Sines who smacked a triple. The Huskies were out-hit 9-5.

Brent Beachy, who relieved Steve Zumpano in the fourth inning, took the loss.

Freyman Passes Certified Exam As Ski Patroller

William Freyman, patrol leader of the Wisp Ski Patrol, recently became the first patroller in the Southern Appalachin Region of the National Ski Patrol System to pass the Certified Patroller exam. The Southern Appalachian Region consists of Maryland, Virginia, and West Virginia.

Because the training and testing is so rigorous, Freyman is only the 210th patroller in the nation to become certified in the 15 years of its existence.

The certification process includes a written application with two letters of recommendation from existing certified patrollers; a pre-test in skiing and toboggan handling, which includes skiing skills in all kinds of terrain and conditions, loaded and unloaded toboggan handling on steep terrain; first aid skills, written and practical; and mountain management procedure.

Freyman began the test last year at Sugarloaf, Maine, and completed it this year at Killington, Vermont. Three years are given to pass the test and only parts failed have to be re-taken.

Freyman, who is a drafting teacher at Southern High School and coach of the newly-formed Southern track team, has been leader of the Wisp Patrol for the past several years. He resides along Boy Scout Road with his wife, Linda, and two children.

Client Assistance Program Begins In Maryland

Richard Battarton, assistant superintendent of the State Department of Education's Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, announced that a Client Assistance Program (CAP) is now being practiced.

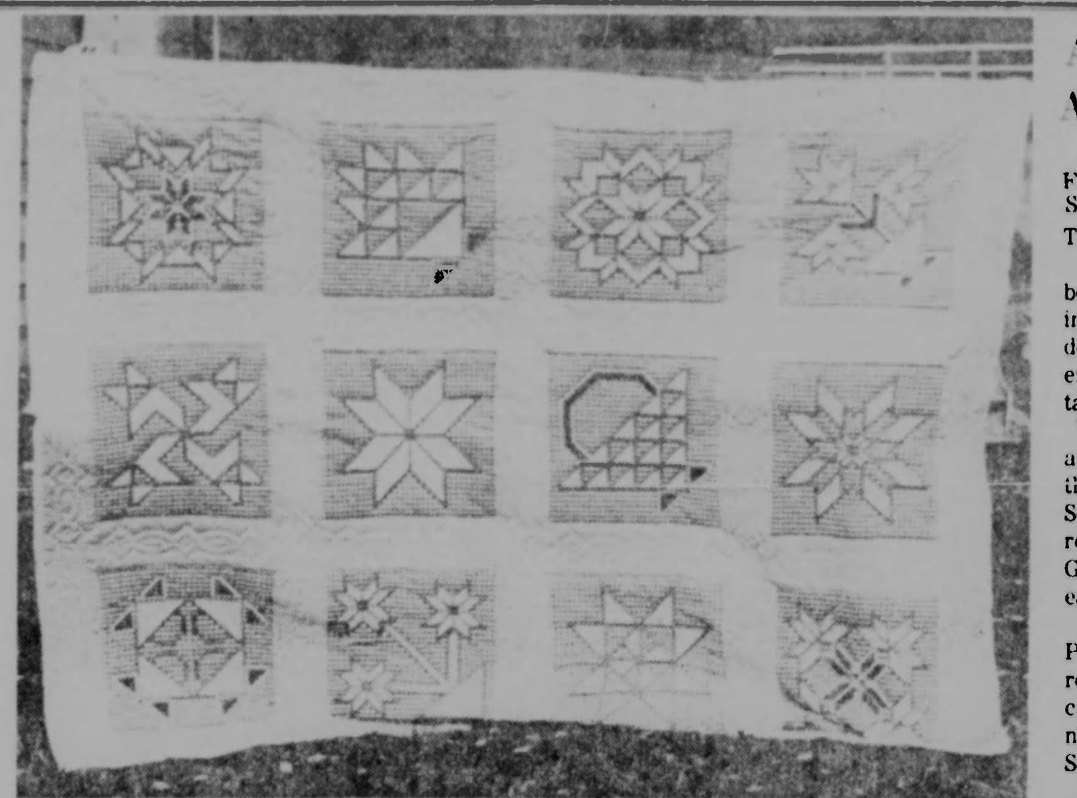
The Client Assistance Program (CAP) is a service to assist individuals with disabilities in understanding and receiving appropriate services from the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR).

The objectives of the CAP staff is to provide the consumer with: complete information on the services available through DVR, assistance in resolving any problems encountered in receiving DVR services, and an explanation of a client's rights and responsibilities in receiving DVR services.

Client assistance services are available to any individual living in the state of Maryland who is currently receiving DVR services or have questions about the DVR program.

According to Battarton, there is a deaf specialist on staff, fluent in sign language. He also states that all services of the Client Assistance Program are free of charge and are provided on a non-discriminatory basis without regard to race, sex, color, creed, national origin or disability.

For further information, persons may contact the Maryland Client Assistance Program, 501 St. Paul Street, 13 Floor, Baltimore, Maryland, 21202, or call (301) 659-2713, (301) 659-2714-TTY, or 1-800-638-6243-TTY and Voice.



A CHICKEN SCRATCH QUILT will be raffled off during the Flatwood Homemakers annual Craft and Bake Sale on Saturday, May 25, beginning at 9 a.m., at the Fratz Red & White, Accident. The quilt is made from brown and white gingham with 12 different Chicken Scratch designs, bordered in gold and hand quilted. There will be hand-made crafts, and baked goods of all kinds, featuring fresh strawberry pies. This year there will also be novelty badges for sale, such as Strawberry Shortcake, Care Bears, Cabbage Patch, Mr. T., Star Wars, and many more. As an added attraction, club members will be doing face painting. Ron Dolan will entertain with music throughout the day. From this project, the Flatwood Homemakers are able to sponsor needy families three times a year, and to donate money to the Accident Fire Department, Rescue Squad, Heart Fund, Hyndman Flood Relief, books for Northern Middle School Library, Town View Village, and Brownie and Cub Scout Troops.

Garrett School System To Offer Summer Program

A summer school program in Garrett County will be held for middle school and high school students this summer from June 24, through August 2, Al Coviello, Supervisor of Pupil Services, has announced. The middle school will offer courses in language arts, reading and math at Northern and/or Southern Middle Schools.

The high schools will offer review credits in English 9, Math 10, Science 9, U.S. History, English 10, Math 9, Civics, Biology and English 11-12. These classes will be offered at Garrett Community College.

Review credits can be earned only by retaking a course for which a student previously was denied credit, Coviello stated. It could be possible for a high school student to earn two review credits during the summer months.

Tuition for middle school is $90 for the entire program and $45 per course for high school students. There will also be a $6 registration fee.

Students are expected to attend every session of class. If a student takes an unexcused absence he/she will not receive credit for the course said Coviello. A student may have up to three excused absences and still receive credit for the course provided all work is made up and a passing grade is maintained. Students are expected to be in class on time. If tardiness becomes a problem, the teacher and principal will consider this the same as an unexcused absence.

The regular school regulations and discipline will apply, Coviello pointed out that any student whose behavior becomes disruptive will be dropped from the summer school at the discretion of the principal. There will be no tuition refund in such cases.

Students are responsible for their own transportation. Students will not be permitted to remain in the school building after class is dismissed except by special permission from the principal.

A report of the student's progress will be made to the parents at the midterm and at the end of the session. Percentage grades will be given by teachers for each course.

The Guidance staff will record the summer school grade, and credit if earned, on the appropriate student record card. Report card dates will be July 15 and August 2. A grade of 70 percent or better for each course will be required for the student to pass and/or earn credit. Students who receive below 70 percent will not receive credit.

Coviello listed the following criteria which will be the priority (in order given) that will be used to determine admission into summer school for a middle school student.

First Priority: Any student who was expelled from a Garrett County public school during the 1984-85 school year. Second Priority: Any eighth grade student retained for the year, having failed not more than four subjects, for whom passing language arts, reading and mathematics will qualify them to go on to ninth grade. Third Priority: Any seventh grade student with the same condition as above, who will qualify to go on to eighth grade. Fourth Priority: Any sixth grade student with the same condition as above, who will qualify to go on to seventh grade. Fifth Priority: Any student who was retained solely due to excessive absences. A student who has missed more than 35 days (not including lawful excuses) of school during the 1984-85 school year may attend Remedial Summer School at the discretion of the Admissions Committee but will not qualify to advance to a higher grade level. Sixth Priority: Any other remedial purpose as approved by the Admissions Committee and under the provisions that they designate.

The following criteria will be the priority (in order given) that will be used to determine admission into summer school for a high school student.

First Priority: Any student who was expelled from a Garrett County public school during the 1984-85 school year. Second Priority: A student who has failed the course for which the course being offered can be substituted. Third Priority: A student who due to excessive absences was denied credit for the course in which he/she is seeking enrollment. A student who has missed more than 35 days (not including lawful excuses) of school during the 1984-85 school year may attend Remedial Summer School at the discretion of the Admissions Committee but will not earn credits. Fourth Priority: A student who has received a low grade in the course previously taken and wants to repeat the course to provide a stronger background for further study. Fifth Priority: Any other remedial or review purpose as approved by the Admissions Committee and under provisions that they designate.

Registration will be held at Southern High School, Northern High School, Southern Middle School and Northern Middle School any week day from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. from June 10 to June 12. All fees must be paid in full at the time of registration. Registration after the above date will require a $12.50 late fee. Brochures and registration forms may be obtained from one of the schools listed above.

AAUW To Hold Annual Dinner

The AAUW Annual May Fellowship Dinner will be held Saturday, May 18, at the Will O' The Wisp.

New Officers for 1985-86 will be installed at the dinner. They include: Joanne Rebele, president; Wiletta Mateer, treasurer; and Suzanne Sincell, secretary.

The club will be introducing and welcoming Carla Kisner, this year's recipient of the GCC Scholarship. Mrs. Kisner will be receiving her A.A. degree at GCC commencement exercises earlier in the day.

Speaker for the dinner will be Phyllis Jo Baunach, the 1982 recipient of the AAUW Educational Foundation Recognition Award for Young Scholars.

Dr. Baunach is a statitician presently serving as director, Surveys and Census, Prisons and Jails for the Bureau of Justice Statistics. She is the author of "Mothers in Prison", an exploratory, scientific study on the separation of inmate mothers from their children, including program descriptions and policy implications.

GCC Announces Summer Schedule

The Summer Semester at Garrett Community College will begin on Tuesday, June 18, and conclude with final exams on Tuesday, August 6. A total of 21 different courses will be offered.

Registrations are being accepted from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, at the McHenry Campus or at the Oakland Center, through June 17.

Rotary News

Comments on the last of the West Virginia legislature was the topic of Floyd Stiles, delegate from Preston and Tucker counties, to the Thursday evening meeting of the Terra Alta Rotary Club.

Stiles was the guest of John Markwood who was program chairman for the evening. Stiles said that many bills introduced in both the House and Senate were decided during the last day of the session. Several of the bills (compulsory seat belts, increase drinking age to 21, tax appraisal, etc.) were defeated and many others passed, such as the creation of the Department of Commerce and the Department of Energy. The legislature has been acclaimed for the success in passing those bills as they are believed to be very beneficial to the progress of West Virginia and its citizens.

President Rice reported the results of the last Board of Directors meeting and urged members to make all possible efforts to attend Rotary International Convention to be held in Kansas City, Mo., May 26-29.

The president of Rotary International, Carlos Conseco, in the Rotary International News publication, invited Rotarians to "Travel the Road of Friendship" via the Caribbean-Gulf of Mexico Conference, November 6-9, 1985 at Caracas, Venezuela.

She was preceded in death by her first husband, Tom Catron, her second husband, Walter C. Lewis; one daughter and three sisters.

Services were held May 9 at the Fike-Watson Funeral Home in Terra Alta with the Rev. Stanley Waybright officiating. Burial was in the Terra Alta Cemetery.

Fighting Hunger

Saturday Specials on May 18 will have an added twist. Since the goal of the program is for students to investigate and understand the world in which they live, it has been decided to support the campaign against hunger: USA for Africa fund in the name of Preston County young people.

Saturday Specials consists of a group of classes taught by people in the community for all Preston County students enrolled in grades 2-9. The classes range from spinning to soccer and are designed to offer students instruction and information in areas of science, sports, art, music, crafts, writing, literature and other areas.

Registration with fee payment begins at 8:30 a.m. in the main building of the Kingwood Elementary School.

Persons desiring more details about this program may phone Bonnie Groves at 789-2197.

Birth Announcement

Ed and Karron Teter of Terra Alta, announce the birth of their second child, a daughter, on April 12, at Preston Memorial Hospital, Kingwood. The baby has been named Clorinda Marie, and weighed six pounds, six ounces. She is joined at home with a brother, Eddie.

Maternal grandparents are Don and Audrey Cathell of Rowlesburg. Paternal grandparents are Floyd and Mary Teter of Terra Alta.

Birth Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Casteel of near Cranesville, announce the birth of their first child and son born May 13 at 2:30 a.m. in the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland.

The baby weighed six pounds, 12 ounces and was 19¾ inches long at birth. He has been named James Nelson Casteel.

The mother is the former Karen Collins. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Collins of Cranesville. Paternal grandmother is Zelmodine Casteel of Orr (Cranesville community). Maternal great-grandmother is Gladys Hall of Bruceton Mills. Maternal great-grandparents are Marion and Dorothy Scott of Bruceton Mills. Paternal: great-grandparents are Goldie and Jessie Casteel (Cranesville) and paternal great-grandfather is King Metheny, Bruceton Mills.

Baby Shower

Mrs. Dennis (Karen) Casteel of near Cranesville, was honored with a baby shower on April 20 at the Laurel Glen Church of the Brethren.

The cake, a baby T-shirt, was baked and decorated by Debbie Reckart along with a sheet cake. Refreshments were served and gifts opened and displayed.

Approximately 50 people attended.

Mother-Daughter Banquet Held

Approximately 82 people attended the Mother-Daughter Banquet which was held May 9.

Blessing of the meal was given by Pastor Paul Mateer.

Table decorations were by Garnet Elsey and food arrangements were by Loverah Johnson.

The theme was "Mothers: Always in Style." A welcome was given by Kathryn Burns, president, followed by an opening prayer by Louise Shillingburg, a poem by Clara Lockhart and scripture reading by Linda Powell.

The following persons were recognized: oldest mother, Elva Dunson; youngest mother, Valerie Murphy; mother with the most children, Elva Dunson; mother who traveled the farthest, Juanita Tasker; daughter who traveled the farthest, Neva L. Buchanon; youngest daughter, Dana Feather; oldest daughter, Opal Burns and pastor's mother, Gladys Adkins.

Closing benediction was given by Rowenna Shaffer.

Library News

"Cat Care, Question and Answer Book" by Barry Rush was given in memory of "Chips" and "Tiny Boy" by Kitty Haven.

Books were also given to the library by the First National Bank of Terra Alta.

Auxiliary Meets

The Terra Alta Ambulance Auxiliary met recently in the Squad Hall.

Election of officers was held with the following results: president, Merle Nice; vice president, Angie Feather; secretaries, Wanda Weaver and Ellen Mayne; treasurer, Linda Wakefield; and reporter, Mabel Kelley.

An appreciation evening is being planned for all people involved with the squad since it was formed.

The auxiliary is in the process of purchasing CID equipment for the squad.

The Auxiliary is planning to have a "Trash and Treasure" sale this fall (September). Persons who have things to donate may phone Merle Nice at 789-2798 or Mabel Kelley at 789-2613 for further details.

Personals

Visiting over the Mother's Day weekend with Mr. and Mrs. James H. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Wiles of Terra Alta, were Mr. and Mrs. Benton Ruppenthal and son, Chris, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Ruppenthal and son, Matthew, of Parkersburg and Bernice Crago, local.

Tressler Talks To Students

Doug Tressler, of Oakland, a former narcotics agent, talked recently to students at East Preston High. Tressler, a graduate of Southern High School, was an undercover narcotics agent for four years.

Tressler quit police work a year ago and now travels around the country speaking to high school students about drug and alcohol abuse. He gives harsh facts and makes his feelings about drug abuse clearly known.

He plans to return to East Preston to present his program in the near future for the Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD).

In Spelling Bee

Kun Haskiell, student at East Preston High School, participated in the third annual regional spelling bee for Region VII at the East Dale Elementary School in Marion County.

Fifty-two students in grades 2-9 from several counties participated in the event.

Melinda K. Evans, student at East Preston High School, placed third in the grades 6-9 competition in a statewide Newspaper in Education Week essay contest sponsored by the West Virginia Press Association.

Students entering the contest wrote brief essays on a classified advertisement which appeared in their local newspaper. First place winners in the local contests conducted by various newspapers across the state then competed in three grade level categories (grades 3-5) grades (6-9) and grades (10-12) in the state contest.

Spelling Bee

The third annual regional spelling bee for Region VII was held Saturday, April 27, at the East Dale Elementary School in Marion County.

Fifty-two students in grades four through nine from the counties of Barbour, Doddridge, Harrison, Lewis, Marion, Monongalia, Preston, Taylor and Tucker competed.

The regional event is sponsored by the North Central Regional Education Service Agency (RESA VII). Donald Caudill is executive director of the RESA VII and presented the awards to the first and second place winners in each grade level.

Students participating from Preston County: Grade 4, Paul Mankins, Tunnelton Elementary; Grade 5, Brian Wilson, Tunnelton; Grade 6, Jimmy Castle, Tunnelton; Grade 7, Julie Peaslee, Rowlesburg High School; Grade 8, Kim Haskiell, East Preston High; Grade 9, Mary Maxwell, West Preston High.

Jimmy Castle, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Castle, placed second in the sixth grade competition.

Acreage, Livestock Surveys Slated By Crop Service

The Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service will be conducting surveys in late May and June to provide data for estimating the planted acreages of major field crops and vegetables and to determine numbers of hogs and cattle. Representatives of the Crop Reporting Service will be contacting a sample of farm operators in the two state area.

Bruce West, state statistician, says that the results of these surveys will help farmers with their production and marketing plans for the future.

Agricultural producers are currently operating in a tight economy with many uncertainties, West said. The unbiased information about acreages and livestock numbers developed by the Crop Reporting Service will assist farm operators in evaluating the outlook for future supplies and demand for their products.

The decisions reached by incorporating this information into the decision making process can result in added returns from the farming operation, West stated.

Estimates of the acreages planted to major crops in Maryland and Delaware will be available on July 10. National inventories of hogs will be released on June 21 and cattle data will be published on July 22. For additional information about this survey or the resulting reports, persons may contact the Maryland-Delaware Crop and Livestock Reporting Service at 50 Harry S. Truman Parkway, Annapolis, Maryland 21401. Phone: (301) 841-5740.

Farming in Maryland

Deadline For Price Support Loans Announced

Olin S. Davis, Jr., chairman of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said price support loans on 1984 corn, sorghum, and soybeans may be obtained until May 31.

Maryland loan rates are: corn, $2.80 per bushel; sorghum, $4.34 per hundredweight; and soybeans, $5.06 per bushel. Davis said each loan rate is based on a national average rate that varies from county to county to reflect prices received by farmers, production and consumption trends and transportation costs.

As of March 1, 1985, local farmers had obtained federal price support loans on more than 2,176,118 bushels of their 1984 grain crops. The commodity loan program provides immediate cash for farmers and allows them time to make marketing decisions or to hold grain for feeding later. Farmers may repay the money before the ninth-month maturity date, according to Davis.

To be eligible for price support loans producers are required to participate in farm programs. By participating, they also become eligible for target price payments (deficiency payments) and use of the grain reserve.

"When the regular price support loan matures, corn and sorghum will be eligible to be placed in the grain reserve," Davis said. The reserve program offers farmers three-year loans and storage payments to hold their crops off the market until prices reach stated levels. Storage will be 26.5 cents per bushel for corn and 47.32 cents per hundredweight for sorghum.

The ASCS official said the commodity loan and grain reserve programs are designed to strengthen market prices.

Lower Yield Of Wheat Expected

Based on May 1 condition, Maryland wheat production is forecast at 5,070,000 bushels. This production, if realized, will be 16 percent less than the 1984 production.

Maryland farmers intend to harvest 130,000 acres of winter wheat, seven percent less than in 1984. The indicated average yield as of May 1 is 39 bushels per acre. This yield, if realized, will be four bushels below the record yielding 1984 crop and the lowest yielding crop since 1981.

Commissioners

On Thursday evening the three commissioners will be attending a public hearing at Garrett Community College for the proposed Deep Creek Lake Plan Update, held by the Garrett County Planning Commission.

On Friday evening Commissioner Elwood Groves, II, will be attending a farewell dinner in honor of James (Smokey) Stanton, who is leaving the county to assume his new position as executive director of the Maryland Health Resources Planning Commission. Stanton formerly served as executive director of Health Systems Agency of Western Maryland.

Commissioners John Braskey and Ernest Gregg Jr. will be attending the annual commencement reception at Garrett Community College on Friday evening.

All three commissioners are planning to attend commencement exercises at GCC on Saturday morning.

State Parks

No funds were approved for Big Run State Park or Casselman Bridge State Park improvements. County officials had hoped that Big Run State Park would be given major priority because it is the site of the proposed 1989 White Water Races. They were hoping to construct winterized bathhouse facilities, develop a water system, and develop a park plan. These improvements will be suggested again for consideration in the future.

Corn Flea Beetles

With the weather conditions as such, be on the lookout for flea beetles as soon as your corn comes through the ground. These insects are tiny (pin-head size), brown to black beetles with enlarged and thickened hind legs used for jumping. They strip the green top layer of tissues from leaves, resulting in irregular brown lines, or "tracks". Heavily infested plants appear silvery or whitish in color, and leaves may shrivel and die. Experience has shown that field corn is seldom seriously threatened unless flea beetle populations exceed 8-10 per plant and at least 50% of the plants appear silvery from feeding damage. Treatment is rarely needed after plants reach 6" in height. Insecticides labeled for flea beetle control include Sevin 50WP (4 lbs./acre), Sevin 80S (2½ lbs./acre), Sevin XLR (2 qts./acre), Diazinon AG500 (1 pt./acre), and Lorsban 4E (2-3 pts./acre). If dry conditions continue, those of you who used Furadan may still see some damage because the systemic action has been slow to take effect.

Basagran - Effective on Broadleaf

Basagran can be applied over top of corn at a rate of 1½ to 2 pints per acre, and is very effective on many broadleaf weeds. Special situations for its use would include the control of Canada Thistles and Yellow Nutsedge. When these two species are 8" tall, apply one quart of Basagran per acre. A second application at the same rate, 7 to 10 days later may be required. An oil concentrate should be added at a rate of one quart per acre. Basagran is also labeled for use as a tank mixture with Atrazine and oil concentrate. Friendsville Man Gets An Early Start To A Promising Political Career

by Bernice Kepple

It's not unusual for a life-long resident of a Garrett County town to become involved in his town's politics, to see ways he can help his town and its people, and to become interested in county, state, and even national politics as a result.

Spencer Schlosnagle fits the description above. He is a life-long resident of Friendsville, who is currently serving on the town council. He is president of the Garrett County Democratic Club, the Outreach Committee Chairperson of The Governor's Youth Advisory Council, the newly elected president of the Garrett Community College Student Government Association, and a man with an eye on state and national events.

The unusual thing about Spencer is his age. Spencer just turned 21 in February, making him the youngest town councilman Friendsville has ever had, and one of the youngest political figures active in Garrett County today.

REP. BEVERLY B. BYRON, Maryland's Sixth District Democrat, is only one of the many state and national political figures Spencer has met during his frequent trips to Annapolis representing the Garrett County Democratic Club and as Garrett County's Delegate to the Governor's Youth Advisory Council.

Spencer is the son of Raymond and Alta Schlosnagle of Friendsville. Mr. Schlosnagle served as a town councilman in Friendsville, which may have given Spencer the idea of running for councilman also. According to Mrs. Schlosnagle, the family had no idea that Spencer was going to file for office. "He kept telling his dad that he had better refile," said Spencer's mother. "When his dad didn't refile, I guess he decided that he was going to, but we didn't know anything about it."

To his parents' surprise, he won the election. Mrs. Schlosnagle explains, "There were those who said he was too young to hold office, since he was not 21 yet, but they found nothing in the bylaws to confirm that idea."

The family has always been staunch Democratic Party supporters. Spencer mentioned a number of people who have been an inspiration to him. One of these is his Aunt Louise Seggie who was quite active in Garrett County politics 20 years ago, but now lives in Arizona.

Spencer said that when his mother was young, she considered being different and registering as a Republican, but his Aunt Louise didn't want to let that happen. She knew that Spencer's mother, who was still in high school, wanted to get a class ring very much, but times were tough, and the family didn't have the money for a class ring. Aunt Louise, who was out of school and working, offered to buy the class ring for her, but only if she would promise that when she was old enough to register to vote she would register as a Democrat. "She even made me sign a paper saying I would be a Democrat," said Mrs. Schlosnagle. As Spencer says, "Aunt Louise is a very loyal Democrat."

Spencer graduated from Northern High School in 1982, and was very involved in school activities. He was vice president of the Student Government Association, vice president of his senior class, president of the chorus, and head photographer for the school paper, "The Viking."

Lucille Sines was the advisor for the school paper when Spencer was at Northern, and said, "Spencer is very conscientious; tell him what to do and he gets the job done. He's just great and I don't say that about many people." She admits that she is a great fan of Spencer's, and probably prejudiced, but she believes that he is "one of those people who's going to move the world."

While still in high school, he became interested in the Governor's Youth Advisory Council, submitted an application, and was appointed to the council by Governor Harry Hughes. Spencer is now serving his second two-year term, and has just been elected to the office of Outreach Committee Chairperson of the GYAC. Part of his responsibility as Garrett County's delegate to the GYAC, is to interest other youth in becoming delegates to the GYAC and expressing the concerns of far-Western Maryland's youth to the governor.

Spencer is presently attending Garrett Community College, part time, majoring in business administration, and hopes to receive his degree this fall. A strong believer in "getting involved", Spencer campaigned and was recently elected president of the GCC Student Government Association. An active member of the Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church in Friendsville, Spencer was the youngest person ever elected to the church council, and also serves as the church caretaker. He is famous for volunteer work, and his sparkling personality makes him an ideal person to canvass for donations for such organizations as the Heart Fund, which he collects money for each year.

One of his most recent projects was the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels For Life" Bike-a-thon, held in Friendsville. He served as "Bike-a-thon" committee chairman, organizing the event, registering sponsors and riders, and actually riding in the Bike-a-thon, when he wasn't helping riders who were victims of minor accidents during the ride.

Spencer admitted that the Bike-a-thon was one of his favorite projects. "There's a group of children in St. Jude's counting on the public's support," said Spencer, "and the general idea of a Bike-a-thon is to get the public together to have a good time while helping the children."

As a town councilman of Friendsville, Spencer has had a chance to view both sides of small-town politics. Describing his feelings about the town and how the people cooperate for the town's benefit, Spencer said, "At times, it's wonderful because people are very close, but at times there are many problems."

Spencer is the councilman who normally presides over the meetings anytime the council president is not able to attend, and came very close to being elected council president him-

Mt. Top Youth For Christ
announces its 13th annual spring
Fundraising Drive — May 20-29

This year, our Fundraising Drive will consist of one activity: a TELETHON involving phone and personal canvassing by concerned friends of Youth For Christ, and Campus Life Staff and Students.

TELETHON participants will be seeking to obtain contributions and pledges in support of the Youth For Christ ministry.

Staff and Student participants will again select from four categories of involvement:
•Prize Plan •Group Plan •College Scholarship •Campus Life Activity

The Group Plan, College Scholarship Plan and Campus Life Activity Plan will feature a 50% sharing deal with the participant. We ask you, the local public, for your support of our worthwhile ministry to high school students and we thank you for your generous response to our fundraising participants.

To participate, use the following registration form:

MAKE THE RIGHT TURN

Our interstate roads tell us something about human character: We need challenges and a map or plan to guide us in life.

We spend time putting together a route we'll look at once or twice — then discard.

There are different kinds of challenges. To the climber, a mountain presents a physical challenge. To the mathematician, an equation presents a mental challenge.

Through the centuries one of the most important challenges has been spiritual. God gave us the capacity to explore our relationship with HIM, to discover the deep truths that give life its richest meaning.

Don't discard the challenge of Faith. Join your neighbors next week in worship.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE BEST INVESTMENT
May 19, 1985

Background Scripture:
Proverbs 3:13-18; 8:1-21

Devotional Reading:
Proverbs 2:1-15

Somebody out there must be laboring under the mistaken impression that I've got a substantial sum of capital to invest in something. How else should I explain the growing flow of mail inviting me to subscribe to investment newsletters, buy books that will help me to manage my money, or join various schemes to buy this or that?

One source says "buy gold!" Another, "put your money into real estate!" Still another advises "precious gems!" But, even a cursory glance at this literature on its way to my circular file has convinced me that there is simply no agreement among them as what I should do with my money -- if I had it.

MOOD ELEVATORS

Now, I'm not for one moment disparaging the practice of investment. Nor am I indicating that we should not be concerned with the management of whatever material resources we have. What I am saying, however, is that we should be no less concerned with the investments we make of the intangibles of our lives.

You see, no matter what we say about what's important in life, our society today acts as if the essence of life is to be found in material things. Advertising suggests that things will make us happy, guarantee our success, and make life enjoyable. And, although we make some allowance for advertising hype, we act as if we pretty much believe that that is true. A new stereo, video recorder, tape deck, dirt bike, computer, van or car are regarded by some people as "mood elevators" -- when you feel "down," you buy something to chase the "blues" away.

I love gadgets (just keep me out of a hardware store) and I have my share of things, including a home computer and video recorder. But I know that no matter how much pleasure they give me, they are still not what life's all about. They all break down, wear out or expire eventually -- as I will, too -- and then what is left of me is the only thing that really counts, my immortal soul or spirit.

BETTER THAN JEWELS

That's why the writer of Proverbs can say, "for wisdom is better than jewels, and all that you may desire cannot compare with her" (8:11). The getting of wisdom and understanding, of spiritual maturity, is the most important investment any of us can ever make -- better than jewels, better than precious metals, the stock market, or even certificates of deposit.

Lots of people draw near to the end of life with a good education, with an ample estate, and social recognition, but whether they also have gained wisdom, spiritual discernment, is another question.

My native Pennsylvania Dutch (German) have a saying:

We get too soon oldt, and too late schmardt.

But that's not the way it has to be.

WHAT IS THE EFFECT OF ALCOHOL ON DRUGS?

We hear this question very often and it is an important one. For, alcohol can interact or interfere with a great many types of drugs. Anti-coagulants, certain sulphur medicines, insulin, analgesics, many tranquilizers and anti-histamines are a few of the major categories of drugs effected by alcohol.

To always be on the safe side, it is a good idea not to have a drink while on any medication. However, if there is some special occasion or situation involved, you should make it a point to check with your physician and to mention it when you bring in your prescription.

SOAP OPERA WEEK

Robert Woods may have a high-school reunion

By Kimberly Redmond

Robert Woods

The other day I saw a deodorant commercial featuring one of my former high-school students, Robert Woods. A friend told me that he also appears on a soap opera, but I don't know which one. Can you help me get in touch with the actor? — R.S., Red Oak, Iowa

Woods stars as Bo Buchanan on "One Life to Live." You can write to him c/o "OLTL," ABC, 1330 Avenue of the Americas, New York, NY 10019. Happy reunion!

"The Young and the Restless" is my favorite soap. I watch it every day, but I'm in a quandary over the name of the actress who portrayed Nikki Newman's mother-in-law several months ago. She looked familiar, but I couldn't place her. Help! — L.H., Florence, Ala.

Nikki's mother-in-law, Cora, was portrayed by veteran screen actress Dorothy McGuire.

I'm intrigued by the actor who portrays Shane Donovan on "Days of Our Lives." I love his accent! Please tell me where he's from and what other TV shows he's appeared in. — A.F., Perth Amboy, N.J.

Charles Shaughnessy portrays secret agent Shane Donovan on the NBC soap. The actor hails from England, where he attended Eton College before earning a law degree from Cambridge University. Shaughnessy, whose father Alfred was the chief writer of the classic BBC TV show, "Upstairs, Downstairs," is from a theatrical, upper middle-class family. When he was 23, Shaughnessy gave up his budding law career to become an actor. He has appeared in repertory theater, and spent a year on the British series, "Jury." He's married to actress Susan Fallender, who convinced Shaughnessy to try his luck in Hollywood. When he did, he landed the role on "Days" soon after his arrival.

April Lerman takes 'Charge' of her future

By Gregory Garver

April Lerman

HOLLYWOOD — April Lerman has her career all planned. She's only 16, so she figures she'll continue playing teenage parts, similar to Lila Pembroke, the character she recently portrayed in the CBS series "Charles in Charge," for several more years.

Then, as she grows older, Miss Lerman says she'll become a sex symbol. That, she hopes, will be a temporary career phase. After all the cheesecake photos have been shot, after all the sexy films have been finished, Miss Lerman wants to tackle the next period of her career: being a serious actress.

Miss Lerman enjoys her work, but she's not a typical teenager. And she definitely doesn't fit into a West Coast lifestyle.

"I'm really not a California girl," says Miss Lerman. "I still live in New York and I prefer New York to California, at least at this point in my life. I don't drive and don't really have much of an urge to drive, so I'm not mobile out here. But in New York, I'm very mobile. I go everywhere by myself."

Miss Lerman began her career when she was 7, after her mother decided acting lessons would be the proper outlet for her daughter's overabundance of energy. Her first taste of acting was with the First All Children's Theater.

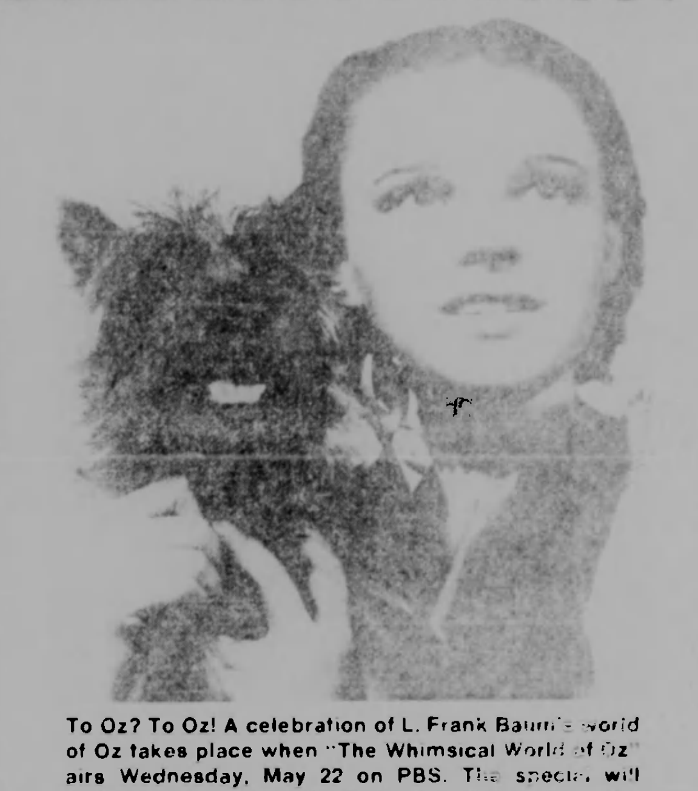
"At first," she recalls, "I wasn't very enthusiastic about those lessons. I took them, but I never thought of acting as a possible career. Then I was taken to see the Broadway musical, 'Annie,' and that did it — seeing those kids up there, singing and dancing. I wanted to be doing that too."

The next day, Miss Lerman auditioned for the national company of "Annie," and won a part. She toured with the show for a year and a half, and later, she appeared in the movie version as Tessie. Roles in the film "The Blues Brothers" and the TV special "Revenge of the Nerd" followed.

Besides acting, her love of music — presumably kindled by her "Annie" experience — is still strong. Miss Lerman sings pop-rock and composes classical compositions, though she believes her future is in acting.

Unless, of course, she wants to be a musical sex symbol.

Joanne Woodward stars as Barbara Hollis, a college professor and poet who contracts Alzheimer's disease at the peak of her career in "Do You Remember Love," a made-for-TV movie airing Tuesday, May 21 on CBS.



To Oz? To Oz! A celebration of L. Frank Baum's world of Oz takes place when "The Whimsical World of Oz" airs Wednesday, May 22 on PBS. The special will include footage of Judy Garland and Toto from the 1939 classic "The Wizard of Oz." (Check local listings.)

'Oz' special is a whimsical TV delight

By Marc Minnelli

L. Frank Baum

We've all been to Oz. Whether we've pranced along the Yellow Brick Road with Judy Garland, boogied to the Emerald City with Stephanie Mills or followed Diana Ross to Munchkinland, we've been entertained, enticed and even frightened by L. Frank Baum's Ozian creations. We may have gone over the rainbow, but now it's time to go even further.

On Wednesday, May 22, PBS takes us on a fascinating journey into "The Whimsical World of Oz," a special celebrating the 85th anniversary of the writing of the Oz books. (There are 14 Oz volumes in all.) Baum's biographical details and personal quirks are a bit scant in the hour-long special, but there's more than enough here to intoxicate the devotee and addict the novice. "No morals, just entertainment," wrote Baum in the introduction of "The Wizard of Oz" — and that's exactly what producers Roger Yager and Michael Baumohl give us. And more.

We learn, for instance, that Judy Garland was not the screen's first Dorothy, although she's the most memorable and gave, perhaps, the finest portrayal. In 1908 Baum went behind the silent screen camera and directed Romola Dunlop in four Oz films; some of this footage — flickering vignettes that hint of the cinematic magic to follow in subsequent Oz films — is shown. Miss Dunlop, a spry 84-year-old, also makes an appearance, reminiscing about Baum and her early film career.

"The Whimsical World of Oz" also treats us to clips from other attempts to Hollywoodize Oz. Oliver Hardy, sans Stan Laurel, makes a bumbling Tin Man in a 1925 silent. Liza Minnelli provides Dorothy's voice in a 1962 animated movie. Diana Ross fumbles past garbage heaps in the fetid 1978 musical film "The Wiz," and Fairuza Balk updates Dorothy and her adventures in the upcoming Disney film "Return to Oz."

Trivia lovers will adore "Whimsical World" — there's enough here to keep them guessing for months — but there's nothing trivial about the special. It interests, it excites and, far more important, it entertains.

WEDNESDAY

"Family Ties" regular Justine Bateman turns to drama when she stars as a victim of child abuse in "Right to Kill," a movie based on a true story, airing Wednesday, May 22 on ABC.

(Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

MONDAY

Nicol Williamson stars as King Ferdinand and Faye Dunaway portrays Queen Isabella of Spain in the six-hour historical opus "Christopher Columbus." Part two of the miniseries airs Monday, May 20 on CBS.

STAR STYLE

Miss Raffin keeps life simple and stress-free

By Renee Ross

Deborah Raffin

Chances are you won't find Deborah Raffin soaking up those famous California rays in her idle moments. "I've never been a sun worshipper," says Miss Raffin, 31, who recently starred in the steamy ABC miniseries "Lace II." "I find the sun extremely boring."

You will, however, often find the actress outdoors, enjoying her favorite sports. "I love tennis, swimming and skiing," gushes Miss Raffin. "Whenever I travel — which is often — I always try to become active in whatever sport is locally convenient.

"Also, since I travel so much, I had to design a daily exercise routine that's easy and can be done anywhere in the world. That's why I usually do the Jane Fonda workout. It's terrific because you can do it anywhere."

Miss Raffin says being movement-minded is nothing new. "I was always a tomboy," she recalls, "and I was always outdoors. And it wasn't because I consciously wanted to be fit. I just always feel better when I've done something physically active. It also keeps my stress levels down, and when I'm working," she adds, "that's a definite help."

The actress, who has been working virtually nonstop since her first role 13 years ago as Liv Ullmann's daughter in the film version of "40 Carats," reveals how she maintains her sleek 5-foot-8 1/2 inch, 115-pound figure.

"I just happen to desire low-calorie foods like grilled chicken and simple salads," she says. "I eat very little red meat. And it's not because of health reasons. It's because I don't crave it."

Miss Raffin and her husband, producer-manager Michael Viner, have a home in California, but they also keep a hideaway retreat in the Vermont hills. "It was a conscious decision to choose a place very far and very different from the film business," she explains. "For me, and I think for most actors, you really need to get away sometimes so you can look at things objectively."

The actress, whose wide variety of acting talents have earned her roles in everything from the movie version of "Jacqueline Susann's Once is Not Enough" to "Hamlet," adds, "I'm a big believer in the concept of positive thought and a life that's simple and not too cluttered. I'm much happier when I'm in an environment that's more simple. For me, it makes a big difference."

Miss Samms brings life back to 'Dynasty' cast

By Gillian George

Emma Samms

When a nostalgic Jeff Colby gazed at a familiar portrait of Fallon Carrington Colby on a recent episode of "Dynasty," the face staring back wasn't so familiar. Fallon was long thought to be dead — she had driven off a cliff in front of viewers' eyes — and Jeff was being confronted by a smiling woman with dark hair and an inexplicable British accent. An Alfred Hitchcock holdover? Hardly. Fallon was being brought back from the dead.

The "new" Fallon is being played by "General Hospital" star Emma Samms. Miss Samms was offered the role after Pamela Sue Martin, the actress who created the role, left the ABC series and vowed never to return.

Although she was delighted to have been courted by "Dynasty" producers — and more than pleased with a five-year contract that will make her a millionaire by 1990 — Miss Samms had no idea whom she would be playing when she signed her contract. Now, the petite, 24-year-old actress is astonished at the transformation of Fallon.

Among the more enjoyable perks in her contract is a clause allowing the London-born actress to retain her British accent. Just how effectively that little detail will be explained in the Denver-bred Fallon is anyone's guess.

One aspect of her new character that Miss Samms finds "slightly problematic" is Fallon's well-known penchant for being a man-eater. "I've never felt that I'm sexy," she admits, "even though that's the way a lot of other people see me. I prefer men to be interested in me as a person. I hate to think they're attracted only to my body. I do have a mind."

This may explain why Miss Samms currently lives alone in Los Angeles. She was once engaged to Oscar-winning songwriter Marvin Hamlisch and reportedly dated both her "GH" colleague Anthony Geary and the late Jon-Erik Hexum.

But there's no hint that the actress is in need of love — or anything else. She considers herself "supremely lucky," and the facts bear her out. Just before she signed a $6,000-per-week contract on "General Hospital," she was making $3 an hour working in a delicatessen.

By the time she left the ABC soap, Miss Samms was receiving more than 600 fan letters a week. And as impressive as that is, she knows that "Dynasty" will catapult her to even greater popularity. "I'm just so thrilled," the actress gushes. "It's hard to believe this is happening to me."

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By Val Carew

I was a big fan of "Mannix." Please tell me in on some of the show's details. — M.F., Hutchinson, Minn.

Mike Connors

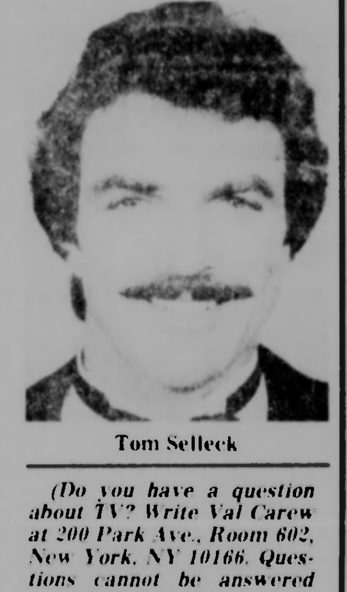
The detective series premiered on CBS Sept. 16, 1967 on CBS. Mike Connors starred as Joe Mannix and some critics considered the show one of the most violent detective series ever created for television. During the first year of the show, Mannix worked for a computerized detective agency called Intertect. Joe Campanella played his boss, Lou Wickersham. Beginning with the show's second year, Mannix had his own office, as well as his own secretary, Peggy Fair, who was played by Gail Fisher. Robert Reed joined the cast during the 1969-70 season. The actor portrayed Lt. Adam Tobias, Mannix's good friend and contact. The last episode of "Mannix" aired Aug. 27, 1975.

Help Val! My best friend wants only one thing for her anniversary: Tom Selleck. I want to write to the actor and ask him to send her a card or letter. Is there a chance? Is there an address? — G.A., Chuckey, Texas

We've been through this before. I can guarantee that Selleck will answer his mail. I cannot guarantee that he even reads his mail. But it's worth spending the time and 22 cents trying, isn't it? Write to the star of "Magnum, P.I." c/o Universal Studios, 510 18th Street, Honolulu, Hawaii 96816. Good luck!

Please settle an argument. How old is Joan Collins? I say she's 18. My father insists she's 62. — M.L.A., Yonkers, N.Y.

The "Dynasty" star was born on May 23, 1933. She soon turns 52.



Tom Selleck

TV film tackles trauma of Alzheimer's disease

By Marta Tarbell

Joanne Woodward

Vicki Patik knows how hard it is to sell a serious movie to network television. "There are a lot of areas they simply won't touch," says Miss Patik, the 34-year-old screenwriter of "Do You Remember Love." The film, starring Joanne Woodward as a college professor stricken by Alzheimer's disease, airs Tuesday, May 21 on CBS. Alzheimer's, a mysterious neurological disorder that causes loss of memory and confusion, afflicts at least two million Americans.

"Networks won't buy scripts about terrorists or stories set in South America because Ronald Reagan wouldn't like it," explains Miss Patik. "And they won't risk anything that's negative about religion because they're afraid of Jerry Falwell's reaction." The reason for all this caution? "The networks feel they can't afford to upset any group of people who might cause them financial problems."

So the networks turn to the endless run of "disease-of-the-week" movies. "There is a lot of inherent drama in seeing a person who is very bright lose it all," says Miss Patik, who developed "Do You Remember Love" at the suggestion of one of the film's producers. A few weeks later, she gave the producer — whose mother suffers from Alzheimer's — a treatment of the script, which he sent to Joanne Woodward, also the daughter of an Alzheimer's victim. "Joanne's interest in the project convinced them to go ahead with it," says Miss Patik, a former singer-actress.

Victims of the disease experience a gradual deterioration of the mind. "There are as many reactions to the disease as there are types of personalities," explains Miss Patik. "Someone with a sweet, nice nature might stay that way — even as they become increasingly confused and forgetful. Others will become angry. It's very frustrating to know that your mind is dying."

And though, according to Miss Patik, victims need to be watched day and night because they are in constant danger of hurting themselves, it isn't easy to care for a person with the disease. "It's nearly impossible to find a nursing home that takes Alzheimer's victims," she says, "because health insurance does not cover the problem."

Farrah Fawcett says yes to 'Extremities' film

By Cindy Adams

NEW YORK — After weeks of bargaining with industry biggies, Farrah Fawcett has signed to star in the film version of "Extremities." The play is a violent one. It tells the story of a woman who, after being brutally attacked, turns the tables on her would-be rapist. Farrah starred in "Extremities" during its 1983 off-Broadway run; at one point during the engagement, she suffered a fractured wrist from the play's demands.

Farrah Fawcett

Burt Sugarman will produce the flick and Atlantic Distributors will release it. Originally, Farrah was offered a measly $250,000 to recreate the role. She told producers — politely, of course — where to put their offer. The haggling went on for three weeks until the actress was approached again — this time, with a take-home wage offer of $500,000. Farrah said yes. Now everyone's happy.

Cicely Tyson and her horn-playing husband, Miles Davis, are trumpeting their reconciliation after six months. ... If the October stork delivers Joe and Debbie Namath a boy, his name will be John Jeffrey Namath. If the he's a she, the name will be switched to Jessica Grace Namath. ... Cloris Leachman's getting ready for a Broadway musical based on the comic strip "Captain America."

State Police Unveil Unique Method To Slow Speeders

SPEEDERS BEWARE! — Uniformed State Troopers, driving marked and unmarked patrol cars, are shown forming "rolling roadblocks" at 55 miles per hour. State Police will be utilizing this strategy on 55 mile per hour highways in Maryland to reduce an increasing trend by motorists to exceed the national maximum speed limit. (Photo by Jim Powers)

State Police announced this week the addition of a unique approach in their continuing statewide traffic enforcement program aimed at slowing down speeding motorists.

Called "Rolling Roadblocks," this traffic control effort involves uniformed troopers operating marked and unmarked patrol cars formed across all lanes of traffic to insure that motorists drive at 55 miles per hour. Any driver passing, or attempting to pass, these patrol cars will be dealt with accordingly.

State Police Superintendent, Colonel W.T. Travers, Jr., said, "State Police are putting speeders on notice. The flagrant abuse of the 55 mile per hour speed limit will no longer be tolerated." Travers added, "Previous measures have not been as effective in reducing the rate of non-compliance as expected, therefore, we are instituting more stringent measures."

Additionally, Travers has ordered that all conventional unmarked State Police cars throughout the state, not being used for special assignments, have their normally used Maryland license plates replaced with marked State Police tags which can be readily identified. The high visibility of these cars will serve as a constant reminder to all motorists to voluntarily comply with the posted speed limits. Those motorists insisting on violating the speed limits will be stopped and cited.

State Police began a multiphase crackdown in the winter of 1984 utilizing an increase of non-traditional enforcement techniques such as radar operations using trucks, vans, and other nondescript vehicles. VASCAR and aerial speed enforcement were stepped up during this period. Although an increase of nearly 20 percent in the issuance of speeding citations were realized, the speed continued at unacceptable levels.

"We have seen what obeying the 55 mile per hour National Maximum Speed Limit can accomplish," Travers said. "Over the past 10 years the number of persons killed or injured has been sharply reduced. The recent trend of non-compliance is a dangerous one, and the State Police are adopting these measures to reverse that serious trend."

GCC To Offer Welding Course

The Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College will offer Welding I beginning Tuesday, May 28, from 1 to 4 p.m. at the McHenry Campus. Classes will meet on a daily basis, Monday through Friday, and will continue through June 24.

This course is designed for the individual who wishes to upgrade his/her basic skills in welding. Upon completion of the course an individual should gain a knowledge of the fundamental first steps in good welding practices. Topics to be reviewed include: oxyacetylene and are arc welding process; oxygen and acetylene cylinders; welding gases and regulators; types and uses of welding torches and electrodes; cutting—straight line, flame, level and piercing; and running beads and weave beads—flat work.

Eligible Dislocated Workers and JTPA participants may enroll in this course free of charge. To determine eligibility, persons may call the Western Maryland Consortium at 334-8145.

For more information concerning this course, persons may contact the Continuing Education Office at 334-8266.

Elected To Student Government Post

West Virginia Wesleyan College officials have announced the results of campus-wide elections held on April 23. Among those elected was Carinelle Stemple, Mt. Lake Park, who will serve as a representative to Community Council for the senior class.

Ms. Stemple, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Stemple, is a 1982 graduateof Southern High School.

Co. AARP Takes Spring Tour To Virginia Beach

A group of senior citizens, belonging to the American Association of Retired Persons from Garrett County, recently returned from a five-day trip to Virginia Beach, Va., and other points of interest in that area.

They visited the Mariners' Museum in Newport News, Va., which is dedicated to the craftsmen who built sailing vessels, from primitive dugouts to modern ocean liners. One feature of the museum is the August F. Crabtree collection of miniature ship models. Crabtree carved not just hulls, masts and sails, but fanciful figureheads and ornate embellishments, all in perfect detail.

A day was spent in Williamsburg, the capital of colonial Virginia, to recapture some of our history and heritage in its gardens, architecture, collections of furniture and furnishings, as well as many working crafts.

A bus tour of the Norfolk Naval Base enabled the group to see some of the large ships and submarines which were in dock, as well as the largest store in the world, the Naval Supply Center.

Other highlights included a tour of the Norfolk Botanical Gardens, the Douglas MacArthur Memorial, and the Waterside Complex, a shopping center offering ethnic foods as well as many small shops. The group also visited Williamsburg Pottery and the Tidewater Dinner Theater, where they enjoyed the musical, "Fiddler on the Roof."

With Martha Armstrong as escort and Jim Abe, bus driver, the AARP tour group included the following people: Elizabeth Watkins, Jean Sollars, Helen Strawser, Mabel Smouse, Beulah Sisler, Katherine Stewart, Elizabeth McComas, Elsie Cross, Carrie Shaffer, Ruth Martin, Nada Nethken, Julia Shaffer, Ferne Beachy, Rose Buckel, Marguerite Wotring, Alma George, Patsy O'Brien, Violet Pike, Dorothy Jordan, Mary Kay Lewis, Carrie Harford, Anne Connor, Mildred Peterson, Afle Sisler, Helen Friend, Margaret Dean, Ernest and Alice Spoerlein, Kenneth and Frances Bray, Lawrence and Doris Groves, Joseph and Hazel Welch, Robert and Lillian Lee, Keith and Evelyn Steyer and Earle and Dorothy Lear.

Grant County Emergency Center Now In Operation

For the first time, residents of Grant County, W.Va., may dial one number for all forms of emergency assistance.

Residents of the southern section of the County (Petersburg, Maysville, Dorcas, 257 and 749 telephone exchanges) may dial 257-1212 for emergencies. Citizens of the northern section (Mt. Storm, Bayard, Gormania, 693 telephone exchange) may dial 693-7171. Both numbers are answered in the County's 24/hour Emergency Center, located in the Grant County Courthouse.

The Emergency Center also has an unique feature which includes a business telephone for residents residing in the northern area (693 exchanges). These individuals may dial 693-7654 to contact any county official located in the courthouse. Both 693-7171 and 693-7654 telelphone numbers are toll-free to residents.

Persons requiring an ambulance, law enforcement officer, or fire department, should be prepared to present the following information:

Name of caller, call-back telephone number, patient's name and present condition (where applicable), where assistance is needed, and what the emergency is.

Emergency telephone stickers are available from any law enforcement officer, fire department, the ambulance service, county libraries, and the Emergency Center.

Friendsville Man

self. He feels that while he has been in office, the town council has been working closer together as a group. "People are coming to us with their problems," said Spencer. Solving those problems are what elected officials are for, and Spencer assumes the responsibility with dedication and enthusiasm.

An important event in Friendsville each year is the Summer Festival. Spencer regularly works along with chairperson, Maxine Combs, during the festival. Mrs. Combs feels that it's important for adults to encourage young people to become more involved in community affairs. "Spencer is a clean-cut young man with both feet on the ground," Mrs. Combs stated, "and I predict that if he stays in the political arena, he'll go far."

Another person Spencer credits as being an inspiration to him is Doris Goldsborough, whom he first met when she was the county campaign chairman for Senator Paul Sarbanes. "Spencer seemed very interested in the campaign," said Mrs. Goldsborough, "and he got very involved in the Walter Mondale presidential campaign in 1984."

A year ago, Spencer joined the Garrett County Democratic Club. One of the club's activities was registering people to vote from the club's booth at the Garrett County Fair. Mrs. Goldsborough says that he was just dynamic, and she told the other club members working there to "look at this boy, look at him in action, he has registered more people than all the rest of us put together."

This past January, Spencer was elected president of the Garrett County Democratic Club, and said that his biggest step was to appoint effective committee people and to increase membership. Since being elected president, he has been traveling to many Democratic Party events and meeting both Maryland and National Democratic Committee members.

Spencer sincerely enjoys being with and talking with people, but he also enjoys music, and spends his spare time listening to tapes and records. He also likes to swim. He finds time for a parttime job at the Old Mill Grill, in Friendsville, when he's not attending college; working with the Town Council, doing church work, or traveling down-state for GYAC or Democratic Club functions.

But what about the future? Spencer has a list of short-term and long-term goals. One of those is to be a student page for the Maryland General Assembly next spring, something he has always wanted to do. As a councilman, it is important to him to help develop a town park in Friendsville. He doesn't exclude higher political office from his future either. "Mayor James Spear is doing a fine job, but if for some reason he doesn't run next year, I might take a shot at it," said Spencer. He might seriously consider running for the Democratic Central Committee in 1986, and that could be just the beginning.

A young man with Spencer's enthusiasm and ability, his pride in his town and country, and his willingness to work for what he believes in, should go far; and as Maxine Combs said, "I hope we can keep young people like Spencer in Garrett County, because we need them."

Assessment Answers & Tax Talk

by James Burley

On the Review of Real Property for Tax Assessment

The method of assessing real property statewide was revamped in 1979. One of the major changes was switching from an annual reassessment to a three-year cycle. Since the time of the change, two full three-year cycles have been completed; and 1985 begins the first year of the third three-year cycle.

For purposes of the review, each of the 23 counties and the City of Baltimore are divided into three areas—e.g., West, Central, and East; or North, Central, and South—and these are reviewed rotationally over the three-year span. The areas under review this year are collectively called Group I. This group was last reviewed in 1982, and property owners received assessment notices as a result of this in December of that year.

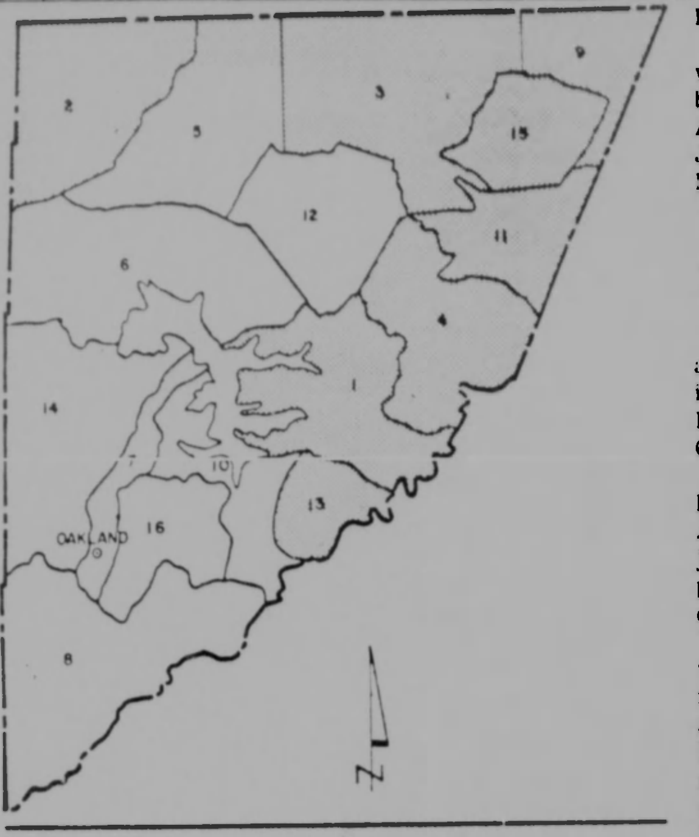
The results of the current review will show up at the end of the year in the form of new notices of assessment to a third of all real property owners in Maryland. The assessment notice to follow in December will be the basis of the annual property tax for the following three years.

A physical inspection takes place as a part of the reassessment review, and assessors will be observed in various neighborhoods and areas. The purpose of the visual inspection is to compare the information of record with the actual physical situation. The assessors will usually have most of the records with them at the time of their visit. If changes have occurred since the last review, the records will be updated to reflect this.

Assessors, in the course of their work, do not go inside residences unless specifically asked to do so; but before looking at the property they will attempt to make their presence known. If the owner or another responsible person is not at home, they will leave a card to signal to the owner that they have been there.

If at home, a brief meeting with the assessor can be to the mutual advantage of both the owner and assessor in that the records can be gone over and verified on the spot. It is a good time to pick up any errors, ask any questions, and possibly clear up misunderstandings. The information obtained at the time of the visual inspection can be invaluable in working up the replacement cost calculation, in making comparisons with other properties, and in the sales analysis.

Probably few would favor a return to a yearly reassessment, and the current method has a number of advantages over the one it replaced. But the three-year span between reviews is just long enough to cause owners to lose their knowledge and familiarity with the procedure. The opportunity to talk briefly to the assessor can help to offset this.



The shaded section of the above map nearby shows the areas in Garrett County being reviewed in 1985. Assessors will be visiting property in these areas. Most of the work involving the physical inspection takes place between April and September.

New Maryland Highway Maps Now Available

State Highway Administrator Hal Kassoff announces the publication of the new Maryland Official Highway Map. This latest edition of the map features a cover photograph of the Burnside Bridge in the Antietam National Battlefield Park near Sharpsburg.

Inside the map's folds, colors have been lightened to enhance legibility. Also, the metropolitan area map has been updated, showing the interstate improvements in Baltimore City.

Other changes include updated park and ride facilities and a sampling of the graphic tourist symbols that indicate road services along the highways.

As in years past, the map features small blow-ups of 21 cities and towns outside the metropolitan area. Principal streets, bypasses with exits, airports, colleges, town halls, courthouses, and route intersections are clearly depicted to help the motorist find his way through these areas.

The map is free and is available at the following locations: State office buildings in Baltimore and Annapolis; State Highway Administration headquarters, Baltimore; SHA districts offices; Maryland State Police barracks; all toll facilities; and the Motor Vehicle Administration, Glen Burnie.

Telephone and mail request will be filled by the Map Distribution Center, State Highway Administration, 2323 West Joppa Road, Brooklandville, MD 21022.

Lent Selected By Honor Society

Southern High School graduate James M. Lent III has been inducted into the Vincit Qui Patitur honor society at Berea College.

Lent, the son of James and Lee Lent, Jr., of 108 W. Second Avenue, Mt. Lake Park, is a junior English major at the private liberal arts college in central Kentucky.

Approximately 130 students were recognized as new members of the freshman honor society Fleur de Lis, Mortar Board national honor society, and the first chapter of the recently organized Vincit Qui Patitur Junior Society for students with high academic achievement during the sophomore year.

RETIREE HONORED — Harvey Friend, a foreman with the Garrett County Roads Department until his retirement on May 1, was honored at a party Tuesday afternoon for "23 years of dedicated and loyal service to the Roads Department," as inscribed on a plaque given to him by Roads Administrator Paul R. Shockey. Pictured above, left to right, are Shockey, Garrett County Commissioner Elwood Groves II; Commissioner Ernest Gregg Jr.; the honoree, Harvey Friend; Commissioner John Braskey; and Butch Smith, area supervisor. Shockey stated, "Although I have only been with the department a short time, I have found Mr. Friend to be a good and loyal employee." Shockey also said there will be a large retirement party in the near future to honor 24 additional retirees who have retired in the past four years and were not given recognition for their service.

Local Students Among Grads At Potomac State

The 82nd annual commencement of 138 Potomac State College of West Virginia University students was held Sunday at the Church-McKee Arts Center.

Calling Potomac State College one of the finest programs of its kind in the country, keynote speaker Dr. Robert L. Volle, interim vice president of academic affairs and research at West Virginia University, urged the graduates to "Know yourself. Know your values. Remember the eternal assets that come from your home, your community, and your family."

Dr. James L. McBee, Jr., executive dean of Potomac State, presided over the commencement program. He was assisted in the presentation of 99 Associate in Arts degrees, 36 Associate in Applied Science degrees, and 11 certificates of proficiency by Professor Nancy M. Hockensmith, associate dean.

Among those receiving diplomas from Potomac State College were: Pamela M. L. Britner, Terra Alta, AA, business and economics; Jill A. Hammond, Deer Park, AA, business and economics; Michael A. White, Deer Park, AA, engineering; Johnny L. Lipscomb, Kitzmiller, AA, engineering; Robert M. Flinn, Oakland, AA, engineering; Gwendolyn A. McBee, Oakland, AA; engineering; Carol E. Reall, Gormania, associate in applied science and Arlene K. Roth, Horse Shoe Run, associate in applied science, plus a certificate of proficiency in computer equipment operations.

DAV AIDS ROCK AND ROLLERS — The Disabled American Veterans Mt. Top Chapter 29 and the DAV Auxiliary were presented a trophy recently for their participation in the Rock and Roll Jamboree held on April 27 and sponsored by the Cuppett and Weeks Nursing Home. The DAV and Auxiliary sponsored all the nursing home veterans and collected a total of $535. This year's goal was set at $1,000, but the nursing home far exceeded that amount by collecting $1,700 which will go directly to The Alzheimer's Association for research and education. The theme of the Rock and Roll was the "Fabulous Fifties" and over 50 residents of the home took part in the event. Entertainment was provided by various groups throughout the day. Shown in the photo above, left to right, are Lisa Frazee, assistant activities director at the home, Hazel Meyers, commander of the DAV Auxiliary accepting the trophy, Bill Meyers, commander of the DAV, and Sheila Hauser, activities director presenting the trophy

Scholarship Available Via 4-H Program

The Garrett County 4-H Program announces that applications are now being accepted for the John Thomas Sealing Memorial Scholarship. This tuition scholarship will be presented to a freshman entering college in the fall of 1985, with studies in the field of nursing or education. The recipient must be or have been a 4-H member and must be a graduate of a Garrett County High School or a resident of Garrett for one year, with a high school diploma, or equivalent.

The Garrett County Extension Service 4-H program is serving as the sponsor's contact for the scholarship.

Application forms are available by contacting the Extension Office at 334-2145 and are due July 20, 1985. The scholarship recipient will be announced during the Awards Ceremony at the Garrett County Fair on August 17, 1985.

Balloon From Mars Found In Accident

A Garrett County youth found a purple balloon from Mars! From Mars, Pennsylvania, that is.

Eight-year-old Brian Umbel found the balloon in Accident while visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strauss.

The balloon was launched from the Haines Elementary School in Mars by Michael Bogden, a first-grade student, on May 3. It was found by Brian on Saturday, May 4, after traveling approximately 86 miles in 24 hours.

Michael's balloon was part of a PTA sponsored pen pal program at Haines Elementary School. Brian has written to Michael and hopes that they do become pen pals. Brian is the son of Dana and Nancy Umbel of Accident.

D.O.P. Reports Investigated By Oakland Police

The Oakland City Police are currently investigating numerous reports of destruction of property in the city limits.

Edith Brock, director at the Ruth Enlow Library, told police Monday that someone had thrown a rock through a library window over the weekend causing $50 damage. Chief John K. Sines is investigating.

On May 8, several homeowners in the Eighth Street area along with Jack Fridinger, representing the Paul B. Naylor Masonic Temple, reported to city police that someone had driven a vehicle through their yards, spinning tires and causing damage to the grass. A red pickup truck is being sought in the case. Officer Charles Warfield is investigating.

Chief Sines is investigating another reported case of destruction of property filed by Judy DeWitt, High Street. DeWitt told police that on the weekend prior to May 6, someone had thrown eggs on her newly painted car, causing the paint to come off.

On May 5, Sgt. Roger Lewis investigated the destruction of property report filed by the janitor at the GCC Oakland Center. Reportedly, someone threw an unknown object through a window of that building sometime on the night of May 4.

On May 3, Officer Warfield arrested Joseph Pyles, 45, Mtn. Lake Park, for disorderly intoxication. Pyles was apprendended on U.S. Route 219 North, just inside the city limits.

PRESENTS SUNGLASSES — Cindy Kutchman, left, executive director of the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council receives over $1,500 worth of Bausch & Lomb Ray-Ban sunglasses from John Sheltra, manager of the Oakland B&L plant. As part of its community awareness program, the company has donated the sunglasses to the Promotion Council for use as door prizes, awards and other promotions and special activities in the county.

Agency Slates Seniors' Trip To Heritage Days

The Area Agency on Aging is planning a trip to Heritage Days in Cumberland on June 8 for senior citizens. This is an annual event and attracts many new participants each year.

Craftsmen from various counties throughout Maryland, as well as numerous other states, attend to display and sell their handmade items. Food booths are plentiful with many different mouthwatering ethnic and traditional dishes available. There are also tours through some of the historic homes on Washington Street.

The trip is limited to 38 passengers. Pick-up points will be determined according to need. The cost is $7.00 per person for transportation only.

Maryland Tourism Week Activities Are Announced

Maryland Tourism Week will be celebrated May 19-25 and Garrett County will be celebrating along with the rest of the State with several events at the Youghiogheny Overlook Information Center along State Route 48.

On Sunday, May 19, from 9:00 a.m. to noon the Friendsville Rotary and Lions will serve coffee and cookies. The Grantsville Rotary and Lions will serve coffee and cookies and the Grantsville BPW will serve lemonade and chips from noon to 5 p.m.

The Maryland State Police Med-a-vac Helicopter will be at the center at 1:00 p.m. for a demonstration. From 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. Trooper Rice from the Maryland State Police will give a presentation on traffic safety and the DWI program.

Also beginning at 1:00 p.m. will be a performance by the Ali Ghan Clown Unit, followed by a performance by the Ali Ghan Highlander Unit at 2 p.m.

Refreshments will be available throughout the week and will be hosted by the Casselman Valley Homemakers and Friendsville Rotary and Lions.

On Wednesday, free Cokes will be served all day and Coca-Cola T-Shirts will be given away.

Saturday, May 25, will again see the Med-a-vac Helicopter demonstration at 1:00 p.m. The Mountaineer Square Dancers and a special country and gospel singing performance by Tammy and Pam Brenneman will be offered as the afternoon's entertainment beginning at 2:00 p.m.

The Youghiogheny Overlook Information Center is located at the rest area on Route 48 just east of Friendsville. The center, which is a state facility, is managed by the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council and is open seven days a week year-round.

Extended Coverage
By ROB MICHAEL Agent

The smart consumer differentiates between useful insurance protection and that which is not truly helpful. That's why we often recommend raising deductibles, for instance, in order to increase insurance limits.
One kind of insurance that may not benefit you is credit life insurance, designed to pay off your loan if you die, as offered by your lender.
This insurance premium is generally added to the amount you borrow, and then financed. The cost of this coverage, and the interest you pay on the premium, usually add up to more than the cost of a regular term policy, especially for a young buyer.
In some cases, it IS necessary to carry credit insurance in order to get the loan. Even then, it may be possible to substitute other coverage, such as term life insurance.

We've had several calls in the last week requesting our price per square yard on carpet that our shoppe doesn't carry. Several inquiries were on carpets we don't wish to sell as we feel the carpets are over priced and over rated.
We suggest that you don't pay more just for the name. Remember, carpet companies copy each other. So probably whatever is turning you on elsewhere, we have it at the same quality but under another brand name.
Just remember the rule to compare apples with apples, not oranges with bananas, and you'll be headed in the right direction—perhaps even in our direction.
Remember, we're the couple who says "A floor without a rug is like a kiss without a hug."

FUNERAL DIRECTOR AS COUNSELOR
Although the funeral director may not consider himself a trained counselor, and may not have his doctorate in psychology, his special experience and role give him certain insights which he cannot help but use in his professional role. Any sensitive funeral director will soon acquire a knowledge about personal, practical, and abnormal bereavement problems which can be of value to those he serves.
Using his sensitivity, the funeral director can successfully identify such problems and then help or refer. In this way, he can be of use in the community as part of the care-giving team and more helpful to each family he serves.
Today, the funeral director is not restricted to only "at-need" contacts with families. He should be counseling them during pre-arrangements and he should be available for post-funeral visits to the family in addition to his regular, and more traditional at-need duties.

Post Offices To Close May 27

All post offices, stations and branches will be closed on Monday, May 27, in observance of the Memorial Day Holiday, Sectional Center Manager/Postmaster Thomas S. Straub announced recently.

On that day, there will be no window service. Post office box service will be provided on a holiday schedule. Delivery services will be limited to Express Mail and Special Delivery at offices having a receipt of mail.

One collection will be made on Monday, May 27, from boxes located in front of Main Offices, stations, branches and Self-Service Postal Centers (SSPC), and where needed in business areas and on main thoroughfares.

Pike Festival Set In Addison

The National Pike Festival is held each year to commemorate the completion of the "Way West", Route 40.

The Festival will begin this evening, May 16, in Addison, Pa., when the wagon train meets and camps at the Toll House Restaurant. On Friday morning, May 17, the wagon train will start the journey westward, leaving from the Addison Toll House.

The Toll House is one of two of the original six tollhouses on the National road to remain open. Only three remain standing and one is in Somerset County. It is the only stone structure (the others are brick) and was built in 1835. The Toll House will be open to the public May 18 & 19, during the Festival. Free Toll House cookies will be distributed to visitors.

Activities planned in the village during the two-day festival include a muzzle loading demonstration at 10 a.m. May 18, a parade at 2:00 p.m. and a square dance at 8:00 p.m. On Sunday, May 19, the Addison Volunteer Firemen will have a chicken barbecue beginning at 11 a.m.

Americans eat 200,000 tons of popcorn every year.

"THE SNOWMAN WHO OVERSTAYED" was presented by Mrs. Helen Fitzwater's third graders at the April 18 PTA meeting at Dennett Road School. The play was about a stubborn snowman who defied the March wind, April showers, and Helios the sun in their efforts to get rid of him so spring could come. He was determined to see spring. Princess Spring was flattered into granting him one moment to see the beauty of spring flowers in bloom, bare trees burst into leaf and blossom, and see the return of bluebirds. Pictured left to right are: Dandelions, Donna Hershman, Jeremy Graham and Andrew Lane; Bluebirds, Gretchen Trickett and Jason Barr; Helios (the sun), Ryan Durst; Bluebird (behind snowman), Jeff Cook; The Snowman, Marty Werdebaugh; Bluebird, Kelly Slaubaugh, Princess Spring, Melissa Rodeheaver; and the Crabapple tree, Misty Sanders. Others in the play but not pictured were: Dandelions, Libby Moon, Tony Mitchell, Courtney Abrahamson, and Jarrod Glotfelty; March page, Andrew Wildesen; April page, Rachna Magoon; May page, Aimee Moyer; April shower, Angie Glotfelty; March wind, Craig Forbes, Announcer, Mike Witt, and stage manager, Jeremy Martin.

Extension Agents Slate Workshop

"Replacing Plugs and Rewiring Lamps" is the title of a class to be held on May 22 at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. at the Garrett County Extension Office. The instructors for the class will be Ted Sprangel and Jane Gibson, Extension Agents.

Participants may come to observe or they may have a hands-on experience. Supplies needed are: an appliance or lamp that needs the plug replaced, a replacement plug, a pocket knife, or paring knife, a screwdriver, and wire cutting pliers. If participants don't have the needed tools, extras will be available the day of the class.

Class members may bring lamps that need to be repaired. They will get instructions on how to get the lamps in working order once again.

This free class is open to all interested persons. To register, they may call 334-2145.

Sarbanes Rep To Visit Oakland

Senator Paul Sarbanes has announced that his Western Maryland representative will be in Oakland on Wednesday, May 29, to seek citizens' views and assist with problems relating to the Federal Government.

"I have asked Mrs. Nina Conway, my Western Maryland representative to be available in the Garrett County Commissioners' Meeting Room in Oakland from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m., so that she may meet with concerned citizens and report to me the views of Garrett Countians about current national issues and the difficulties they may be having with Federal agencies."

Constituents who are unable to meet with Mrs. Conway during this time may contact her at 1906 Frederick Street, Cumberland, Md. 21502; (301) 722-5369.

Open House Set For May 20 At Seniors Center

The Area Agency on Aging is hosting an Open House at the Senior Citizen's Center located at 104 E. Center Street, Oakland on May 20 from 11:00 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The event is being held in recognition of Older Americans Month. Nutrition sites throughout the county will display crafts they have made and information valuable to senior citizens will be available.

Delegate George E. Edwards will be on hand to assist the Agency in commending the many volunteers who have given much of their time and energy to the program.

The public is invited to attend the Open House and learn more about the Area Agency on Aging and its programs.

Bruceton High Alumni Group Slates Reunion

Bruceton High School Alumni Association is again making plans for its annual reunion. After spending the winter months incorporating as a non-profit organization, and preparing the address list for printing and other organizational matters, the Executive Council met at the home of the president, Janice Cale Sisler, recently and determined to follow the pattern of last year's event for another year.

Pauline Burns of the Executive Council will serve as Alumni Day chairman for 1985. Other members of the Council, in addition to the president, are: Beulah Dotson, vice president, Ralph Miller, treasurer, and Frances Crane, secretary.

Graduates, former students, parents, faculty and friends will meet at Bruceton High School Sunday, July 21, the day following Good Neighbor Days. Registration will be at the gymnasium and lunch will be served at noon. Those who live within two hours of Bruceton are asked to bring a covered dish which will serve a couple of extra people. Those traveling greater distances need not bring food. Most of the day will be spent in reminiscing, however, during the brief business session, two members are to be elected to the Executive Council and there will be a discussion as to whether to change the day of the week on which the 1986 reunion will be held, as well as the place of meeting.

A newsletter will be going to all graduates in the near future. Those who have not already paid their dues should send them to the Bruceton High School Alumni Association, PO Box 249, Bruceton Mills, WV 26525. Annual membership is $5.00; life membership is $50.00.

OFFICIAL RECOMMENDATION
MARYLAND DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND MENTAL HYGIENE

PET	VACCINATE
Puppies, and Kittens, under one year	Should be vaccinated at three months of age, revaccinate after twelve months
Dogs and Cats, over one year	vaccinate every three years

Rabies is now epidemic in Garrett County.

Protect yourself, your family and your pets from the threat of rabies by bringing your pets to the clinic in your area. The cost of the vaccination is only $3 per animal.

Only pets under the control of a responsible person may be brought to the clinic. Dogs should be on a leash. Cats should be in a wire cage or box securely closed with air holes provided. No other animals will be vaccinated.

NOTE: In 1984, 15 cats and 1 dog became rabid in Maryland. Protect your pets from this disease by attending a clinic in your area.

State, County Jobless Rates Drop In March

Maryland's estimated unemployment rate dropped from 5.8 percent in February to 5.1 percent in March 1984, according to statistics released by the Maryland Department of Employment and training.

Garrett County's jobless rate dropped two full points during the same period, from 16.2 percent in February to 14.2 in March. The March rate was also one and one half percent below the March 1984 rate of 15.7 percent.

Between February and March, Maryland's civilian labor force increased by 8,766 persons, totaling 2,249,906. Employment was up by 23,920 persons at 2,135,618. Unemployment declined by 15,154 persons to 114,288. Since March 1984, the labor force has swelled by an estimated 47,550 persons with an employment growth of 61,962 persons and an unemployment decline of 14,412 persons.

There was a notable decline throughout the State in claims filed for unemployment insurance, particularly in the construction industry. The manufacturing industry experienced reduced claims in food processing, apparel and textiles, stone/clay/glass products and primary metals. Fewer claims were filed also in agriculture, eating and drinking places, hotels and lodging places, business services and government.

Seasonal hiring increased in construction, eating and drinking places, hotels and lodging places, amusement and recreation services and agri-business. Hiring was also noted in apparel and textiles manufacturing, business services, public education and city and county government.

This March's unemployment rate, the lowest for a March since 1974, has fallen by 0.7 percentage points from the 5.8 percent recorded in March 1984. In February, 41 states registered higher rates than Maryland. As usual, Maryland's unemployment rateis substantially below the national rate with a sizable gap of 2.4 percentage points. The U.S. rate declined from 7.8 percent in FEbruary to 7.5 percent in March. Last March, the national rate was 8.0 percent.

Unemployment among black persons fell nationally from 16.1 percent in February to 15.2 percent in March. For Maryland, black unemployment is estimated annually. In 2984, Maryland's rate was 9.3 percent, a significant improvement over the 13.0 percent recorded for 1983.

In the Baltimore metropolitan area, the unemployment rate fell from 6.6 percent in February to 5.8 percent in March. Baltimore City's unemployment rate declined from 8.1 to 7.4 percent. Unemployment rates in Carroll, Harford and Queen Anne's counties dripped by more than a full percentage point, primarily as a result of increased jobs in construction.

Maryland's suburbs of the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area dipped from 3.2 percent to 3.0 percent.

In Western Maryland, the overall unemployment rate dropped significantly from 12.2 percent in February to 9.9 percent in March. In all three of the area's counties, the rates decreased by more than a full percentage point, as a result of recalls from temporary closings in clothing manufacturing and seasonal hiring in construction and other scattered industries.

In the balance of the State, the unemployment rate declined from 10.3 percent to 8.7 percent in March. Unemployment rates for Caroline, Cecil, Dorchester, Kent, Somerset, Talbot, Wicomico and Worcester counties dropped by more than a full percentage point.

During March, Maryland's estimated unemployment rates ranged from 2.5 percent in Montgomery County to 21.4 percent in Somerset County. Unemployment rates were less than three percent in Howard, Charles and Montgomery counties and exceeded 10 percent in Allegany, Garrett, Caroline, Dorchester, Somerset and Worcester counties.

Cub Scout Pack Plans Food Drive

Cub Scout Pack 70, which meets at Broad Ford Elementary School, is conducting a food drive for The House of Hope during the week of May 20-25. A truck will be in the downtown Oakland area on Saturday, May 25, from 9.00 a.m. to noon to accept contributions.

To arrange for donations to be picked up during the week, persons may call 334-4715.

A GREAT NIGHT OUT vs. A GREAT NIGHT IN

You've just had a bear of a day—and the last thing you want to do is sit in, so...

Sit down at Pizza Hut and wind down. Friendly help will instantly get what you want—a frosty mugful of beer or your favorite soft drink.

Soon, our warm surroundings will make you forget your day. Now it's time to eat and enjoy.

Try our sumptuous Pan Pizza—a fresh, homemade dough, a rich sauce, plus layers of all your favorite toppings. A night out at Pizza Hut is a night out of the ordinary.

The big game is on TV tonight and what would really top it off is pizza right in your living room. But not just any pizza...

Pizza Hut Pan Pizza is what you crave. Because no other pizza tastes like this deep dish delight.

It's the premier pizza in town—with pepperoni, green pepper, mushrooms, a tangy sauce and loads of mozzarella.

Just call Pizza Hut—20 minutes later, pick up your piping hot Pan Pizza—ready to go straight to your easy chair.

Newsy Notes From SMS

by Student Government, Southern Middle School

We would like to take this opportunity to express our pride at having three special people on our staff. Mr. Thompson, Mrs. Carpenter, and Mrs. Mills have undertaken a very important community project. After viewing a T.V. special on the crisis in Ethiopia, they decided to do something about it. They are utilizing school, community organizations, and businesses, to raise money for this worthwhile cause. We hope that all who read this will do their part to save a life.

Student Government will sponsor the annual eighth grade "dress-up" dance this Saturday. The dance will be from 7 to 10 p.m. Disk jockey for the event is John Martin. Seventh grade student government members will serve as hosts and hostesses. Recognition of Student Government officers will be held during the evening. No tickets will be sold at the door, so only advanced ticket holders will be admitted.

Winners of the recent door decorating contest are: Mr. Rice's homeroom, Mrs. Green's homeroom, and Ms. Dean's homeroom. The theme of the next contest is "Summer Vacation". This will be a poster contest and will be judged on June 7.

The annual eighth grade trip will be held on June 3. Money must be turned in before May 20. Students will depart from Southern Middle at 6 a.m. and will arrive back home at approximately 11 p.m. Letters concerning the itinerary and trip regulations will be sent to parents sometime next week.

Report cards were distributed on Monday, May 13.

The annual band concert will be held on June 7 instead of the original date of May 24.

Schools will be closed May 30 in observance of Memorial Day.

There will be a Special Education field trip to Kennywood Park on May 31. This is being sponsored by Ms. Broadwater, Ms. Martin, Mrs. Neville and Ms. Snider.

SHAPE UP! Trimming the fat—to look better, feel better, and stay healthy—is a real challenge. Shedding pounds requires willpower, a sound weight loss plan, and exercise. Staying slim can be an even greater challenge that demands a permanent change in eating habits.

Here are a few sound weight loss guidelines. Patience and perseverance are essential to successful dieting, but the rewards are worth it!

•Plan low-calorie meals carefully, making choices from the basic food groups. Avoid high-protein, high-carbohydrate diets and others which emphasize one nutrient since these are generally nutritionally unbalanced.

-Include four servings of fresh vegetables and fruit daily. If you prefer canned fruit, select the kind packed in juice or water, since the fruits packed in syrup are higher in calories.

-Choose four servings of whole-grain and enriched breads, cereals and pasta for adequate B-vitamins and fiber in your daily diet.

-Substitute skim milk, buttermilk, or non-fat dry milk for whole milk and use low-fat cheeses such as mozzarella, provolone, light cream cheese, and cottage cheese to meet your nutrient needs from the dairy products group. Ice-milk and plain yogurt—which you can flavor with fresh fruit—are also wise choices. Include two servings from this group daily.

-Select two servings (3 ounces) of lean meats, poultry and fish daily. To prepare, trim all visible fat, and broil, bake, or pan-broil without adding fat.

-Remember that fat is higher in calories (9 calories per gram) than protein or carbohydrate (4 calories per gram). However, fat is an important nutrient that helps you feel satisfied, so don't completely remove it from the diet.

-Plan low-calorie nourishing snacks. Try small crisp salads with reduced calorie dressing, fresh fruit, raw vegetables, or small portions of cheese or meat.

-Include your favorite high-calorie foods in small amounts as an occasional treat.

-Make a shopping list and stick to it! Don't shop on an empty stomach.

-Read labels for useful information such as ingredient lists, calories and serving sizes.

-Exercise regularly while dieting to increase the calories you use as energy and to keep your body strong and firm.

-Weigh yourself once a week, preferably early in the morning before dressing or eating breakfast.

-If you continue to eat, keep a daily record of what you eat, how much you eat, and when you eat. This will help identify problem areas.

Here's a chicken recipe you can try as you diet—only 263 calories per serving:

CHICKEN ZUCCHINI ITALIANO

1 8-ounce chicken breast, skinned, boned and cut in half
1 teaspoon vegetable oil
2 cups sliced zucchini (10 ounces)
1 8-ounce can stewed tomatoes
⅓ cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese
½ teaspoon minced fresh garlic
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains of pepper

Heat oven to 350°F. Rub chicken breast on both sides with oil. Mix remaining ingredients in a bowl and spread evenly in a 9-inch pie plate. Place chicken on top. Bake 25 to 30 minutes, turning chicken once and basting every 10 minutes with pan juices, until tender. Makes 2 servings.

EXTENSION HAPPENINGS

"Death and Dying" will be the topic of a Homemakers training meeting to be held on May 20 at 10 a.m. at the Grantsville Health Center and at 1:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. at the Oakland Extension Office. Planning and coping both psychologically and financially during this trying time will be discussed. All interested persons are invited to attend.

GRANTSVILLE NEWS

Miss Nancy Bittinger and Wayne Miner were united in marriage during a double ring ceremony on May 11 at 2 p.m. at the Maple Grove Church of the Brethren, Grantsville, with Rev. James Show officiating.

Nancy Durst, organist, played the traditional wedding music.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bittinger and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reed Miner.

The bride was attired in a white satin and net gown with a train and a half-length veil to match. She carried a bouquet of silk flowers.

The matron of honor was Wendy Miner, sister-in-law of the groom.

The bridesmaids were Beverly and Betty Miner, sisters of the groom. The matron of honor and bridesmaid each wore pink matching gowns and carried bouquets of matching silk flowers.

The flower girls were Jackie Campbell, who wore a white dress, and Juanita Bittinger, in pink. Both carried bouquets of matching silk flowers.

The groom, his best man, Ronald Miner, brother of the groom, the ushers, Richard and Randy Miner, brothers of the groom and Matthew Durst, ring bearer, all wore matching navy blue suits with pink silk carnation boutonnieres.

Mrs. Bittinger, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Miner, mother of the groom, both wore rose silk dresses with pink silk corsages of roses.

Also attending were Mrs. Velma Bittinger and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hare, grandparents of the bride, and Mrs. Victor Miner, grandmother of the groom.

A reception followed immediately in the church social room, prepared and served by the Women's Fellowship. Sara Ruth Butler baked the wedding cake. Some 55 persons were in attendance.

The couple will be residing in Baltimore, where Mr. Miner is employed.

Mrs. Rhoda Livengood is a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland.

Mrs. Goldie Beachy received word that her grandson, Daniel Stahl, 21, of Berlin, Pa., died suddenly early Sunday morning, May 12.

A number of friends helped celebrate Nora Ellen Butler's 98th birthday on May 9 at the Goodwill Home.

Attending were Rev. and Mrs. James Derner, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bittinger, Mrs. Edna Bittinger, Mrs. Freda Hutzel, Mrs. Orpha Wisseman, Marian Buffenmeger; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Beachy and daughter, Mary Kay and son, David; Mr. and Mrs. Olen Beachy and son Robert and daughters, Ruth and Rachel; Mrs. Veronica Delany, Mrs. Barbara Butler and son, Wayne; Fransine Durst and her daughter, Mrs. Goldie Beachy.

The children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Butler met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Butler, Grantsville, Sunday, May 12. Those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Fay Butler, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson and Natalie, Frostburg; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Butler, and Cary, Meyersdale; Mr. and Mrs. Claude C. Butler, Shawnee, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Foy and sons, Grantsville; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hyson, Grantsville; Mr. and Mrs. Tim Merrbach, Grantsville; Mrs. Dorothy Bittinger, Grantsville; Mrs. Florence Tharp, Frostburg; Mrs. Nancy Broadwater, Frostburg; Mrs. Paula Resh and children, Grantsville; Mrs. Beverly Ludwig and children, Meyersdale; Pam Harding, Frederick; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Resh, Grantsville; Mrs. Beulah B. Merrbach, Frostburg; Catherine Savage and Erin, Friendsville; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Merrbach, Frostburg; Mr. and Mrs. Randy Resh and children, Grantsville; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Resh and children, Grantsville; Arthur J. Durst, Somerset; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Durst, Meyersdale and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Butler, Cumberland.

District Nurses Association Plans Spring Meeting

The program committee and officers of District #1, Maryland Nurses Association, invite local nurses to attend its annual spring meeting at the Cumberland Country Club, Wednesday, May 22.

The event will start with a social hour with a cash bar at 6 p.m. followed by a dinner at 6:30 p.m. A short business meeting will be held at which time the Nurse Recognition Award will be presented by Josephine Barr, District #1 president.

A program entitled "Quality Circles (And Other Ways to Solve Nursing's Problems in Days of Down-Sizing)" will be presented by Wanona Fritz, president of Wellness Systems, Inc., a professional consulting firm that provides research and service toward improved quality of worklife and effectiveness in organization. Fritz completed a bachelor of science degree in nursing and master's and doctorate studies in management, community health, policy design, and organizational development. She has had a wide variety of professional experiences in the academic, military and consultant role.

Cost for the dinner and program will be $5.00 per person. The District will assume the remainderof the expenses.

All registered nurses, nursing graduates and nursing students are invited to attend. For more information persons may call Cindy Neff at 359-9271.

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

National Home Demonstration Week was observed by the Eglon Extension Homemakers on May 7 by sharing a covered dish luncheon and meeting for a regular lesson and business session.

Devotions were on the theme of "Speaking as Seen in the Bible" and the scripture and meditation were closed with a prayer poem by Jean Winters. Cynthia Bachtel, the vice president, presided at the business session as the president, Marguerite Shaffer, is a patient in WVU Medical Center.

Roll call taken by the secretary Ruth Teets was answered by a household hint. The secretary then read a letter from the State Department of Highways in response to a query concerning the town "Eglon" signs.

A first reading of a new constitution and bylaws were made by the committee chairman. A nominating committee, Ardis Teets, Mary Rembold and Brenda Hartsell, will prepare a slate of nominees for the June elections. There was a discussion of a possible joint craft meeting with Aurora, but no date was set.

It was decided to have the regular meeting on June 4 despite the conflict of dates with County Council which is to be held in Rowlesburg that day. It was asked how many would be interested in going by bus to the Poultry Festival in Moorefield, on July 25.

Ardis Teets presented the lesson, Speaking Effectively.

Ruth Teets showed the special feature, a wall of water which protects plants for early setting in the garden and a nonwoven fabric which serves as insulation for garden areas, either in spring or to protect in fall, called Reemay.

The meeting concluded following the lesson. Other than those above mentioned, those in attendance were Rebecca Teets, Lectie Bonner, Mildred Wilt, Ruth Parks, Sandra Hauser, Barbara Heckert, Lorraine Fike, Avenell Parsons, Lillian Knotts, Nina Layman, Linda Lewis and Craig and Shawn Rembold.

The club members invite anyone interested in joining to come on June 4 for a 1:00 p.m. meeting at which Linda Lewis will be the lesson leader on "Lifestyles" and there will be a guest speaker, Sandra Blackbird, to explain the services of the cardio-pulmonary care program of Preston Medical Associates.

Women who made a trip to the Preston Senior Center in Kingwood, on May 6 were Mary Bell Myers, Grace Roth, Lillian Knotts, Ruth Parks, Etta Shillingburg, Ruth Snyder, Naomi Teets, Beulah Lipscomb, and Elma Hardesty. While there they quilted and had lunch.

Relatives here were notified of the death of Oda L. Drennings, 72, of Baltimore, who died on April 27 in a hospital there.

Mrs. Drennings was born April 17, 1913, at Breedlove, a daughter of the late Julius and Iva F. Sell Slaubaugh. Her husband, Archie Drennings, preceded her in death May 4, 1976.

A resident of Baltimore, for the past 45 years, Mrs. Drennings was employed in housekeeping at a Baltimore hospital from which she retired in 1981.

Surviving are one son, Vernon Slaubaugh, and one daughter, Mrs. Donald (Lois) Bucklew, both of Baltimore; three brothers, Webster Slaubaugh, Arthur Junior Slaubaugh, both Horse Shoe Run, and Johnny Gordon Slaubaugh, Cleveland; four sisters, Mrs. Earl (Merle) Hauser, Oakland; Mrs. William (Martha) Hollen, Mrs. Carl (Leona) Delaney and Mrs. Ernest (Betty) Dumire, all Horse Shoe Run; and eight grandchildren.

Services were held May 1 at the Hubbard Funeral Home with interment following at the Cedar Hill Cemetery, both in Baltimore.

Attending the services from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hauser, Mr. and Mrs. William Hollen, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Delaney, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Junior Slaubaugh, Wayne and Donna Steele, and Ada Slaubaugh of Elkins.

Johnny Gordon and Sue Slaubaugh spent the weekend in their summer home, the old Slaubaugh Manor School, enroute to their home in Cleveland after attending funeral services in Baltimore for his sister. While here they visited with their area relatives.

Mrs. Roy (Florence Kight) Smith of Moorefield has returned to her home after being hospitalized at Romney as the result of a heart attack. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are both former residents of this area.

The Galen Fikes received word that his brother-in-law, Lawrence Life, was a patient in a Harrisonburg, Va., hospital, but has returned home. His wife is Virginia Lois "Polly" Fike Life.

Mrs. Webster (Fayetta) Slaubaugh of Horse Shoe Run, (Mt. Grove), is a patient in the WVU Medical Center as the result of a heart attack.

J. Robert Rembold of Pittsburgh, is a patient in St. Francis Hospital undergoing tests. A former Eglon resident, he and his wife are frequent visitors here with their son and with her family.

Another former area resident also in the hospital is Julius Dumire of Morgantown. His wife is the former Alma Parks of Eglon.

There will be a memorial service for William "Bill" Slaubaugh and dedication of the Mt. Grove Community Building facilities to him on May 26, at 2:00 p.m. The public is invited to attend this service held at the Mt. Grove Building.

A flea market and auction plus a bake sale are being planned by the Aurora PTO for June 1 at the Aurora School. The flea market will be from 10 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. and the auction begins at 2:00 p.m. Persons are invited to donate items for the auction or bake sale. To arrange for a table for the flea market, persons may contact either Linda Martin (after 5 p.m.) at 735-6481 or Cindy Kelly at 735-5058.

A homecoming is planned for May 26 at Maple Spring Church of the Brethren, Eglon. Regular worship services will take place in the morning with a covered dish dinner being served at 12:30 p.m. There will be opportunity to visit the Maple Spring Cemetery to view the memorial stone erected to the Peter and Magadalene Arnold Fike family and at 2:00 p.m., a dedication of the memorial and afternoon program will be held at the church with mention of the 4000-plus descendants of the couple. Early artifacts will be on display as well as history of the church and community. The public is invited.

The public is invited to a missionary service at the Maple Grove Assembly of God Church on May 22, at 7:00 p.m. The Rev. and Mrs. John Young, missionaries to Nigeria, will be ministering in word and song.

Julie Lewis, an eighth grade student at Aurora School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lewis of Eglon, was honored recently by being chosen as one of four eighth grade Preston County students to become Knights of the Golden Horseshoe. Others representing Preston County are Laura A. Muter of Newburg Jr. High, Chaelyn W. Bolyard and Chad K. Bucklew of Central Preston Junior High School.

The students selected have scored the highest on a test about West Virginia which is prepared by the State Department of Education. The students will assemble at the Capital in Charleston on May 17, at 8:00 a.m., where they will be given a guided tour of the Capital, meet in the House of Delegates Chamber to be greeted by the state superintendent of schools and to hear addresses by members of the executive and legislative branches of state governments.

In the afternoon they will tour the Culture Center and be introduced by State Superintendent Roy Truby to members of the Board of Public Works. The Knighting ceremony will be held in the House of Delegates Chamber, where they kneel to be made Ladies and Knights of the Golden Horseshoe. Also honored on this day are persons who have made outstanding contributions to Golden Horseshoe Day and the West Virginia studies program.

St. Paul's LCW sponsored the annual mother-daughter in the church parish hall on Saturday evening, May 11. Guest speakers were Mary Agnes Bergman and Louise Miller, representing Preston County Hospice program. Dean Sisler, LCW president, led the program and Donetta Nice also took part.

Special music was provided by Donna Goff and her daughters, Cheryl Skipper, Trina Rumer and Carol Forman, and by members of St. Paul's choir. Gifts were given to the oldest mother, Vesta Stemple; the youngest mother, Carol Forman; the mother with the most daughters present, Dean Sisler; youngest daughter, Kaylan Fike; and a door prize to Donna Goff.

Also present were Ernestine Sisler, Phyllis Vandevender and Laura, Linda Terrant and Deanna, Opal Terrant, Tamara Fauber, Cara and Shauna Sisler, June and Michelle Sisler, Maxine Hauser, Mary Nice of Salt Lick, Dorothy Bolyard, Elizabeth Loughrie, Janice Hanline of Oakland, Georgia Parsons of Belmont, Frances Roth, Mary Stanley, Agnes Stutler of Fairmont, Jackie Stanley of Oakland, Delores Stemple and Darla, Debbie Fike and Kimberly, Cecelia Fike of Bruceton Mills, Josephine Stanton, Melissa Skipper, Christina and Randa Forman, Mildred Kovalck, Marie Martin, Pat Stemple and Holly of Oakland, Carol Everly, Kim and Annie of Kingwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Reish of Harrisonburg, Va., announce the birth of a son, Matthew Ellis, on May 8 in a hospital there. The baby weighed seven pounds, 15 ounces and has joined his older brother, Micah, and sister, Marilyn, at their home.

Mrs. Reish is the former Martha Teets, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Teets of Eglon. Paternal grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Reish of Harrisonburg. Mrs. Teets is spending a few days with her daughter and family.

Edna Judy Weaver, 88, died suddenly on May 7 in a nursing home near Reading, Pa., where she had been a resident for some time.

She was born in Eglon, February 28, 1897, a daughter of the late Jacob and Angeline Hamstead Judy. Her husband, Alvin Weaver, preceded her in death.

She is survived by a step-son, Robert Weaver of Churchtown, Pa., and a step-daughter in Florida. Two brothers, Ray Judy of Eglon and Roy Judy of Greenwood, Dela., also survive.

Attending Fairmont State College graduation ceremonies on Saturday, May 11, were Mr. and Mrs. Ron Parsons of Eglon, Mr. and Mrs. John Parsons, Leonard and Steve, of Aurora; Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Skipper and family of Kingwood; and Mr. and Mrs. Gay Roth of Thomas. Rhonda Parsons, daughter of Evelyn Parsons of Hedgesville, and the late Ronald Parsons, Jr., and Crystal Roth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gay Roth, were among those receiving their degrees.

Mr. and Mrs. Hancel Teets and his mother, Mrs. Gladys Teets, returned last week to their home near Aurora due to the illness of Mrs. Teets' mother, Mrs. Virginia Donham.

Also visiting here is her brother, Lawrence Donham, of Pennsylvania, who is staying with another sister, Alma and Jack Snyder. Both Mr. Donham and Mr. Teets were recent surgical patients. Mrs. Donham died on Saturday evening, May

Deer Park Council Discusses Budget, Street Repairs

The proposed budget and some needed street repairs were two of the topics of business discussed by the Deer Park Mayor and Town Council at their regular meeting on Monday night.

The draft budget was presented to the council. It will be approved at next month's meeting on June 10. A public hearing will be held before the meeting to discuss the budget.

It was decided to hire the Keystone Lime Company to check the streets in town for needed repairs.

A discussion was held concerning prices for a new town truck.

The council voted to extend the contract of Guy Fazenbaker, to haul garbage, for one year.

Dorothy Leuba, of the Garrett Organization for the Handicapped (GOH), met with the council on behalf of a Deer Park family. The family had constructed a fence around their property to help them care for their son. The town had given their consent in 1976 for the fence to extend onto town property, the sidewalk, with a verbal agreement that the fence would be moved back to the resident's property line when the child was older. John Toston, attorney for the town of Deer Park, will handle the matter of determining the exact boundary line and requesting that the fence be set back to that line.

Last Minute Returns Yield Record Deposits

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein says the state's books show record deposits of revenue by the Maryland Income Tax Division for April, 1985.

The $378,984,458 deposited by the Income Tax Division of the Comptroller's Office during April, 1985, exceeded the previous record month of April, 1984, by $56 million and reflected the large number of returns filed in the final days before the tax return deadline.

"The nearly $379 million deposited during April, 1985 is the most collected in a single month since the Maryland income tax was introduced in 1937," Goldstein said. "Of course, April is also a heavy month for issuing refund checks, and the net revenue to the state after deducting refunds was $273,183,555, or 5.3% more than the net revenue from April, 1984."

The record receipts for April, 1985, boosted total income tax revenue for the first nine months of Fiscal Year 1985 to more than $2.1 billion, or 12.2% more than the $1.9 billion collected during the same period of Fiscal Year 1984.

The comptroller noted that, as of May 13, 1985, his office had sent out 1,095,646 refund checks with a total value of $289 million. The average refund check is $263.80, compared with $246.31 at this same time last year.

Oakland Chapter Honors Mothers

"What is a Mother?" was the opening thought of Worthy Matron Eleanor Teats as Oakland Chapter #67, Order of the Eastern Star, held its meeting on May 7 at the Masonic Temple in Oakland.

Wilda Hile, Deputy Grand Lecturer, was greeted along with Past Matrons and Past Patrons of other Chapters, visitors, officers and members of Oakland Chapter.

During the regular business meeting, four candidates were initiated into the Order. They are Michael and Jayne Nestor, Mary and Shirley Rinker.

The Worthy Matron gave her report on Grand Session held in Hagerstown April 29 through May 1. Those attending from Oakland Chapter included Eleanor Teats, Sharon Perando, Geraldine Teats, Vivian Burns, Wilda Hile, Myra Martin, Betty Foy, Mabel Lantz, Doris Swartzentruber, Denise Shrout, and Elizabeth Mullennex.

A program was given by the Worthy Matron, Worthy Patron and Associate Patron in honor of all mothers present. A gift was then presented to each one from Mrs. Teats. Signs and passes were reviewed by James Nelson, Worthy Patron, and Geraldine Teats, Conductress.

Mrs. Teats' closing thought was "A Mother's Love." She asked that all remain for fellowship with refreshments being served by Eva Mae Wise and her committee. The next meeting will be May 21.

Sheriff's Dept. Presents Talks To Area Students

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department recently completed a Child Safety Program which was presented to 11 elementary schools throughout the county. The department will also be presenting their final presentation of a Drug Awareness Program to eighth-graders in the Middle Schools this week.

Topics included in the Child Safety Program included bicycle safety, safe swimming, safe boating, safety in storms, safety around electricity, safety around poisons and safety around strangers and dangerous acquaintances.

Literature, made available by the National Child Safety Council and local sponsors, was distributed to the children.

The Drug Awareness Program included a simulated marijuana burning and talks and discussions about drug and alcohol effects.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. Rogers Fike of Oakland returned last week from a two-week tour in Greece where they visited arcaeological sites of New Testament cities and traced St. Paul's journeys.

Jerry Dale Paugh, confined to his home since becoming paralyzed as the result of an automobile accident and more recently in a cast because of a broken leg, was recently cheered when installers appeared and put in a satellite dish presented by an unknown donor. The family members stated how much they appreciate this gift for their Stemple Ridge home.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lantz of Medina, Ohio, were visitors here this weekend with their mothers, Mrs. Hazel Lantz in Aurora, and Mrs. Lela Roth in Cortland Acres Nursing Home at Thomas, who returned there last Friday from Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Visiting this weekend with Mrs. Mildred Wilt in Eglon, were her son-in-law and daughter, Gene and Thelma Simpson, of Martins Ferry, Ohio.

Mike and Beth Nair, Ellicott City, Md., were weekend guests here of his parents, the Thurman Nairs, at Brookside and of her parents in Rowlesburg.

Sunday evening dinner guests of Ray and Diana Hanline in Oakland, were Norman and Janice Hanline and Patrick, and Amy Friend, Oakland; Carl and Gwen Hanline and Timothy of Germantown, Md., Lorain and Mary Jane Hanline, Gay and Elizabeth Loughrie and Dennis, Gary and Frances Roth, Chris and Jason, all of Aurora.

Leroy and Doris Harsh of Bridgewater, Va., were weekend visitors here with his brother, Robert Harsh, Norma and family at Aurora, with his father, Artenis Harsh at Eglon, and with his mother, Florence Harsh, at Cortland Acres Nursing Home, Thomas.

On May 3 on evening dinner at the home of Mrs. Neva Frantz, Donnie, Melvin Ray and Melissa in Aurora, was shared by Oliver and Eleanor and Gary Beckman of Loch Lynn, Ina Beckman, Pearl Forsyth of Lynndale, Sylvia Snyder of Gortner, Melvin and Rose Ina, Stanley and Mark Harsh, Claud and Brenda Hartsell, Carroll and Allen, all of Eglon. The occasion was Mrs. Ina Beckman's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Harsh and family of Parkersburg were recent visitors on Stemple Ridge with his step-father and mother, Claud and Eldean Poling.

The Honor Roll for the fifth six weeks period of grading has been released by Gary Henline, principal of Aurora School, and is as follows: seventh grade, Jackie Adams, Shanon Eskridge, Kimberly Fink, Debra Gank, Nancy Huffman, Brenda Reedy, Tammy Slaubaugh, Jennifer Whitehair and Billie Jo Wiles; eighth grade, Julie Beckman, Cheryl Cummings, Julie Lewis, Tammy Parks, Faith Steele, Nathan Teets, and Laverne Waybright.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Whitehair of Terra Alta, are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary with an open house reception on May 19 in the Trinity United Methodist Church, Terra Alta. Mrs. Whitehair is the former Freda Slaubaugh, a daughter of the late John and Ora Fike Slaubaugh, of Horse Shoe Run, and they were married at the home of her parents on May 14, 1935 by the late Rev. Emra T. Fike. They request that gifts be omitted.

Evangelist To Lead Services At Pleasant View

Revival services will get underway this weekend at the Pleasant View Baptist church, located two miles south of Oakland, on Rt. 219. The guest speaker will be evangelist Johnny Wilson.

Services will begin on Sunday, May 19, and will continue each evening through Wednesday, May 22. Services will begin at 7:00 p.m. and will include special music.

Sunday night is friendship night, so persons are encouraged to bring a friend. Monday night is youth night, and a free pizza blast for teens will start at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday is community church night, when fellow churches are welcome. Wednesday night is family night.

A nursery will be available each evening. For more information, persons may contact Pastor Marty Herron at 334-8515.

HOPE FOR FIRST TIME BUYERS

If you are looking to buy your first home, I have some good news for you. According to the U.S. League of Savings Institutions, 40 percent of last year's home buyers were first time buyers. That percentage is up from 13.5 percent just three years ago.

Last year's first time buyers had an average household income of $34,000 and a median age of 29.3 years. About 35 percent were unmarried. About 9 percent bought condominiums, 16 percent bought new homes and the rest bought existing homes.

More people were able to buy first homes last year because of the drop in sky-high interest and inflation rates. The average home buyer spent $709 per month last year for mortgage payments, property taxes, utility and insurance payments. Three years ago, the monthly average was $100 higher.

Buyers and sellers of homes are positive about achieving their objectives this year. They know that if they wait, they risk paying higher prices and interest rates in the future. A good thing can't last forever in real estate.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices.

NO. 269 CIVIL ACTION IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR GARRETT COUNTY MARYLAND
ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to secure the foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following property situate in Election District No. 14, Garrett County, Maryland, sold by the Collector of Taxes for Garrett County and the State of Maryland to Oma L. Moses:

ALL that piece or parcel of land situate in Election District No. 14, Garrett County, Maryland, being part of Military Lot No. 1588 and described as follows, to wit:

BEGINNING for the same at a planted stone standing at the end of the first line of the land described in a deed from the said Benjamin F. Paugh and wife to the said Charles O. Jordan of even date herewith and also at the end of the thirty-seven perches on the second line of Military Lot Number fifteen hundred and eighty-eight, and running thence North, (44½) forty four and one fourth degrees East (64) sixty-four perches to the third line of said Military Lot Number fifteen hundred and eighty-eight and reversing it and the second line thereof West, (46½) forty six and one half perches to a stone pile. South (44) forty four perches to the beginning, containing (6.4) six and four tenths acres.

SAVING AND EXCEPTING all the mineral rights of every description and all of the oil rights.

BEING the same as conveyed by Charles O. Jordan and Cyra L. Jordan, his wife, to Benjamin F. Paugh by deed dated June 15, 1913, and recorded in Liber E.Z.T. No. 86, Folio 98, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

The complaint states, among other things, that title to said property was vested in the above named defendants at the time of said tax sale and still so remains; that the amounts for redemption have not been paid, although more than one year and a day from the date of sale has expired.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 24th day of April, 1985, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, ORDERED that notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this order in some newspaper having a general circulation in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks, warning all persons interested in said property to be and appear in this Court by the 15th day of June, 1985, and redeem the property herein described and answer the Complaint, or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights of redemption in the property and vesting in the Plaintiff a title free and clear of all encumbrances.

TRUSTEES' SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

Situate approximately 0.5 miles south of intersection of Route 495 and Rock Lodge Road, Garrett County, Maryland, then east on private road approximately ¾ of a mile.

Under and by virtue of a judgment of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, passed on May 1, 1985, in the proceedings in No. 8463 Equity in said Court, wherein Vicki A. Plevyak is Plaintiff, and Matthew Mark Plevyak, is Defendant, the undersigned, being authorized and directed to sell the property hereinafter described, do hereby give notice that on Friday, the 7th day of June, 1985, at the hour of 11:00 a.m.

in the rotunda of the Courthouse in the Town of Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland, we will offer and sell at public auction all that lot, piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in Election District No. 12 of Garrett County, Maryland, and described as follows, to wit:

BEGINNING at an iron pipe marked "D-A 309" which stands in the third line of Military Lot No. 2367, said pipe is also the common corner of Raymond Detrick (196-277) and Alvin H. Ternent (196-185), thence from said beginning point and with an anciently built fence, North 0 degrees 56 minutes 30 seconds East 428.58 feet to the established corner of this parcel and that parcel formerly owned by Susie Brenneman (80-309), thence with the fence, which is the accepted property line between both parties, North 75 degrees 46 minutes 47 seconds East 1,744.40 feet to the corner post which stands on the East side of the existing 20 foot access road, thence with the fence, South 2 degrees 15 minutes 24 seconds West 1,026.63 feet and South 78.39 feet to a new division line, running thence with said division line South 89 degrees 25 minutes 06 seconds West 1,654.11 feet to a stake in the fence line, thence with the fence, North 0 degrees 46 minutes 00 seconds West 264.0 feet to the beginning, containing 34.38 acres.

SUBJECT, however, to a 25 foot right-of-way, extending from the 32.64 acre tract of land conveyed by Lawrence A. Buckel and Anna C. Buckel, his wife, to Audrey L. Nesline and Herman J. Nesline, her husband, which said right-of-way extends North 2 degrees 15 minutes 25 seconds East 1,026.63 feet and which is adjacent to the third line of the above described land, said right of way to be used in common with others and also the use of the existing sugar camp road which extends from this described right-of-way to said 32.64 acre tract.

BEING the same as conveyed by Lawrence A. Buckel and Anna C. Buckel, his wife, to Matthew M. Plevyak and Vicki A. Plevyak, his wife, by deed dated June 3, 1975, and recorded in Liber R.L.D., No. 358, Folio 723 &c., one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

The described land is primarily wooded, with the exception of approximately 7 acres, which is planted with Norway Spruce and Red Pine, and approximately 11 acres of pasture land.

The property is improved by a provincial style house, rancher type, with passive solar design concepts, having seven (7) rooms, foyer, open studio and two (2) plumbed bathroom areas, full basement and attached two car garage, all of which are only partially completed; also improved by well and septic system. Other buildings include a barn, an accessory building and chicken house.

TERMS OF SALE: Ten percent (10%) cash on day of sale and the balance upon ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, and delivery of the deed. Taxes to be prorated as of the day of sale.

The trustees reserve the right to reject any and all bids.
